New Registrants To Soon Be Classified

List Contains Names Of 266 Boys Who Became 21 During Past Year—About 20 Class 1 Men Possible From Reclassification

As a result of the recent registration of young men who have become of age during the year ending July 31, 1918, the Maui local draft board in the past two weeks has registered a total of 266. As soon as the proper questionnaire blanks are received the new registrants will be examined and classified.

Reclassification Nets 20

The reclassification ordered recently from Washington, and which is about completed, has netted 20 more Class 1 men, provided they can pass the physical tests. These will be administered in the next week or two. A number of appeals taken to the district board by men who had been advanced in classification, were turned down, and others have not been passed on as yet.

List Of New Registrants

Following is the list of 266 young men just registered: John Kauhane Kahue, Honokohau, William Kekua Iokama, Honokowai, Cyres Edson Dronbey, Honokowai, Manuel Nunes, Honokowai, George Al Smith, Kahana, Tamezuchi Yamada, Kahana, Joseph Halli, Kahana, Henry Lai Wong, Kahana, Choichi Shiraki, Kahana, Elzo Kiuchi, Kahana.

Sale Of Grand Hotel Confirmed By Court

Appeal To Supreme Court May Hold Up Plans For Future—Unsecured Creditors Likely To Get Little—Stockholders Lose All Invested

The commissioner's sale of the property of the Grand Hotel Co., Ltd., on August 10, was confirmed by Judge Larr, of the second circuit court, on Monday of this week. The hotel was bought by C. D. Lufkin, trustee for the holders of the first mortgage against the property, at his bid of $25,000.

For the reason that an appeal was noted from the ruling of Judge Burr on the motion of E. C. Peters representing certain unsecured creditors, the status of the hotel is not yet absolutely settled but may have to wait until the matter has been reviewed by the supreme court.

In the meantime the hotel is being operated by the purchasers with the same management and with no change from what has been in effect heretofore. It is possible that the company will later be reorganized of local people.

Unless the supreme court should set aside the sale, the bankruptcy court, into which the company was thrown through a technical insolvency on the insistence of certain unsecured creditors represented by Attorney E. C. Peters, of Honolulu, will have only about $5000 to distribute among the various claimants. This may be increased somewhat by the collection

Awards Made By Accident Board

Dependents Of Two Plantation Workers Get Compensation—Negligent Employers On Carpet—Manuel Campana Case Set Next Meeting

The Maui Industrial accident board, at its monthly meeting on Tuesday morning, made awards of compensation on account of two cases of death. One of these was for the widow of a Japanese tunnel worker named Kazumo Onishi, an employee of the Pioneer Mill Company, who was killed by being caught in an air compressor, last December. The widow was allowed $7.55 per week for 312 weeks, unless she remarries before that time. The amount is 40 percent of the wage of the deceased, including bonus.

The other award was to the widow and 5 minor children of Nakagawa Sakuchiro, an assistant engineer at the Paia mill, who was killed by a fall from a step ladder on which he was working. His family was given 60 percent of his wages for 312 weeks, and for the children until they are 16 years of age, or one year longer if they are still dependent on him.

The case of Manuel Campana, a Spaniard who was killed by being run over by loaded cane cart on Kaula, two weeks ago, was also considered, and an award will probably be made at the meeting next month.

Passing Of Demon Rum Is Peaceful

Liquor Board Will Still Control Limited Use Of Liquor—Light Job, Is Believed—May Have No Licensed Dealer On Maui

All Hawaii is now "dry." It is true that a considerable number of those who are wise like the ant or the little busy bee have provided for their personal needs against the drought for some time to come. But even these stocks will not last for ever, and their possessors will have to exercise much care and diligence to keep out of Uncle Sam's clutches, for they are not permitted legally to even give a single drink to a suffering friend.

The Sheppard Act went into effect at midnight Tuesday. It makes it unlawful to import, export, transport, make, sell or give away any kind of intoxicating liquor, except for certain narrow purposes. The law as passed by congress follows: The New Law

An Act To prohibit the sale, manufacture, and importation of intoxicating liquors in the Territory of Hawaii during the period of the war, except as hereinafter provided.

It is enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That, ninety days after the passage of this Act, during the period of the war, and thereafter, except as hereinafter provided, it shall be unlawful in the Territory of Hawaii to sell,

MORMONS MAKE BIG LAND PURCHASE

Honolulu, August 23—Mormon church has purchased land from J. B. Castle estate, Koolau Agricultural Company, and the Koolau Railroad, near Lihou, Oahu where big mormon colony is located. Price reported to be $600,000.

Honolulu Brewery directors are considering the use of part of their plant for a cold storage stabilizing market.

HOMESTEADERS MAY WIN POINT

Kauai homesteaders may win their point, and have nine tons of cane for 1 ton of sugar made the basis of agreement instead of eight tons.

ISLANDS TO GET NO MORE JAPANESE RICE

Japan has placed an embargo on rice. No more for Hawaii until embargo is lifted, probably because of shortage of rice in Japan.

WOULD HOLD BACK SCHOOLS FOR SUGAR WORK

Sugar planters ask school board to postpone the opening of schools for a month to enable pupils to finish field work. Kinney does not believe it is feasible.

ANOTHER EPOCH MAKING BATTLE NOW ON

London, August 23—Along the northern Picardy front a fierce battle has developed which seems to be one of the war's greatest conflicts. It is reported to be threatening the whole German army on this front, and the Germans are throwing great masses of men into the struggle in hope of checking the tide of battle which British headquarters today says is now setting against them.

GERMANS THROWN BACK ACROSS AILETTE

French Army Headquarters, August 23—General Magin's troops drove the Germans across the Ailette valley on a front of several miles, and the right wing of the enemy from the plateau between Soissons and the Oise.

BRITISH MAKE GAINS ON LONG LINE

London, August 23—In a battle 25 miles long between Ribens, south of the Somme, and the Cojeul river, south of Arras, the British have gained a number of points, and repulsed 2 attacks east of Deleacourt.

The Lys line was slightly advanced east of Bitouret.

New York, August 23—Hovers has returned.

FRENCH GAIN NORTH OF SOISSONS

Paris, August 23—Mans and the Aisne the French forces advanced during the night from Pont-St. Mars south of the Ailette river, and now hold the plateau of the Oise and the Ailette from Sentigny to the railroad near Longue-Chateau. Mangin's army took 5000 prisoners on August 22 and Thursday.

ALLIES FORCED BACK AT VLADEVOSTOK

London, August 23—Harts, in a dispatch to the Daily Mail says—"Allies were outnumbered in heavier fighting and were forced to withdraw from the Ussuri river, north of Vladivostok, where the British and Czech-Slovak. Japanese troops aided the Allies in driving back the Bolshevik commands were given in German.

KAISER WIFE WORKED TOO HARD

Amsterdam, August 23—Kaiser's wife is ill from the over-stress of war work.

EXPLOSION KILLS THREE

Washington, August 23—An accidental explosion on the U. S. ship Orizaba, on August 17, killed 3 and wounded 18.

LATE CASUALTIES

Army: 27 killed in action; 18 died of wounds; 12 died from other causes; 40 severely wounded; 35 missing. Marines: 3 killed in action; 4 died of wounds; 1 from other cause, 59 wounded; 5 missing.

RED GUARD COMMANDER A PRISONER?

Petrograd, August 23—It is reported that General Petopoff, chief commander of the Red Guard, has been captured by peasants and is now a prisoner of the Allies.

GERMANS ON RUN—ALBERT CAPTURED

London, August 22—Gen. Haig reports officially that the British have recaptured Albert and also obtained all objectives in the fighting between Bray-sur-Somme and Albert. They advanced 2 miles on a front of 6 miles and took over 5000 prisoners during the last two days. In Albert they took 1400 prisoners and a few guns.

FRENCH GAINING FAST ON OISE SECTOR

French Army Headquarters, August 22—The German retreat before the 3rd and 10th French armies continues with increased speed over large part of the battle front. In some cases the retreat has been in disorder. General Mangin is approaching the line which the French held last April along the Ailette. The French are also approaching the roads to Chauny and menacing the German retreat which explains why the Germans have hastened the recent retreat. The French have found it impossible as yet to count the material captured by French. On Wednesday Mangin advanced 7 miles during attack and threw the enemy back in confusion.

AMERICAN REGIMENT REACHES VLADIVOSTOK

Washington, August 22—Secretary Baker has announced that the 31st regulars have reached Vladivostok.

Maui's Action 'Weak' Says Raymond Brown

Honolulu Chamber Of Commerce Secretary Thinks Maui Should Gone Ahead With Convention Despite Opinions Of Other Organizations

Notwithstanding the fact that all of the civic organizations of the territory except the three in Honolulu of which he is prominently connected were strongly opposed to the holding of the civic convention this year, Raymond C. Brown, secretary of the Honolulu chamber of commerce feels that a great mistake was made when the Maui chamber of commerce last week deferred to these opinions and voted to defer the gathering.

After learning from the Star-Bulletin of the unfavorable action of the Maui body R. C. Brown, is quoted as saying:

"The Honolulu chamber of commerce were strongly in favor of holding the civic convention as usual this year. Business affairs must go on as usual even if we are at war. There were a number of very important points that were to be brought up at the convention this year and later presented to the legislature. Now when the legislature meets we will have nothing to say to them. Moreover, it will be very difficult to pick up the threads next year with this important convention having been omitted. It is like a missing link.

Last year it was voted by every civic body to hold a convention this year. It seems rather weak of the Maui chamber to insist on reconvening all the outstanding civic organizations. I do not think we will do anything about it now."

Few False Scales Found In County

Frank C. Sylva, of the sheriff's office, has completed a several weeks trip through the county making an inspection of weights and measures. His trip included a visit to Molokai, and Hana.

Although it has been over two years since a similar inspection was made, a surprisingly small number of bad scales and measures were found, and these were confiscated and sent to the sheriff's office where they will be destroyed. Officer Sylva states that he found little evidence of intention to defraud by use of crooked scales, the ones he found for most part being wrong without the knowledge of the storekeepers owning them.

MAUI SCHOOL PRINCIPAL DISCIPLINED BY BOARD

Because he left his school without obtaining a leave of absence when he thought he had been drafted, Principal Joseph Carvalho, of the Ulupataua school was demoted from a principal of a 2-room school to principal of a 1-room school. The action was taken by the board of school commissioners at its meeting on Tuesday.

Big Motor Ships To Take Islands' Sugar

The first of 4 big Danish motor ships chartered by the U. S. shipping board to help move the sugar crop on the Islands, was recently in Kahului harbor taking on a big cargo of Maui sugar. The vessels are each of about 8000 tons burden, and the one to visit Maui excited considerable interest as she is the first vessel of the type to visit here. The absence of funnel or funnels on so large a vessel gave her a singular appearance that attracted general remark.

MISS BARTON IS GIVEN DAINTY FAREWELL LUNCHEON

Mesdames Kimball and Bowdish, and Misses Holliday and Hill were hostesses on Saturday morning at a luncheon given in honor of Miss Mary E. Barton.

Miss Barton has been teaching for the past two years in the Maui High School. She decided to see more of the Islands and is leaving this month for Hawaii, to teach in the Hilo High School during the coming year.

On the pleasant fern-decorated luncheon at Sunnyside, eighteen guests assembled for a morning of chat and the inevitable knitting. The dainty luncheon was served at small tables and at the conclusion each guest was presented with a slip of paper upon which to write a good wish, merry toast or personal sentiment. When completed these slips were tied together in a pretty cover making a charming souvenir for the guest so soon to leave Maui.

NEIGHBORS QUARREL DEVELOPS INTO ASSAULT AND BATTERY CASE

Manuel Sequeira was fined $1 and costs in the police court, on Tuesday morning on conviction of assault and battery on Mrs. Ella Rhoades. Notice of intention to appeal the case was filed. The trouble was the outcome of ill-feeling between the two families who are next door neighbors, of some months standing. Mrs. Rhoades claimed that Sequeira had trespassed on her property while moving into a new house, and when she had attempted to stop him he had laid hands on her.

NEW KAHULUI SCHOOL HELD UP TILL LAND IS SECURED

A petition for a new school building at Kahului has been held up by the school department until the question of the land title on which it is to be placed is settled. There is said to be $2000 available for the building but that the board had adopted a policy of building no new school houses unless it owns the land or has a long time lease.

The annual meeting for election of officers of the Haiku Farmers' Association is to be held tomorrow evening at the Kahala schoolhouse. Other business of importance is also to be considered.

Paia League Starts On Second Series

Makawao Aggregation Took First Game Last Sunday—Some Good Base Ball Material In Spite Of Draft—Good Crowd Pleased

(By Special Correspondent) Paia, August 22—Sunday afternoon, the 18th, on the Paia Plantation grounds before a large crowd of fans the Makawaos beat the Maui "Beauts" at baseball by the score of 7 to 2.

The present one is the second series of summer games by the Paia League, the first series having been won by the Makawao club.

The Makawao organization is composed mostly of husky farmer lads coming from homes widely scattered over the mountainside and though finding it difficult to assemble for regular practice have in some way made good enough to win the first series and in the present one are making it interesting for the Beauts who are putting up a fine contest.

John Souza, a Makawao boy, but trained as a twirler in Honolulu is doing expert work as pitcher for the mountain boys and Manuel G. Anjo is doing excellently as club manager.

For the first series the Paia League was made up of four clubs,—the Railroads, the Hamakua-poko, the Beauts and the Makawaos,—but owing to the draft the Hamakua-poko boys were obliged to withdraw from the recent series.

Soper Quits Wailuku Will Go To Honolulu

Edward Soper, head lina of the Waihee division of the Wailuku Sugar Company, resigned his position with the company on Wednesday, and will move his family to Honolulu, probably within the next two weeks.

Mr. Soper has been an employee of the local company for 7 years, coming here from Hilo where he was connected with the Olan plantation. His decision to leave Maui comes as a surprise to most of his friends here. Who the successor to Mr. Soper at Waihee will be has not yet been announced.

BAY RUM DRINKERS TAKE DESPERATE CHANCE SAYS EXPERT

Federal Food Commissioner and Analyst Benjamin Barlos, of Honolulu, has issued a warning to booze fighters against trying to quench their thirsts with bay rum or other similar preparations. Many of these, he states, are made up of wood alcohol instead of grain spirits, and are therefore very poisonous. A wood alcohol is almost invariably results in either death or total blindness.

Kula Roads Need Better Attention

Report Of Chamber Of Commerce Committee Makes Recommendations—Criticizes Work, Location Of Roads, And Handling Labor

Following is the report in full of the chamber of commerce committee on the condition of the roads in the Kula district, made at the meeting of the chamber held last week. The report has excited considerable comment, and is of interest to residents of Maui generally:

At the June meeting of the Maui Chamber of Commerce the following committee was appointed to investigate and report to the Chamber the condition of the Kula roads: R. A. Wadsworth, chairman; George Copp, R. A. Drummond, J. B. Thomson and R. B. Duggan.

On July 18th the entire committee spent the day in Kula and went over the roads nearly as far as Edgar Morton's house in Kamaoli, and back over the upper homestead road to the Waiakoa and Pulehu branch roads.

The committee recommends that the improvements as outlined in the following paragraphs are absolutely necessary and should be attended to at once:

A heavy guard rail should be placed on the side of the road nearest the gulch on both the east and the west sides of Keabua-wi Gulch. Here the old fill and culvert have been washed out, the road turns abruptly and yet

HANA HAS PLENTY OF FISH BUT HARD TO LAND SAYS BURR

Judge Burr and Assessor Kunewa arrived home last Sunday from a trip to Hana, by way of the ditch trail. They made the return trip on foot and except for a little too much rain enjoyed the experience and the scenery. While in Hana Judge Burr tried out the angling in nearby waters, but without great success. He did land a fair sized mahimahi, but a number of big ulua hooked were lost among the rocks. There are plenty of ulua about Hana, Judge Burr believes, but the rocky bottom makes the landing of them an uncertain proposition.

A. S. PRESCOTT'S DEATH REGRETTED ON MAUI

The sudden death of Augustus S. Prescott, district manager of the Standard Oil Company, which occurred in Honolulu last week, was the occasion of much regret to many persons on Maui who knew him. He was formerly of Maui, having been connected with the Kahului Store some 20 years ago, before he entered the employ of the big oil company.

Relatives on Maui have received word of the arrival of a son, on Sunday night, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Fleming, of Honolulu.

no guard rail has been placed to warn travellers.

The stretch of road on the "Kamaoli-Kaawakapu road" from Fong Yee's store to the entrance of Charles E. Thompson's place should be temporarily closed and a sign should be posted clearly marking this section as "Dangerous"; further, that the upper portion of this same road from Fong Yee's store be repaired so that it is passable for wagons in order that the eight leaseholders may have an exit.

Comment—This road has been open as a wagon road for more than twenty years and through lack of repair has been impassable for a year except by pack animals.

3. The upper Waiaho-Homestead road should be put in repair as a wagon road.

4. The Pulehu road, generally known in reports as the "Antonio Pires-A. Cravalho road" should be in repair as a wagon road.

5. A heavy guard rail should be placed at either end of the washout at the Waiaho Gulch pending the rebuilding of the bridge.

6. A proper drainage system for the Kula roads is absolutely necessary. Your committee cannot urge too strongly that a proper drainage system be at once inaugurated for the Kula roads. The County Engineer should take up this matter at once before the heavy rains set in again. We believe that the larger part of the repair work which we have pointed out in detail would be unnecessary had some proper drainage system been previously adopted.

We believe a careful inspection of the drainage of Kula roads should be made periodically so as to avoid the damming up of waterways across the roads and the keeping of ditches free from debris.

7. The committee is of the opinion that the farmers of Kula, if properly approached, would be willing to cooperate in the repairing and maintaining of their respective roads.

8. Waiaho Homestead road. The committee understands that there are some fifteen homesteaders located upon the Waiaho Homestead road, which should begin near Lau Soong Fat's place and run mauka toward the Keokea Chinese Club House. If this road could be made passable for wagons it would open up an exit for the farmers of this region. If only two and a half miles were constructed and two bridges built, this would at present be sufficient. This road is a sample of many similar stretches in Kula which the Territory has not opened up, and we recommend that the Maui Chamber of Commerce refer these roads to the Territorial authorities for their consideration and that the Territory before opening up more homesteads on Maui attend to these roads.

9. Kealahou Relocation. The most important item in our report is the piece of a road now being built by the Territorial prisoners, and known as the Kealahou Relocation. This road, in the estimation of this committee, is a tremendously big job and should be carefully kept track of by a competent road engineer. Other-wise work may be done that will entail a great deal of expense and perhaps money and manpower will be wasted.

Your committee in its entire membership investigated this proposition on July 18th and were surprised to see the work going along under conditions as we found them. We thought that it would be advisable to take the matter up with the Board of Supervisors, feeling that the Supervisors apparently did not fully realize the conditions as they existed. This committee did not see S. E. Kalama, the chairman of the Board, D. T. Fleming, and P. Cockett at the relocation on August 8th. Mr. Drummond was a member of our committee as well as a member of the Board, so all the Board of Supervisors except Mr. Uahini have now seen the Kealahou Relocation.

At the joint committee meeting we found that changes had been made in the grade of this relocation. One of these changes was made with the consent of and by the vote of the Board of Supervisors but without any member of the Board except the chairman, S. E. Kalama, having seen the road. At the meeting of the joint committee on August 8th some members of the Board were ignorant as to who had charge of the construction of the road.

We strongly advise that an inspection of this piece of road, especially the big fills should be at once made by a competent engineer with a view to saving them from destruction. We have been informed that the largest fill on this Relocation has been already twice washed out and we as a committee can see no reason why a third washout is not likely.

Your committee has gone carefully into details concerning the Kula roads, because we believe that this is a very important section of Maui roads. We strongly believe that the Maui Chamber of Commerce should be vitally interested in these roads, and should keep an especially careful watch of the Kealahou Relocation until the construction of the same is satisfactorily completed.

Passed by the committee unanimously, and signed for the entire committee by:

LIBERTY CATERING

BY MAUI WOMEN

A Department Of Domestic Economy Intended To Serve A Patriotic Purpose In Conserving Food Needed By The Allied Armies In Europe

AVOID ALL EXTRA MEALS

All banquets and other meetings at which refreshments are served, when such are considered necessary, should be so arranged as to take the place of regular meals, and not constitute extra meals. Banquets, etc., at other than regular meal hours represent a very considerable waste of food. With a little thought they could be arranged so as not to constitute an extra meal.

A person who eats more food than he needs is today helping the enemy, because he is not giving our soldiers and allies that support which is necessary to win the war. War has changed many things and it is now necessary that we should alter our social customs so as to conform to the need of the food situation, which is serious indeed.—Canadian Food Bulletin.

ROUNDING UP FOOD PROFITEERS

Thomas Duggan, wholesale grocer at Savannah, Ga., chose to give $1,500 to the Red Cross rather than be prosecuted for profiteering and selling without a license.

Rather than have their license to deal in foodstuffs revoked for two weeks, Benjamin Kaufman & Sons, of New York City, will pay $500 to the Red Cross. The cause of action was on the rejection by this company of a lot of buckwheat groats, causing a loss to another firm of $381.

On evidence secured by the United States Secret Service, Fred Kebbe, Jr., and Fred Kebbe, Jr., of $500 and $250, respectively, by the United States district court for violation of the food-control act, having in their possession excess quantities of flour. They also had in their homes a number of guns and rifles, which, as enemy aliens, they were holding in violation of the presidential proclamation. Pro-German activities were also ascribed to Rudolf Zweifel, who sold wheat and flour to the Kebbes. He was also indicted.

The licenses of two Massachusetts firms have been revoked for an indefinite time, and the sugar supply of another firm was curtailed by the Food Administration for disregarding rules and regulations. The firm's license are E. R. Sherburne & Co., of Boston, and L. M. Koritz Co., of Lawrence, Mass. These two firms were controlled by the third firm, P. M. Leavitt Co., Boston.

"Conscientious objectors" in Camp Taylor, Meade, and Lee will be allowed to go on furlough until August 15. They will serve their country until that time in an agricultural capacity. For selling flour at excessive prices and selling wheat flour without proper substitutes, the firm of Oberman & Scherl, wholesale grocers at 217 West One hundred and twenty-fifth Street, New York City, were ordered to pay to the Red Cross $5,000 in lieu of other penalties.

Philip R. Bradley, of Treadwell, Alaska, succeeds Judge R. A. Gunnison, who died recently, as Federal Food Administrator for Alaska. Mr. Bradley is a graduate of the University of California and is well known in east cities as a mining engineer.

GETTING ACQUAINTED WITH THE LENTIL

The American housewife knows too little about lentils. They will well bear a closer acquaintance. Anyone who has ever lived in Germany has already been introduced to them for the German Hausfrau appreciates the value of lentils as a simple, cheap and nourishing vegetable.

They are in fact one of the oldest of food plants. Asia and the Mediterranean countries have grown them from the earliest times. But because they furnish less brush than other legumes, as beans and peas, Europe has never cultivated enough for her entire supply. Instead, the European market has been partially supplied from Egypt.

With the growth of our foreign population lentils have begun to find a place in American menus. Our supply has been imported largely from Germany, and with that supply cut off the price has nearly doubled. Except in the extreme Southwestern states no effort has been made to grow them in this country.

Even at their present doubled cost they are cheaper than meat and other protein foods. They supply a greater amount of protein and energy at a given cost than almost any other food. They contain about 25% protein, more than 50% starch and a little over 2% fat. There are nearly 2500 calories in a quart of lentils.

Since we know them only in their dried or canned state, the first step in using them in any form is to soak them over night and then cook until tender. The following lentils loaf is a good meat substitute dish:

1/2 cup dried lentils.
1/2 to 1/3 cup soft wheatless bread crumbs.

2 tablespoons melted butter or other fat.

1 onion, grated.
1 pimiento, chopped.
1 teaspoon salt.
Mace.
Dash of cayenne.

Press through a sieve to remove skins. Cook onion in melted butter. Add to lentil puree together with pimiento, bread crumbs and seasonings. Mix in well-beaten egg. Bake in bread pan, in a loaf, about 30 minutes in a moderate oven basting occasionally with oil or butter. Serve with tomato sauce.

To serve four persons.
Fuel value—about 700 calories.

Tomato Sauce

2 tablespoons fat.
1 tablespoon rice flour.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
1 cup stewed and strained tomato.
Melt fat, add flour and salt. Stir until smooth. Add tomato juice, stir constantly until it boils.

This sauce adds 250 calories.

Those to whom lentils mean only soup should cultivate them in the form of croquettes, baked lentils, curried lentils, stewed lentils, or even as a salad.

Try the following war-time salad of canned lentils. It is as nourishing as it is attractive.

Place the lentils in the center of a large flat dish, surround with head-lettuce on which the quartered tomatoes and sliced beets are placed, and just before serving pour French dressing over all. Onions, cucumbers, hard-boiled egg and other vegetables may also be used if desired.

ENGLAND'S SHOULDER TO THE WHEEL

We are daily being told that we must send wheat, meat, fats and sugar to England and our other Allies, and the question is often asked, "What is England doing to provide herself with food?"

The answer is, England is providing herself with a decidedly increasing amount of food. She is turning her moors and parks into vegetable gardens and fields of grain.

All England thinks now that it is better for the country if her famous private and public parks produce less beauty and more food. An early morning glimpse of Kensington Gardens and Hyde Park reveals whole families at work, each in his allotted space, tilling and planting the soil where once were thick velvety lawns.

One big factor in the increase of food production is the "back to the land movement" and the interest in agriculture stimulated by the help of women. They are working shoulder to shoulder in the fields, organizing townswomen and the old and young who are capable of doing agricultural work.

But England's achievement, in raising in the midst of all her perplexities a larger proportion of her food than ever before in history, would have been impossible without a larger use of American-made power-machines than the English farmer would have tolerated three years ago. Three thousand five hundred tractors have been placed at the disposal of farmers, and almost an equal number of cultivators and other auxiliary machines for use with tractors. Thousands of plows and other horse-drawn implements are being supplied by the Ministry of Food to stimulate and help farmers and other food producers.

German prisoners are being used to help till the fields, for the labor shortage is a serious difficulty this year when the aim of all England is to get a vastly increased area under cultivation. Last year's increase over 1916 in potato area alone was 97,637 acres, representing in yield 1,400,000 tons of potatoes.

SOME TYPICAL COMBINATION DISHES AND FOODS SERVED WITH THEM TO MAKE RATIONAL MEALS

Spaghetti, macaroni or rice cooked with tomato, onion, or green pepper and cheese or cheese sauce, served with white, graham, or whole-wheat bread and butter and stewed or sliced fruit and simple cookies.

Boiled rice, baked (scalloped) with minced left-over meat, chipped beef or fresh or canned fish, served with beet, dandelion or other greens, dressed with peanut, olive, cotton-seed or other table oil, with vinegar and lemon juice enough to flavor the dressing, and wheat, corn or rye bread and honey.

Green peas and canned salmon with white (i. e., thickened milk) sauce, served with corn bread and syrup.

Meat pie (meat from inexpensive cuts) or fish pie with flour or potato crust, served with turnips, carrots, onions or parsnips, and biscuits and butter, with jam or jelly or hot chocolate.

Mashed potatoes with creamed codfish (i. e., cream sauce containing a little salt codfish), served with lettuce with oil and vinegar or lemon juice dressing, and crackers and cheese or peanut butter sandwiches.

Meat stew (inexpensive cuts or left-overs), with turnips or other vegetables, including left-overs, and with rice in the stew or flour or corn-meal dumplings, or fish chowder made from fresh, canned or dried fish, crackers, skim milk and onion, served with bread and butter and fresh or stewed fruit.

Cowpeas boiled with pork and combined with boiled rice, served with a green vegetable or vegetable salad and honey, brown sugar, maple sugar or date sandwiches.

Bean and cheese roast (a mixture of cooked beans and cheese prepared and seasoned like a meat loaf), with tomato sauce or brown gravy, served with sweet potatoes and bread and butter and sliced orange and banana or other fruit.

COTTAGE CHEESE RECIPES

Cottage Cheese Sausage
One cup cottage cheese; one cup dry bread crumbs, or one-half cup cold cooked rice and one-half cup bread crumbs; one-fourth cup peanut butter, or two tablespoons savory fat; one-fourth cup coarsely chopped peanut meats, one-half teaspoon powdered sage, one-half teaspoon thyme, one tablespoon milk, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one-third teaspoon soda, one tablespoon finely chopped onion. The bread crumbs may be made from left-over corn, barley or other quick breads, or rice may be substituted by somewhat reducing the amount of liquid used.

Cook the onion in the fat until tender but not brown. Dissolve the soda in the milk and work into the cheese. Mix all other dry ingredients thoroughly with the bread crumbs. Blend peanut butter and onion with the cheese, and mix with them the bread crumbs. Form into flat cakes, dust with bread crumbs or corn meal, and fry a delicate brown in a little fat in a hot frying pan.

For variations: To utilize left-over cereals, use one cup of cooked rice, oatmeal or cornmeal mush with three-fourths cup of bread crumbs. Dry cornmeal or finely ground oatmeal may be used for stiffening the above mixture, but in such case it is better to form into a loaf and bake it in the oven about 25 minutes. Other seasonings may be used in place of the above. The amount of liquid will vary in every case. The mixture should be very stiff, since the cheese tends to soften it during the cooking.

Pimiento And Cottage Cheese Roast

Two cups cooked cereal (rice, etc.) one cup cottage cheese, one cup dry bread crumbs, three pimientos (chopped fine), one and one-eighth teaspoons salt, one-fourth teaspoon soda, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, liquid, if necessary. Blend all together very thoroughly, making the mixture very stiff. Form into a roll and bake about 25 minutes basting from time to time with savory fat or meat drippings if necessary.

Cottage cheese sauces are useful for creaming potatoes, eggs, toast and left-over vegetables, and for scalloping these and other dishes. The cheese materially increases the protein and lime content of the sauce (licker, it is somewhat, and, unless the acid is neutralized with baking soda, leads to a slight sour or acid flavor which is desirable in some dishes and undesirable in others. From one-fourth to one-half level teaspoonful of soda is necessary to neutralize completely the acid flavor in one cup of cheese. The soda should be dissolved in a little milk or hot water, and blended with the cheese.

Proportions For White Sauces With Cottage Cheese

Thin Sauce—1 cup milk, 1/2 tsp. butter, 1/2 tsp. flour, 1/2 tsp. salt, one dash pepper, 1/4 cup cheese.

Medium Sauce—1 cup milk, 1/2 tsp. butter, 1 tsp. flour, 1/2 tsp. salt, one dash pepper, 1/4 cup cheese.

Thick Sauce—1 cup milk, 1 tsp. butter, 2 tsp. flour, 1/2 tsp. salt, one dash pepper, 1/4 cup cheese.

Cream Of Cottage Cheese Soup

Make thin cottage cheese sauce (use preceding rule), neutralizing the acid of the cheese with baking soda. Season by reheating with the soup a slice of onion, a small slice of the yellow part of the lemon rind, and a blade of mace or a little nutmeg. No one of these flavors should predominate, and the seasoning should be very delicate. Serve croutons with this soup.

Pat And His Bike

A gentleman who had purchased a new bicycle gave his old one to an Irishman.

"Why have you ever tried?" asked the gentleman.

"You'll find the wheel useful when you are in a hurry," said the gentleman to Pat.

"O! trust it will be a long time till O! can ride it," said the Irishman.

Maui Under Baldwin Heel Says Raymond

Fire-Eating Candidate In Hilo Launches Fight Against Kuhlö—Has Little To Say About McCandless—Maui A Feudal Colony

Dr. Raymond, who opened his campaign for the delegateship on Hawaii last week, is reported to be training his guns almost exclusively on Kuhlö, as though his race in the primaries against Link McCandless was already won. He has apparently said little about Link, but he has said a lot about Maui. This island is so thoroughly dominated by the Baldwin interests, he is telling the Big Island people, that no one dares call his soul his own if he expects to remain there.

The following report of one of the Doctor's meetings is from the Hilo Tribune: "Addressing an audience of fully 75 persons of several nationalities Dr. J. H. Raymond, the candidate who is seeking the nomination of the Democratic party for the right to run against Delegate Kuhlö made his second campaign speech last night in Hilo. The meeting was held in the Savoy Theater, Waikaka, and several Japanese children who had evidently wandered in under the impression that the affair was a free moving picture show, soon stretched themselves out on the empty benches and went to sleep.

"Senator Makekai was on deck and so was David Ewaliko, the campaign manager of Dr. Raymond on this island. The candidate and his two henchmen were covered with beautiful leis. The doctor found it so hot that he had to remove his coat.

"Dr. Raymond followed his usual line in his address. He attacked the 'interests' and declared that the island of Maui is simply a feudal colony owned by the Baldwins, who order everybody who won't vote for Kuhlö off the island. The doctor said that when he ran for the Senator two years ago, the Baldwins brought all the big political guns up from Honolulu to down him and also obtained the services of Senator Desha from the Island of Hawaii. Still, said Dr. Raymond, in Waikuku the only 'free' part of Maui, he polled the heaviest vote ever given a candidate for any office and ran ahead of even the late 'B' Wilcox's vote by just four notches.

"Turning to Hawaii, Dr. Raymond declared that on the Island of Hawaii the people are independent and cannot be ordered off the face of the earth, as he asserted might be done to them on Maui, or Kauai, where there was no possibility of an Hawaiian obtaining a piece of land to make his home on.

"Then Dr. Raymond brought forward the subject of his own fitness for the office. David Ewaliko interpreted and it was noticed that he took about ten minutes to say what the doctor had said in three minutes.

"While claiming not to attack the Baldwins of Maui, the doctor managed to give a fairly good imitation of backfire praise and he did not mince words when talking about nearly everybody on Maui being owned body and soul by the 'interests.' "Kuhlö admits, he said that he was elected to the position of Delegate by the Maui vote. Maui gave him a majority of 1,208 votes over McCandless. Kuhlö is in the pay of the planters and he does as he is told. I will be an independent delegate if elected and will work for the poor people, wound up Dr. Raymond.

"The candidate will start out on his tour of the Island tomorrow and Senator Makekai will go with him."

Existence Getting Hard In Germany

The Hague, August 1.—(By Associated Press)—Leather shoes are sold in Berlin for less than the correspondent of the Amsterdam Handelsblad.

"Clothing of all kinds, including underclothing, is most difficult to get, even with a clothing card. No handkerchiefs, no shirts, no socks, no napkins, no wools or cotton jacket for baby. Decent washing and toilet soap has long been unobtainable. Many things are unobtainable that are still to be had in Holland, although prices may run much higher than in peace times. Yet the Berliner looks fairly clean and well-groomed. The art of clothesmending has been carried to a fine point here. And water and sand keeps you clean too, at a pinch.

"A smokeable cigar cannot be bought for less than 60 pennings, and then not more than three at a time. A cigarette costs 12 pennings, and smoking tobacco has gone the way of rice and beans and peas and salad oil and brandy and turpentine and sealing wax and a hundred other articles. Gone, completely gone!

"Only as regards fuel, the Berliners are better off. There is hardly any limit on gas, electricity or coal. "Great material privations have been, and are being borne, with fortitude. Added to which are the pangs of mourning and sorrow, grief and anxiety in thousands of homes for the fallen, and those about to fall."

The boy or girl away at school will appreciate a subscription to the home paper as much as does the soldier boy in camp or battle front. Give us the address, we'll do the rest. THE MAUI NEWS, 1 year, $2.50, post paid; $1.25 for 6 months; 75 cents, 3 months.

RED CROSS NOTES

LETTER TO WORKERS

The following extracts are taken from a long letter from Otis H. Cutler, manager of the Insular and Foreign Red Cross, which has been sent out to every chapter of the Insular and Foreign Divisions of the Red Cross, a copy of which has been received by the Red Cross on Maui: "The Red Cross today is one of the greatest manufacturing enterprises in the world, and the wise direction of all this energy and enthusiasm presents many serious problems. We want every Red Cross worker to understand the situation as it gradually develops so that we may have that co-operation on the part of every one that goes with a true understanding of Red Cross aims and purposes."

Then in speaking of the necessity, which the Red Cross realized of providing great quantities of material for the articles to be made by the chapter workers, as well as drafting instructions and arranging for transportation, and storing the finished product, Mr. Cutler says: "It was not humanly possible at the outset to make any dependable estimates of the quantities and relative proportions in which the various kinds of articles should be produced. The Red Cross commissions when they took up their work abroad, and our departments of military relief, dealing with the camps and cantonments in this country, understood from the first the necessity from every point of view of making these estimates. It required time and opportunity to study the situation from every angle so as to be sure in the end that they had given due weight to all of the perplexing phrases of the problem.

"The tremendous production of all these useful articles has been going on in every part of the country, so that we have been able thus far, to not only meet in one way or another all of the demands upon the Red Cross from every quarter but have, at the same time, been able to do one further thing, which we consider essential. That is, the creation of great stocks of necessary articles, so that emergencies—and emergencies are the rule of war—might always find us ready.

Surgical Dressings "There has been serious difficulty in securing sufficient gauze and other materials used in making dressings.

Our department of supplies is working in close co-operation with the government to see that regular quantities of these materials are secured for Red Cross work—any women who are willing to work need not be idle because of lack of opportunity. There is urgent need for other kinds of Red Cross work, hospital garments, refugee garments, comfort kits, knitted goods.

"Definite estimates of their requirements between now and the autumn are in hand and have served as the basis for the allotments for the work to be done by the chapters. To make the things called for by this estimate will mean that more women than ever before will be required to devote their time to this work. "The same disciplined effort which has met the needs of the past year will answer the new demands. The women of the country must expect to respond to sudden changes in orders and to accept irregularity in supplies as these are a necessary outcome of war demands and conditions. It is precisely this ability to respond to the situation, be what it may, no matter how confusing to previous plans and ideas, that makes the Red Cross a dependable and efficient force for winning the war.

"There has been nothing finer than the unselfish and devoted way that the women of the country have given of their time and skill in making Red Cross aid dependable.

"We are sure that the basis on which, broadly speaking, we are attempting to handle the matter, is the only practical one. Our standards are based on first hand knowledge and careful observation of people who are right on the ground. We hope to change our standards as little as possible; we hope to have them as simple as possible. Our standards are, however, meeting the test of real service every day. The goal which we have set is not a visionary one, but we have had practical war facts to face.

"We are confident that every loyal member of the Red Cross will do the utmost to promote the efficiency of the organization so that we may continue to be the greatest relief agency operating in the war."

RELATIVES TO GET CIVILIAN CLOTHES OF ENLISTED MEN

In answer to an inquiry by the Home Service office, as to what becomes of the civilian clothes of the enlisted men when they don the khaki uniform, the following has been received by the local Home Service Branch of the American Red Cross: "All civilian clothes are in the barracks with their owners names, and later are to be sent to their relatives. Owing to the more urgent rush of business by the army authorities, these matters have not been attended to, but eventually will be."

GIRLS WIN RED CROSS BUTTONS

The attendance at the Junior Red Cross, Waikuku continues to be gratifying, showing that the interest of the younger members is holding up well, in spite of vacation allotments and the summer weather. Four of the girls are proudly wearing the Red Cross official membership button of the Red Cross, which was presented to them for each having done a sweater. Two more girls expect to win their pins very soon.

---a car to be proud of, at a price you can readily pay
Chevrolet cars are built for men who want a car to be proud of without paying excessively for it.
They embody those features of refinement and the mechanical perfection which make the high-priced cars desirable.
The Chevrolet price makes it possible for you to realize ownership of a thoroughly high-class car that not only is within your means as to initial cost, but keeps within your means on upkeep.
Every Chevrolet is equipped with a valve-in-head motor. Every Chevrolet is built heavy enough to keep to the road, no matter how fast or hard the going, yet is light enough to be easy on tires. Every Chevrolet is fully equipped—electric starter and lighting system, one-man top, demountable rims, extra tire carrier, tilted windshield, speedometer, robe rail, foot rail—everything that comfort and convenience dictates—no "extras" to buy.
The Chevrolet itself proves all we say for it. Let us demonstrate a Chevrolet for you.

HAWAII AFTER THE WAR

J. T. Rosseter, who was taken by the United States government from the management of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and put at the head of the U. S. Shipping Board because of not only his acknowledged executive ability but on account of his almost uncanny foresight and insight in connection with shipping and commerce, recently said:

"Within half a decade Honolulu and Manila may reasonably expect to find themselves well up in the list of leading seaports of the world. The course of empire, trending ever westward in accord with the immortal prophecy of Bishop Berkeley, will bring an era of great prosperity to Hawaii and the Philippines, starting immediately after the conclusion of the war. I sincerely hope the two districts will be ready to grasp their opportunities when the latter present themselves."

Mr. Rosseter expresses what other possibly less qualified students of current events have predicted. The consensus of opinion is that, with the great fleet of commercial shipping turned loose with the conclusion of the war, a large part of it is to find employment in developing trade in the Pacific. Hawaii, from her position as the Pacific crossroads, must be of importance in any development that occurs.

The Honolulu chamber of commerce has put the matter into the hands of a special committee in order that it may be studied with a view to Honolulu's being ready to handle whatever business is likely to come her way after the war. The Hilo business community is also taking notice, believing that Hilo is destined to have a part in whatever shipping business comes to the Islands.

The question suggests itself—has Maui nothing to expect from a great boom of trade in the Pacific?

Maui already has one of the best and safest harbors in the Islands. It is little out of the usual route to the Orient or Australia. Hilo has nothing that Kahului cannot offer to shipping, so that if Hilo can reasonably expect to profit as a world seaport, Kahului might with equal assurance expect to do so also. It might be remembered that Maui once held first place of all the islands as a rendezvous of shipping. There is no insuperable reason why some of this preeminence might not come again.

AN AUGUST CONCEPTION

Samuel Taylor Coleridge, poet and essayist, writing some 75 years ago, said:

"The possible destiny of the United States of America as a Nation of a hundred million of free men, stretching from Atlantic to the Pacific, living under the laws of Alfred and speaking the language of Shakespeare and Milton, is an august conception."

The United States is now a Nation of a hundred million and more, stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and reaching out west takes in Hawaii and the Philippines, in the north Alaska, and in the south the Panama Canal. But grander than its physical is its moral greatness. Its fairness and justice, its courage and power, its maintenance of right and freedom cover the world.

The destiny the United States is now fulfilling is a more august conception than even the imagination of the author of Kubla Khan conceived of less than a century ago.

EXCHANGING LIBERTY BONDS

The treasury department has issued the following concerning the exchange of Liberty Bonds:

The issue of registered bonds of the Third Liberty Loan has progressed so far that transfers and exchanges of registered for coupon bonds will be made on and after August 1 until August 15. The registry books will be closed on the later date in order to prepare checks for interest payments on September 15. Bonds may be presented during such period for transfer or exchange, but such transaction will be effected after September 15 and the September interest paid to whom-ever was holder of the bonds on August 15.

Coupon bonds presented after August 15 for exchange for registered bonds should have the September interest coupon detached; the registered bonds issued upon such exchange will bear interest from September 15.

GERMAN LANGUAGE IN THE SCHOOLS

The attitude of the school commissioners towards the teaching of the German language in the high schools of the territory is unfortunate. The barring of the course is not only unfair to the students who have started on it and need another year or two for credits in entering college, but is a narrow view-point for an educational institutional to take. It makes no difference if the German language should cease entirely following the war, as a medium of intercourse. It will always have a certain scholastic interest and value though it becomes as dead as Sanskrit. All the German ever imbibed by a pupil in a high school probably never did or never will do any harm.

This argument does not apply to primary or grade schools. Here the board, or the legislature, or the congress if need be, might well set up a tabu that would prevent any language other than English being taught, whether in public or in private institutions.

CONSERVING OUR MANHOOD

The House amendment to the man-power bill, providing for holding in reserve the boys drafted between the ages of 18 and 21, should meet with general approval. Of all her human assets the nation can perhaps least afford to sacrifice her boys. They are our chief hope for the future. If our future army requirements are drawn first from the older classes of physically able men we shall be going at the business the right way. The policy will naturally not be popular with our young hot-bloods, but it is along the lines of true conservation.

WHERE THE POLO CLUB STANDS

In connection with our comment last week on the big race meet being arranged for in Honolulu, Frank F. Baldwin, one of the leading members of the Hawaii Polo and Racing Club, has written to make clear the club's position in the matter. In the first place the club is not giving the meet, backing it, or admitting in any way any responsibility for it.

Because the Kapiolani Park race track is public property, Mr. Baldwin explains, the club did not consider it would be justified in refusing the use of it to others, and after vainly trying to dissuade the race horse men, it was finally decided to let them have the track on condition that the name of the club should not in any way be associated with the enterprise. That there might not be even a financial interest, it was agreed to make no charge to the promoters for the use of the track.

Mr. Baldwin and R. W. Shingle are the only members of the polo club directorate now in the territory, and they have been doing their best to see that the promoters of the races kept their agreement to specifically announce that the Hawaii Polo and Racing Club was not in any way connected with the enterprise.

torate now in the territory, and they have been doing their best to see that the promoters of the races kept their agreement to specifically announce that the Hawaii Polo and Racing Club was not in any way connected with the enterprise.

This announcement accordingly made its appearance last Friday in the Honolulu papers in form of a 2-inch, single column advertisement as follows:

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

The local racing committee representing horse owners wish to announce that the proposed race meet to be held at Kapiolani Park on August 31, September 2 and September 7 is not being conducted under the auspices of the Hawaii Polo & Racing Association.

Honolulu, August 15, 1918.

THE COMMITTEE.

11323-34.

"I feel no ill-will towards the people who are giving the races," writes Mr. Baldwin, "but for the sake of racing and the Club, I want people to know the facts."

The club is opposed to professional racing at present because of the cost involved and the use of imported feeds, the feeding of which is held to be contrary to the policy of conservation to which the country is pledged.

DID NOT BORROW TO BUY BONDS

The Federal Reserve Bulletin says that one of the most encouraging and gratifying features of the Third Liberty Loan is that apparently there has been little use of bank accommodations for the purchase of the bonds. It estimates that probably more than 80 per cent of the bonds are already fully paid for.

The financial statements of the various Federal reserve banks indicate, according to the Bulletin, that not much borrowing from the banks was done by the subscribers to the third loan. They either paid cash or bought on the installment plan.

This eases a great deal the burden of the banks, upon whose shoulders rests the financing of the business and industry of the country.

THE MUFFLER CUT-OUT NUISANCE

A kick against the muffler cut-out nuisance was voiced at the last meeting of the chamber of commerce, after business had been suspended several times in the course of half an hour while noisy cars passed.

There is plenty of law on the subject, and the matter is clearly up to the police.

The muffler cut-out is not only a nuisance but is largely useless except as a noise maker. Modern automobiles show no appreciable increase of power with it in use. In fact a number of manufacturers who formerly included a muffler cut-out in the equipment of their cars now dispense with it as useless.

UN-AMERICAN LOGIC

The brand of logic which Editor Fred Makino uses when he announces that he will fight by all means in his power the plans to admit Chinese laborers to the Islands, while at the same time he is urging the abrogation of the agreement between the United States and Japan which keeps Japanese laborers from coming, is something to wonder over.

Mr. Makino professes to desire the Americanization of Hawaii, but how this is to be accomplished in face of another overwhelming flood of either Japanese or Chinese is something that the average American will find hard to see.

Sheriff Crowell's idea of having the county prisoners raise their own vegetables is a good one. There should be plenty of land available for the purpose and there is no reason why the prisoners should not produce a large part of what they eat. It will be good for the men and good for the community. The supervisors in sanctioning the plan, have evidently grasped the possibilities of the idea.

The women of the Red Cross in Maui have inaugurated an advertising campaign in hope of stirring up a little more enthusiasm on the part of some of their slightly indifferent or unthinking sisters. Their "Hot Shot No. 1" appears in the advertising section of this issue. It contains food for thought. Others are to follow.

Some people seem to have overlooked the fact that it is as much an offense now to give a friend a drink as it is to sell him a barrel of whiskey. It should not be forgotten, either, that Uncle Sam has the job of enforcing the new prohibition law, which means that it will really be dangerous to trifle with it.

When the Honolulu brewery over-estimates the public thirst to the extent of $10,000 worth of beer left on its hands, it may be inferred that suffering from the drought may be less severe than the pessimists predicted.

The sentencing of Luna Spillner to serve 16 years for making pro-German utterances, should be a big help to some people in remembering Attorney General Gregory's keep-your-mouth-shut injunction.

OUR ISLAND CONTEMPORARIES

The Gospel Of Hate
We are hearing and reading much of a thing which has been called "The Gospel of Hate." And the notion has found its way abroad that an army must be inefficient except it attacks in a frenzy of hate.

"Home Rule" Assininity
Dr. Raymond, a ranch-owner of the island of Maui, who has announced his candidacy for the Delegateship to Congress, said something last week when he remarked: "The only way to handle the public lands of this Territory, in my opinion, is to federalize the land office."

Get Ready For Big Tonnage
Honolulu's harbor needs are pointed out today in a statement by Harbormaster Foster, the man who wrestles daily with the problem of a congested harbor.

John H. Rosceter, director of shipping operations for the U. S. shipping board, in his statement published in this paper a few days ago, indicated the tremendous expansion that is coming.

Comments On Dr. Raymond's Candidacy
Was it by oversight or with deliberate intent that Dr. Raymond advertised himself yesterday as the Democratic nominee to Congress? Dr. Raymond is nobody's nominee except his own for anything.

If David Evaliko turns as loose a key on Raymond's candidacy as he did on the Hilo jail, the doctor is likely to awake some morning to find the cradle empty.—Hilo Tribune.

Bone Dry Tomorrow
The Prohibitionists have had their will of us, and Tuesday, August 20, sees the retirement for several years at least, of John Harleycorn. Whether his retirement is permanent or he will succeed in "coming back" remains for the future to decide.

Conscience Of Cowards
F. L. Whaley, formerly an employe of the Mutual Telephone Company, Honolulu, who has been in prison since September 1913 serving a 10 to 20 year sentence for the murder of his wife, has been pardoned by Governor McCarthy.

Too Much To Expect
It would have been a nine-days' wonder if the new planting agreement between the territorial government and the planters failed to stir up protests somewhere along the line. From Kauai there comes a sharp note of disapproval, with the distinction of being from a group of home-steaders who have shown themselves fairly shrew in dealing with the plantations.

We Need To Be Jolted
"We are getting tired of these patriotic calls," said one Honolulu business man recently. "They are coming so fast that we are getting deaf to them."

On The Other Islands

Dr. And Mrs. Young Entertain Friends
One of the most pleasurable social events of the past week took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Young of Lihue last Saturday evening.

Mrs. Hendrick Named Deputy W. S. S. Director
Mrs. H. E. Hendrick, of Honolulu, who is at present on Maui with a party headed by P. L. Weaver which is making the trip around the island by way of the ditch trail and crater, has just been appointed deputy director of Hawaii for the War Saving Stamp campaign.

Child's Planned Trip To Washington Is Called Off
Food Administrator Child will not go to Washington to attend the conference of food administrators to be held there on September 4, as was urged by Chairman J. D. Dole, of the territorial food board, for the reason that Governor McCarthy is opposed to the idea.

Profiteering
Food Administrator Child and his assistants are hot on the trail of stores which profiteer in the sale of foodstuffs, and have had several instances of such unpatriotic dealings. It is fair to say, however, that in most instances the profiteering appears to come from misunderstanding or ignorance.

The Governor has appointed Maj. L. G. Blackman, Hawaiian National Guard, and commandant of the Honolulu Military Academy, as his military aide, in place of Capt. A. J. Porter, N. G. H., who has resigned to enter the army as a private, First Hawaiian Infantry, with a view to taking examinations for an officer's commission.

Lava In Kilauea Nears Tops
Reports from Hawaii are to effect that the pit in Kilauea is expected to overflow before the end of the week. The lava on Tuesday was said to be within 10 feet of the rim and steadily rising. It is declared to be very spectacular.

William C. Hodges, of Honolulu, has been arrested on charge of conducting a lottery. He is accused of raffling off a diamond ring.

Superintendent H. W. Kinney, of the school department, states that it is possible that the Matson company may be permitted to send a special steamer from the coast late this month to bring the many passengers in San Francisco waiting to come to the islands, and particularly the 125 mainland school teachers who have been engaged for the coming school year.

A. P. Christian has been appointed temporary chief sanitary inspector for the island of Hawaii, to fill the vacancy caused by Maj. D. S. Bowman's absence in the service. Christian was a district sanitary inspector at Hilo. The appointment was made by S. S. Paxson, president of the board of health.

The huge concrete posts at the several entrances of the capital grounds, Honolulu, are to be removed in order to widen the drive ways. The posts are all that remain of the high wall that once entirely surrounded the capital, but which was removed after the Revolution.

A quantity of gold English sovereigns were discovered on Monday morning by children in the branches of a tree on King street, near the St. Mary's Mission. The money is supposed to be a part of the valuables stolen some months ago from an Australian woman tourist while she was stopping at the MacDonald Hotel.

Sanitary Inspector Osmer To Leave Soon

J. L. Osmer, chief sanitary inspector for Maui of the board of health, will be transferred to Honolulu as soon as his successor here can be decided upon.

Mrs. Hendrick Named Deputy W. S. S. Director

Mrs. H. E. Hendrick, of Honolulu, who is at present on Maui with a party headed by P. L. Weaver which is making the trip around the island by way of the ditch trail and crater, has just been appointed deputy director of Hawaii for the War Saving Stamp campaign.

Mrs. Hendrick had already been taking a prominent part in the campaign in Honolulu. She plans to meet a number of prominent business men of central Maui, with R. A. Wadsworth, director of the work for this county, before she returns to Honolulu.

The Weaver party was in Keane last Saturday night. It is expected to spend a day or two at Kipahulu, and is expected back in Wailuku tomorrow or Sunday. The visitors are reported to have enjoyed the scenery of the ditch trail country, but to have been well soaked by heavy rains during most of the trip.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION FOR HAWAIIAN BOYS

The manual trades and farming are essential. Skilled workmanship commands high wages and the good workman is always in demand. This school exists to give that boy of yours an education that will fit him for making a good living. Here he will learn to do useful things in an orderly skilful way.

The boy with a practical education in Carpentry, Machine Shop

Practice, Electricity, Forging, Farming or Stock-breeding GOES AHEAD while the boy without the technical schooling stays in one place. It takes one boy months to get into a well paying position. Another takes years. The practical beginnings of such an education—beginnings so far along as to fit the boy to plunge immediately into his trade, if he so desires—is offered to boys of Hawaiian blood especially, in the course at

THE KAMEHAMEHA SCHOOLS.

The herds of dairy cows, the breeding stock, the Berkshire hogs at Kamehameha are prize winners. The dairy equipment is most up-to-date; dairying is run as a business, and the boys become familiar with how to judge stock, test milk, and run a dairy for profit.

The backbone of Hawaii's industry is agriculture. Do not you want your son to win back ownership of Hawaii's land? Hawaiians should be PREPARED to take up land when it is available.

Farming and Live Stock Breeding

The Hawaiians have a particular talent for raising good stock. Stock raising and dairying combined with farming is profitable. It is a healthy, clean, respectable business. The boy who learns farming at Kamehameha can go out, either for himself or he may advance to become foreman or luna of a ranch or plantation.

Well Paying Trades

Machinist, electrician, carpenter, ironworker,—which would your boy rather be? Men in those trades get high wages. Your boy may be better fitted for one than another. Let him try his hand at each one before he makes his decision. After he has tried each trade at Kamehameha, for the rest of his time there he specializes in the one that he likes best.

For teaching trades, Kamehameha is the best equipped school in the Territory. Equipment and instruction is as good as any offered in expensive Mainland technical schools. The work given is absolutely practical. Graduates from Kamehameha can go into their trades and make rapid advancement.

The schools develop mechanical ability and inventive genius and give to the boys a liking for clean, constructive, well paid work.

Military, Athletic & Moral Training

Military training, so necessary now, is an important part of the school life at Kamehameha. There are three drills a week under the instruction of a regular army officer. Rigid military discipline governs the students all the time. The value of this kind of training in character development is very great. Boys who have learned to obey orders with military promptness are the ones who will later give orders and be obeyed.

There are two military encampments, one on Oahu for military tactics, the second on one of the other islands, for military training, sightseeing and for recreation. During a four year course every boy has a chance to see the sights of and become acquainted with all the Islands.

The athletic program of Kamehameha keeps the boys in splendid physical trim and health. On the large athletic field every boy has a chance for daily training and baseball, football, basket ball, and track teams are developed in their regular seasons. Clean manly sport makes clean manly character. Good health that comes of plenty of good exercise makes good workmen.

One of the main objects of the school is the moral guidance of the students, and the development of Christian character. Non-sectarian church services are held on Sunday and during the week under the leadership of the resident chaplain and the quiet influence of the instructors the boys' habits and thoughts are directed in the proper channels.

School Commences September 9.

TUITION AND EXPENSES. These are very small. In fact a boy can be more cheaply sent to Kamehameha for a year than he can be kept at home. The tuition is $50, which includes both teaching and living. Good meals and comfortable dormitories are provided for this amount. Cost of books and necessary uniforms, also the hospital fee of $1 and the dental fee of $4 all should come within $50, making the total cost for the year about $100. The school gives educational advantages to Boys from 6 to 20 Years Old.

Basket Ball Series Getting White Hot

Gym Team Still Holds Lead But Had Narrow Squeak With Cubs—Kahului And Gym To Play Tonight At Community House

On Friday, August 16th, the Maui Basket Ball League gave the public what everyone declared the best yet. This is not exaggerated, for the quality of games put up was number one.

The game between Kahului and St. Anthony was very close throughout and was won by the former team by a score of 14 to 10.

The second game, between Wailuku Gymnasium and the Cubs, was even more exciting. Till the last two minutes of the game the score was 16-10, but the Wailuku Gym team rallied, and made a total score of 14.

These games were certainly worth while. A white heat of excitement prevailed and the basket ball fans were busy telling the boys what to do throughout.

Big Battle Tonight The next game will be played at the Kahului Community House this evening. The public is invited to attend.

The Kahului and Gymnasium teams are now the cup contenders and a hard battle is expected between these two teams at the coming stand.

Standing of the teams is as follows: Played Won Lost Per. Kahului 4 4 0 1.000 of some of the capital stock of the company which was never paid in. The unsecured claims amount to some $25,000.

The holders of the $20,000 first mortgage, which was allowed by the bankruptcy court as a preferred claim and who were obliged to bid in the property to protect their interests, are also, barring the possible supreme court reversal, the owners of the hotel, free from incumbrance.

The original stockholders lose entirely their investment, regardless of who finally gets the property.

The Grand Hotel cost over $50,000 to build and furnish. It is estimated that, based on the present prices of materials and furnishings it would cost at least $75,000 to duplicate it now.

The boy or girl away at school will appreciate a subscription to the home paper as much as does the soldier boy in camp or battle front.

Passing Of Demon Rum Is Peaceful

give away, manufacture, transport, import, or export intoxicating liquors, except for medicinal, scientific, sacramental, or medicinal purposes, for which purposes the sale, gift, transport, import, and export of the same shall be under such rules and regulations as the Governor of the Territory may prescribe, and any person violating the provisions hereof shall be fined in a sum not exceeding $500 or imprisoned for a period of not longer than one year, or both.

Sec. 2. That the said petition shall be addressed to and filed with the Secretary of the Territory at least two months before the election at which the question is to be voted upon, and the person obtaining any signature to such petition shall make affidavit that he witnessed the signing of the name and believes the address of each petitioner affixed to his name is the true address of such petitioner.

Governor Makes Rules In the advertising section of this issue is a "by authority" publication of the new rules and regulations just approved by the Governor for the regulation of such traffic in liquor as is still permitted under the law.

Here on Maui the commission consists of T. B. Lyons, D. C. Lindsay, D. H. Case, C. D. Laikin, and W. F. Kane. An informal meeting or two of the members has been held but no definite action taken as yet.

It is possible that the board will not license any person on Maui to sell the liquor needed here for medicinal, scientific, mechanical, or sacramental purposes, but will have such supplies ordered from Honolulu as needed. The board will appoint an inspector to approve prescriptions of doctors, o. k. orders of physicians and others entitled to have liquors, and check up the records of all such from time to time.

But this job, the commissioners believe, will be a simple one. They do not anticipate that there will be much liquor dispensed on Maui for all purposes permitted, and this through a very limited number of channels. No one has as yet been selected for the position of inspector, and there will probably be no great race for the job since the board thinks it will be in nature of a sinecure and as such call for but a nominal salary.

End Of The Demon Peaceful There was little ceremony on Maui to mark the passing of Demon Rum. The few liquor dealers still in business had practically sold out their stocks a day or two before, and there was little booze available for the wake had there been any such inclination.

The several hotels which had bars are all preparing to install ice cream and soft drink departments, and the proprietors appear to all be cheerful over the prospects. In fact they seem to feel a sense of relief as though the burden of an annoying and uncertain responsibility had been lifted from their shoulders.

Lahaina Games End With Honors Even

11 Inning Game On Lahaina Diamond Sets West Maui Wild—Will Try Again Next Sunday On Wailuku Grounds

The two games of baseball played at Lahaina last Sunday they were divided evenly between the two towns, Wailuku winning the first game with her first team and losing the second to her second team.

Lahaina nor Wailuku being satisfied, they have decided to play another game this coming Sunday at the Wailuku grounds. The proceeds again are to be given to the Red Cross. The collection taken at Lahaina amounted to $21.00.

Lahaina certainly did well last Sunday in way of patronage, a very large crowd seeing the games on the new diamond that was recently filled in opposite the Armory.

AT THE THEATERS

"The Widow's Might" Clever Julian Eltinge, the well-known Paramount feminine impersonator, makes a very fascinating widow indeed in his newest production, "The Widow's Might."

The story begins with Dick Tavish, a young city chap, deciding to move out West and establish himself as a cow-puncher, because he has heard that there is money in cows.

As it happens, Dick is more than glad to get to Coronado, for he has learned that pretty Irene Stuart, with whom he is in love during the long lonely watches at the ranch, is there also, and stopping at the same hotel as himself, the man they have come to see.

THE WAR AND THE BIBLE

By Gertrude B. Judd.

"The best ally you can procure for us is the Bible."—It brings reality, which is freedom.—Garibaldi.

Often since the war began it has been brought as a charge and a taunt against Christianity and Christian nations, particularly the church, that most of the great wars of history have been fought in the name of Christ and His God. The church has been expected to hang its head before such a reproach, and in some few cases it has done so, confused by the criticism. It is also said that the church has had nothing constructive to say in the matter of the present war.

It is not true that the church has had nothing to say regarding this war. It is true however that most of the great wars of the world have been in the name of Christ, and religion. All the wars worth fighting at all have been in His name. After all the only wars the world has approved at all have been religious wars and humanitarian ones, and they are only kind that ever have been or ever will be successful. The army of Pharaoh, drowned in the Red sea was a fair prototype of the fate of every greedy pursuer of selfish ends by war, through history. The great Assyrian king of Old Testament, and more than Old Testament fame wielded a weapon of iron over all the known world of his day. Starting from Nineveh as his center, he penetrated year after year down through the valleys of Palestine even into Egypt. At last his empire fell by its own weight, and so complete was its fall that it is not till quite recently that men have been able to locate the exact spot where the great capital stood.

Caesar fought his Gallic wars and penetrated even to England, then in due time, Rome too fell in its thousand pieces, leaving only Roman law as its tribute to the civilization of the world. Napoleon forced his way through history as far as Waterloo, and there suffered such a defeat that Waterloo is to this day the name for absolute failure.

Prussia, has been long on her quest for gain; she is now carrying all Germany before her into the fray, but she too has reached her limit and her failure is already assured. It has not been so with certain other wars—That dreadful French Revolution, how it purged France! The American Revolution, why, even this very year England celebrates our Fourth of July in open approval of the action taken so long ago by the Puritan Fathers! The Civil war by which Union was assured and enslaved humanity was set free; the Cuban war for humanity's sake! These have not been set-backs but stepping stones to a new realization of the world's capacity for righteousness. These are wars fought just as truly in the name of Jesus as those earlier religious wars of which men talk.

Still those were great wars,—soul thrilling! Think of the days when the Bible was just completed. It was no sooner bound in one, scarcely that when councils began to meet and tear it to pieces, those stories of Jesus told by beloved disciples, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John and the rest of it by Peter, Paul, John and others. It is no small wonder, and greatly to the credit of mankind that there were those who approached and said to the councils—"Let it alone, it is our Bible." And when they would not let it alone, oh thanks to those stout souls, they shook their fists in the faces of the would be mutilators and cried—"Give us back our Bible and see you don't tamper with it." They did not give it back and they did tamper with it." Then thank God they fought, how they fought! till the Bible, as it always must, came off victorious. Later it happened some way that the State got control of the church and the State required that the religion should be Catholic. Gradually the government shut in around the Bible again, saying: "You can't exactly have the Bible but we will interpret for you such parts as you should have. For a long time people didn't realize what was happening, but gradually they discovered that the Bible they were receiving was not the Bible, but mere bits parcelled out to them and not containing life as in the ages past. Then once more eyebrows lowered and faces darkened, and the Protestant church was born. These Protestants said to the State: "Give us back our Bible." It was not returned and this time they said "Give us back our Bible and Mind you don't tamper with it." Again there was war,—but you know and I know that "Truth is great next to the Almighty" and because of that and the brave warriors you and I are able to lay our hands today on our Bibles as they came forth victorious and unspiled.

So wars have been fought in the name of the Bible, Christ and of God, and you and I are proud of it. But what of the present war? To which of these classes does it belong? Once more we are out against Napoleon, against Caesar, and again against the great Shalmezeer himself. The German Kaiser's motive is clear enough, but what of our own? I have told of the struggle for the Bible; this is only a prolongation of that same glorious fight. Think if you will of Belgium, Belgium with her history, her literature, her folk tales, her industry, her peace loving homes, and her stout hearts. Germany pounced on her, picked her to pieces, stole her treasures, burned up her pictures, destroyed her histories and her homes. Brows darkened once more and fists began to clench, and England and France to their undying glory said "Give us back our Belgium." Destruction had started, Germany paid no heed, then England and France, unshathed their swords. The other nations stirred and some cheered. "Give us back our Belgium," they said, and mind you don't tamper with her", but it was too late, they had already tampered. England and France entered into the struggle that they will never lay down till they with Belgium come off victorious.

But America stirred again, then she began to rise like some huge sleeping animal; the struggle within herself set in. Belgium, and now Armenia were bleeding! At last, more than a year ago now, America wrenched off her fetters, she tossed her Monroe Doctrine of noninterference to the winds, like a scrap of paper it was, in the face of that bigger thing, brotherly love, that generations of Christianity had brought. Panting from her own mental and moral struggle then, America too burst on Germany,—"Give us back our Belgium," she said. "She has become our open Bible for she has revealed us to ourselves and shown us once again the sacrificial Christ. She has become to us a Savior and we need her." "We too will fight for her and the right." France, England, all the allied nations of the world, we are side by side with you, for Belgium has saved us from a selfish and spiritual death."

Out of the past comes once again the echo of the words of Garibaldi: "The best ally you can procure for us is the Bible for it brings reality, which is freedom."

But this is strange, how do I say that Belgium has become an open Bible to us, or even that she has opened our Bibles for us to the page called reality? Is not the Bible a mere book like other books? No, it is not a book like other books, if it were it would not be worth anybody's fighting over. It is the book, called so by men because the reading of it does for them what no other book has ever done. Reading the experiences of the leaders of old as told in the Old Testament, men have detected the guiding hand of the ages, and have acknowledged Him. Drinking in the words of Jesus, sometimes big and powerful, sometimes of how tender, meeting their every mood, they have felt the personality of Him, and have been filled with a humility and a joy that has lifted them clear out of themselves and the low mean things of life till they have seemed to walk on a higher level with Christ where life is fresh and pure and wholesome. If you have ever been so translated as you have read your Bible and have seen your own Christ and almost heard His voice, or seen His smile, you know why men have fought and why you fight today.

All these years men have quietly read their Bibles, heard its truths and prayed to the God which they found there, but little have they dreamed that the Christian love and brotherhood which they had been learning would so soon be called out even to the blazing point by brave little Belgium. They have heard the call and responded. The Bible is their invincible ally. Reality has become revealed and victory is sure.

Out there in the trenches men are tearing pages from Bibles and lending them to other fellows, down the length of the trenches, that when the call comes from the Captain to "go over the top" it may be not a cold lump of clay that they will go, but as living men, answering to that other Captain, the Master of men's souls, going over not heavily but as it were self forgotten, on the wings of trust and love, a soul on fire with a passion for righteousness.

Shall it be only they who read hurriedly and seek to find on a single page the needed strength? Oh, let you and I at home, read, read, and then read again, our Bibles that we may make out of ourselves such a bulwark of strength behind those men that they can not falter, and let us make too of America such a God fearing nation that men shall say in the years to come such words as these—"In that war, such strides were made, such reality realized, such freedom gained, that in spite of all the horror, in spite of all the loss, before God the sacrifice is justified, and they who died that we might have life have not died in vain."

WAR AND NATIONAL CHARACTER

A sermon preached at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Sunday, August 18th, by Rev. J. Charles Villiers. A few days ago marked the beginning of the fifth year of the war. To every nation now engaged in it the past four years have brought changes, but to no nation greater changes perhaps than it has brought to Germany. Some of these changes may prove to be of greater importance, and more far-reaching in their influences and results, than is perceived by present indications.

When the war broke out, though the civilized world had not been entirely free from fear of its coming, it came as a great surprise to every civilized nation, Germany and Austria excepted. Every effort made to prevent it or to bring about a speedy peace were unavailing. The die was cast. Germany in violation of her covenant entered Belgium in the hope that such a course would give her a short cut to Paris. She excused her action on the ground that the bond was "a scrap of paper." Outrageous nations, belligerent and neutral, feelings of pity and shame for her, rather than of hatred and loathing, that she should be guilty of such reckless indifference to her pledged word with Belgium.

We have travelled far since the war began, and the feeling of the civilized world to Germany has, in the meanwhile undergone a great change.

Her lack of national integrity, and her outlawry have, everywhere, been repudiated. She has shown seeds of hatred she will, herself, harvest. Her hymn of hate, written by one of her acknowledged scholars, in the early days of the war, and adopted, sung, and gloried in by her people, showing that they not only acquiesced in the war but heartily supported it, has brought about a righteous indignation and hatred in the souls of the people of the allied nations, and an iron-willed determination to bring Germany to her knees. She shall reap, they say, the harvest of her own sowing.

There are some words of Kipling's which disclose the slow growth and development of the present spirit and attitude of the Allies to Germany. He says:

"It was not part of their blood, It came to them very late, With long arrears to make good, When they began to hate."

One can scarcely contemplate the present-day feelings of the Allies to Germany, without being reminded of the words of our Lord, "Whatsoever men sow, that also, shall they reap." The hatred and outlawry of Germany have produced a terrible harvest for her to reap.

Frederic Villiers, well called the dean of war correspondents, for he has seen something of every great war in the past nearly fifty years, and with pen and pencil has given to the world many portrayals of them, in some acute and sagacious comments on the present war, does not hesitate to say that the Allies would be entirely justified in pursuing any sort of retaliation on Germany as an offset to her ruthless, unrestricted, inhuman campaign of warfare. "That is an opinion in which I do not agree. There lies in it a temptation which the Allies must thrust behind them."

To imitate the inhuman deeds of Germany in this war (deeds which will be looked upon with loathing by all civilizations of the future, Germany herself included) would be a discredit to the Allies' cause. Such imitation would be presumptive evidence that they had lost something of the high-souled principle with which they went to war. Germany may attribute abstention from extremes of retaliation, on the part of the Allies, to cowardice, but the real reason for it would be character. "As a man thinketh in his heart," so is he in the upbuilding of his character. As it is with man so it is with nations. Retaliation by the Allies is, perhaps, necessary if the evils of Prussianism are to be driven from the world. But it must not be inhuman retaliation, or the Allies themselves will suffer from its ill effects, as the German nation is now suffering from the ill effects of her own inhuman warfare.

At the beginning of the war Germany committed deeds which she did not justify beyond the lame excuse that they were of necessity, and "necessity knows no law." But these acts against human rights, and international law, have now come to be a habit with Germany. No longer does she make even lame excuse for them. She glories in them. They have brought upon her the name of "Barbarian." And she now tells us she rejoices in the name. One of her leading spokesmen has said, quite recently: "We welcome the charge of barbarian, why whimper about it?" not only is it true that man's belief will have an influence on his conduct but it is also true that a man's conduct will have an influence on his character. Again, as it is with man, so is it with nations.

The disregard of international law, and of human rights, by Germany has recoiled on her own head, and heart, and conscience, until she has become as a nation whose conscience is "seared as with a hot iron." A moral change has got to take place in her before the latent goodness which we are sure is in her people can be re-discovered and brought to the surface. I know no more effective way in which this can be done than by victory for the Allies. Hope for the German people lies in Germany's defeat in this war by the Allies. Can you picture what a time the civilized world would have, and the German people in particular, from the autocracy of Germany, if the German Emperor should come out "top-dog" in this conflict? Thank God, he will not. The time of the vindication of the Allies' cause is at hand. That cause is the cause of humanity. The cause of humanity is the cause of God. The cause of God is the cause of Christ, who came that men might have life and have it abundantly. The issues of the war are with the Allies who are fighting for the right.

But temptation lies ahead for the Allies after victory has been won and peace proclaimed. That temptation may come in the name and garb of patriotism. There is evidence abroad now that the Allies are to be urged to stress their rights, and perhaps to do so in disregard of what is right, and consistent with the claims of humanity and morality. They must guard against the temptation to turn their victory into those selfish aims which led Germany to go to war. They are the stewards of humanity.

Of course, Germany must be punished for the wrongs she has done. For her own good such punishment must be exacted of her. It will be impossible for her to make full reparation. But in so far as it can be done she must do it, especially to Belgium and France. She must be taught, and taught effectually, that "Might" is not "Right," and that international covenants are not "scraps of paper." She must be taught the fear of God, and be made to understand that if ever again she entrenches on the rights of humanity she will do it at her peril, and will once more be taken in hand by a civilization which insists on a respect for the rights of humanity, and for the great moralities which they involve.

But while Germany is bearing the burden of her sins, the door of repentance, of hope, and of national salvation must not be shut against her by any policy of the victors selfish and greedy in its aim.

If the Allies, at the peace board, demand only a just reparation for all the wrongs Germany has perpetrated, she will have a debt to pay that will be a burden on her shoulders for many years to come. In the ultimate reckoning, she will find that depots and inhumanity do not pay. "Though the mills of God grind slowly, yet they grind exceeding small; Though with patience He stands waiting, with exactness grinds He all."

Though with patience He stands waiting, with exactness grinds He all."

The Best Trick Of All Naval officers love to tell of the reckless pluck shown by the enlisted men of the navy; and of these stories perhaps none is more interesting than the tale of the Irish seaman who entered in a certain rivalry with a Dutch sailor.

Shortly a spirit of rivalry arose. The sailors tried to outdo one another in athletic tricks; and the honors were for some time with the Americans. Finally, however, to the consternation of our men, one Dutchman climbed to the very top of the mainmast and there stood on his head.

Seeing that his fellows were much downcast by reason of the Dutchman's feat, one Irishman leaped to his feet, exclaiming: "By hives! I won't let a fat Dutchman beat me." Accordingly, this reckless Celt scampered up the mast like a monkey, and when he had reached the top he prepared to duplicate the foreigner's feat. He put his head down and gave a push with his feet. The first push wasn't hard enough, and he dropped back. But the second push was too hard, and he fell heels over head. His back struck the first rope, his legs the next, his neck the next, and so on, somersault after somersault, till, astonishing as it may seem, he landed on his feet on the deck. "Do that, ye Dutchman!" he shouted, as soon as he could get his breath. —Edwin Tarissee

BY AUTHORITY

RULES AND REGULATIONS PRESCRIBED BY THE GOVERNOR OF HAWAII PURSUANT TO THE AUTHORITY IN HIM VESTED BY AN ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 23, 1918, FOR THE SALE, GIFT, TRANSPORTATION, IMPORT AND EXPORT OF INTOXICATING LIQUORS IN THE TERRITORY OF HAWAII FOR MECHANICAL, SCIENTIFIC, SACRAMENTAL AND MEDICINAL PURPOSES.

RULE 1. Definitions: The term "intoxicating liquors" as used in these Rules and Regulations shall be held to singly or together as a copartnership, as are referred to and described in the Act of Congress, approved May 23, 1918.

"Board" as used in these Rules and Regulations shall mean the Board of License Commissioners, as now constituted, or hereafter appointed by the Governor, in each case for the County or City and County wherein a particular license is proposed to be or is exercised.

"Inspector" shall mean the License Inspector, and his deputies as hereinafter defined, in each case for the County or City and County wherein a particular license is proposed to be or is exercised.

"Person" as used in these Rules and Regulations shall be held and taken to mean and include any corporation, joint stock company, individual or individuals, acting or being club, or association of any kind what or individual shall sell, or expose, or ever.

RULE 2. Except as authorized or licensed so to do under these Rules and Regulations, no corporation, firm or individual shall sell, or expose, keep or offer for sale, give away, manufacture, transport, import or export any intoxicating liquors, or solicit or receive orders for the purchase or sale of any such intoxicating liquors.

RULE 3. The several boards of license commissioners of the Counties and of the City and County are hereby authorized and empowered, and shall have the sole power, authority and discretion, subject only to the approval of the Governor, each within its own County or City and County, to grant, refuse, suspend, revoke and control licenses to sell, give away, manufacture, transport, import and export intoxicating liquors in such County and City and County for mechanical, scientific, sacramental or medicinal purposes only.

The said several boards of License Commissioners as now constituted are hereby constituted Boards of License Commissioners for the Counties and the City and County for the express purpose of performing the duties imposed upon them by these Rules and Regulations. The members of the several boards as now constituted shall continue to serve as such for the said purpose until their successors are appointed and qualified, unless sooner removed from office by the Governor. Vacancies in the several boards shall be filled by appointment by the Governor.

RULE 4. Each board, within its own County or City and County, and the individual members thereof, shall, so far as the same may be applicable hereto, and subject to the provisions of the Act of Congress approved May 23, 1918, and to these Rules and Regulations, have and exercise all the Powers and Authority with respect to the enforcement of these Rules as they now have or heretofore have had under the provisions of Chapter 122, R. L. H. 1915, and any amendments thereof, with respect to the enforcement of the provisions of that chapter.

RULE 5. All expenses incurred by said boards shall be paid by the Counties and the City and County out of the appropriations now provided for by law for the expenses of such boards, and all moneys received by said boards for license fees shall be remitted to the Treasurer of the County or City and County as a County or City and County realization. PROVIDED, HOWEVER, that if for any reason the said appropriations shall not be available for that purpose then the said expenses shall be paid out of the Governor's contingent fund and all moneys received as license fees shall be remitted to the Treasurer of the Territory as a Territorial realization.

RULE 6. Each board shall appoint an Inspector who shall be known as the Chief Inspector for the County or City and County where appointed, and who shall receive such salary as the Board may decide. In each district of the Territory, other than the district where the Chief Inspector has his office, the Government physician for such district shall be and is hereby appointed and designated as Deputy License Inspector for such district or districts. Such deputy license inspectors shall serve without pay. It shall be the duty of such deputy license inspectors to issue permits for the purchase of Intoxicating Liquors under these rules and regulations, within their own districts only and not otherwise.

RULE 7. Every license issued by any such board shall be signed by the Chairman of the Board and countersigned by the Chief Inspector.

RULE 8. No license or renewal thereof shall be issued by any such board except upon a written application signed and verified by the applicant. Such application shall set forth:

(1) The full name, age and place of residence of the applicant; and, if a copartnership, the names, ages and respective places of residence of all the partners; if a corporation or joint stock company, its full name and date of incorporation and the names of its officers; and, if any other association of individuals other than a corporation, the names, ages and respective places of residence of its officers; and the number of its members;

(2) A particular description of the place or premises where the proposed license is to be exercised, so that the exact location and extent thereof may be clearly and definitely determined therefrom.

RULE 9. Any license issued under these rules and regulations prior to June 30, 1918, shall expire on that date. All licenses issued as of July 1st of any year thereafter shall be for a term of one year, and if issued after July 1st of any year shall be for a term to expire on the 30th day of June following.

RULE 10. The annual fee for a license to sell intoxicating liquor under these rules and regulations shall be as follows: In the judicial district of Honolulu, city and county of Honolulu, one hundred ($100) dollars; in the judicial district of South Hilo, seventy-five ($75) dollars; in the judicial districts of Lahoe and Waialua, fifty ($50) dollars, and in all other judicial districts of the territory twenty-five ($25) dollars, which fee shall be and become payable in two semi-annual instalments in advance on the 1st day of July and January of each year. No license shall issue until such instalment of the fee has been paid to the secretary of the board of license commissioners for the county in which such applicant proposes to exercise his license; PROVIDED, HOWEVER, if the application is for a license for a part of a year the license fee shall be proportionately computed and paid as in this rule provided.

RULE 11. If the second instalment of the license fee for any license shall not be paid when due the license whereon the same is due shall, ipso facto, be suspended until payment of the license fee to exercise his business under such license, while such license is so suspended, shall subject him to all the penalties by said act of Congress prescribed, and the license may be revoked or further suspended.

RULE 12. There shall also be filed with every application for a license, or the renewal of a license, a good and sufficient bond with such sufficient sureties as may be approved by the board substantially in the form prescribed by Rule 13 hereof, in the sum of five hundred ($500) dollars.

RULE 13. The form of the bond required by the preceding rule shall be substantially as follows:

"KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS: That we _____, as principal, and _____, as sureties, are held and firmly bound unto _____, in the penal sum of five hundred ($500) dollars lawful money of the United States, to be levied on our respective joint and several properties in case the conditions hereinafter set forth shall be violated, for the just and full payment of which we hereby jointly and severally bind ourselves, our heirs, executors and administrators. Signed with our seals and dated this _____ day of _____, A. D. 1918.

"The condition of this obligation is as follows:

"WHEREAS, the above bounden _____ has applied or is about to apply for a license to sell intoxicating liquors in accordance with an act of Congress approved May 23, 1918, and in accordance with the rules and regulations promulgated by the governor pursuant to the provisions of said act, and has complied with all the requirements of law relating to the making of such application:

"NOW THEREFORE, if the said application shall be granted and said license issued unto said _____ and if, during the continuance of said license, the said _____ shall faithfully observe and keep all the conditions of said license, and all laws, rules and regulations applicable to the holding and exercise thereof, and shall not be convicted of the violation of any such conditions or laws, then this obligation shall be void; otherwise upon proof of a conviction of any such offense being made to the satisfaction of a court of competent jurisdiction, judgment shall be entered against the principal and sureties named herein, for the full amount of the fine and costs imposed as a penalty upon such conviction, and for the costs of all proceedings in connection therewith.

"Principal.

"Sureties.

"In the presence of: _____"

RULE 14. Conditions of license. Licensee shall be subject to the following conditions and provisions:

1. That the license is issued and accepted subject to all rules and regulations which have been or may be hereafter promulgated by the governor under the provisions of said act of Congress in regard to suspension or revocation thereof by the board for any violation of the conditions thereof, or of any law, rule or regulation affecting the same.

2. That no intoxicating liquors shall be sold, given away, furnished, manufactured, transported, imported or exported except for mechanical, scientific, sacramental or medicinal purposes, and only as provided for by the rules and regulations promulgated by the governor.

3. That the license shall at all times be displayed in a conspicuous place on the premises described therein.

4. That the licensed premises shall at all times be open to inspection by the inspector of the board, any member of the board, officers of the police force, and any person designated by the Governor.

5. That for the violation of any of the said conditions or of the said Act of Congress or of any rule or regulation promulgated by the Governor pursuant to said Act, the licensee shall become liable to all penalties and prosecutions provided by law with respect thereto, in addition to and independently of any action of the board with respect to his license.

RULE 15. Revocation and Suspension of License. In the exercise of the power and authority by these Rules and Regulations conferred, each board of license commissioners may revoke or suspend any license issued by virtue of its approval either for the violation of any conditions of such license or for the violation of any rule or regulation promulgated by the Governor pursuant to said Act of Congress, or upon conviction of law of a licensee of the violation of any of the provisions of said Act of Congress relative to the sale of intoxicating liquors, or for any other cause deemed sufficient by the board.

RULE 16. Any person desiring to purchase intoxicating liquors for mechanical, scientific, sacramental or medicinal purposes shall first obtain a written permit for such purchase from the inspector. Before issuing such permit the inspector shall satisfy himself that the intoxicating liquor sought to be purchased is a purpose contemplated by said Act of Congress; PROVIDED, HOWEVER, that no permit shall be issued for the purchase of intoxicating liquor for medicinal purposes except upon the written prescription of a physician duly licensed as such, which prescription shall be retained by the inspector and filed in his office as a part of his permanent record, and provided further that the inspector may issue permits to physicians and surgeons, duly licensed as such, for the purchase of intoxicating liquor from a licensee, for use by such physician or surgeon in compounding medicines.

RULE 17. The inspector shall keep a true and exact record of all permits issued by him, which record shall show in detail the date of the permit, the name and address of the person to whom issued, the purpose for which it was issued, and the kind and amount of intoxicating liquor specified therein.

RULE 18. No licensee shall sell, give away, or otherwise dispose of any intoxicating liquor except upon a permit from the inspector, and then only to the person to whom the said permit was issued. All such permits shall be consecutively numbered by the inspector and retained and filed by the licensee as a part of his permanent record of sales. The licensee shall also keep a true and exact record of all sales made by him, which record shall show in detail the date of such sale, the number of the permit under which the same was sold, the person to whom sold, the purpose for which it was purchased, and the amount and kind of intoxicating liquor sold. The said record shall be open to inspection by the inspector or any member of the board at any reasonable hour, or any person designated by the Governor.

RULE 19. All intoxicating liquors sold by the licensee for mechanical or scientific purposes shall, so far as may be possible in view of the contemplated use of the same, be denatured so as to render the same unfit for human consumption.

RULE 20. No intoxicating liquors shall be imported into his district by any licensee from any other part of the Territory, state or foreign country unless such licensee's order for the same shall have received the written approval and endorsement of the Inspector. The said inspector shall keep a detailed record of all such orders and shall from time to time examine the licensee's stock of liquor on hand, and, for the purpose of keeping an accurate check on the amount and kind of business done by the licensee, compare the same with the amount ordered and the amount sold.

RULE 21. Upon written application therefor by any person known or proven to the inspector to be a clergyman of any Christian denomination regularly engaged in his vocation, in which said application it shall be set forth that the wine or sacramental is to be used solely for sacramental purposes, the inspector shall issue to such applicant a permit to purchase wine for sacramental purposes from any duly licensed dealer in the Territory or a permit to receive such wine for said purposes from any other clergyman in the Territory lawfully possessing same and/or a permit to obtain and receive wine for said purposes from another part of the Territory than that in which the applicant resides and/or a permit to import wine for said purposes from any other part of the United States or from any foreign country and/or a permit to transport and/or dispose of wine for sacramental purposes; and any and all such permits so issued shall be honored by and be a protection to (a) all licensed dealers selling or furnishing such wine upon such permits, (b) all clergymen furnishing wine upon such permits, and (c) all persons aiding in transporting such wines upon such permits.

RULE 22. No licensee shall export any intoxicating liquor from the County in which such licensee is doing business, to any other County of the Territory except upon a permit issued by the inspector of the County to which such liquor is intended to be exported.

RULE 23. No person shall transport from one place to another within the Territory of Hawaii any intoxicating liquor except upon a written order for such transportation, signed by a licensee or by a clergyman as defined in Rule 21 hereof. Any person violating this rule shall be liable to the penalties provided for in said Act of Congress for illegal transportation; the said order for transportation shall be exhibited on demand to any inspector, to any member of the board or police force, or to any other person designated by the Governor to act in the premises. Said order for transportation shall be in the following form:

To _____
You are hereby authorized and requested to transport from _____ in the County of _____, T. H., to _____ in the County of _____, T. H. and to deliver to _____ the following cases or packages of intoxicating liquor, to-wit:

_____ This order for transportation is to be exhibited by you upon demand made by any License Inspector, any member of the Board of License Commissioners, or of the police force, or any person having written authority from the Governor of Hawaii.

Dated at _____, 1918.
_____ Licensee.

PROVIDED, HOWEVER, that this rule shall not apply to any person lawfully purchasing alcoholic liquor upon a proper permit if such purchaser shall personally transport such liquor from one place to another for the purposes indicated in this permit.

RULE 24. All physicians and surgeons duly licensed as such in the Territory of Hawaii, may sell and otherwise dispose of intoxicating liquors to a patient without the license provided for by these Rules and Regulations when and only when such intoxicating liquors shall have been compounded with medicinal drugs for bona fide use by such patient as medicine only. All licensed pharmacists may, without the license required by these Rules and Regulations, but only upon the written prescription of a physician or surgeon, sell and other wise dispose of intoxicating liquors when and only when compounded with such medicinal drugs.

RULE 25. These Rules and Regulations shall not apply to the sale or other disposal of patent and proprietary medicines containing alcohol or other intoxicating liquors.

RULE 26. It shall be the duty of every inspector, and it shall be lawful for any member of the board, at all reasonable times, and at any time whatsoever if there be any reason for suspicion that the conditions of any license are being violated, without warrant to enter into and upon any licensed premises and inspect the same and any part thereof, to ascertain whether or not all conditions of the license and all provisions of these Rules and Regulations are being complied with.

RULE 27. These Rules and Regulations shall be in full force and effect from and after midnight of the 20th day of August, A. D. 1918, and shall be published at least once a week for four consecutive weeks (four insertions) in a newspaper or newspapers of general circulation in each County and City and County. All subsequent additions and amendments to these Rules and Regulations shall likewise be published and shall be effective from and after the date of the first publication in each County and City and County.

Done at the Executive Building, Honolulu, T. H., this 15th day of August, A. D. 1918.

(S) C. J. McCARTHY, Governor.

BY AUTHORITY

NOTICE TO CANDIDATES FOR DELEGATE, SENATOR AND REPRESENTATIVE.

A primary election for the purpose of making nominations for a Delegate to the House of Representatives of the United States and for Senators and Representatives of the Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii being required by law to be held on October 5, 1918, attention is called to Section 55 of the Organic Act and Sections 29, 33 and 35 of the Revised Laws of Hawaii, 1915, as well as to other sections pertaining to elections.

Section 30, Revised Laws of Hawaii, 1915, reads in part as follows:

"The name of no candidate shall be printed upon any official ballot to be used at any primary election unless a nomination paper shall have been filed in his behalf as provided in this chapter.

"Nomination papers for candidates for delegate to congress shall be signed by not less than twenty-five qualified electors of the Territory.

"Nomination papers for candidates for either branch of the legislature shall be signed by not less than fifteen qualified electors of the district for which the person nominated is a candidate.

Section 23, Revised Laws of Hawaii, 1915, reads in part as follows:

"Nomination papers shall be filed as follows: For delegate to congress and members of the legislature, with the Secretary of the Territory, at least thirty days prior to the day for holding the primary."

Nomination papers of candidates for delegate to congress, senator or representative, should be filed in the office of the undersigned not later than twelve o'clock midnight on September 5, 1918. Each nomination must be accompanied by a fee of $10.00, as required by law, in cash or postal money order payable to the undersigned.

Blank forms of nomination papers may be had on application to the offices of the County Clerks of the several counties.

The twenty-five electors, who sign nomination papers of candidate for delegate to congress and the fifteen electors who sign nomination papers of candidates for senator or representative, must be qualified to vote at this, not the last, election. All candidates for delegate to congress, senator or representative, should therefore verify the names of the electors who sign their nomination papers by ascertaining from the County Clerks of the several counties whether at least the required number of such names on their nomination papers have been duly registered on the Great Register as electors duly qualified to vote for them in their respective election districts at the election to be held on October 5, 1918.

Papers Printing Shipping News Denied Mails

In connection with a recent local violation of wishes of the navy department that no mention be made by newspapers, either as news or as advertising, of the location or movements of any vessels, a recent order from the postmaster general, is of something more than passing interest. The order is addressed to all postmasters of the United States, and is as follows:

"Your attention is called to the following statement of the secretary of the navy, published in the Official Bulletin of the committee on public information on July 6, 1918:

To the Press in America: The appearance of submarines on the Atlantic Coast makes it imperative that no mention should be made in any newspapers, either in the advertising or news columns, of the sailing or departure, or location, or supposed location of any ship in American waters.

This information conveyed by advertising is as dangerous as in the news columns, and I am making this request to all the newspapers in the country in the assurance that they will cooperate with the government in its effort to prevent any information about ships reaching submarines which may be of the American coast.

JOSEPHUS DANIELS, Secretary of the Navy. "My attention has been called to the fact that the above request of the secretary of the navy is being ignored by a number of publishers, and from information received from several sources I am convinced that the publication of this class of news and advertisements is actually being used to promote the cause of the enemies of the United States in the present war.

"You are, therefore, directed to promptly advise all publishers within the delivery of your office, that this department will, after notice of these instructions, regard the publication of such shipping news as giving aid and comfort to the enemy and that such matter is non-mailable under the Espionage Act.

A. S. BURLERSON, Postmaster-General.

Enos Estate Annual Accounts Approved

Judge Burr, of the second circuit court this week approved the report of Harry C. Mossman, as master in the matter of the third annual accounts of the trustees of the estate of Augustine Enos, deceased. The accounts of the trustees showed receipts during the year of $10,255.09, and they were allowed $5806.32 expenditures, leaving a balance of $4448.77 to be added to the estate. The balance for the previous year was $3277.71 an increase being thus shown for the past year. The trustees are V. B. Lyons, C. D. Lufkin, and J. V. Marciel.

WIDOW IS APPOINTED EXECUTRIX OF ESTATE BY CIRCUIT COURT

Granting a petition for probate of the will of the late Antonio Fernandez, Judge Burr yesterday appointed the widow, Maria Isabella Fernandez, executrix to serve without bond.

The property of the estate consists of 12 acres of land at Makawao valued at $3000, and live stock to the value of $350. The heirs are, beside the widow, a large number of children and grand-children of the deceased.

WIFE GETS DIVORCE FROM HUSBAND NOW IN JAIL

Loe Jamilla was yesterday granted a divorce from Jose Jamilla, by Judge Burr, on grounds of nonsupport. Jose might possibly be excused for not supporting his wife for the past few months since he has been in jail serving a sentence for chicken stealing, but his wife's testimony showed that he had been guilty of neglect of his duty towards his family for long before the chickens got him into trouble. The family lived in "Happy Valley".

MOLOKAI LAND CASE NOT ONE OF EQUITY COURT HOLDS

The action of C. A. Buchanan et al. vs. Joe Kauanui in the circuit court to compel the vacating of certain land on Molokai claimed to be held by the defendant illegally, was decided yesterday in so far as an equity court is concerned when Judge Burr granted a motion of the defendant to dismiss on grounds that there was no question of equity involved.

It is probable that the matter will be reintroduced in the court as an action at law. E. R. Bevins represented the plaintiff, and Enos Vincent the defendant.

JUDGMENT AWARDED FOR SALARY DUE

In the case of M. T. Lyons vs. the Maui Wine & Liquor Co., an action for the recovery of money due as salary, the plaintiff in 2nd circuit court on Tuesday, moved for judgment in the sum of $27.30 and costs, the amount admitted by the defendant as due, and the court so ordered.

Personal Mention

It is understood that Lt. Frank A. Lufkin, of the 25th Infantry, expects to leave very shortly for the mainland, with probability of being early sent to France for service.

F. H. King, for the past year in charge of the naval radio station at Lahaina, has been called to Honolulu for other duty. He left last week, C. E. Capwell, of the station staff, succeeds him in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Cox of Honolulu, are guests of the W. O. Aikens' at Idlewild.

Mrs. R. P. Harbold, well known on Maui, is about to leave for the mainland. Mrs. Harbold is the wife of Maj. Harbold who has been in France to the past year.

Richard Linton left on Wednesday for Honolulu where he expected to take a steamer for the mainland very soon, to enter Harvard University this fall.

H. L. Sauer, until less than a year ago a homesteader in the Kula pine-apple district, and who located in Hoquim, Wash., after leaving here, is now living in Marshfield, Ore., according to advices received from him this week. He still has his Maui ranch but says nothing about returning to the islands.

J. F. O'Brien, formerly connected with the federal experiment station at Haliu, but who has been in Florida where he owns a ranch for some months, has accepted the position of assistant farm superintendent at Lahainalua School, and is presumably on his way back to the islands now.

Miss Elsie Chalmers and Joe Chalmers, of Hana, returned on Monday night from a several weeks visit on Hawaii. Mr. Chalmers returned home by Tuesday's Claudine, but Miss Chalmers in making a short visit with Miss Rosecrans, at Paia.

Judge C. W. Ashford, of the first circuit court, Honolulu, arrived last Saturday to spend a short vacation on Maui. He returned home Wednesday. He was a guest at the Grand while here.

Political Interest Is At Least Sleepy

Only Four Candidates Thus Far In Field—Rice Mentioned For Senate Democrats Have Local Harmony

There is a remarkable lack of interest this year in politics, so far as can be observed on Maui. Up to the present time there are but four republican candidates in the field for nomination for representative to the legislature, so far as can be learned. There are six places to fill.

Those known to be in the race are—L. B. Kaunehiwa, Levi Joseph, John Brown, Jr., and M. G. Paschoal. The last three are up for re-election. Kaunehiwa tried before but failed. It is rumored that Harold Rice may be a republican candidate for the senate.

In democratic circles it is reported that the local ticket has practically been decided upon by the committee, though it has not as yet been announced. The democrats claim that they will have but one good man up for each office in the county, and that therefore there will be no contest in the party at the primaries. If they can put this program through, and because of the death of material in the party this year it seems very likely they can, it will give them a free hand to mix in at the primaries and help mess things up for the republican candidates.

Maui Pastor To Go To France For Y. M. C. A.

Rev. A. C. Bowdish, pastor of the Makawao Union Church, who applied some time ago to the Y. M. C. A., for war service in France, has his request granted. The appointment arrived a few days ago, and he is to get away within a month. Time required to secure passport and other required credentials counts for the delay expected.

Mr. Bowdish was granted leave of absence by his congregation, some time ago in order that he might enter war work if he could get an appointment. Mrs. Bowdish also hopes to get into some active service but this is as yet indefinite. She will probably go to the mainland where her husband leaves and make her future plans after arriving there.

Short Extension Of Belt Road Now Sure

Governor McCarthy's approval of the sale of $10,000 worth of territorial bonds the proceeds to be used in constructing the belt road eastward from Kailua, insures the extension of this road a mile or more beyond its present terminus. The bonds are to be bought by the East Maui Irrigation Co., which is interested in having this much of the road built at the present time.

The bonds are a part of the issue authorized by the last legislature, of which $75,000 worth were for the belt road east of Kailua. Owing to the impossibility of selling this 4% issue in the open market no other part of the appropriation has yet been sold, and probably will not be until after the war, unless some further special demand for the extension develops.

COURT FINDS FOR DEFENDANT IN SUIT TO QUIT TITLE

Judge Burr, of the second circuit court, in a written opinion handed down yesterday morning in the case of Mileka Whitford vs. Lucy Kahanaui, also known as Lucy Lani, found in favor of the defendant.

The suit involves the title to certain land in Waiehu, Wailuku, and has been in the courts for some time. It had been tried before a jury, but the jury was excused on agreement between the parties that there was no disputed question as to facts, and that only points of law were in dispute.

Attorney Enos Vincent represented the plaintiff and W. F. Crockett, the defendant.
