GREAT FERRIS WHEEL.

Builder of the Fair Feature Leaving for His Home.

Been Here Two Weeks—Makes a Talk About the Wheel—At the Hotel—Interesting Facts.

Mr. W. S. Pope, the builder of the great Ferris wheel which attracted so much attention at the Columbian Exposition, will leave by the Alameda this afternoon.

He with his wife reached the Islands Feb. 16th, and have since visited several points of interest.

Mr. Pope is from Detroit where the works that made most of the material for the wheel are located.

In the parlor of the Hotel Wednesday evening Mr. Pope addressed a small party assembled there on the subject of the construction and operation of the great wheel.

A diagram of the complete structure and parts of it, such as the foundation, served to illustrate his numberless points.

Being the builder of the massive vehicle every part and section was as familiar to him as the things one sees every day around and his description was very clear as well as intensely interesting.

The foundations which the burden correctly balanced the wheel with every part supporting the other in its circular form, and the strong bolts holding this to the axle were presented; the great 70-ton axle, how it was made by compression under great heat and how it was raised to its place by powerful engines was vividly described; the suspended cars, keeping them in one relative position, and the cog arrangement on the exterior of the wheel by which motion was acquired were explained.

The revenue from the wheel was very great. The sum of $300,000 was paid to Mr. Pope's company for its construction. Shortly after that $400,000 was divided between the Fair Commissioners and the owners of the wheel. The remainder of the receipts, amounting perhaps to hundreds of thousands of dollars, went also to the owners.

After the address it was found that eleven out of about thirty persons in the room had ridden in the Ferris Wheel at Chicago.

THE MENKEN AND TICKETS.

A little book is associated in the odd way with Dickens—"Intelligible" by Adam James Menken. It is dedicated to him, and the author printed a facsimile of his letter acknowledging the compliment.

These verses are sent by the bibliophile, and are essential for any complete collection, the book fetching about 25c. I have heard Dickens relate in his richest comic manner the incidents of this introduction.

"The dream of her life" was still the town from her performance of 1847, when she appeared bound to her untamed and fiery steed—of course a very pliant, well broken quadruped—in the strictest of manner.

"But" was one night seated in the stalls, looking on, when her business manager, a Yankee, rose before him with a pressing invitation from the fair and hastily built exposition to come round and see her.

The century, in the usual nasal tone, represented that the meeting was the dream of her life (the expectation of it). The author politely waived off the inter- view, deprecating the compliment, but the manager returned with some pressing business, and she had to yield. He gave a humorous sketch of his interview and the lady listened to that with interest.

NO CASH "TIPS" FOR WOMEN.

They Get Only Smiles and Smirks From Men at Restaurants. In restaurants where women are employed as waiters the average man seems to be of the opinion that smiles or smirks are tantamount to "tips," although they cost the giver nothing and have no cash value anywhere except perhaps as elements to be considered in estimating damage in breach of promise suits.

It may be said in defense of masculine custom in this matter that the conduct of the recipients of these amatory demonstrations would justify the opinion that they prefer them to small pecuniary emoluments, but the cruel fact is that the women employed in a restaurant who don't act more or less as a first stand no chance of retaining her position.

There are many men of an economical turn of mind whose patronage of restaurants where women are employed is largely due to the fact that at such places they can refrain from "tipping" without being suspected of meanness.

Napoleon was a snuff taker in a mild way, smelling of the tobacco rather than snuffing it, but never learned to smoke. One day, according to his valet, Constant, he tried a pipe.

Finally he put the pipe into the valet's hands and commanded him to light it, which the valet did and returned the pipe to his majesty.

It was more than an hour before he recovered his equanimity, and that was the end of his career as a smoker—Youtie's Companion.

THREE SHELLS HERE.

ARRIVAL OF TRIO OF BOATS FOR THE TOWN CLUBS. Beauties from the Colonies—Regulation—The Choice was Determined—By Lot. The long expected practice shells for the local boat clubs arrived by the Alameda today from Australia. They are 40 long, 22 inches wide and 12 inches deep and built of cedar, finished in pine. They are models of strength, but their rowing quantities can only be determined by use. Being built to order for practice only they are of course not samples of racing shells that could be procured for double the cost. However, they will be used in the next races, after which the clubs will be better prepared to import racing shells. Every effort has been used to place the three clubs on an equal footing in the ownership of the boats. While each boat is a duplicate of the other they are numbered 1, 2 and 3. Lots were drawn Wednesday, before they arrived, for the boats. The result was that the Lelani got No. 1, Myrtle No. 2 and the Healanis No. 3. The boats were received on this basis at noon today. The boats are built under the regulations endorsed by the International Rowing Association, and are as near the latest style as a practice shell could consistently be built. PORTUGUESE ARRIVE.

STEAMER LOAD FOR PLANTATIONS FROM MADEIRA. Trouble in Embarking—A Healthy Lot—The Ship—All to Leave Town at Once. The German steamship Braunschweig, Markmeister commander, arrived this morning 53 days from St. Michaels in the Madeira Islands, and came to an anchor in Naval row. She is a stout ship of 3000 tons and is said to be very rapid. On the long voyage around the Horn, however, but little coal was burned as it was impossible for the vessel to carry enough to keep up steam. Harkfeld & Company are agents for the Braunschweig. They received a small consignment of Madeira freight by her, mostly light stuff. The Braunschweig brought 842 Portuguese from St. Michaels. Of the number 441 are men, 133 are women and 268 are children. They are reached here in good condition and are a stout, healthy looking lot. Not as many men came as were expected principally on account of some trouble with Hawaiian Consul A. de S. Moreira at St. Michaels. The Captain states that the Consul dissuaded several families from coming and finally created great confusion on the day of sailing by taking a firm stand against the shipment. As a result a number of laborers who had taken passage refused to come and others not engaged, crowded aboard the ship and were brought along. A private letter received here from St. Michaels states that the Hawaiian Consul there is personally interested in the shipment of laborers to Brazil. There were six or eight deaths of children on the voyage and about as many births. The laborers brought by the Braunschweig are being landed at the Quarantine Station this afternoon. After being brushed up a little they will be shipped out immediately to the plantations. The Braunschweig will probably be sent to China, leaving in about ten days. It is now figured out that about 250 Japanese and 100 Chinese will take passage by her. The rate will likely be fixed at $25.

WAS A BIT PREMATURE.

CAPT. PALMER WROTE A LETTER FROM SAN FRANCISCO. His Pertinent Inquiry Here—How He Wades Into Law—Debts—Various Remarks. [It is small wonder that Captain Palmer has inquired if sojourners may be punished for libels published abroad. Upon viewing the situation he perhaps realizes that he erred in sending the following from San Francisco while en route to Honolulu:] SAN FRANCISCO, March 7. I saw yesterday a copy of the proclamation of the President of Hawaii suspending the writ of habeas corpus. So far as this is in keeping with the persistent efforts of the ruling ring to pose before the nations, it was a proper move. But there was not the least necessity for such action. This writ, the right of free speech, the privilege of being assumed innocent until proven guilty, the power to land in Hawaii, the right to reside there, were all abrogated by statute law about a year ago, and a special proviso made that if any constitutional obstacle were in the way of the execution of such statutes, the latter should take precedence of the constitution. The new constitution confirmed all acts of the provisionalists, so one may not land at Honolulu unless he can give a satisfactory reason for coming to Hawaii; after landing, he may be arrested without other charge than suspicion of sedition; he may not be admitted to bail; he must prove that he is not guilty of any accusation; he may be deported, and if he returns put at hard labor without further trial. No allusion to these laws has ever been made in the general news furnished to the world from the locality where they originated. Among the deported and the exiled who have just arrived on the Pacific slope were quite a number by no means clear of debts; as the ruling ring furnished them with passports contrary to the usage of a half century or so, their creditors now hold that the treasury must pay these debts, and what is more, the claimants are sustained by the legal advisers of the government. Thus a creditor can now, by procuring the exile of an undesirable debtor, collect the full amount of a worthless debt, or the debtor, by magnanimously favoring royalism, can secure a free passage abroad and leave no pecuniary obligation undischarged. To annex countries distant from our shores where all is peace, and the desire for union is unanimous, is contrary to the policy of the United States; what shall we say then to the proposition to grant the American flag to a nation where all is discord and chaos, simply because the only way a general amnesty can be declared is under the guns of our navy? [The correspondent says that "the court martial has been extremely lenient in its treatment of the poorer classes of natives." He also remarks that "The Dole government acted with commendable promptness in the recent seizure of arms, before those for whom they were imported had time to organize."]

TO GO IN A BALLOON.

DARING PLAN TO MAKE A JOURNEY TO THE NORTH POLE. Advancements in Aerial Navigation—A. Andree the Chief—Endorsement and Backing. S. A. Andree, the distinguished Swedish civil engineer and scientific aeronaut, will start next year on a balloon journey to the North Pole, under the auspices of the Royal Swedish Academy of Science and with the financial support of a number of Swedish gentlemen, says the New York World. Chimerical as such an undertaking seems to be, its projectors believe it will be a success, with most important results. In a lecture before the Royal Swedish Academy recently Mr. Andree outlined his plans. He declared that the science of balloon construction and of steering a balloon during the last four years has advanced so far as almost to solve the practicality of aerial navigation. His plan is to establish headquarters at the Norwegian islands on the northwest coast of Spitzbergen. Here a house or shed of sufficient size to cover a balloon of 22 meters, or 72 1/2 feet in diameter when filled with gas, will be erected, and from this point the balloon will be sent to the north. The commencement. The greatest expert in the world on balloon construction and aerial voyages, the celebrated balloon manufacturer, the late L. G. Gabriel Von Paris, in a letter to Mr. Andree endorsed the plan as entirely practicable and advised him to use a balloon of 22 meters in diameter, to be constructed of two-fold silk covers, and said that a balloon of this size and construction would float for thirty days without refilling. As an endorsement of Mr. Von's statement, Henri Giffard, Poissonelles and Graham, who are well-known aeronauts, computed that the balloon would lose comparatively a small amount of gas in a month. The gas used for balloons is now manufactured and for sale and can be transferred any distance in cylinders; 1700 to 1800 cylinders are sufficient to fill a polar balloon, such as Mr. Andree will use, and can without any difficulty be transported to Spitzbergen. Uniforms and Ammunition. Company D. N. G. H. had a short business meeting last evening. Among the matters disposed of was a resolution instructing the treasurer to pay all bills incurred during martial law. Requisitions for uniforms are asked for all members with incomplete military wardrobes. Ammunition for practice purposes is at the disposal of members and will be furnished on application. DEATH OF MISS WHITE. Passes Away After a Trying Illness of a Year. Miss Eva L. White, aged 24, died at Mulberry, California, on March 17, of consumption, after the illness of a year. Deceased was the daughter of Prof. Wm. White of San Francisco and the sister of H. O. White of this city. The latter was visited by Miss White in 1888. During her sojourn in Honolulu at that time and again in July of last year, the young lady made many friends who will most deeply regret her death. She also had some acquaintances in Hilo. The funeral occurred from the home of the grandparents at Watsonville, Cal. Services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Cruzan, very well known here as a divine. A place to spend a few quiet hours in the Hamua Baths. Waikiki cars pass the door. NOT FOOLED. Men Speak of Their Recent Trip to the Coast. In an interview for THE STAR today George Townsend said: "The tone of the article in the Advertiser on the trip of Chas. Warren and myself to the Coast is misleading. Mr. Kinney did not fool us at all. He was very frank and treated us splendidly. It is true we did not have overcoats, but we had plenty of warm clothing and every care was taken for our comfort. We were provided with pocket money for sightseeing and took in the theaters and all points of interest, having a fine time the whole visit. Leaving the Occidental was my proposition and Mr. Kinney consented when our objections to the place were explained. We met all the exiles and talked with them." Townsend had been on the Coast before. Charlie Warren called on THE STAR and said he did not wish to be placed in position of saying that Mr. Kinney had "fooled" him. "We were treated very nicely by both Mr. Kinney and Consul Wilcox. They took the best of care of us and we could not possibly have any cause for complaint. I liked it very much as I had never been away from the Islands before."

PLENTY OF RUNNING.

FIRST DRAFT OF PROGRAM FOR THE FIELD DAY IN MAY. Obstacle and Consolation Races—Contest of a Novel Nature for Piece of Jewelry. Officers of the Honolulu Amateur Athletic Club held a short meeting yesterday afternoon and prepared a schedule of sports for the field day, May 24th. The schedule will include the following: A 100 yards race; 220 yards race; 440 yards race; a one mile race; a one mile walk; throwing hammer; running high jump; running broad jump; consolation race, probably one half mile; obstacle race, and a 350 yards race for a lady's bracelet. The consolation race will be a feature of the day. It will be participated in by only such athletes as may have lost in the preceding contests. A half mile has about been decided upon as the length of this run, though it may be changed later. The great feature of the day, however, will be the race for the bracelet. It will be a novelty of its kind. Each young lady will have the privilege of selecting her favorite athlete to win for her the pretty bracelet that will be put up. The contest, of course, will be a hard fought one. The young lady thus winning the piece of jewelry must receive it on the grounds, and it must be presented by the successful competitor in the race. There is yet some little hitch in arrangements for this race, though it will almost certainly take place as outlined above. WILL THEY? Exiles Who Declare They Will Soon Return to Hawaii. [San Francisco Call] When asked if he expected ever to return to Hawaii Mr. Ashford said: "Go back? Yes, of course I shall go back; and I'll not ask Mr. Dole's permission, either. We are all going back—all of us exiles—and the time of our going is not very far off." * * * But Mr. Camarinos says he is going back to the islands before long, whether the Dole Government grants him permission or not. He is full of pluck and determination, and does not feel at all cast down by his recent ill luck. THE STAR doubts very much if Mr. Camarinos has been correctly reported.

A REAL PRINCE HERE.

Joseph of Battenburg is Now Visiting Honolulu. Prince Francis Joseph of Battenburg was a passenger from New Zealand by the Alameda today. He is quartered at the Hawaiian hotel. The Prince is a younger brother of Henry of Battenburg who married Princess Beatrice, youngest daughter of Queen Victoria in 1885. Another brother, Prince Louis, is an officer in the British navy. Prince Joseph served his time in the Austrian cavalry. The distinguished visitor is accompanied by Colonel Townsend of the 2nd Life Guards. He left England for India, Australia, New Zealand, Hawaiian Islands and America. He will leave for San Francisco by the Australia on the 13th. After spending about a month in the States he will sail from New York for England. Mr. Irwin will take to San Francisco with him the plans for a new opera house, which will be submitted to his partner in the enterprise, John D. Spreckels.

OUR HOOSIER FRIEND.

AN INDIANA LEGISLATOR WHO FAVORS HAWAII. Is an Ardent Champion—Fifty-Fifth Congress—He Says It Will Take Action. John Effinger, is in receipt of the following letter from Representative James F. Stutesman of the Indiana Legislature, who introduced and secured the passage of a resolution in that assembly favoring annexation: "Your favors of the 16th ultimo, including the copy of THE HAWAIIAN STAR and the photograph of President Dole, have been duly received. It was very gratifying to receive such prompt acknowledgment of the action of our House of Representatives. The resolutions were adopted with a heartiness and unanimity upon the Republican side, which indicated a deep feeling of sympathy for your struggling Republic. I very much regret that the appropriation for building a cable line from San Francisco to Honolulu failed in the national House recently adjourned. You may be sure that the Fifty-fifth Congress, which will be largely Republican, will make a liberal appropriation for such a manifestly laudable enterprise. The acquisition of foreign territory has not been a distinctive policy of the Republican party as you well know, but the spirit of the supporters of the Provisional Government in the Hawaiian Islands has been so distinctly American, and the many advantages of annexation are so apparent to Republicans especially, that if Harrison had been elected in 1892 the Hawaiian Islands would, ere this, have been formally annexed. I am intensely interested in the development of the latest republic and shall esteem it a favor if you will keep me advised of the progress of affairs there. I beg you to convey to President Dole my hearty appreciation of his courtesy in the matter of the photograph and of my sincere desire that he may meet the full measure of success in his arduous duties that he so richly merits. Tomb Festival. Today is the day of the Chinese Tomb Festival. Manoa and Paoua valleys have been visited by the worshippers today. Roast pigs, ducks, chickens, etc., were taken along to use in the ceremony. This is an annual affair. The Stevenson Libel. C. S. HIS HEAD OUT.

A Peculiar Burial at Makiki Changed by Order. One of the Japanese who died from eating poisonous fish Tuesday morning and was buried at Makiki, was found Wednesday with his head out of the ground. It seems that a medicine man advised this manner of burial, believing it possible that the man would come to life again. When the authorities found it out twenty-four hours later the dead man was interred in the proper manner. Tired, Weak, Nervous. Means impure blood, and overwork or too much strain on brain and body.
