JAPAN AND THE MONEY LENDERS.

J T Flynn, editor of the Midnight Sun, writing in the Irish World gives some information on "the other side" in the war in the Orient. He points out that only will Russia be able to win in the war, but that Japan will be set back in finances and industrial matters so far that she will not be able to regain her present position in many years. The article of the editor is as follows

A recent press dispatch from London, following right on top of the Japanese investment of Port Arthur and the reported annihilation of the Viadivostok fleet, shows that, while the money lenders of England have been profuse in their praises of the nation's yellow ally both in war and in peace, they allow no sentiment to enter into their business as money lenders. In demanding six per cent rate of interest on bonds taken at 92 1/2 cents on the dollar, the issue to be secured by a first lien on the custom duty of the country, money lenders of England are either taking undue advantage of Japan or else they do not share the high hope of success entertained by the English press.

In marked contrast with these drastic terms is the loan of $160,000,000 made by the Bank of France to Russia, at five per cent, without any condition other than the general credit of the country, and that, too, with the privilege of refunding at a lower rate of interest whenever conditions warrant it. The French people either have more confidence or more conscience than their English neighbors.

The financial agent of Japan in London volunteers the statement that the $50,000,000 borrowed is not to be shipped home, but, on the contrary, is to be kept in England for the purpose of meeting adverse balances. If this is true, and there is no reason for doubting it, JAPAN IS A DOOMED NATION. If ninety days of war forces a sovereign government to surrender its rights to collect public revenues, and that, too, for the paltry sum of $50,000,000, which it is conceded is to be used for meeting adverse balances already existing, what is to become of it in a prolonged struggle such as Russia is capable of making, even though it suffered defeat in every engagement? The death rate of the Russian army so far is not equal to the birth rate, and with those who know anything at all of their tenacious character, it is conceded that, with Russia, the war has not yet commenced. Unless Russian character has undergone a complete change since the Crimean War in 1858, it is safe to say that children yet unborn will serve in the Czar's present army before Russia will surrender to the yellow races of the Orient. Even if we accept Japanese reports of casualties, a continuation of the struggle would leave Russia with a population of 100,000,000 after every vestige of human life had disappeared in the Island Kingdom.

The population of Russia is given at 140,000,000 while that of Japan is given at 45,000,000, or a ratio of more than three to one. Assuming that the death ratio was equal, it will be seen that Russia would have 95,000,000 left after human life had become extinct in Japan. RUSSIA'S STANDING ARMY, that is, an army which is in no way connected with the industrial pursuits of the nation (which must be maintained in Japan as well as with its rival) is 1,000,000.

TRUTHS FROM THE PULPIT.

Since the publication of a sermon delivered by the Rev Dr Doremus Scudder in Central Union Church last Sunday, we have become more and more impressed with the thoughts thereby expressed the more we read of it, that we envy those who had the good fortune to hear for themselves the telling sentiments and beautiful testimonies thereby declaimed by this "newcomer" among us. We have no personal knowledge of who the Rev gentleman is, but this much is made known of him in his strong sermon on "Echoes," and they were "echoes" indeed, that he has boldly and bravely thrown the lie in the teeth of the Hawaiians' defamers, and this right in their own camp and stronghold. He has given the testimony in the cause of his Lord and Master that the work of the early missionary fathers in Christianizing the Hawaiian people have not been in vain.

But what is to our surprise that he, almost an utter stranger within our gates, should take up the cudgels in favor of a politically despised race who is steadily dwindling "towards race extinction, his loved language fading away, his sovereignty lapse because of its unfitness, his nationality swallowed up, himself merge gradually into the ocean of the common humanity." In our humble way, we express the opinion that the Rev Dr has done something that Hawaiians should ever be grateful for, as he has told nothing but the truth from his own personal observation as well as by contact in and among a certain class of them in the same alignment in that same Master's work, which could never have been successful in the beginning (A D 1820) if Hawaiians were not among those who first introduced the Gospel in these Islands. Yes, and further still, he has given out certain truths which are as true as those expounded in and by the Gospel brought by the early fathers who planted Christianity in these then benighted coral strands.

The testimony which the Dr bears to the Hawaiians' character of fortitude and earnestness, mingled with those "multitudes of instances of the evolution of purity out of impurity" in the home, is one worthy to be recorded on "the scroll of fame" as being the unvarnished truth. And we might further add that such a grand testimony has been left to him alone from among those of his calling to boldly and fearlessly assert that such was and is the case to be found among us Hawaiians. In this, we say that he has acted gallantly for a much maligned people; and by whom maligned, but by those very same people that he saw fit to throw his testimony into their teeth.

He further avers in the following strain of thought that "the emergence of a creature either crazed with its griefs, cursed into madness by the inexorable hardness of its fate, mocked into an unrelenting protest of useless battle against the inevitable or abandoning itself in despair to an orgie of passion and drunken oblivion. With the conditions which have beset the Hawaiians for nearly two centuries that might have been the outcome if he had been we. But on the contrary what do we find in the history of this people? Results of this kind in some cases I grant. But also a marvelous record of response to the highest and holiest sentiments that the untold ages of human life on this planet have been able to evolve."

Speaking of brotherhood, he says: "We of foreign birth and parentage asked the Hawaiians to open the door to all races. We based our plea upon the common brotherhood of mankind in Christ. * * * The request was scarcely debated. With simple loyalty to Jesus and an appealing trustfulness in their friends who made the request they granted all that was asked. I have never seen anything more nobly done in any land or by any people. It has been my privilege to travel widely and to live among all sorts and conditions of men but I have yet to witness brotherhood more practically exhibited than by Hawaiians. These darker skinned brothers of ours trust us, work with us as though we were of the same blood, listen to our fault-finding with patience, suffer us to discuss in their associations their failings, to bring the blush of shame to their faces and in place of getting angry love us and resolve by God's grace to realize the ideals we bring to them."

What grander expressions could we have expected from one of "the cloth" now in our midst, and he a newcomer and almost an entire stranger among us. These grand sentiments may be taken by us as bestitudes for future guidance to reckon with our villifiers, as it has not come from anyone of us, but from a malihini within our portals. And further, we are constrained from saying much more, for fear that we may be treading upon the corns of others and thereby ruin our future prospects.

But above all, we tip our bonnet to the Rev Dr, not from any gushing guffaw to please a blatant gallery, but from our inmost heart of hearts for his kind expressions towards a much abused, despised, asacred, maligned and proscribed people, who had, in full hospitality and kindness, harbored and befriended those who later on turned and trampled upon them in the dust through lust and love of filthy lucre.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Paul Morton, the new Secretary of the Navy, was just thirty days a Republican before receiving his portfolio. He has been a life-long Democrat. It begins to look as though when the Republicans want a really strong man to fill an important position they have to look to the Democratic party to find him.

The Advertiser boasts that the Circuit Court furnishes it with valuable free advertising. If severe criticism by the court for distortion of facts and misrepresentation is regarded as free advertising, the morning press is welcome to all of it. THE INDEPENDENT prefers another kind of advertising.

When one recalls that it took $3,000 to $5,000 to properly spread-eagle the Fourth of July prior to annexation, and is told that $500 will fill the bill now, he naturally begins to wonder the whyness of the what? Can it be possible that the patriotism for which the American colony was for so long famous (for a purpose) has run up to seed?

We see no reason why the seventy-six Japanese coolies from Lisianski island should be allowed to remain in the Hawaiian Islands. The law prescribes, among other things, that a foreigner must possess the sum of $30 before landing in the country. These men have nothing, and the only thing to do is to turn them over to the Japanese consul for reshipment to their homes.

Smarting under the rebuke of Judge De Bolt, the Advertiser thrusts out its fangs in partially hidden threat. It wants Judge De Bolt to understand that it secured him his position on the bench and that if he does not "be good" he will be punished. The plain intent of the morning press is to intimidate the Circuit Judge and to control his court as far as possible.

It is a noteworthy fact that the "lesks" from the Territorial grand jury have fallen into either the Advertiser or the Star office. The fact goes to show that the persons divulging the secrets of the jury belonged to that political hui. Dishonesty in the matter has never yet been traceable to anyone else. It might be a good idea to keep such men in custody during the deliberations of the next grand jury.

The news that the plans for the new immigration station have been accepted and that the contract for building will be let as soon as possible is a matter of general interest. It will mean the early expenditure of some $35,000 to $50,000 by the American government in Honolulu,

A Mother's Responsibility

A great responsibility rests upon mothers at the time their daughters are budding into womanhood. If your daughter is pale, complains of weakness, is "tired out" upon slight exertion; if she is troubled with headache or backache, pain in the sides; if her temper is fitful and her appetite poor, she is in a condition of extreme peril, a fit subject for that most dreaded of all diseases—consumption. If you notice any of these symptoms lose no time in procuring!

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

They will assist your daughter to develop properly and regularly; they will enrich the blood, strengthen the nerves, and all danger of consumption and premature death will be averted.

Mrs. John Tansey, of 180 Baker Street, Detroit, Mich., says: "We had a serious time with my daughter. She did not have any serious illness but seemed to gradually waste away. Our doctor called the disease by an odd name which as I afterward learned, meant lack of blood. "We finally found a medicine that helped her. After three months' treatment her health was so greatly improved you would not have recognized her. She gained in flesh rapidly and soon was in perfect health. The medicine used was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I have always kept these pills in the house since and have told many mothers about them. They have effected some wonderful cures."

All the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves are contained, in a condensed form, in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They are a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood, and restore the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of whatever nature. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold in boxes (never in loose bulk) at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

which will undoubtedly prove some stimulus to business. The only thing we want to know is that Japanese will not be employed to do the work.

The article of Editor Flynn on the war in the Orient, which begins in this issue, coincides with other opinions expressed in these columns before the struggle began and after it was under way. The war is one of men and money against men and money; and the side that can hold out the longest will win. A few ships here and a few thousands of men there will eventually drain both Russia and Japan down to a point where peace will be eagerly sought by both sides. It will then be seen which side is able to dictate terms. Mr Flynn's article is interesting because it gives a pro-Russian view of the situation, while the general run of American and British literature has been on the side of the Japanese.

behind this army is 4,000,000 more men who have received military training, and are ready to take the field at a moment's notice. If Japan were to withdraw from its factories, its fisheries, its rice fields and its shipping, upon which the nation subsists, every male between the ages of 15 and 50 years, it could not assemble—even if they could raise the money to arm them—more than one-half that number.
