AMERICANS NEARLY MOBBED SEES TROUBLE COMING FROM JAPANESE

American Fires On Mexican Mob

Kills Lad and Incident may Mean Open Break of Two Nations

(Associated Press Cable.) MEXICO CITY, Nov. 12.—Threats of trouble between Mexicans and Americans today assumed serious proportions, with the action of an American, Charles Carothers, at Guadalajara, Carothers fired into a mob which was stoning his house, and killed a boy and wounded one of the watchmen. He was jailed. The incident is of international significance, as it will probably precipitate much more serious assault on Americans and may be the cause of the breaking of already strained relations between the United States and Mexico.

TOLSTOY'S WIFE TWICE TRIES SUICIDE

(Associated Press Cable.) ST. PETERSBURG, Russia, Nov. 12.—It was learned here today that the Countess Tolstoy has twice attempted suicide by drowning, but has each time been prevented by servants or members of the family. Count Tolstoy has been in very low health for some months, and it is believed that the countess has become morbid from brooding.

U. OF C. WON PORTUGUESE ARE LOYAL TO NEW REPUBLIC

(Special Bulletin Cable.) SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—In the hottest contested game for years, the University of California won from Stanford at football today by a score of 25 to 6.

HARD GAMES ON GRIDIRONS OF THE EAST

(Special Bulletin Cable.) NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Hard contests marked most of the big college football games today. Cornell beat Chicago 18 to 0 in the first of the important intersectional gridiron battles. The scores: Yale 5, Princeton 3; Harvard 16, Dartmouth 0; Navy 6, Carlisle 0; Army 13, Villanova 0; Cornell 18, Chicago 0. The Yale-Princeton game was one of the most stubbornly contested in years.

Japan Menace, Says Observer

Former War-Correspondent Tells of What He Has Seen In Far East

That Japan is certainly preparing for war with the United States in which both the Philippines and Hawaii will be in great danger from the first move of the campaign, is the opinion of Sam Trissel newspaperman and ex-war correspondent who has spent the last twelve years in different parts of Far East, and is now on the way to the United States on the Siberia. Trissel knows the Orient from long residence, and during the time he has been here he has been constantly on the staff of the New York Times and Chicago News, besides being one of the few Associated Press correspondents sent to the front from Tokyo during the Japanese war, a rivalry with both the Japanese and Russian forces during the struggle. He has spent some time recently in Japan on his way home from the Philippines and his view on the Japanese situation today as gleaned on this trip together with what he knows of Japanese character and purposes gained on previous residence in Japan is interesting. Speaking of the situation this morning while he was on shore from the Siberia Mr. Trissel said: "There are about a dozen men in Japan who do the thinking for forty millions of people, and what those men tell the people of the country is interesting. The people today in Japan are taxed more heavily than at any other time in their history." (Continued on Page 7.)

CRUISERS OFF FOR THE COAST

Admiral Yashiro and Squadron Says Farewell to Honolulu.

After helping to exchange the national farewell salute of "banzais" between the Japanese on shore and those on board the Japanese training squadron Asama and Kasagi, Admiral Yashiro, commander-in-chief of His Imperial Japanese Majesty's cruisers, backed his ships into the stream at 10 o'clock this morning, and proceeded to San Francisco.

KATALA, Alaska, Nov. 12.—The steamer Portland is ashore here, but the damage is not believed serious.

HAWAIIAN SUGAR PLANTERS WILL TAKE UP PROBLEM OF LABOR AT ANNUAL MEETING

Nearly a hundred members of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association are expected to attend the annual meeting of the association, which will begin next Monday morning in the rooms in the Judd building. It promises to be one of the most important meetings ever held. Besides routine business, election of officers and kindred matters, the planters will discuss the labor problem. E. Faxoa Bishop is chairman of the labor committee, and it is understood that his report will go thoroughly into the present status of plantation labor, as well as the possibilities of the future. One of the prominent topics up for discussion will be that of conservation, and it will be taken up at a joint meeting in the throne room of the Capitol on Wednesday. The annual inspection of the association's experiment station will probably be held on Wednesday morning. The annual session will conclude with the usual banquet on Thursday evening. The program so far outlined is given below. It is simply tentative, and may possibly be changed: 1—President's address. 2—Secretary's report. 3—Consideration of committee reports to be arranged, as to time and order of taking up same, reports being as follows: (a) Experiment Station; E. H. Wodehouse, chairman. (b) Labor Committee; E. F. Bishop, chairman. (c) Cultivation and Fertilization on Unirrigated Plantations; John A. Scott, chairman. (d) Cutting, Leading and General Plantation Transportation; A. Horner, chairman. (e) Manufacture of Sugar and Utilization of By-products; J. N. S. Williams, chairman. (f) Manufacturing Machinery; H. B. Penhallow, chairman. (g) Forestry; John Watt, chairman. (h) Burning Before Cutting; H. Weinsheimer. (i) Labor-saving Devices; J. T. Meir, chairman. 4—Election of trustees for the ensuing year. 5—Adjournment until the afternoon, a meeting of the newly elected board of trustees being held in the interim for the election of officers for the ensuing year. 6—Afternoon session, and thereafter the hearing and consideration of committee reports in the order previously assigned. 7—Visit to Experiment Station, at time assigned. 8—Attendance at forestry meeting in throne room of Capitol, Wednesday afternoon, November 16. 9—Annual banquet, Thursday evening, November 17.

M'CANDLESS IS ELIMINATED, SAY VOTERS ON BIG ISLAND, WITH ELECTION RETURNS IN

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.) HILO, Nov. 11.—The sweeping victory of the Republican party, won at the polls last Tuesday, was a surprise to even those who had hoped for a victory for the G. O. P. The satisfaction therewith has therefore been intensified, and on all sides words of praise are heard of Campaign Manager Carl Smith, who accomplished what was considered quite impossible, and of the Republican organization in general. The vote for Kulo was so consistent ahead of McCandless in all precincts, except Honohilo, where the Democrats boasted the pitiful majority of one vote, that it is considered, even by Democrats, that the last nail in Link's coffin has been driven. Notley was nowhere. Hewitt and Makekau won in the Senatorial contest, as had been predicted. Fernandez was high man on East Hawaii, and lost his election entirely on the leeward side of the island. Supervisors Run Strongly. The election of the four Republican Representatives was a surprise to most people, although Smith had prophesied with certainty that this would be the result. The defeat of Keatawan and Kelekolua were the feature which caused most people to sit up. The election of a Republican majority on the Board of Supervisors was, however, the best piece of work done by the Republicans, for the claim that the Democrats or the Home-Rulers would win control had passed pretty generally uncontradicted. That Lewis and Austin could defeat Keaki, who, funnily enough, came in last, had not been believed, and the defeat of Shipman (Continued on Page 4.)

FERN WILL MAKE FEW CHANGES, 'TIS SAID

Mayor Fern's official and political patronage will not undergo many changes in the coming two years, according to statements today from men close to the city's chief executive. In fact, it is understood that his present appointees will all hold their jobs, and that the heads of the various departments will themselves make few changes in the personnel of the working forces under them. There have been persistent whispers to the effect that Johnnie Wilson has been slated for discharge as head of the roads department, but this was denied today by one of Fern's chief advisers. Fern himself has nothing to say on the subject, but his political counselors are un- (Continued on Page 7.)

FLUME CARRIED MAN TO DEATH

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.) HILO, Nov. 11.—Owing to the rough nature of the country to be traversed and the obstacles to be overcome, death in some unusually violent form occasionally meets those who are employed in the pushing of the track of the Hilo Railroad Company towards Hamakua. Men have been blown up by giant powder, they have been smothered in landslides and have been shot out to sea through tunnels. The last victim, a Japanese, who met his death last Wednesday, was carried in a flume out into the ocean and was drowned. The Japanese was working with a gang of other Japanese under a Japanese contractor. The gang was working on a deep cut near the Honouliuli mill. They had reached a point where some rock was to be blasted out, and the man was sent to get water with which to clean out the holes made by the drills. This was at about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. He was not seen alive again. It appears that the man tried to get his water at a large flume which is used to carry water for sluicing purposes. At this point the flume is not very far from the sea, and it appears that he must have fallen into the rapidly-flowing water and have been carried by it across the edge of the bluff and into the ocean. The rest of the gang became uneasy on account of the long absence of their comrade and instituted a search for him. His body was found in the sea just below the point where the flume empties into the ocean. Plants cannot live if deprived of their leaves.

LENIENCY IN CASE OF KUBEY

Recommendations that leniency be shown Joseph Kubej, assistant postmaster, who was mixed up in the crap games at the customs house that resulted in several resignations, have been made to the department at Washington by Postmaster Pratt. The matter has been referred to Washington for action under the rules of the department. While Postmaster Pratt declined today to make public his recommendations, on the ground that the regulations require silence, his attitude toward the case is well known. He believes that Kubej's participation in the games was desultory and thoughtless, and that the offense is not severe enough to require drastic action. Since the story first came out, Mr. Pratt has received many voluntary testimonials as to Kubej's good character, and in the postoffice he is regarded as a capable employe, one of the best in the service. No word has been received from the department heads at Washington yet, and the matter may be simply dropped.

LINK WILL GIVE WHOLESALU LUAU

Link McCandless, defeated but not dismayed, will be the host at a luau next Saturday in Atkinson Park. The luau is to be given in honor of Mayor Fern and Sheriff Jarrett, who were triumphantly elected by the Democrats. McCandless has announced that he will set himself back to the extent of about sixteen pigs and ten bullocks for the luau, together with a couple of barrels of pot, plenty of fish and other Hawaiian delicacies by the wholesale. The luau, it is understood, is free to everybody, irrespective of party affiliation, and if this is the case, Link ought to have a bigger attendance at Atkinson Park next Saturday than at any political meeting during the campaign. Assemblyman-elect Chiven of Los Angeles, California, representative of the colored race, publisher and theatrical press agent is one of the main-land visitors now in Honolulu. Chiven wields considerable power among the people of his race in California. (Continued on Page 4.)

FERREIRA HELD FOR U. S. COURT

U. S. Commissioner Davis this morning held Domingo Ferreira to answer at the April term of the Federal Court on a charge of importing opium into the United States. Ferreira waived examination before Commissioner Davis and his bond was fixed at $1500. The aged parents of the accused opium smuggler were released upon motion of United States District Attorney Breckons. While it is believed by the authorities that Ferreira's parents were fully aware of his opium smuggling operations, their advanced age has probably saved them from prosecution. Ferreira's mother is sixty-two years of age and his father ten years older.

GETTING READY FOR NEW SUGAR

The first big shipment of the new crop of sugar will be made on December 14, and from present prospects it will tax the carrying capacity of the American-Hawaiian steamer Alaskan, according to news today from the Sugar Factors' Company. The Alaskan will have 12,000 tons of the new crop, and from that time on until the end of the season many months later the saccharine substance will be sent out every twelve days. Some of the mills will be grinding this month and next month the crude sugar will be turned out over the islands. The Sugar Factors Company is making preparations to handle a larger crop next year than this.

PARTY TO STAY, ASSERTS NOTLEY

"Why should the Home Rule party be dropped from the political field? It will be continued as far as I am personally concerned. I see no good reason why it should not be perpetuated. It will cease to exist only when Hawaii has become a State." Charles K. Notley, head of the Home Rule party, who met defeat again at the polls last Tuesday as candidate for Delegate to Congress, told a Bulletin reporter, as he disembarked from the Mauna Kea this morning, that his party will be in existence two years hence. Notley is not at all bitter over his downfall, but, on the contrary, he takes defeat good naturedly.

LOST PROPELLER BLADE CAUSED DELAY OF STEAMER MAUNA KEA

MET WITH ACCIDENT TUESDAY EVENING WHILE OFF MCGREGORS—MANILA A REGULAR PORT OF CALL FOR PACIFIC MAIL—REWARD FOR AMERICAN-HAWAIIAN FIRE FIGHTERS.

A blade was broken from the propeller of the inter-island steamer Mauna Kea on last Tuesday night which caused a delay in the arrival of the Hilo liner at Honolulu this morning.

The accident happened while the vessel was steaming off McGregors. The blade was discovered missing about ten o'clock in the evening. From that time the vessel was compelled to proceed at slower speed.

The Mauna Kea also became entangled with the buoy that marks the anchorage at Lohaina last evening, and it was only after considerable work that the steamer was cleared and again able to resume the voyage to Honolulu.

The vessel arrived at her wharf shortly before nine o'clock this morning, bringing a good-sized list of passengers and freight from the other islands, including bales of hides, 2 automobiles, 5 crates chickens, 2 hogs, 257 head sheep and 235 packages sundries. The Mauna Kea will be placed on the local marine railway, where the necessary repairs to her propeller will be made.

It is the present intention to dispatch the steamer for Hilo and way ports on her regular schedule at ten o'clock Tuesday morning.

Hilo Shipping. Purser Phillips of the steamer Mauna Kea arriving from Hilo and way ports this morning reports the arrival of the American schooner Spokane at that port on last Thursday evening after a twenty-four day passage from Port Ludlow.

The schooner Sequoia, from Pagan Sound, came into port with lumber late last week. She discharges 180,000 feet, then going to Napoosoo and thence to Kailua to discharge the remainder of her cargo.

The American-Hawaiian freighter Missouri arrived at the port on Thursday and discharged about one hundred and fifty tons of freight leaving Hilo for Seattle direct the same day. The schooner Philippine is loading hard wood railway ties destined for Honolulu and was ready for sea at the time of departure of the Mauna Kea. A shipment of lumber is going out of the schooner Sequoia.

The Matson Navigation steamer Enterprise is expected to arrive there on Monday morning.

Sheridan Here Tonight. A wireless received by the local quartermaster department from the transport Sheridan announces the probable arrival of the troopship on or about seven o'clock this evening. The vessel will go to the Oceanside wharf to discharge one hundred and twenty tons of freight and supplies.

The vessel will take on five hundred tons of coal while here. Although no definite time has been set for departure it is expected that the Sheridan will remain at Honolulu over Sunday.

MAUNA KEA BRINGS MANAGERS. The flagship Mauna Kea of the Inter-island fleet, which brought a large number of plantation managers from Hawaii, was unusually late in arriving this morning. She was late in leaving Hilo and the other ports. Among those who arrived this morning were John T. Moir, manager of Onomea Sugar Company. He was accompanied by his wife and two daughters.

W. H. C. Campbell, manager of Hilo Sugar Company was another arrival on the Mauna Kea. C. Wolters, manager of the Hutchinson Plantation of Kauai came down to be present at the meeting of the plantation managers, who meet next week.

A. Ahrens, manager of the Pacific Sugar Mill was an arrival also. A. Gartley of C. Brewer & Co., who has been on the other islands on business returned this morning.

H. L. Holstein, speaker of the House of Representatives came down this morning. It is said, to confer with the Delegate, who will leave shortly for Washington.

H. M. Kanho, the "Cannon Ball of Kohala," who was defeated for the first time, since the Territorial Legislature convened, is in town on business. He said this morning that he was defeated by the Home Rulers in his own district. Sam Kanakani of the Territorial Survey office returned from Hawaii and Maui, where he has been surveying the government lands for many months.

C. K. Noley, president of the Home Rule party, who met his defeat for the sixth time is in town to strengthen his party. Sam Johnson of Pahoa, Puna, accompanied by his wife arrived today for a few days' stay in Honolulu.

H. L. Holstein, ex-Speaker of the House of Representatives is in town, having arrived this morning in the Mauna Kea. He will leave for his home in Kohala next Tuesday.

H. M. Kanho, the "Cannon Ball of Kohala" was one of the passengers who arrived today in the Mauna Kea. He came down on business, other his politics. He said he was defeated at Niuli, Kohala.

A meeting of the Hawaiian branch of the Red Cross Association will be held in the office of U. S. Judge Dole in the Judiciary building Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Dr. Hobbly will read a paper on the campaign against tuberculosis.

With every stateroom filled to capacity with passengers and a large forenoon traveling in the steerage and second class, the Catharan Australian liner Makura, seven days from Vancouver and Victoria, arrived off the port at 8:30 this morning.

Sixty-six passengers left the vessel at Honolulu, but despite this the Makura continued the voyage to the Colonies at 1 o'clock this afternoon, taking 363 passengers.

The officers report strong southwest gales and high seas that served to retard the progress of the ship. This sort of weather prevailed until last Wednesday, when more moderate southwest winds were encountered.

The local postal authorities received nearly one hundred sacks of mail by the vessel. The freight for Honolulu amounts to sixty packages of merchandise.

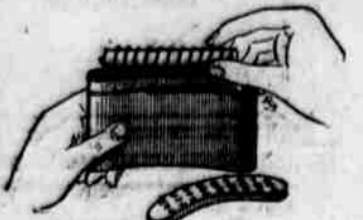

There are a number of prominent Britshers on board the vessel, making a trip to the colonial possessions. Earl and Countess Harroway are included in the list of those who will visit Australia.

Lady Francis Ryder is also a passenger by the Makura. General Godley is proceeding to join the British forces stationed in New Zealand.

Hugh McKenzie, Minister of Public Lands, is returning to Australia after having spent a vacation at home. Several passengers left for the Antipodes by the Makura.

SIMPLY LIGHT AND INSERT TUBE Warmer does the rest

The Welkom Warmer Size 3 1/2 x 5 1/2 inches, weight 4 1/2 ounces. The only modern, safe, effective and sensible substitute for the antiquated Hot Water Bag.

No water to heat—no rubber to rot. Will last for years. The Warmer is made of metal heated within one minute by the fighting and insertion of a paper tube containing a flameless, smokeless and odorless fuel generating a uniform heat which lasts over two hours at a cost of less than one cent. It is curved to fit any portion of the body and held in place by means of a bag and belt allowing the wearer to move about at will.

AS A PAIN KILLER The Welkom Warmer has no equal. It can be put into constant action and is indispensable in cases of rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia, sciatica, cramps, etc.

By placing the Warmer on the affected part the heat being dry, not moist, bakes out the cold. Physicians say that the moist heat of the hot water bag will not cure but aggravate the ailments above mentioned.

Many have been sold—not a single complaint. Complete outfit including Warmer, bag belt, coil and 10 tubes of fuel sent prepaid to any part of the U. S. upon receipt of $1.00.

If you wish to know more about this wonderful device write today for free descriptive booklet. WELKOM WARMER MFG. CO. 108 Fulton St., New York.

THAYER VICTIMS BADLY PUZZLED

Frenzied Financier's Tangled Accounts Hard to Straighten Up Now.

Efforts on the part of the victims of Alfred Finley Thayer to straighten out that frenzied financier's accounts in Manila are not proceeding with much rapidity, according to news from the Philippines. The business men who placed their confidence in Thayer are apparently badly stuck. A Manila paper has the following to say:

"Messrs. Frank L. Strong and R. E. Clark were appointed receivers of the affairs of Mr. Alfred Finley Thayer, purchaser of the Calamba sugar estates, by Judge Crossfield this morning. This action was taken on the petition for appointment of receivers in involuntary bankruptcy by three creditors who are seeking to protect the interests of local business men who advanced Thayer the necessary money for the beginnings of the development work on the estate.

"Mr. Hartford Beaumont, acting for the creditors, filed the complaint at 10 o'clock and the receivership was ordered an hour later. The receivership is conditional upon the filing of a bond of 10,000 pesos.

"For several weeks it has been known about town that Thayer's affairs were in a complicated condition. He is charged with misrepresentation and overdrawing of bank accounts, and it is possible that criminal proceedings will follow the appointment of receivers.

"A week ago he went to Hongkong to interest capitalists of the British city in an effort to pull himself out of the hole, but apparently he met with no success.

"This morning's petition was made to safeguard local capital already invested in the Calamba enterprise, which is one of the most promising prospects in the Islands. The creditors hope by the appointment of a receiver to continue the work of development already begun either by local capital or through sale to foreign capitalists.

"Although confidence in the promoter is shaken, not one of the creditors is discouraged over the outlook for the Calamba estates. Already more than 20,000 pesos have been invested in the proposition, and wisely invested, they think. The bankruptcy proceedings have been instituted only to tide over the difficulties caused by Thayer's departure.

"Thayer represented himself as an agent of the Dillingham interests of Honolulu, and it is possible that they may come to the rescue of the local men who backed their hope in the future of the Calamba hacienda with their money. If such aid is not forthcoming an effort will be made to finance the scheme with other capital.

"The proceedings were instituted by Messrs. A. O. Slemmons, R. E. Clark and Dr. H. D. Kneeder, the necessary legal number for such a petition, representing claims aggregating 3600 pesos. There are many more debts outstanding, but the creditors have united to obtain legal sanction for the maintenance of an estate management other than that of Thayer."

IMPROVE AND ENLARGE THE BAND.

Honolulu, according to all indications, is to have this winter one of the best tourist seasons of its history.

The Hawaiian band is usually one of the most attractive features to tourists, but of late years the organization has lost some of its popularity on account of enforced reduction of numbers. The City Supervisors could do nothing in behalf of the people that would give better returns than to appropriate funds that will provide for bringing the membership of the Hawaiian band up to the standard of a first class military band in numbers and quality.

Since the band came under the administration of the County it has been steadily reduced in numbers, according to the information given the Bulletin.

Between January first and March first, Honolulu is to be the center of attraction for hundreds and perhaps thousands of tourists. These people have all heard of the Hawaiian band. Our own people enjoy the band when it is enlisted to its full complement.

These visitors are deserving first class music. Our own people are entitled to have and ought to be proud in the possession of a band that is a notch higher than anything that appears before the public between Manila and Washington, D. C.

The appropriations by the Supervisors should be made large enough to enable Captain Berger to not only secure additional men and instruments but to train the enlarged organization, so that the Shriners, and the Northwesterners, and the Easterners and the Southerners who are coming here this winter in droves, will be treated to a brand of music that will make the Hawaiian band again the talk of the people from one end of the country to the other.

There is rank injustice in the fact that the pupil who goes out of our elementary school today to enter industrial life does so with absolutely no training or development which would help to open for him the door of opportunity.—George M. Forbes, president of the Board of Education, Rochester, N. Y.

If Roosevelt is knocked speechless, one Mr. Barnes of Albany is chuckling in his own quiet way.

If Secretary Wood is anything of a prophet, the people of Honolulu should begin to prepare for the crowds coming here in January and February. The "Do it Now" sign is in order.

One has to get a ladder this year to reach the price of the Thanksgiving turkey. Be thankful that the ladders are more plentifully distributed this year than on former annual versaries.

Under the promise of the Republican party, ample funds will be available for roads in the county. That should give the City and County of Honolulu a surplus to spend on the improvement of the band.

Mr. Brown says that the people in Manila are disposed to be critical of Hawaii. Is it because they manufacture war stories over there and we refuse to agree with them over here?

The Republican Legislature is pledged definitely to make the necessary expense for conducting the public schools a first charge on the revenues of the Territory. There can be no evading that issue.

Progressive Republicans will vote to divest the Territorial Department of Public Works of the operations now carried on by an expensive department, and place the duties and responsibilities where they belong—with the local governments.

Portuguese of Honolulu are in full sympathy with a republic at home and abroad. Had it not been for the Portuguese support in this section of the world, the old Hawaiian Republic would have had a mighty poor show for existence.

Politicians have an idea that the people don't care for any more contests, so they let it go at that. But if a large number of votes were cast illegally in a precinct that changed the result of the election, what's to be gained by allowing such a defeat of the people prevail? If there are irregularities, the vote for mayor of Honolulu should certainly be canvassed by the court.

Hawaii County supervisors should signalize their entrance upon their duties by voting an appropriation for a county engineer. The mossbacks have been retired from the board. Let the newcomers present evidences of civilized progress.

Should the new Board of Supervisors fail to "have Fort street in the shortest possible time and have it finished before the Floral Parade crowd arrives, you will be safe in discounting a complete change in the membership of the board two years hence.

Presenting legislation "through the regular channels" at Washington means presenting bills through the Delegate to Congress. If Mr. L. L. McCandless doesn't know that now, he is due to learn something if he goes to Washington to work out some of his own ideas, whether the Territory is benefited or not.

who was busily engaged at the time. Chief Yamamoto said that the admiral, his officers and men were generously entertained by the local people and their reception here will ever be remembered during their lifetime.

He made special mention of the kindness of feeling extended by Admiral Rees of the officers of the squadron.

Admiral Yashiro, accompanied by chief of staff Lieut.-Commander Yamamoto, Captain Majima and Captain Tanaka of the Asama and Kasugi, paid their farewell calls to Governor W. F. Frear, Admiral Corwin P. Rees, the foreign consuls and Y. Akai, manager of the Yokohama Specie Bank.

Yesterday forenoon Admiral Rees returned his call to Admiral Yashiro on board the flagship Asama. When he left the ship, a salute of thirteen guns was fired from the flagship.

The cruisers will return to Honolulu about February 5, next year, remaining here about a week, before resuming their journey to Japan.

by Kaula in Kan was another of the prizes which but very few had dared hope for. The one sort what in this connection was the defeat of Joe Pritchard in Hamakua, who would have made an excellent supervisor.

The victory of Pua as sheriff over Kealahou had been expected, but the tremendous majority which he rolled up over the once so popular Home Ruler had not been hoped for. Pua led the ticket.

The fight for the county clerkship was a close one, and it is apparent that Kai lost some Republican votes. Hapai ran strong, but was defeated mainly by the overwhelming vote which Kai garnered in at Hookeha. Kakaue met the fate of all independent candidates, only possibly even a little worse than is usual.

Another G. O. P. Victory.
One of the main victories was the election of Swain for treasurer. On election day he was generally thought to be third man, and popular opinion had it that Lalakee, the veteran Home Ruler, would stay in his office for another two years, though Richardson might have a chance. The election of Swain by a substantial majority was a big triumph for the Republican party.

Beers' election as county attorney was a foregone conclusion, and the majority he polled out demonstrates this.

On the other side of the island things were not quite as satisfactory, two Home Rulers being elected to the House. The main point, namely, the election of Hobstein by the highest vote of his group, was, however, a source of great satisfaction, and the fact that Kaniho, who seemed to be a perpetual evil, was defeated, added sweetness to the victory.

The election of Beckley to represent Kohala completed the joy of the party, and the election of Koomoa for supervisor in Kona was to some extent a Republican victory, as he was backed by the Republicans against his Democratic opponent, Kalaiwaa, there being no Republican candidate in the field.

HAWAII READY TO RESUME SERVICE

MANILA, Oct. 12.—The Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association's steamer Hawaii has now completed repairs and is again ready for service.

The Hawaii ran aground off the north coast of the island of Siquijor on the night of September 29 while en route from Siquijor to Zamboanga, and as a result sustained a big hole on the bottom. The vessel was refloated after more than a week of hard work, the hole was temporarily patched up with lumber and cement, and she came to Cebu under her own steam and went into Mr. Manuel Novoa's drydock at Opon for repairs, which have now been completed.

The Hawaii was bought at Hongkong recently by Mr. O. A. Steven, agent of the sugar planters, to carry laborers recruited for the Hawaiian plantations from the outlying coast towns to Cebu for transshipment to Hongkong.—Cebu Chronicle.

Prince Cupid, the Delegate. It is said, will call a meeting at 4 o'clock this afternoon at his home at Wai'iki for the purpose of discussing certain political matters. It is expected that all the Republican leaders will attend.

gone into deeply before by the League, and it is thought that considerable educational discussion will follow.

IN BUSINESS CIRCLES

Elections are over and the next thing of interest among the business leaders is the annual meeting of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association that will open its sessions in this city next Monday.

Elections and Business.

The elections had an important bearing on the industrial and business interests of the Territory. The majority by which Delegate Kuhio was elected leaves no doubt of where the people of Hawaii stand on the protective tariff. The election of an almost solid Republican Legislature is the clearest possible declaration in favor of the continuation of the European immigration policy.

The result in this immigration matter is a lesson to the business men who hesitate to take important issues in the open for popular decision, for fear the "ignorant masses" will make a mess of it. There is no use evading an issue in a community that makes pretensions to representative government, and in nine cases out of ten the people decide right, if they are thoroughly informed.

Business men who want good government should also remember that it is not good business to allow the men who preach false doctrines to work for eighteen months, and then leave the work of combating all the injury that has been done, to the last six months or more properly the last six weeks of a political campaign.

If business men want the people to vote right and stand solidly for right principles the only way to be sure of it is to carry on a continuous campaign of education. Business men snarl and whine when asked to do politics all the time, but they make a great hullabaloo if the people go off on wrong tangents as the result of the teachings of demagogues at work all the time.

There has been no especial revival of trading in any line in consequence of the elections. The importance of the result is to assure the continuation of present policies of the Territory for building up a population of citizens or those eligible to citizenship.

Immigration.

Letters received from Mr. Silva, who is with Commissioner Campbell in Portugal are of a tone that gives promise of success for the effort to obtain more Portuguese immigrants.

The Territory of the Territorial Immigration Board, the Planters' Association is continuing its active promotion of Filipino immigration. R. D. Ford, head of the Planters' Labor Union is now in Manila, where he is overseeing the work that is going forward under the direction of L. E. Plinkham and O. A. Steven. They are advertising liberally in the Manila papers, offering the Filipino men $18 a month with the usual perquisites of house, fuel, food, medical attendance, etc., etc.

Speaking of the Philippines recalls the new light that has been thrown on the operations of A. F. Thayer, who posed as representing the Dillinghams in contemplated development of sugar plantations in the Philippines. From information received by Mr. W. F. Dillingham, Thayer has been trading on the name of the Dillinghams attached to forged letters of instructions. On the basis of these letters one Manila firm placed a $100,000 order for machinery for the Thayer plantation. Bankers, business men and professional men have been victimized by Thayer and as far as can be learned he is a fugitive; the Manila papers report the police of Hongkong unable to find him. One of the alleged letters from W. F. Dillingham on a Honolulu date of a day when Mr. Dillingham was on the ocean between Honolulu and San Francisco.

After the experience with Thayer, it seems certain that the business men of Manila will look well to the credentials of any man seeking to do business in the name of the sugar men of Hawaii.

Stock Trading.

Stock prices and stock trading during the week have been on the downward trend. Last week there was a slight upturn that had the appearance of a revival of trading and of price. Wainaina sold at 102. Oahu strengthened, Honokaa seemed stronger, the whole list indeed looked better. But on Friday of this week Oahu touched the lowest figure of the season, 25.50, and the whole list of stocks was sympathetically weak. Ewa sold at 28.75, Wainaina at par with 99 bid, Hawaiian Commercial was held at 34.25, Honokaa sold at 13.625, Olan and McBryde sold respectively at 4.25 and 4.375. The cheap stocks appear to have struck bedrock if the dividend paying properties have not.

Raw Sugar Market.

The raw sugar market continues to attract interest. The price of raws is holding up very well but there is nothing in the statistics to give promise of any higher average than 37.5 a ton for the coming season.

Willet & Gray's Sugar Journal for Oct. 27 says of the raw sugar market:

VISIBLE SUPPLY.—Total stock of Europe and America, 647,522 tons against 137,374 tons last year at the same uneven dates. The increase of stock is 118,248 tons, against an increase of 110,618 last week. Total stocks and afloat together show a visible supply of 749,522 tons, against 664,274 tons last year, or an increase of 85,248 tons.

RAWS.—The quotation for Centrifugals, 96° test, is 3.86c, against last week, 3.85c, per lb, although during the week two cargoes of Javas about due were sold at equivalent of 3.87c, per lb, raising quotation for one day, Monday, to that basis by the understood basis of valuations here, after which the market returned to 3.85c, and closed at 3.86c, basis on sale of Centrifugal from store.

The weakness which developed in the market brought out many sellers, and there are now for sale three cargoes of nearby Javas at equal to 3.85c, to 3.87c, landed for 96° test, some 5,000 tons Cubas for shipment at 2 1/2c, c. & f. (3.85c.), as well as some Cuban Centrifugals in store at Liverpool for shipment to New York, at 3.85c, duty paid.

Cane sugars in the United Kingdom are now below the parity of our market, and if the Cubas in store over there can be brought in here at the 20% concession in duty (as expected by the owners) it will pay well to ship them here.

Buyers are holding off, as their immediate wants are supplied.

Arrivals at Four Ports United States for the week were 25,429 tons, and meltings reduced to 34,000 tons, leaving total stock 139,522 tons. Refiners' stocks do not change much for the week, as in addition to the arrivals, the deliveries from importers' stocks were considerable, it being understood that some stored sugars have been quietly sold at the market, but not reported.

The European markets for beet root sugar declined from 9s. 3d. (3.93c.) to 8s. 4 1/2d. (3.84c.) at the close, the lowest point touched in the present campaign.

The influences causing this continued decline are the constant reports of everything favorable to the growing Beet crop; the "Factories" estimate being 7,400,000 tons, which proved rather larger than expected.

The damage to the Cuba crop by the hurricane does not have the sustaining influence to the markets that it might without the notable increase of the Beet sugar supplies.

The highest estimates made of the Cuba crop damage places it at about 100,000 tons, while other estimates consider that whatever damage is done is fully offset by the good done the growing cane by the heavy rain fall. It will be well into December before a close estimate of the crop can be made. In the meantime some Cuban merchants who approve of the damage estimate place the crop at 1,700,000 tons until the December estimates are made.

Louisiana started sugar making October 17th, with favorable weather crop conditions. A good yield is expected from the smaller acreage.

The consumption of the Convention countries of Europe for the year ending August 31, 1916, was 4,418,443 tons, against 4,453,589 tons the previous year, a decrease of only 35,146 tons, notwithstanding the higher prices of the year.

France and the United Kingdom were the only countries showing decrease.

This is an indication that with low prices for the present campaign, the consumption may increase correspondingly to the increased production.

The European Beet sugar factories have progressed much faster in working this season than usual, probably in order to avoid the working of frozen or wilted beets at end of crop.

Some 8,000 bags of Demerara centrifugals were sold for first half November at equal basis of 3.86c, per lb, New York.

At the close a sale is reported from store at 3.80c, for 96° test.

REFINED.—The change of the week is a general reduction of 5 cents per 100 pounds, closing with the Federal Refinery at 4.75c, less 1%, and all others at 4.80c, less 1%.

The reduced meltings are still sufficient for the reduced demand for cane refined.

The beet sugar factories are active in supplying the country with all their products which can be used. We give full quotations herewith.

CUBA CROP: Havana.—From our regular correspondents, October 31, 1916.—Referring to our last cables in regard to the two hurricanes which crossed the Province of Pinar del Rio, we beg to give you now the following information:

All the cane fields of the Centrals of Pinar del Rio, where the vortex crossed, have suffered, though not so much.

To the cane fields of the other provinces the rains have been very beneficial, for the canes have only been laid down, as the wind only came from one direction. If the season does not change now, i. e., if the north winds do not set in, and if it should continue to rain from time to time, much of the damage to the canes can yet be mended.

People here are always disposed to exaggerate, and one must be very cautious not be misguided or misinformed.

E. J. Lord of Lord & Young has gone to the coast to purchase the equipment needed for the Hilo breakwater construction. The new plant will cost in the neighborhood of $40,000.

Major Winslow is preparing data to submit to Washington on the harbors of Kaula. There is not a little rivalry between Port, Allen and Nawiliwili for the post of honor.

Chamber of Commerce Appropriation.
Chamber of Commerce trustees at their meeting this week appropriated $100 a month to assist the war on tuberculosis. The Chamber will be represented at the Trans-Mississippi Congress. A considerable sum of money was appropriated to provide a painting in the San Francisco Merchants' Exchange typical of Hawaii. It is highly proper that the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce should be appropriately represented in the walls of the Merchants' Exchange but the way our business men distribute their money is something remarkable. They spend a liberal sum for a painting and then from year to year allow the Promo-

SASSSED JUDGE, THREE MONTHS

Komo Thought His Rights
Were Being Trampled Upon.

Komo was just a plain, unvarnished drunk who faced Judge Lymer at this morning's session of police court. He did not deny the soft impeachment when the usual charge was read. Had he let the matter go at that, all might have been well.

It was when Judge Lymer endeavored to find out where the stimulating waters had been secured that a small cloud not larger than a man's hand loomed up over the horizon, and before he had finished his talk with the court, this prisoner made the painful discovery that he had drawn down a maximum sentence.

Komo refused to divulge the source of his supply of fermented and liquid joyousness. He practically insinuated that it was no one's business where he sought the font of bacchanalian bliss. This apparently settled his chances for securing a modest penalty, and after delivering himself of a few more flip-pant remarks Komo was persuaded to accompany the jailers to the dungeons and thence to a prolonged stay of three months at Hotel As he.

derstood to have advised the retention of Wilson.

However, it is known that some of the men under Wilson are due to get their walking-papers. In line with the Democratic policy of cleaning out the Republicans in the road department and putting in good workers for the Bourbon cause, several employees who did not manifest enough zeal to suit the Democratic managers in the late campaign will be advised that their services can be dispensed with.

City Heads to Stay.

Fern intends to keep the heads of the fire department, city and county engineer's office and city and county electrician's office as they are. Fire Chief Thurston, it is practically certain, will not be displaced; G. H. Gere is good for another term in the engineer's office, and W. L. Frazee is said to be slated for two years more in the electrician's job. There has been some opposition to Frazee, but nothing serious has so far developed.

As the police department is not under Fern, the mayor of Honolulu has not much political patronage at his disposal. Few changes are looked for in the police department from Sheriff Jarrett, although one or two members who worked for the Republicans last Tuesday are expecting the ax at any time.

The newly-elected supervisors are busy framing up their committees. Few of them have fully decided what they want. It was no secret during the campaign that Eben Low wanted the chairmanship of the roads committee, and Frank Kruger may get the police and health committee chairmanships.

LICENSE BOARD HOLDS SESSION

Compounds and Applications Occupy Consideration of Members.

At the meeting of the Board of Liquor License Commissioners yesterday afternoon the problem of compounded liquors again came up for consideration. The latest rule promulgated by the commission provides that all "type" or compounded liquors shall be marked with a large size red label with black type thereon, indicating to the purchaser just what sort of dope he is receiving.

License Inspector Fennell reported that the saloons were now selling compounds and type liquors and that Chairman Cooke declared that the Board would see to it that its regulations were fully enforced in this respect.

The application of a Japanese firm for a wholesale license at Honolulu was refused, the Board being opposed to the granting of wholesale licenses outside the city limits.

H. L. Peterson wanted a retail license at Waipahu but action was deferred, a protest being read from a number of Waipahu people.

No action was taken on the application of K. Ono for a transfer of his license from its present site on Beretania to the building on Beretania and Kekaulike. Ono explained that he would buy the property if his application was granted.

DE MELLO CANINE RILED NEIGHBORS

De Mello, a member of the local Spanish colony, finds himself an involuntary dweller at the city station owing to it is alleged in the complaint, that he possesses a dog that has proved a menace to peace, happiness and safety of his neighbors.

De Mello and his dog reside at Panoa. The animal is said to have developed cannibalistic tendencies. Complaints have fallen upon the alert ears of Sheriff Jarrett's men and the owner has been brought to book.

ASSAULT ON A LITTLE GIRL.

Yamashiro, a Japanese woman has been placed under arrest charged with assault and battery upon a little girl, who is the ward of Kaleialoha, a Hawaiian woman.

Bail was forthcoming and the Japanese was released. The case may come up for hearing at Monday's session of the police court.

McClellan Out of Tune.

Although McClellan is the only veteran member of the board now, it is not likely that he will be handed any plums in the way of committee chairmanships. The lone Democrat will probably not be given any power that he could use to help along the Democratic machine, and a tendency on the part of the Republican members to see that McClellan is kept strictly in the minority is already apparent.

Politicians today were discussing the rumor of a recount in the Sixth Precinct of the Fourth District, down in Kakaako, where it is alleged John Lane, the Republican candidate for mayor, got distinctly the worst of the counting. However, both Republican and Democratic leaders say that there is little probability of the recount. Chairman A. L. C. Atkinson of the Republican Territorial Central Committee stated this morning that he had not paid much attention to the matter and does not think a recount will be made.

LONE DEMOCRAT WINS ON MAUI

Republican County Ticket Sweep Valley Isle from Top to Bottom.

Detailed election returns received in Honolulu today from Maui show what a sweeping victory was won by Republicans. Only one Democratic candidate on the county ticket was successful, the lone Bourbon being T. B. Lyons, who was named supervisor. The total vote received by the various county candidates is as following, the successful ones being marked "R":

IN BUSINESS CIRCLES.

tion Committee to skimp along on a paltry few hundred dollars a month. One of the exhibits of economy to which the Promotion Committee is forced, is the order for posters for the forthcoming Floral Parade. The whole order for posters is about large enough to cover the city of San Francisco fairly well. The economies to which the committee is forced in matters of this kind are absolutely ridiculous. Some day the business men of Honolulu will wake up and be ashamed, at least it is to be hoped that they will; they ought to.

One result of the visit of Generals Aleshire and Bliss to the city was a decision to turn over to the Territory for a National Guard armory site, the property on Hotel street now used by the U. S. Quartermaster's department.

The will of the late A. S. Cleghorn was filed for probate this week. He left an estate valued at $115,000 real and personal property. He left his property to members of his family.

previons time, and what for? What is the word sent out? Why that the country is preparing for war with the United States and this money is urgently needed for fortification and for the building of a navy.

This sentiment, according to Mr. Trissel, is found throughout the Empire from the highest people to the lowest ricksha coolie or farmer way out in the country who knows not where the United States is or of how many persons it is composed.

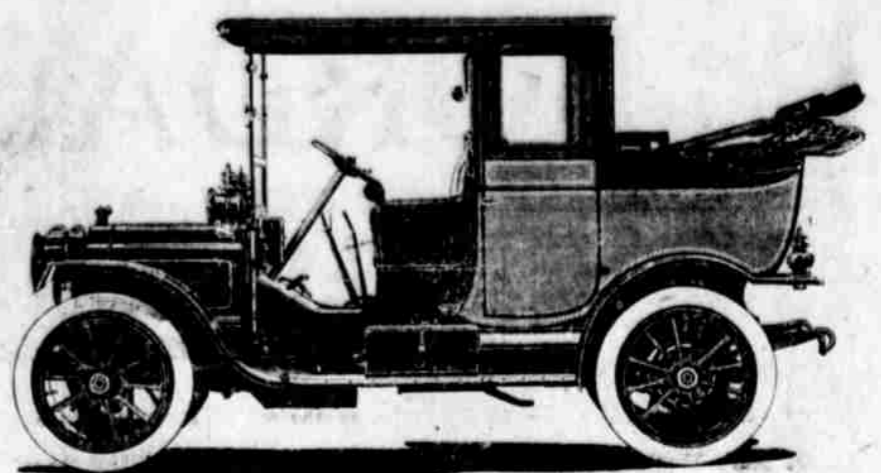

"This may be a bluff of those in power to get money from the common people," said Mr. Trissel, "but if it is they have got to make good with their war or do a tall lot of explaining to tell their countrymen why there was no war after muleting them of money for years to build a navy. It looks like the real thing, however.

"Just look at the naval program of Japan today," said he, "what are the Japanese building, cruisers? No, a few battleships and a great many torpedo boats.

"Now to any one knowing the topography of the Japanese coast this torpedo boat program is interesting and significant.

"If you look at the map you can see that the whole coast of the country is indented with small bays, ideal hiding or anchoring places for torpedo craft but far too small for a ship of any size like a cruiser or a battleship.

"With the proper number of torpedo craft concealed in these small bays the Japanese could dash out and easily destroy a hostile fleet steaming along their coasts."

SOCIETY

Mrs. Phillips' Luncheon.

A party of pretty young society girls were entertained by Mrs. Annie Phillips Wednesday at luncheon. They were invited to meet Miss Green of San Francisco, who is a house guest of this popular hostess. A large basket of yellow chrysanthemums, yellow with tulip, occupied the center of the table, the favors were extremely pretty and unique. Miss Green has been the incentive for numerous entertainments, most of them have been of an informal nature. This young girl is extremely attractive of the brunette type. She is tall and willowy.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Irwin was the scene of a large gathering last evening, when Miss Margaret Kemble gave the first of a series of soirees on modern opera. These will be held at the home of various well known society people, Miss Kem-

Captain and Mrs. Ramsey's Dinner.
Pale pink carnations adorned the dinner table, when Captain and Mrs. Frederick Ramsey entertained Saturday evening in honor of Doctor and Mrs. Lane of the U. S. Navy and Paymaster and Mrs. Stevens of the Navy. The dinner was served on the large upper Pergola of this attractive and artistic home. The place cards were hand painted Japanese rickshaws containing Japanese women, in brilliantly painted kimonos and drawn by the Japanese coolies. Captain and Mrs. Ramsey possess a great gift for entertaining and their entertainments are always enjoyable affairs.

The Benjamin Marx have purchased a new Chalmers-Detroit touring car.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson of Davenport, Iowa, are spending their honeymoon at the Moana hotel. This charming young couple entertained a coterie of friends at dinner at this popular cavernary Tuesday evening. Among their dinner guests were Lieutenant eral friends at a dinner, and afterward took her guests to hear Mme. Caduki at the St. Francis.—S. F. Examiner.

Invitations have been issued for a reception to be given the latter part of next week by Mrs. Sanford Ballard Dole. The following has been received through the mail:

A DAINTY TOILET ARTICLE.

Every lady who desires to keep up her attractive appearance, while at the Theater, attending Receptions, when shopping, while traveling and on all occasions should carry in her purse a booklet of GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL BEAUTY LEAVES. This is a dainty little booklet of exquisitely perfumed powdered leaves which are easily removed and applied to the skin. It is invaluable when the face becomes moist and flushed and is far superior to a powder puff as it does not smudge and soil the clothes. It removes dirt, soot and grease from the face, imparting a cool, delicate bloom to the complexion. Sent anywhere on receipt of Ten Cents in stamps or coin. P. T. HOPKINS, 37 Great Jones street, New York.

DIED.

JONES—In this city, November 12, at the Queen's Hospital, Mrs. Arthur K. Jones, wife of the superintendent of the Dowsett Ranch, aged 55 years.

The funeral services will be held at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Captain Pederson, corner of Dole and Arden streets, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

MOTOR CAR COSSIP

So much interest and time have been devoted to election this week that the automobile sales have been a trifle under the average of the past three months. However, at the same time the local machines were impressed into service transporting delinquent voters so that the garages and repair shops have been kept very busy.

The automobile business is fast becoming more standardized and important in commercial circles and is now at a point where it may be termed a positive necessity rather than a rich man's sport and luxury, as has previously been its status.

The vast improvements in construction and design that have been presented in the past three years have enabled us to call the automobile an indispensable article.

All the manufacturers are striving for reliability and today the car that runs with the least attention seems to be the best seller.

The automobile dealers say that the garage end is rapidly becoming easier to handle owing to two reasons: The machines are more reliable and the buyers are becoming more familiar with the small adjustments and little troubles that occur on the road.

A few years ago the garage telephones were constantly ringing, and bearing the sad news that some unfortunate autolast was in hopeless despair and needed immediate attention, but today such things are far more rare.

Honolulu is indeed very fortunate in regard to the handling of the business, as garages are equipped as well as any in the larger cities. A great deal of money has been spent in importing the best skilled mechanics and the highest class machinery.

The arrival of the Lurline brought three new 1911 Chalmers 30s and three 1911 Hudson roadsters—and joy to as many prospective owners, whose orders had been on file for a month or more with the Associated Garage.

B. J. Marx took delivery of a beautiful Chalmers 30 touring car; Will Thomas of the Thomas Pineapple Co. likewise rode off in his Chalmers 30 touring car. One of the new Hudson roadsters went to Alec Lyle, another to the Honolulu Brewing & Malting Co., while the third was reshipped to Stanley Richardson of Pala, Maui.

The equipment of the Chalmers 1911 touring cars is especially fine, including those accessories which gladden the heart of the experienced motorist, such as specially-fitted seat covers, the latest hickory slatted trunk rack, tire carriers, Warner electric lighted autometer, Chalmers specially-fitted tops, a large-sized tool box on the running board, trimmed to match the car, robe rail, and so forth. The demand for the Chalmers car this year is phenomenal, and as the policy of the factory is to build only a limited number of cars well, many prospective purchasers will be disappointed because of delay in booking their orders.

A Chalmers 40 roadster is on the way as a special order for L. Macfarlane of Napoosoo, Hawaii, who selected this car both from his own experience with his Chalmers 30 pony and because of the record made by Henry Beckley with his fast Chalmers 40.

H. P. Wood of the Promotion Committee has given his order for a Chalmers 30 touring car.

C. G. Bartlett was discovered driving a beautiful new car the other day, which upon investigation proved to be the first of the six-cylinder 48-horsepower 1911 Pierce-Arrows to arrive in the Islands. The Pierce-Arrow car is considered to be America's last word in motor car construction, both from an engineering and artistic point of view, and Mr. Bartlett showed a fine discrimination in his selection.

The much-talked-of Hudson 33 will be along shortly. Rev. John Erdman has selected one of the Hudson 33 touring models as his next car.

After "joy rides" in rickshaws and a personally conducted tour of the Far East, along with other American merchants, genial Fred Waldron will be met at the wharf on his return with his new Pierce-Arrow, for which he left an order prior to his departure.

A. N. Campbell of the Waterhouse Trust Company is much pleased with his Chalmers 30 pony tonneau.

Altogether, Manager Seymour Hall of the Associated Garage reports great satisfaction in the greatly increased demand for the Pierce-Arrow, Chalmers and Hudson cars, as expressing public confidence in these three great makes.

Although somewhat hampered by the rearrangement and changes now going on, on account of the Bethel street opening, these changes are planned with the public convenience fully in mind.

The Everitt pony tonneau car made the trip around the Island in the mud and rain this week in four and a half hours.

The von Hamm-Young Company report the sale this week of a 1911 Model 30 Cadillac demi-tonneau car to Capt. John Kidwell.

The 1911 model E. M. F. car is attracting a very great deal of favorable comment. Automobile buyers who know every point in a car are particularly enthusiastic over this E. M. F. model.

The Lurline this week brought two Packard 30 touring cars and one Peerless 30 roadster for The von Hamm-Young Company, these cars to be delivered to prominent Honolulu business men.

Mr. Schoening, demonstrator for The von Hamm-Young Company, returned from Maui this week reporting the sales of a Cadillac demi-tonneau to Dr. Geo. Aiken of Kahului, and a Model 49 Overland to Mr. Bevins of Pala.

The satisfaction derived by owning a Cadillac has been demonstrated this week by the purchase of a 1911 Model 30 Cadillac demi-tonneau by Mr. Wm. Searby of Puanene. Mr. Searby is a great follower of the Cadillac having used one for the last year and a half, both for business purposes and pleasure.

The last 1911 Packards received by The von Hamm-Young Company have come out with a new feature—the quick detachable demountable rims which are a great convenience over the former clincher demountable rims.

Mr. C. C. von Hamm, of The von Hamm-Young Company, is due to arrive in Honolulu by the Sierra on the 18th inst. Mr. von Hamm has been on the mainland for the last two months during which time he has visited all the automobile agencies represented by his firm, and is returning with all the latest automobile ideas and theories.

It is not unlikely that a very interesting report will be received by the war department at Washington on the efficiency of automobiles in military operations, based on the work at the recent Peoria (Illinois) maneuvers of the two Cadillac gun cars owned by the Northwestern military academy. The Cadillac cars were in active service throughout the maneuvers and Major R. P. Davidson, commandant of the Northwestern, writes the Cadillac Company that they were given the most extraordinary missions to execute. These are the machines which went through the Glidden tour, and Major Davidson says that, knowing their capabilities, as well as he does, he was gratified to see them do things on the maneuvering field which he had supposed were not possible for an automobile.

Colonel Romaine, who was the chief umpire at the maneuvers, is reported to have said that the work with the Cadillacs had thoroughly convinced him of their efficiency in military operations.

Madame Ella M. Des Rochers, a coquette of Tremont street, Boston, has established a record as a motorist. In four years she drove two Franklin cars nearly 50,000 miles. The air-cooled motors of her cars required no attention and did not overheat.

Madame Des Rochers in her long experience with motor cars has become a capable mechanic, and any little attention needed by the car is given it by herself.

"I tour all over the country with only ladies with me, and there is never anything happens but what I can fix."

Her Franklin is a familiar sight in the Berkshire hills, the White mountains and other New England places of note.

The first long-distance high-speed run ever made by a loaded automobile truck ended last night at Broadway and Sixty-first street, when a Grabowsky 1-ton power wagon finished a fast run from Detroit, Mich., to New York, a distance of 1,909 miles, including part of the Province of Ontario.

The vehicle was loaded to its full capacity and driven in this unusual manner to show its adaptability for emergency service of an extreme nature, such as trebling the normal day's mileage and reducing the day's running time. The car arrived in New York without any adjustment or repairs being made during the trip and has been entered, as it stands, in the commercial vehicle tests to be held during the coming week.

The 1,909 miles from Detroit were covered in 52 hours and 28 minutes of actual running time, showing an average speed of 19 miles an hour and establishing a record for the trip. The Grabowsky left Detroit on Tuesday afternoon last, arriving in St. Thomas, Ontario, late Tuesday night and in Buffalo the following night.

In Buffalo merchants evinced great interest in the car and Mr. West agreed to lay over in that city for half a day in deference to the wishes of a few business men. The Buffalo merchants, like those of other cities, were surprised to learn that the normal range of travel and speed of these power wagons can be easily trebled to meet urgent requirements. During the balance of the trip to New York the roads were very muddy and the power wagon had to pull through some difficult places. The downpour of rain early Tuesday submerged many parts of the road.

The car not only established a record for commercial vehicles, but beat the best time ever made by a pleasure car over the same route.

Automobiles are to play an important part in accelerating the construction of a $1,500,000 irrigation canal now being built in Oregon for the purpose of reclaiming 55,000 acres of arid farm land.

The work is being rushed by the Rogue River Valley Canal Company. Fred M. Cummings of Medford, Oregon, is chief engineer. For some time he has been using a four-cylinder, eighteen-horse-power Franklin car and is to have two more.

The task requires that Mr. Cummings and other engineers get hastily from point to point inspecting and directing. He put the first Franklin in service for his own use. Its air-cooled motor, which has no radiator to overheat or to encumber the car, worked where a water-cooled motor, it was found, would have failed because of lack of an adequate supply of cooling medium. The large tires, combined with the car's light weight and wood chassis frame, save the annoyance of road shock.

"Owing to the great predominance of European built cars continental standards in design and finish are preferred by the people. One reason I have chosen the Chalmers car is because I find that it conforms closely to European design. While it has the grace and speed of these foreign machines and also has the same beauty of finish and workmanship, the price is much lower, and the lighter weight makes the car more practicable for Australian conditions."

"Australia is one of the greatest markets in the world for automobiles. Only a slight percentage of the people who can own cars are supplied. With five million population there are only about thirty-five hundred cars in use. There is no country where the automobile is more needed as a means of traveling from one place to another. The distances are very great and railroad facilities poor. In addition to this the people are generally prosperous and in a position to buy automobiles."

"The owners of large plantations, which are so numerous in Australia, have not yet begun to realize the possibilities of the motor car and I expect a large business among this class of people when the demand has once been created."

Mr. Sandford has contracted for a number of Chalmers cars to be delivered each month.

The first two of a limited number of special speed cars to be built by the H. H. Franklin Manufacturing Company of Syracuse, N. Y., were recently delivered to Chester Griswold of New York and Ralph C. Hamlin of Los Angeles, Cal.

The new car is a two-passenger, turtle-back torpedo phaeton with high doors and flush sides. The motor is a four-cylinder Franklin, air-cooled, with a four-inch stroke and bore. The tire equipment, in accord with Franklin practice, is large, both front and rear tires being 34 by 4 1/2 inches in size, giving a wide margin of safety in the capacity of the tires over the load put on them.

This speed car weighs but 1900 pounds. It has a wheel base of 115 1/2 inches.

Prof. E. H. Woodruff of Cornell college, New York, has called Theodore Roosevelt a double bar. "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread."

What About That Dandruff?

There is just this much about it: Dandruff is a germ disease, is most untidy, annoying, and leads to baldness. When chronic, it is very stubborn, but surely yields to thorough and energetic treatment. All germs must be destroyed, the scalp must be restored to health. Here is the remedy: Ayer's Hair Vigor. PASSING OF LAUNCH FUN

Craft With Interesting History Goes to the Boneyard.

The breaking up of the little harbor launch Fun marks the passing of a craft that has participated in events that mark interesting epochs in local history, dating back to the time of the Hawaiian Republic.

The Fun is one of several trim vessels owned and operated by the Young brothers. The vessel has been engaged of late in ordinary routine work about the harbor.

The Fun has now served her days of usefulness and she will be superseded by a better and larger vessel, which when completed will proudly bear the honored name.

The Fun was used in the landing of two cables at Honolulu some seven years ago. The little boat was handled by the Young brothers, who used her at Waikiki in getting the San Francisco end of the Commercial Pacific cable.

The vessel also bears the distinction of participating in the rescue of Prince Cupid, who had been overturned in a fishing boat.

The news of the assassination of the late President McKinley was brought into the harbor by the little launch Fun, and it was her hoarse flag that was first to be half-masted by the Young brothers in commemoration of the death of the martyred President.

The Fun has achieved much renown as a shark-fishing boat. The craft has been used extensively by the Youngs in their expeditions against the fierce man-eaters that frequent the waters near the harbor limits.

The engines that now propel the Fun through the waters near Honolulu will be transferred to a new vessel that will soon be built and placed in commission.

NEW PASTOR WILL ARRIVE DECEMBER 5

Rev. Robert Elmer Smith Comes to First Methodist Episcopal Church.

Rev. Robert Elmer Smith, the new pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, will arrive in Honolulu on the Siberia December 5 and at once take up his duties.

Rev. Mr. Smith comes from Normal, Ill., recently, though by birth and early training he is a New Englander, educated in the public schools of Holyoke, Mass., in Wesleyan Seminary, and later in Boston University. He has been pastor of a number of important churches in Massachusetts, Connecticut and Illinois, and is a popular lecturer in addition to his ministerial attainments.

MRS. ARTHUR JONES DIES THIS MORNING

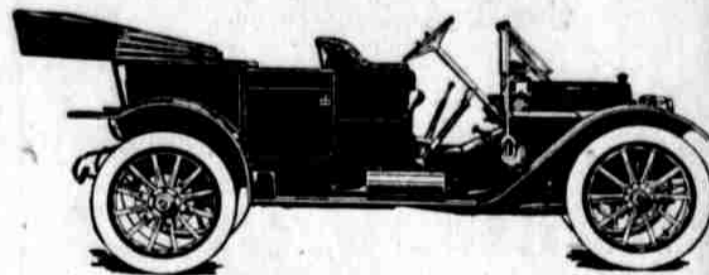

Mrs. Arthur K. Jones, wife of the superintendent of the Dowsett ranch, died at the Queen's Hospital this morning. She leaves three children—two boys and a girl. Mrs. Jones was Nellie B. Hoyt, daughter of N. B. Hoyt of Oakland, Cal. Her mother and her sister and the Rev. Mr. Hill are living in Japan. She has three brothers living in San Francisco.

CHALMERS "30" TOURING CAR

Don't Think Thoughts Six Years Old

Where Else Can You Buy So Much Service for $1500!

Many a business man has said, "I'm not enough of a mechanic to run an automobile, and I can't afford to keep a chauffeur or pay big garage bills to keep my car in order."

The man who says that is thinking in terms of six years ago. Six years ago such a statement would not have been so far amiss. The world has moved in six years and the making of automobiles has shown more progress than nearly anything else.

You can buy a real automobile now for as low a price as $1500. It is so simple to operate that you can, and should, drive it yourself. It is so trouble-proof you won't need to keep it in a garage and have high-priced mechanics tinkering with it all the time.

Six years ago there was scarcely a real automobile to be had at any price. But now—just look around you. See the thousands of men like yourself who use them constantly. Talk to your neighbor who has one. He will give you the straight tip, if you can ever get him to stop enjoying himself in the fresh air long enough to do it.

There are many good cars nowadays, and any good car made by one of the well established companies is a good investment.

We are not in sympathy with that sort of automobile advertising which insinuates that all other cars except the particular one advertised have untried features and aren't worth half their price. A hammer is a very useful thing in a carpenter shop, but it has always looked to us a little out of place in the hands of a salesman or advertising man.

You need a car and you won't make a mistake in buying any one of a number of makes.

Of course, we would like the privilege of showing you the Chalmers before you buy. We know that we have excellent cars, yet if we can't convince you that we offer better value, dollar for dollar, than any one else, why that is our fault, not yours.

CHANGES IN FOOTBALL RULES

Views of Players Will Bring About Some Word Changing.

On September 17, when a meeting of the central board of officials, one of the subcommittees of the American intercollegiate football rules committee, was held in New York, many interesting interpretations of portions of the rules were made. Some of the points discussed at the meeting, however, did not involve simply interpretations, but changes in the rules themselves or in the wording.

A complete list of disputed and undisputed points was referred to the members of the rules committee for final decision. Since September 17, however, there has been delay in getting the individual decisions of the members from which to determine just what changes shall, and shall not, be made.

The members of the committee are widely separated, and many have been slow to send their views.

In order that there may be no confusion the central board has decided to send out the suggestions made at the meeting in New York and it is understood that these suggestions, which were passed upon favorably by the board and its own subcommittee, are to be regarded as actual official rules.

This arrangement of course is only tentative and future corrections of course may be handed down by the football rules committee as a whole. The publishers of the football rules, which were edited by Walter Camp of Yale, and codified by Messrs. Camp, Haughton of Harvard and Williams of Pennsylvania, have just sent out this supplementary list of changes in rules and their wording.

These decisions follow, and the suggestion is made that they be cut from the paper and pasted in the rule-books of players, coaches and enthusiasts generally.

Rule 6, section 15—Man on knee may be hurled without penalty.

Rule 6, section 17 (L)—Insert section 31, rule 19.

Rule 8, section 2—Position on line of man in scrimmage—governed by notes and picture.

Rule 15, section 4—Guard carrying ball—insert penalty 5 yards.

Rule 17, section 6—Runner with ball may put his hand on teammate but may not grasp him so as to be pulled by him.

Rule 18—Change word "caught" to "touched" (also cut out note on page 176, rule 18).

Rule 20, section 6—Ask committee to change to allow return kick to read, "A kick, other than kick-off, kick-out, free kick or return kick must be made from a point at least five yards back of scrimmage line."

Rule 20, section 4—Make penalty same as rule 26, section 5.

MAROON TEAM NOW AT MANILA

University Men Open Baseball Series in the Islands.

Yesterday the first of the series to be played in Manila between the University of Chicago nine and local teams there was on, the first nine to go up against the visitors being the marine team from Cavite, which is one of the best in and around Manila at present.

A long series of games will be played in the Pearl of the Orient by the Maroons, and during the time they are there practically all the army and navy and civil teams will meet them.

Through the meager reports which have reached this city it appears that the Maroons had everything their own way while they were playing their series in Japan, defeating everything they were up against, easily.

One game with Waseda University, the Chicagoans won to the tune of 5 to 2, and another with a plucky team put up against them they won 3 to 1.

The series in Manila will probably be the best they play in the Far East, for there are some good teams there and the baseball spirit is high, with hundreds of excitable fans.

BOWLING NOW ON AT SHAFTER

Sunday Morning Is Time of Inter-Company Matches.

The inter-company bowling contests at Shafter are attracting much attention, and besides the crowd of soldiers present at each match, there are a considerable number of town followers of the game out to see the work of the soldier teams.

Tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock another match will be rolled, this one being between G and H companies of the Twentieth.

Last Sunday the bowling was between H and F companies, in which H won after some good work.

The winner of the match tomorrow morning will roll against Company E the following Sunday.

There are no money or other prizes up for this bowling contest, but the men of each company are giving their own particular team considerable financial backing when they go on the alleys, so that it makes the games a scene of great rivalry.

The last game between the Highs and College of Hawaii will be played this afternoon at the Boys' Field and it promises to be a hard-fought battle. This is the third game between the teams, the two former ones resulting in score of 16-0 and 21-0 for the veterans.

GREAT SALE AT YEE CHAN'S.

One of the greatest sales ever conducted in Honolulu of high grade goods is now in progress at Yee Chan & Co. Half of a $50,000 stock of merchandise is being sold at prices that attract all competition.

PUNS DEFEAT ALIOLANIS

Football Game Resulted in Score of Sixteen to Nothing Yesterday.

But two quarters of the football game between the Puns and Aliolanis were played yesterday afternoon, the score being 16-0 at that time and the game was called off by the Pun team.

Although the score would indicate a decidedly uninteresting game, such was not the fact for the smaller team did great work their tacklers being there every time and landing the man who got in their clutches.

Team work was lacking with the Aliolanis which was the greatest drawback of the eleven, but this will be remedied when a few regular games have been played.

Forward passes were not effective with the smaller team as their opponents were so much taller, but something was done in line bucking, one gain of five yards being made through the Pun line.

But one touchdown was made in the first quarter, that being made within a few minutes on a line buck by Hustace at right quarter.

For the remainder of the period both line bucking and forward passes were tried but no further score was made.

It was in the second quarter that two scores were made the first by Gibb soon after the quarter started, and the second by Stevens near the last part of the quarter on a forward pass.

Three games of soccer were played in the Grammar School League series yesterday, two resulting in a score of one to nothing and the other in a tie.

Kaahumanu beat Iolani one to nothing at Boys' Field, the score being made in the second half after about five minutes of play.

Royal and Normal Game resulted in one score for the latter named team, though the Royals put up a much better game than on Wednesday.

The tie game of the afternoon was between the Punahou Preps and St. Louis.

Games scheduled for next week are Kamehameha Grammar Monday on Boys' Field, and on Wednesday Iolani and Kamehameha, and Kaahumanu and Puns at Punahou.

LANGFORD CHASES THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Tired of Trying to Get Bout With Jack Johnson

As Jack Johnson has not signified his willingness to accept any of the various challenges that Sam Langford has hurled at him from many different sections of the country, in the last few months, the Boston negro has decided to become a champion by laying claim to the middleweight title.

According to Langford, the death of Stanley Ketchel, the champion, leaves him the undisputed king of the middleweight division. He argues that he had the better of his recent bout with Ketchel and that while he did not knock out the white man, his showing on that occasion proves beyond all doubt that he is the best man of his weight in the world.

DOTS AND DASHES.

Two games in the Oahu Junior League will be played at the Athletic Park tomorrow. The first, between the Chinese team and the Mulo-ks, is scheduled for 1:30, and the second will be between the Anahis and the Palama aggregation.

Twenty-five to four was the score piled up by the Whites against the Reds in the fifth game of the indoor baseball series at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last night.

SOCIETY

A picture appears on page eight of the Princess Kalaniana'ole, who is considered one of the most beautiful and regal women of Honolulu. The Princess has not been entertaining much of late, or accepting many invitations on account of the mother. The Princess may not even accompany her husband to Washington, D. C., on this account. Her mother is improving in health, and it is to be hoped that by January, there will be no illness in that charming household.

An Important Function on Wednesday Next.

The chief society event for next week will be the wedding of Miss Ada Rhodes to Mr. William Williamson. This will be a home wedding, but not a large affair as only about two hundred invitations have been issued. Dr. Hodgins will act as best man. The color scheme for the affair will be pink, the only bridal attendant, Miss Irene Dickson, will be attired in this color. Elaborate details are being planned for this wedding, but as all the arrangements are to come in the nature of a surprise, the details can not be divulged, but will be given in the social columns next week. Miss Rhodes is one of the prettiest girls in Honolulu, and will make a beautiful bride—her wedding gown is a dream, and her trousseau is very elaborate. As she is to reside in Honolulu after her marriage, the smart set of this city will have opportunities of seeing her numerous and beautiful gowns, at social functions. The following engraved invitation have been received through the mail:

Mrs. George Cleveland Bowen Entertains.

A breakfast was given Saturday from half after eleven to two in the afternoon by Mrs. Bowen at her pretty home at Fort Shafter. This affair was given in honor of the ring bear and flower girls that participated at the hostesses' wedding. The children residing at Fort Shafter were also included in this entertainment, the details were extremely beautiful and original. The table at which the breakfast was served was entirely covered with graceful fronds of maidenhair ferns, concealing the cloth. In the center was arranged a large oval pond, banked with moss and greens. Live gold fish swam amidst coral and Lily pads, and the delicate pink water lilies, were so cleverly arranged that they looked as if they were growing, and exhaled a delicious fragrance. On the Lily pads were placed miniature, imitation frogs and turtles. The place cards were hand painted fish, which were the hand work of the dainty hostess. At each place was found a small fishing rod, with a line attached to it, at the end of the line, concealed in the center piece was a fish, filled with candy. One can imagine the pleasure of the little ones, when they were told to fish with these lines, and then discovered the dainty trophy. After the breakfast numerous games were indulged in, and a pleasant afternoon was spent. Among the little guests were Miss Rhoda Ballentyne, Miss Alice Campbell, Miss Elise Phillips, Miss Margaret Phillips, Miss Katherine Kennedy, Miss Florence Eyles and Mr. Charles Chapman.

Captain and Mrs. Lewerenz's Dinner.

Captain and Mrs. Lewerenz of the Navy entertained at a bridge dinner, Wednesday evening, in honor of Admiral and Mrs. Corwin P. Rees. The Admiral and his charming wife are devotees to this game and play an exceptionally fine game. On Wednesday evening, dinner was served at seven and the host and hostess and their guests, set down to a table fragrant with La France roses. The arrangement of these flowers were exceptionally beautiful, the place cards were hand painted messenger boys. These cards were extremely appropriate as the guests of honor leave in December for the mainland. Among those present were: Captain and Mrs. Lewerenz, Admiral and Mrs. Corwin P. Rees, Captain and Miss Arthur Marx, Captain and Mrs. Frederick Ramsey, Miss Katherine Stephens and Lieut. Sahn of the Navy.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement has been announced of Lieut. Albert Rees to Miss Jennie Lee, who is a society girl of San Francisco. This young naval officer was stationed on the U. S. S. Tennessee when the Pacific Fleet was in port and is well known in Honolulu.

Last Sunday, as usual, a large number motored to Haleiwa for luncheon, while many of the new officers from Lulehua rode down for a swim and lunch.

MRS. William Chancey Wilder entertained at a large reception Thursday, at her beautiful home on Pensacola street, between the hours of half after three and six o'clock. This function was given in honor of Mrs. Harry Asbury Wilder, a daughter-in-law of the hostess, and Mrs. Charles L'Hommedieu. These two charming girls were married on the same day—the seventh of September, in Portland, Oregon. Mrs. Harry Wilder was Miss Leha Lamberston of that city, and was a great social favorite of Portland. Mrs. L'Hommedieu is from Detroit, Michigan, and was also a belle in her home town. Honolulu has rarely seen a more beautiful function, and never a smarter one—for in monarchical days—the Wilders, belonging to one of the oldest and most prominent families of the islands—were renowned for their hospitality, but in recent years Mrs. William Wilder has not been entertaining on account of ill health. But on Thursday the old time hospitality was displayed, the beautiful rooms, opening into each other were bedecked with palms, bamboo, maiden hair ferns—in fact presented the appearance of a mammoth tropical garden. On entering the large central hall, you were greeted by Mrs. Gertrude Wilder, another daughter-in-law. Mrs. Wilder was superbly gowned in a robe of gold embroidered net with a large black hat, with willow plumes, and looked stunning. At the drawing room Mrs. Charles Wilder gave you a cordial welcome, and presented you to Madam Wilder, and the two guests of honor. Mrs. Charles Wilder wore an imported white gown, of hand embroidery and Irish crochet. The receiving party stood in a beautiful floral setting of palms and rare tropical verdure, the decorations were exquisite. Great clusters of feathery yellow chrysanthemums were used, tall vases containing these flowers were placed on rare teak wood tables on inlaid cabinets and tabourets. The gowns were among the most attractive seen this season. Mrs. Harry Asbury Wilder was a picture in her Parisian frock of white crepe meteor, and duchess lace, a shower of Mammion Cochet roses was carried, shading from palest pink, into a deeper shade. Mrs. Harry Asbury Wilder is not only very pretty, but is endowed with a graciousness and charm of manner, which will make her a great favorite in Honolulu. Mrs. Charles L'Hommedieu was clad in pink peau de crepe, and old rose point lace. This toilette was designed in one of the prevailing French modes along simple lines, but was very beautiful and effective. Caroline Testout roses were carried; Mrs. William Chancey Wilder wore a gown of Copenhagen blue satin, with embellishments of real lace. The receiving party were stationed in the East drawing room, on crossing the large hall, one entered the West drawing room, these two large rooms were fragrant in violets and carnations. Large potted palms, were placed in the corners of the rooms, the archway between the hall, and two rooms was curtained with smilax, the fire place was banked with maiden hair ferns and carnations. In these rooms Mrs. Joseph P. Cooke, Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop and Mrs. C. W. Ashford, and Mrs. Sturges attended to the wants of the guest, and escorted them to the dining room and lanais, where refreshments were served. Mrs. Bishop wore a rose chiffon over satin, with a black plumed hat. Mrs. Joseph Cooke wore a white lace dress, with touches of blue. In the dining room at a long table bedecked with carnations and maiden hair ferns, Mrs. Frederick Kiebach poured tea, and Mrs. J. W. Jones served coffee. Mrs. Kiebach wore a hand-made lingerie, heavily embroidered and a large black hat, with white willow plume. Mrs. Jones wore white lace, with a large picture hat. Miss Margaret Lishman served the punch, on the mauka veranda and wore a stunning frock of white, with touches of pink. Small tables ornamented with violets were placed in the dining room and verandas, were delicious refreshments were served by dainty Japanese women in silken kimonos which added to the picturesque of the affair. Kaal's quintet club was stationed on the veranda, behind a screen of palms and bamboo, and discoursed sweet and plaintive melodies during the reception. This home is almost encircled by broad verandas, and the long French windows opening onto these verandas, made a pleasant place for the numerous guests to chat and promenade. The verandas were enclosed by American and Hawaiian silk flags and many cozy corners were formed by the arrangement of gigantic palms and rare plants—that seem so common place to us, but is the joy of the horticulturist on the mainland. Among the gowns worn at the reception none was more effective than the creation of chiffon, in the new tomato shade—which is considered one of the leading colors of the season—over Persian satin. This frock was worn by Miss Green, who is the house guest of Mrs. Annie Phillips. A border of velvet in a deeper tomato shade was used on the lower portion of the gown, touches of gold were cleverly introduced in the bodice. A large hat, trimmed with roses, to harmonize with this stunning toilette was worn. Mrs. Sturges, wife of Captain Sturges of the Fifth Cavalry, was clad in a blue hand painted chiffon, with the yoke and sleeves of gold net; Mrs. Corwin P. Rees looked regal in white, this gown was all hand work and combined with real lace; Mrs. Arthur Mackintosh's gown was much admired, it was of Nankin blue, embroidered in gold; Mrs. Frederick Macfarlane wore a stunning gown of Wisteria crepe, with loose panel effects, the lower portion of this dress was edged with deep fringe; Mrs. Henry Frederick Wichman's gown of Cluny lace was much admired, a large lace hat, faced with black completed the toilette; Mrs. Walter Frear wore a gown of beautiful crepe meteor, with a large white picture hat; Mrs. Sanford B. Dole wore black satin; Miss Violet Makee wore a flowered chiffon, with a large hat, with facing of black velvet and trimmed with pink roses and blue forget-me-nots; Mrs. George Cleveland Bowen presented a picture in a white lingerie over pink silk, a large black hat, faced with gold was worn; Mrs. George Angus looked stunning in a Princess Louise lace gown over satin. This gown was purchased during her trip abroad, any one at a glance could see that it was a French creation, a large black and white hat, completed the costume; Mrs. Edward Tenney looked handsome in an elaborate white lingerie around the skirt, just below the knee, was drawn a broad flowered ribbon, in Dresden effect. Mrs. John S. Walker wore one of the most beautiful toilettes; it was of pink silk chiffon, a long coat of Irish Crochet lace, reaching almost to the hem of the dress was worn; Mrs. Newby of Pasadena wore a smart two piece of white broad cloth, a small turban of velvet completed the costume; Mrs. Walter Francis Dillingham wore a hand-painted chiffon, with an old blue chiffon satin coat, a hem-berandit had completed the effectiveness of the costume; Mrs. Willis, wife of Lt. Willis, wore a hand embroidered old rose, silk chiffon, embroidered in a conventional design, with a large black plumed hat; Miss Graham looked charming in a satin frock in the new shade of green, with touches of black, a black velvet hat was worn and was extremely becoming; Miss Graham is one of the prettiest girls who has ever visited in Honolulu, her coloring is so perfect that she can wear any shade, although it would be trying to others—and looks well. Miss Alice Macfarlane wore an old rose silk with trimming of gold; Mrs. Frank Day wore a beautiful gown of smoke grey satin; Mrs. Robert Atkinson was clad in a white lingerie with large picture hat; Mrs. Lansing wore a green foulard and a handsome turban of black velvet; Mrs. James Judd wore a stylish frock of chiffon over white satin; Mrs. Helen Noonan was clad in a lingerie gown with a large hat.

Among the guests present were: Mrs. Walter Frear, Mrs. Corwin P. Rees, Mrs. Walter Dillingham, Mrs. Edward Tenney, Mrs. Erdman, Mrs. Noonan, Mrs. C. B. Wood, Mrs. Clinton Ballentyne, Mrs. Edward Watson, Mrs. Hartnagle, the Misses Ballentyne, Miss Dorothy Wood, Miss Wilhelmina Tenney, Mrs. Frank Macfarlane, Mrs. Herman Focke, Mrs. Henry Frederick Wichman, Mrs. J. Mrs. Herman Focke's Luncheon.
Mrs. Walter Francis Dillingham was the honored guest at the luncheon given by Mrs. Herman Focke, Thursday afternoon at her Nuuanu Valley home. A dozen places encircled the round table, which was lavishly ornamented with yellow chrysanthemums. An exquisite damask cloth with an inset center piece of Cluny lace covered the table. The floral center piece was very large, being composed of the stunner yellow chrysanthemums. At the four corners of the table were placed cut glass vases, containing these flowers—over the central decoration, was arranged a canopy of smilax, strands of smilax were brought from the Lanai corners of the canopy to the glass vases, and produced an artistic effect. After luncheon a number of rubbers of bridge whist were played. On this occasion the hostess asked strolling in a Paris gown of pink chiffon over pink satin, her guest of honor was clad in a hand painted chiffon, in arched effect, this costume was extremely chic and Frenchy, both in the shade in which it was fashioned, and in the coloring. After luncheon several of the guests devoted an hour to bridge, then their hostess and most of those present motored to the Wilder reception, which took place on that afternoon. Among those who were asked to meet Mrs. Dillingham were: Mrs. Walter Frear, Mrs. Corwin P. Rees, Mrs. Harold Dillingham, Mrs. Edward Tenney, Mrs. Benjamin Marx, Mrs. Frederick Macfarlane, Mrs. George Rodick, Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop, Mrs. Frank Day and Mrs. Joseph Gilman.

Dr. and Mrs. Herbert's Theater Party.
Dr. and Mrs. George Herbert entertained a number of their friends at a theater party Wednesday evening. The production at the Orpheum was "The Girl of the Golden West," which was greatly enjoyed.

Lt. and Mrs. Willis' Dinner.
Lieut. and Mrs. Willis of the U. S. Marine Corp entertained at dinner Wednesday evening in honor of some of the officers of the Japanese cruisers. The pretty bungalow of the Willis' was attractively decorated for the entertainment. Throughout the dining room scarlet was used as the color scheme. The red carnations, combined with choice maidenhair fern, made a beautiful setting for the dinner. Japanese place cards—used out of compliment to the officers—were handpainted and extremely beautiful. Among the guests of Lieutenant and Mrs. Willis were Miss Cooper, Miss Irene and Isabelle Cooper, Lieutenant Commander Yamamoto, Lieutenant Inamura, Lieutenant Ogura, Mr. Irwin and others.

Mrs. Hocking's Luncheon.
Mrs. Hocking entertained at a bridge luncheon, Tuesday complimentary to her daughter, Miss Florence Hoffman, Mrs. George Cleveland Bowen and Miss Katherine Stephens. The beautiful table, from which the luncheon was served was ornamented with long-stemmed purple violets. The favors were also in violets; after the repast a pleasant afternoon was devoted to "Bridge."

Miss Dickson's Dinner.
Plumed, yellow chrysanthemums graced the table when Miss Irene Dickson entertained Sunday evening in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Kennon of San Francisco. Mrs. Kennon is an old friend of Miss Dickson, these two young girls having been schoolmates at Notre Dame convent at San Jose, Cal. At the dinner among Miss Dickson's other dinner guests were Miss Ada Rhodes and Mr. William Williamson.

Dance Postponed at Moana Hotel.
Keen disappointment was experienced among the Army, Navy and society folk when it was found that the transport Sheridan would not arrive in port until Sunday morning. On that account the Army hop that was to have been given this evening was postponed. Numerous dinners had been planned to be given at the Moana prior to the dance. In case the Sheridan does not sail until Tuesday, a dance will be given on Monday evening to which the public are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. Schaefer, who is staying with his uncle at Lelehua, spent Saturday and Sunday in town.

Mrs. Edward Sturges, wife of Captain Sturges of the Fifth Cavalry, is spending the week-end with Mrs. Wilder on Pensacola street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Plummer, who have been staying at the Alexander Young Hotel, moved Saturday to 975 Prospect street, where they will keep house.

Captain and Mrs. Low's Dinner.
Violets were profusely used at the dinner which was given by Captain and Mrs. Low at their home on Nuuanu avenue. This was quite a pretty affair. Covers were laid for eight and the following were present: Captain and Mrs. Low, Dr. and Mrs. Lane, Lieutenant-Commander and Mrs. Houston, and Lieutenant and Mrs. Le Roy Smith of the Navy. This entertainment was given as a farewell to the Houstons and the Lanes, as these two popular Navy couples leave on the transport Sheridan for the Philippines, where they have been ordered by Uncle Sam.

The many friends of Mrs. Sidney Sallou will be sorry to hear that she has been ill from the effects of pneumonia poisoning. However, she is convalescing and feeling much better.

Mrs. Watson's Bridge Party.
Mrs. Edward Watson will be one of next week's hostesses at bridge. Miss Hartnagle—the sister and house guest of Mrs. Clinton Ballentyne—will be the honored guest on this occasion. Wednesday has been chosen for the day of the entertainment and will be given at the prospective hostess' home on Thurston avenue.

Mr. Hall's Recital.
Mr. Philip Cushman Hall, tenor, assisted by Mrs. E. C. Horton, accompanist; Mr. A. F. Wall, tenor; Mr. George A. Brown and Mr. Stanley Livingston, will give a recital at Charles R. Bishop Hall, Panahon, next Friday night. The program for the concert has been carefully selected, and Mr. Hall's voice should be heard to fullest advantage. Two numbers deserve particular mention—"For All in All," words by David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford University, and "The White Peace," by Flora McLeod. The program is as follows:

- 1—Gloria.....A. Buzzi Peccia
 - 2—(a) Death in Life; (b) The Pilgrim Cranes...Gerard Barton
 - 3—The Rosary (by request)..... E. Nevitt
 - 4—(a) The Eagle...Grant Schaefer (b) A Song...Mrs. C. S. Hardy
 - 5—By the Quartet: (a) Clouds (b) W'en de Weather Rainin'..... Frank Lynes
- PART II.
- 6—(a) For All in All; (b) The White Peace...Philip C. Hall
 - 7—(a) Kitty of Coleraine; (b) The Dream...E. A. P. Newcombe
 - 8—Mother of Mine (by request)..... Frank E. Tours
 - 9—Indian Love Lyrics, by Amy Woodforde-Pinden: (a) The Temple Bells; (b) Less Than the Dust; (c) Kashmiri Song; (d) Till I Wake.

Mrs. Ingalls' Recital.
Mrs. Arthur B. Ingalls, whose splendid voice in playing has been a feature of Honolulu musical events in the past and who has recently returned from a year of study abroad under well-known masters, will appear in recital here on the night of November 29. So much interest has been awakened in the event that the Opera House has been engaged for the evening.

Mrs. Ingalls will be assisted by Mrs. R. H. Allen, a recent addition to local musical circles. Mrs. Allen is a coloratura soprano whose musical training was received in Boston and followed by concert and operatic work. The recital is under the auspices of the Kiloahua Art League and promises to be one of the events of the musical season. The program will shortly be announced.

Mrs. Williams and her three daughters, Miss Ethelwyn Castle and the Misses Claire and Edyth Williams will arrive on the Korea Monday. This family have been abroad for four years, they are very prominent in Honolulu and will be greeted by a host of friends. For a few days they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Marx at their valley home, but will take up a permanent residence at their home at Waikiki.

Major Davis, the son of General and Mrs. Edward Davis, will succeed Major Hart in the commissary department of the U. S. Army. Dr. Ernest Waterhouse, who is studying surgery in Berlin, is planning to return to Honolulu for the Christmas holidays.

Captain Gregory was a luncheon host at the Moana Hotel Tuesday.

SOCIETY FOLK GATHER AT RECEPTION OF HITCHCOCKS

NOTED ARTIST AND WIFE RECEIVE TUESDAY EVENING AND HONOLULU'S FOUR HUNDRED ATTEND PLEASANT SOCIAL AFFAIR.

THE social calendar was opened auspiciously by the treat afforded Honolulu's Four Hundred at the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. D. Howard Hitchcock Tuesday evening at the Kiloahana Art League.

This is the first entertainment that this charming couple have given since their return from the mainland. The rooms of the Art League were tastefully decorated for the occasion in palms, the feathery peppers and variegated chrysanthemums. The host and hostess received in the main hall and were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Galt.

Mrs. Hitchcock was becomingly gowned in black, trimmed with gold; Mrs. Goodale in blue chiffon veiled in net; Mrs. B. L. Marx was superbly gowned in white silk and duchess lace; Mrs. W. F. Frear in her usual charming style, pink; Mrs. Galt in white; Mrs. C. H. Cooke, embroidered silk crepe; Mrs. C. Montague Cooke, white satin; Mrs. von Holt, lavender; Mrs. Pocke, black satin; Mrs. Newcomb, spangled net.

The "at home" was interesting, because it represented largely the older families and had an old-time spirit to it—a sort of "the gathering of the clan" to welcome back one of their own.

On the walls were hung some forty canvases, all of high merit, twenty-eight of them representing California scenes around about Carmel and Monterey—a delightful series of sketches painted while under inspiration that comes by being in the atmosphere of fellow enthusiasts, which the artists colony at Carmel affords. Mr. Hitchcock found it an easy task to paint in the lower key of color of California after working so long in the much more difficult scale of Hawaiian color.

Of the island scenes exhibited, there were two large canvases of the Falls in different moods—both very dramatic and so very true; also two of Kahana Valley—all four of them expressing that subtle quality of Hawaiian scenery so difficult to satisfactorily depict, and they truly merit the unstinted praises bestowed on them that evening.

There was also a trio—panels—representing the same subject under different conditions—a lau hala and a bit of surf—one at sunrise flooded with a golden quietness, one at mid-day sparkling and radiant with pure color, and the third at moonlight, full of the same wondrous mystery that made Peter's moonlight pictures famous.

The exhibition as a whole demonstrated to those who had the pleasure of viewing them that in Mr. Hitchcock Honolulu has an artist of ability, and he is fast coming to his own, and the sincerity of his work will place him in the ranks of our foremost American artists.

Among those attending this delightful reception were:

Governor and Mrs. Frear, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Weigbt, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wichman, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Buchly, Mrs. E. A. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips Entertain.
Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Nannie Phillips entertained informally at dinner in honor of their house guest, Miss Green, of San Francisco. The table was ornamented with pink carnations and maidenhair fern. After the repast several rubbers of bridge were enjoyed. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Nannie Phillips, Miss Green, Mr. M. Green, Miss Jessie Kennedy, Mr. Frank Armstrong and Mr. Hobron Walker.

Mrs. Alexander Hawes, Jr. en route for Home.
Mrs. Alexander Gilchrist Hawes, Jr., who has been some time abroad, will sail from Liverpool for New York on the twenty-sixth of this month. Miss Nannie Winston, who has been in California for the past six weeks, will journey to New York city to meet Mrs. Hawes. They will probably spend some little time in the metropolis of the East.

Wednesday Bridge Club.
Mrs. Winter entertained the Wednesday Bridge Club the middle of this week. Prizes of handsome silk hosiery were given. The two women possessing the highest scores were Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Rice, consequently the prizes were awarded to them. Later in the afternoon delicious refreshments, consisting of ices, cakes and coffee, were served. Among those who enjoyed Mrs. Winter's hospitality were Mrs. Shedy, Mrs. Wilcox, Mrs. Arthur Marx, Mrs. Frederick Ramsey, Mrs. Frank Roberts, Mrs. Putnam, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Estes.

Lieutenant Hoyt of the Fifth Cavalry spent Wednesday and Thursday in town.

Reception at Governor's Home.
The reception at the Governor's home, on last Monday, was well attended. Between the hours of 4 and 6 the driveway leading to this beautiful home was crowded with numerous automobiles and carriages. Governor and Mrs. Frear, assisted by Mrs. Walter Francis Dillingham, and Admiral Corwin P. Rees, received their guests in the drawing-room, amongst a floral setting of roses and asparagus fern. Mrs. Frear looked extremely well in a white gown, embroidered and trimmed in Clary lace; her sister-in-law, Mrs. Walter Dillingham, was stunning in a maize satin, with an overdress of chiffon, bordered in a conventional design. In the dining room, which was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, Mrs. Corwin P. Rees served the coffee, and Mrs. T. Clive Davies poured tea. Mrs. Rees looked unusually handsome in an elaborate white lingerie, with a large hat with touches of black. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Dillingham, was wearing a grey chiffon, with touches of pink; a large picture hat was worn on this occasion. About one hundred and fifty guests came to pay their respects, and enjoy a delightful afternoon.

The John Waterhouses on Tantalus.
Mr. and Mrs. John Waterhouse and family are residing at their beautiful home on Mt. Tantalus, for an indefinite period. This mountain home is one of the most beautiful in Honolulu. It is so splendidly situated that a view can be had from Koko Head to Pearl Harbor. Mr. and Mrs. Waterhouse will entertain informally, most of the entertainments being week-end affairs. During the autumn and winter months it is quite cool on the mountain top. In the large living room of this pretty home is a great fireplace; the host and hostess and their guests spend many pleasant evenings around the open blaze, which is quite a novelty for Honolulu people.

Lieutenant and Mrs. De Roy Smith who have been staying at the Hotel Courtland, will move into the Clifford Kimball bungalow on Lunalilo street. Dr. and Mrs. Lane, of the U. S. Navy, have been occupying this house, but will leave on the transport Sheridan for the Doctor's new station in the Philippines.

Messrs. Sinclair, Gray and Cantley, of Bishop & Co. have been spending their vacation at Hialewa, keeping busy on the tennis court, the golf links or the bathing beach most of the time.

Sailing of the Revenue Cutter Thetis, Captain Cochran and the officers of the Revenue cutter Thetis sailed Wednesday for Kaula, but will be gone only a week, as this craft will arrive in port next Wednesday. Numerous entertainments, most of an informal nature, are given by the young officers of this ship, as they are all hospitably inclined, consequently they are a great acquisition to the younger social set of this city, and when they are at sea are greatly missed.

Major Long's Dinner.
Blue and gold, the U. S. Marine Corps colors, were effectively carried out at the dinner at which Major Long presided as host, Thursday evening. This dinner was given at his home on Lunalilo street. Golden chrysanthemums were banded in the center of the table, blue violets were scattered over the cloth, intermingled with maidenhair. Karl's Hawaiian orchestra played during the repast, and also after dinner. This affair was given in honor of the officers of the Marine Battalion. During the dinner witty speeches were made and numerous toasts drunk. Among those present were Major Long, Captain Low, Captain Ramsey, Captain Marx, Lieutenant Kilgore, Lieutenant White, Lieutenant Parsons, Lieutenant Blair and Dr. Lane.

The news that Mrs. A. B. Ingalls and Mrs. Stephen Norton Boho had become members of the Oahu College Department of Music, the one to teach viola and the other vocal music, was received with satisfaction by their friends and by those interested in music in Honolulu. It means that they will help much in the development of music in the city through the college department and that they will be heard occasionally in concerts, which in itself is a cause for congratulation.

The song "Kitty of Coleraine," which is to be sung by Phillip C. Hall at his concert next week, has been one of the standard songs on the programs of Tom Karl, tenor of the Bostonian Opera Co. It was introduced at the Karl Saunders morning concert at the Waldorf, New York, in 1896. The following is from Tom Karl's letter to the composer, E. A. P. Newcomb: "With 'Kitty of Coleraine' I have made such a success that it has now become identified with me, and people ask for it if it is not on the program."

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Short of Montreal, Canada, relatives of Mr. Charlie Norton, arrived on the Makura, and are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Marx at their Wylife street home.

Mr. and Mrs. Marx Dinner.
Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Marx entertained at dinner Monday evening in honor of the T. Clive Davies. The table was ornamented with roses and violets.

A Teacupful or Bath tubful

THE market is flooded with water-heaters selling for ten or twenty dollars. But don't for one minute think such a heater will give you really efficient hot water service—it can't do it.

To get efficient, luxurious hot water service you absolutely need a Ruud Automatic Gas Water-Heater.

The initial cost of the Ruud is greater than of ordinary heaters. But we ask you to judge whether it is not worth the extra cost by what it actually does.

Briefly it furnishes inexhaustible hot water at the turn of the faucet—a teacupful or twenty tubfuls any minute, night or day, to laundry, bathroom, bedroom and kitchen. The women like the Ruud—it runs itself—stands in the basement—needs no attention.

Let us show you its economy and luxury.

What Army and Navy Folk Are Doing

Moros Superior.
Our columns have often borne the tributes of our army officers to the superior fighting prowess of the Moros, in comparison with the other races in the Philippine Islands, and now we have to record the opinion of an American governor of a district in Moroland that they are superior to the Filipinos as workers. In the reports of the governors of the different districts in the Moro Province for the past year we find that of Governor Elvin R. Helberg (Major, Philippine Scouts, and Captain, 6th U. S. Cavalry), of the Cotabato district, in which material progress can be developed along these lines: stock raising, rice growing, sugar planting, coconut growing, rubber tree planting and tobacco raising. After deploring the absence of capital to develop those industries, through the unfounded fear of the Moro, Major Helberg says: "As to the question of labor, the material is as good as any that can be found anywhere in the islands, the Moro being decidedly superior to the Filipino as a worker." This statement from one who can speak so authoritatively as Governor Helberg will doubtless surprise those who have maintained that the government of the archipelago should be turned over to the Filipinos, on the ground that to them we must look for the material development of the islands. It is becoming clearer as the years go on that it is through our army officers and other American officials that the true qualities of the Moros are being placed in the right light before the world. Before the Americans went to the Moro country the natives were considered hopelessly savage beyond all reach of civilizing agencies, but now, after a decade of American rule, in which the predatory chieftains and plundering outlaws have been suppressed, we find the natives developing in industry and in a capacity to adjust themselves to the obligations of civilized society. The fighting which our soldiers have had to do in Mindanao has been with the rapacious natives, who have sought to stifle the aspirations of the people, and not with the vast majority of Moros, who wished for freedom to cultivate their fields and establish homes, and who have shown, under the protection from marauders afforded by the American troops, an ability to peaceable workers second to no other race in the islands. —Army and Navy Journal.

Fermented Bread.
So well satisfied is the Commissary General with his experiments with fermented bread as a substitute for hard bread that he has ordered machinery with which to make it, says the Army and Navy Journal. So far all the bread made for experimental purposes has been prepared by hand and the crude methods of our fathers. General Sharpe intends to devote his time to the development of machinery for its manufacture. The first effort along this line will be made at the Bakers and Cooks' School at the Washington Barracks. It is thought that the new bread will not only be more eatable, but that it can, by the aid of machinery, be produced for practically the same price. Corned beef in one-pound cans has been added to the haversack rations. It is expected that 5000 cans of corned beef will be ready for issue by January 1. The beef is cut up in cans seven inches long, which are two inches and two-tenths square at the top. At the bottom the can will be opened by a key, so that the contents can be removed in a solid piece. It is planned by the Commissary-General to provide other canned meats put up in the same shape to pack in the haversack. Experiments are already being made with corned beef hash, the only question being whether it will be possible to keep it long enough because of the potatoes, which, it is feared, can not be kept even in airtight cans. The Commissary General is also looking around for some sort of a sausage which can be handled in haversack cans. Not only on account of a desire to make haversack rations more attractive to the army, but as a matter of economy, is the Commissary General anxious to secure as many meats as possible for this style of can. In time of war it would be almost impossible to secure sufficient bacon for haversack rations for a large army. On the other hand, if a number of meats and combinations of meat and vegetables can be put up for the haversack, the government will enlarge its supply for such rations.

Schnvler De'ailed.
The Acting Secretary of War on October 21 announced the detail of Col. W. S. Schnvler, 5th U. S. Cavalry, to the general staff, to relieve Col. M. M. Macomb, 6th Field Artillery, when the latter is promoted to brigadier-general, and Capt. M. C. Kerth, 23rd Infantry, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the relief of Capt. P. W. Davison, 22nd Infantry.

Canal Work.
Colonel Goethals' estimate for continuing work on the Panama Canal next year is $47,920,847. The appropriation for the current fiscal year is $27,880,200, and the amount appropriated thus far $248,002,668, including $40,000,000 paid to France and $10,000,000 to the Republic of Panama.

MEXICO STILL IN RIOT MOOD

(Associated Press Cable.)
MEXICO CITY, Nov. 11.—The disorders arising from the anti-American rioting are spreading to the provinces, although this city has remained fairly quiet so far as disturbances go. Anti-American sentiments are still being preached, and the officials who at first took no measures to halt the mob's fury now realize that the matter may go too far.
Telegraphic dispatches from Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, in the province of Coahuila, near the northern border, state that the American consulate has been wrecked by an angry mob. In Guadaluajara an American flag was torn from its pole and burned in the midst of wild demonstrations.
The spirit of unrest, which affects this city, is liable to again break out against the many American interests here, and the Mexican government is preparing to take steps to prevent it, knowing that should it go further, international complications may ensue.

Make Investigation

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 11.—It was announced here tonight that the Mexican government will make an investigation of the burning of Antonio Rodriguez at the stake by a murderous Texan mob. This act is responsible for the series of riots in Mexico which has brought on strained relations between the two republics.
A telegram has been received by the State authorities from Secretary of State Knox ordering every protection afforded to those carrying on the investigations on behalf of the government of the southern republic.

The Goose Girl

CHAPTER XV. THE KING.

THE vintner slowly lowered the pistol till it touched the table. Then he released it.

"That is better, your majesty."

"Why do you call me that?"

"Your face was familiar, but I failed at first to place it rightly. It was only after you had duped me into going after the velleid lady that I had my real suspicion. You are Frederick Leopold of Jugendheim."

"I shall not deny it further," proudly. "And take care how you speak to me, since I admit my identity."

"This is Ehrenstein. Here I shall talk to you as I please."

The king reddened, and his hand closed again over the pistol.

"I have saved your majesty twice from death. You force me to recall it to your mind."

The king had the grace to lower his eyes.

"The first time was at Bonn. Don't you recollect the day when an American took you out of the Rhine, an American who did not trouble himself to come around and ask for your thanks, who, in truth, did not learn till days after what an important person you were or were going to be?"

"For that moment, Herr, I thank you."

"And for that to the garden below?"

"For that also. Now, why are you here?"

Carmichael went over to the table. He bent over it and with his face close to that of the king, "I demand to know what your intentions are toward that friendless goose girl."

"And what is that to you?" said the king angrily.

"It is this much: If you have acted toward her otherwise than honorably, well—"

"Go on. You interest me."

"Well, I promise to break every bone in your king's body. In this room it is man to man. I recognize no king, only the physical being."

The king pushed aside the table, furious.

"You shall die for this insult!" said the king as quietly as his hard breathing would allow.

"I have heard that before. But how?" muttered the king.

"I will waive my crown—man to man!"

"Sword sticks, sabers or hop poles? Come," savagely, "what do you mean by the goose girl?"

So intent on the struggle were they that neither heard the door open and close.

"Yes, my dear nephew, what do you mean by Gretchen?"

Carmichael released the king and with feline quickness stooped and secured the pistol which had fallen to the floor. Not sure of the new arrival's purpose, he backed to the wall. He knew the voice, and he recognized its owner.

"But it is your pocket, Mr. Carmichael, and let us finish this discussion in English since there are many ears about the place."

"His royal highness?" murmured the king.

"Yes, sire! True to life!"

"A fine comedy," cried Herr Ludwig joyfully, folding his arms over his chest, "a rollicking adventure! Well, nephew, you have not as yet answered either Mr. Carmichael's question or my own. What do you mean by Gretchen?"

"I love her," nobly. "And well for you, my uncle, that you came as you do. I would have married her. Wrong her? What was a crown to me, who till now have never worn one save in speech? You have been the king."

"Bodles must have heads; kingdoms must have kings. I have made an experiment, and this is the result. I wanted you to grow up unfettered by power; I wanted you to mingle with people, here and there, so when you became their head physician you could ably minister to their political diseases. And all this fine ambition tumbles down before the wooden shoes of a pretty goose girl."

"Now, Mr. Carmichael, what is your interest in Gretchen?" asked the king tartly.

Carmichael trembled with joy. Here was an opening for a double shot. "My interest in her is better than yours, for I have not asked her to become a king's mistress."

His royal highness bit his lip.

"Uncle!" cried the king, horrified at this revelation.

"Mr. Carmichael evidently has applied his ear to some keyhole." Herr Ludwig replied, recollecting well the day when he suggested to the beautiful young girl how easily and quickly she could secure the riches, the pretty things and the advantages she desired. It occurred in the tap room of the tavern the day he had the mysterious interview with the aged clockmaker. Yes, well did Herr Ludwig remember how he had told Gretchen that she could win the crown, the earl's and the jewels her girl's heart craved solely through her beauty, "by the supreme right of her beauty alone."

"No, no, not through the keyhole!" retorted Carmichael. "The window was open. My clerk heard you plainly."

"Then, is this damnable thing true?"

"Yes. What would you? You were determined to make a fool of yourself, but rest easy. She is ignorant where this affair came from, and, moreover, she spurned it, as Mr. Carmichael's clerk will affirm. Oh, Gretchen is a fine little woman, and I would to God she was of your station!" And the king fell from the regent's face, leaving it bitter and careworn. "Our presence is known in Dreiberg; it has been known for three days at least. And in coming up here I had another errand. Oh, I haven't forgotten it. In the street there are at least ten soldiers under the snuff-box of the police. Rather a curious conjunction."

The king turned white.

Carmichael ran to the rear window. He shrugged. "There's half a dozen in the garden too."

"Is there any way to the roofs?"

"None that would serve you."

"Mr. Carmichael," said the king, offering his hand, his handsome face kindly and without rancor, "I should be an ungrateful wretch if I did not ask your full pardon. I am indebted to you twice for my life, little as it amounts to. And in my kingdom you will always be welcome. Will you accept my hand as one man to another?"

"With happiness, your majesty. And I ask that you pardon my own hasty words."

"Thank you."

"He is only young," sighed Ludwig.

The king emptied the drawer, put the contents in his pocket, tied the strings and put it under his arm.

"What are you going to do?" asked the uncle, vaguely perturbed.

"I am going down to the soldiers. I am no longer a vintner; I am a king!" And he said this in a manner truly royal.

"Gott!" burst from the prince regent. "This boy has marrow in his bones, after all. But the incrimination will not be long. There are 10,000 troops on the other side of the passes."

"Ten thousand? Well, they shall stay there," said the king determinedly. "I shall not begin my reign with war. I will tell the duke the truth. He will not dare go far."

"He will be a good politician, too," said Ludwig, with a smile of approval at Carmichael. "No, boy, there will be no war. And yet I was prepared for it, nor was I wrong in doing so. Already, but for Herbeck, there would be plenty of fighting in the passes. Ach! Could you but see the princess?"

"I have seen her," replied the king. "Heaven would have been kinder had I seen her months ago."

"Say to his serene highness, then, that you are willing to marry her."

"I'm afraid you do not understand, uncle," the king replied sadly. "I have the supreme happiness to love and to be loved. Of that nothing can rob me. And for some time to come, uncle mine, I shall treasure that happiness."

"And the little Gretchen?"

"Yes, yes! I have been a scoundrel. And the king's eyes grew moist. "You are happy, Mr. Carmichael. You have no crown to weigh against your love."

And from that moment Carmichael's heart warmed toward the young man, whose sorrow was greater than his own, for the king was giving up the woman who loved him, while Carmichael was only giving up the woman he loved, which is a distinction.

"Come, uncle," said the young king; "let us see what is going on downstairs."

Carmichael followed them down.

"There they are, men?" cried the sub-chief. "You are under arrest!"

"I am the king of Jugendheim," calmly announced Frederick Leopold. "Will you subject me to public arrest?"

"And I," said the uncle, "am Ludwig, prince regent."

The sub-chief laughed uproariously. The king of Jugendheim and the prince regent! This was a good joke indeed!

"Your majesty and your royal highness," said the sub-chief, his eyes twinkling, "will do me the honor of accompanying me to the Steinschloss. You are accused of being military spies from Jugendheim."

"May I retain this bundle?" inquired the king.

"Yes, I know what is in it. Forward, march!"

Carmichael made as though to protest, but Prince Ludwig signed for him to be silent.

An hour later Gretchen appeared before Frau Bauer. Gretchen had gone home immediately after the termination of the fight in the garden.

"He was not hurt, frau?" she asked timidly.

"Oh, no! The two of them gave themselves up readily. They are snug in the Steinschloss by this time."

"The Steinschloss!" Gretchen blanched. "Holy mother, what has happened?"

"Why, your vintner and Herr Ludwig were arrested an hour ago, accused of being spies from Jugendheim." She gaped blindly for the door.

"Where are you going, Gretchen?"

"To her highness! She will save him!"

Her highness was dreaming. She had fallen into this habit of late. A maid of honor announced that the young woman Gretchen sought her presence.

"Admit her. She will be a tonic," said Hildegarde.

Gretchen appeared, red-eyed and disheveled. Instantly she flung herself at the feet of the princess.

"Why, Gretchen?"

"They will not let me see him, highness!" Gretchen choked.

"What has happened, child?"

"They have arrested him as a spy from Jugendheim, and he is innocent. Save him, highness!"

"How can I save him?"

"He is not a spy."

"That must be proved, Gretchen. I cannot go to the Steinschloss and order them to liberate him." She lifted Gretchen to her feet.

"I have been there, and they will not let me see him. I love him so!"

"I can arrange that for you. I will go with you myself to the prison."

"Thanks, highness, thanks!" Gretchen was hysterical.

The king and his uncle had been given adjoining cells on the ground floor. The princess and her protegee were admitted without objection. The sergeant in charge of that floor even permitted them to go into the corridor unattended.

"Hush!" whispered her highness, pressing Gretchen's arm.

"Ach! Wall, dear nephew; beat your hands upon the bars, curse, waste your breath on stone. Did I not warn you against this very thing when you proposed this mad junket? A fine scandal!"

"Woe to the duke for this affront!"

Gretchen started to speak, but the princess quickly put her hand over the goose girl's mouth.

"Uncle, I will have revenge for this!"

"Good! Bang-bang! Slash and cut! War is a great invention—on paper. Come, my boy; you were sensible enough when they brought us here. Control yourself. Be a king in all the word implies. For my part, I begin to see."

"And what do you see?"

"I see that the duke knows who we are, even if his police do not. He will keep us here a day or two and then magnanimously liberate us with provisions."

"I AM THE KING OF JUGENDHEIM."

Heaven would have been kinder had I seen her months ago."

"Say to his serene highness, then, that you are willing to marry her."

"I'm afraid you do not understand, uncle," the king replied sadly. "I have the supreme happiness to love and to be loved. Of that nothing can rob me. And for some time to come, uncle mine, I shall treasure that happiness."

CHAPTER XVI. TWO LOCKETS.

CARMICHAEL tramped about his room restless, uneasy, starting at sounds. He was waiting for Grumbach and his confederates. Anything but this suspense. A full day! And deeper, firmer, became his belief and conviction that Grumbach's affair vitally concerned her highness. He welcomed the knock on his door. Grumbach came in carrying under his arm a small bundle.

"Where are your companions?"

"They are waiting outside."

"The duke arrests," went on Carmichael. "He will give us an audience at 8.30."

"Did you mention my name?"

"No, I went roundabout. I also obtained his promise to say nothing to the duke till the interview was over."

Grumbach spread out on the bed the contents of the bundle.

"Look at these and tell me what you see, captain."

Carmichael inspected the little yellow shoes. He turned them over and over in his hand. He shook out the fold of the little cloak and the locket fell on the bed.

"When did you get this?" he cried excitedly. "It is her highness'!"

"So it is, captain, but I have carried it about me all these years."

"What?"

"Yes, captain. Count von Herbeck is a great statesman, but he made a terrible mistake this time. Listen. As sure as we are in this room together I believe that she whom we call the princess is not the daughter of the grand duke."

Carmichael sat down on the edge of the bed numb and without any clear idea where he was. Free! If she was not a princess she was free, free!

The duke allowed the quartet to remain standing for some time. He strode up and down before them, his eyes strutting at the floor, his hands behind his back.

"I do not recognize any of these persons," he said to Carmichael.

"Your highness does not recognize me, then?" asked the clock mender.

"Come closer," commanded the duke. The clock mender obeyed. "Take off those spectacles." The duke scanned the features, and over his own came the dawn of recollection. "Your eyes, your nose—Arnsberg, here and alive? Oh, this is too good to be true!" The duke reached out toward the bell, but Carmichael interposed.

"Your highness will remember," he warned.

"Ha! So you have trapped me blindly? I begin to understand. Who is this fellow Grumbach? Did I offer immunity to him?"

"I am Hans Brenner, highness, and I ask for nothing."

"Brenner! Brenner! Hans Brenner, brother of Hermann! And you put yourself into my hands?" The tone developed into a suppressed roar. The duke took hold of Hans by the shoulders and drew him close. "You dog! So you ask for nothing? It shall be given to you. Tomorrow morning I shall have you shot! Hans Brenner! God is good to me this night! Thanks, Herr Carmichael, a thousand thanks! I need not ask who that damnable scoundrel is who has the black face and heart of a gypsy."

"Your highness," said Von Arnsberg quietly, "all I have left in the world are these two withered hands, and may God cut them off if they ever wronged you in any act. I am innocent. Those letters, purported to have been written by me were forgeries. Tonight I shall leave this palace a free man, and you shall ask pardon for the wrong you have done me."

There was no fear in the voice. The duke glared at the speaker somberly, recalling what Herbeck had often said.

"What you say still remains to be proved. Now, what is at the bottom of all this?" was the demand.

Hans crossed the room to the duke's desk and spread out his treasures under the flickering candlelight. The duke, with a cry of terror, sprang toward the secret drawer. His first thought was that the shoes and cloak, upon which only his eyes ever rested now, had been stolen. Nothing was missing. He was overwhelmed, but he steadied himself. He came back to the desk and fingered the locket. The duke opened the locket, looked long and steadfastly at the portrait and shut it. Then he went to the drawer again and returned with the counter-parts. He laid them side by side. The likeness was perfect in all details.

"Carmichael," he said, "will you please help me? Do I see these things or do I not? And if I do which is mine, and what does this signify?"

Grumbach answered: "This, highness, I took these from the little princess with my own hands. They have never been out of my keeping. Those you have I know nothing about."

The duke rubbed his eyes. "My daughter?"

"The Princess Hildegarde is not your daughter, highness," said Hans.

"God!" The duke smote the desk in despair. "Herbeck! I must send for Herbeck!"

"Not yet, highness; later. I believe I must be growing mad."

"Patience, your highness," said Carmichael.

"Patience!" wearily. "You say patience when my heart is dying inside my breast! Patience! Who, then, is this woman I have called my child?"

"God knows, highness!" Hans stood bowed before this parental agony.

"But what proof have you that she is not? What proof, I say?"

"Would there be two lockets, highness?"

"More proof than this will be needed. Produce it."

"Speak," said Hans to the gypsy.

"Highness," said the gypsy, bowing. "He speaks truly. He came with us. For fear that the little highness might be recognized as we traveled, we changed her clothes. He took them, together with the locket. One day the soldiers appeared in the distance. We all fled. We lost the little highness, and none of us ever knew what became of her. She wore the costume of my own children."

"We shall produce that in time," said Von Arnsberg.

"Damnable wretch!" said the duke, addressing the gypsy.

The other shrugged. He had been promised immunity. That was all he cared about unless it was the bag of silver and gold this old clock mender had given him a few hours gone.

"I am summoning her highness," said the duke as he struck the bell.

"And highness," added Grumbach,

"dispatch some one for Gretchen, who lives at the Krimmerweg."

"The goose girl? What, does she know? Ah, I remember. She is even now with her highness. I shall send for them both."

Gretchen? Carmichael's bewilderment increased. What price was the goose girl in this tragedy?

"Now, while we are waiting," resumed the duke, his attention somewhat under control, "the proof, the definite proof."

"Her highness stumbled one night," said Hans, "and fell upon the fire. I snatched her back, but not before her left arm was badly burned."

The gypsy nodded. "I saw it, highness."

And that was why Grumbach went to the military hospital with open guesses; Grumbach was round-eyed, but Gretchen?

"The Princess Hildegarde has no scar upon either arm," continued Grumbach. "I have seen them. They are without a single flaw."

"More than that," reiterated the duke. "That is not enough."

They became silent. Now and then one or the other stirred. The duke never took his eyes off the door through which her highness would enter.

Hildegarde came in presently, tender with mercy, an arm supporting Gretchen, who was red-eyed and white.

"You sent for us, father?"

How the word pierced the duke's heart! "Yes, my child," he answered, for, it mattered not who she was, he had grown to love her.

"I am sorry you sent for Gretchen," said Hildegarde. "She is ill."

Gretchen sighed. To her the faces of the men were indistinct, and, besides, she was without interest, listless, drooping.

"My child, will you roll up your left sleeve?" said the duke.

"My sleeve?" Hildegarde thoughtfully looked around.

"I cannot roll up this sleeve, father," laughing and a trifle angry at so strange a request.

Hans opened his knife and hid bare her left arm. She tried to cover the arm.

"Let me look at it, Hildegarde," requested the duke. To him she presented her arm. But there was neither mole nor scar upon the round and lovely arm.

"Why do you do this, father?"

No one answered. Hans unceremoniously ripped open Gretchen's left sleeve. The ragged scar was visible to them all. And while they gazed around the astonished goose girl they heard her highness cry out with surprise.

"What is this?" she said, pointing to the two pairs of shoes and the two cloaks. She held up the locket, the twin of which hung around her neck.

"Where did these come from?"

"My child," the duke answered, unashamed of his tears, "only God knows as yet what it means. But the outward sign testifies to a strange and horrible blunder. The locket you hold in your hand was taken from you when you were an infant. The one you wear around your neck is, according to the statement of one of these men, not genuine."

"And the significance?" She grew tall, and the torn sleeve fell away from her arm.

"I know you to be brave. Strengthen your heart then. These men say that you are not my daughter."

"And that Gretchen is?" spoke Hans.

"If Gretchen drew closer to Hildegarde."

The duke studied the portrait of the mother and then the faces of these two girls. Both possessed a resemblance, only it seemed now that Gretchen was nearer to the portrait and Hildegarde nearest to the doubt.

"You say she wore the costume of a gypsy child when you lost her?" said the duke.

"Yes," Von Arnsberg took from under his coat a small bundle, which he opened with shaking fingers. He had been in the Krimmerweg that afternoon.

"Why, those are mine!" exclaimed Gretchen excitedly.

"You see?" said Von Arnsberg. "Would you not like to be a princess, Gretchen?"

A princess! Gretchen's heart fluttered. A princess! She laid her hand on Hildegarde's shoulder. She was weak, and this was some dream.

"But who, then, am I?" asked Hildegarde.

"Tell what you know," said Hans to the gypsy. "Highness, he alone knows the man who brought about all this."

"The accomplice of this damnable conspiracy?" The duke's eyes became alive, his face, his whole body. Every beat of his heart cried out for vengeance. "Who is he? Tell me! Give him to me, man, and all of you shall go free. Give him into these hands. His name!" The duke's hands worked convulsively as if they were already round the throat of this unseen, impalpable enemy. He was terrible in this moment.

The gypsy produced a letter. It had to be held carefully, as it was old and tattered. The duke read it. Beyond that it made the original offer it was worthless. The handwriting was palpably disguised. The duke flung the missive to the floor.

"Fool! Is that all you have? Tell me what you know, man, or I shall have you shot in the morning, immaturity or no immunity! Quick!"

"Highness," said the gypsy, thoroughly alarmed, "this is how it happened. My hand was staying at the time in Dreiberg. We told fortunes and exhibited an Italian puppet show. The letter came first. I was poor and sometimes desperate. I was to take her away and leave her with strange people."

"Ah!" interrupted the duke, with a despairing gesture toward Grumbach, for Infants and Children.

CASTORIA

Physicians Prescribe Castoria.

CASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: 1st, The indisputable evidence that it is harmless; 2nd, That it not only allays stomach pain and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food; 3rd, It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for castor oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any opium, morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrup, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc. This is a good deal for a medical journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system—not by stupefying it—and our readers are entitled to the information—

Castoria stands first in its class. In my 40 years of practice I can say I never have found anything that so filled the place.

WILLIAM BELMONT, M. D., Cleveland, Ohio.

"I have used your Castoria and found it excellent remedy for my children and I have used it many years."

H. J. TART, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"I find your Castoria to be a standard family remedy. It is the best thing for infants and children I have ever known and I recommend it."

R. E. ENKLESON, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I take pleasure in recommending your Castoria, having recommended its use in many instances, and consider it the best laxative that could be used, especially for children."

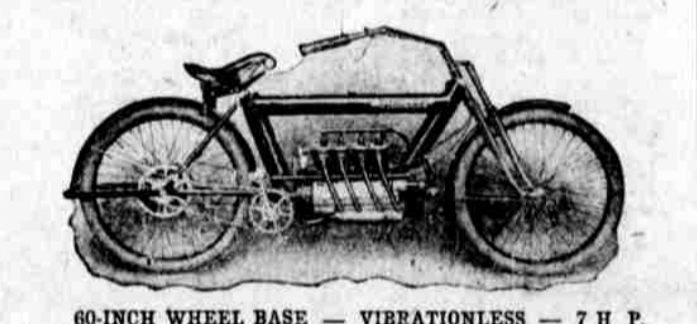

NATHANIEL K. KING, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"Having during the past six years prescribed your Castoria for infantile stomach disorders, I most heartily commend its use. The formula contains nothing deleterious to the most delicate of children."

Pierce Four Cylinder Wins Perfect Score in F. A. M. Endurance Contest

The 1909 Annual Endurance Contest of the Federation of American Motorcyclists was run between Cleveland and Indianapolis. The contest was a grueling one, and the securing of a perfect score was a mark-worthy event. Mr. Hunt, the "Pierce" rider, experienced no trouble en route, although the roads were far from good, there being an intolerable amount of sand. The claim which we most strongly advance is that Pierce Motorcycles are built to meet the conditions found on the worst American roads; they are eminently suited for long tours and arduous road work. It matters little whether the rider-tourist projects a trip over the smooth, level roads of France or the mountainous trails of the American Rockies, his mount should be a "Pierce," which will insure a safe and comfortable journey. To convince the skeptical concerning the practicability and the pleasure involved in using a motorcycle for touring, we point out that such an eminent gentleman as William Randolph Hearst uses a 1909 Model Pierce for touring at home and abroad.
