TWENTIETH YEAR

THE MAUI NEWS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1919.

NUMBER 1025.

Winter League Is Sure Thing Now

Committee Arranging Schedule Of Games To Start Nov. 16—Plan To Have Fair Grounds Diamond Improved And Used Some Times.

Maui is to have a winter baseball series.

This was decided upon definitely at the meeting of the athletic committee of the Maui County Fair & Racing Association held last Tuesday evening. A committee consisting of M. G. Paschoal, George Cummings, and W. Affonso.

It is expected that there will be 4 teams in the league, including two from Wailuku, a combination Puunene-Paia team, and a team from Lahaina. George Cummings will manage the W. A. C. team, a new aggregation will probably be handled by W. Cockett, while the up-country aggregation will be directed by Gomes Paschoal.

Some Games At Kahului

A committee consisting of Paschoal, Robinson and Cummings was appointed to meet the executive committee of the fair association and to arrange to have the ball grounds at Kahului put into good condition with a view of playing some of the games of the series there.

It is probable that Antone Garcia will be umpire, though this matter was left up to the committee on schedule to settle.

W. A. C. Team Bests Lahaina Nine 9 to 4

The first game played by the recently organized Wailuku Athletic Club baseball team and the Lahaina nine, at the Wailuku park last Sunday, resulted in a score of 9 to 4 in favor of the home team. The game was played for the benefit of the Roosevelt memorial fund, but the attendance was disappointing and the net proceeds amounted to only about $10.

Next Sunday the Waacs will play a pre-eked team, and on the following Sunday the first games of the new winter league will be staged.

MANY SICK—INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC IS FEARED

Is the "flu" coming back? The possibility of such a thing has caused more or less uneasiness on Maui on account of the prevalence of an apparently well defined epidemic of "colds" during the past two weeks, particularly throughout central Maui. Quite a large number of cases are reported in the Kahului-Puunene section. So far as reported no fatalities have yet resulted.

Maui Fair Buildings Nearing Completion

Work of completing the territorial building at the county fair grounds is proceeding satisfactorily. The two side lands which it was decided to build as additions have about been finished, and the rustic siding on the outside of the building has practically all been put on. The interior lining has also about been finished.

It will be close to the first of the year, however, before the last work is done and the building painted. Plans are already being formulated for celebrating the completion with a big reception of some kind, including a ball to be given probably on New Years night in connection with the race meeting.

Inter-Island To Cut Out Stop At Pukoo

The Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co., has informed the board of harbor commissioners that its vessels will discontinue calling at Pukoo, Molokai, not later than June 20, 1920. The reason given is that the entrance and anchorage is shoaling up, making it dangerous for a laden steamer to maneuver. The steamer Mikahala has already touched bottom there, and the company states it cannot take further risks.

Kula Still Suffers From Dry Weather

Continuance of dry weather throughout most of Maui is beginning to cause concern in a number of sections. In the Kula district conditions continue bad. At the sanitarium it is still necessary to haul water a distance of 6 miles for domestic purposes. Although efforts have been made to get more water into the Kula pipeline, these have not resulted in relieving the situation to any appreciable extent.

As reported last week, construction work on the new additions to the sanitarium were suspended because there was not water sufficient for drinking purposes of the workmen, and it was also necessary to release some 30 of the least ill of the patients for the same reason.

In Haiku district and eastern Maui showers during the past week have been valuable to growing crops, but have not been sufficient to supply much water to the ditches.

Work On Pineapple Factory Soon To Start

C. W. Dickey and Milton T. Clark, architects of Honolulu, came over last Tuesday morning in connection with the plans for building the new factory at Kulaha of the Pauwela Pineapple Co. They returned to Honolulu on Wednesday afternoon after looking over the site.

Manager Charles Mel, of the pineapple company also returned on Tuesday from Honolulu where he spent some days on business. He states that work on the new factory is to be rushed as rapidly as possible. The main building determined upon will be 120 by 300 feet in size, of hybrid-concrete, saw-tooth roof construction, and will be one of the most up-to-date pineapple canneries in the Islands.

LAHAINA BASKET BALL TEAM LOSES 10 WAILUKUS

The new Lahaina basket ball team, which took on the local Rubes in the Alexander House gymnasium last Tuesday night, took back home with them the short end of the score of 13 to 13. Those who witnessed the game were impressed by the fact that the Lahainas are new to the game, but that the team contains good material and with practice should prove formidable.

Fair Meetings May Be Held In Own Buildings

The question of holding future meetings of the Maui County Fair & Racing Association at the fair grounds instead of in the chamber of commerce room in Wailuku, was considered this week by a special committee appointed for the purpose. After discussion it was decided to recommend that the more important meetings be held in the association's own buildings but that committee meetings and more or less informal called meetings continue to be held in Wailuku.

The idea of the committee is that the Wailuku quarters should not be given up as for many purposes they are more convenient than the Kahului ones will be.

Gun Lovers Decide To Join Fair Association

A well attended meeting of men interested in the proposed new gun and trap shooting club, was held last Friday evening at which the report of the committee appointed to investigate the advantages of becoming associated with the Maui County Fair & Racing Association was read and adopted. Another meeting will be held Thursday evening of next week at which the permanent organization will be effected.

Under the plan to become associated with the fair association it will be necessary for members of the gun section to be members of the fair and racing association.

Maui Makes Good In Roosevelt Drive

Raises $4000 Of Total $25,000—Island Of Hawaii Failed Badly—Maui's Quota Double What It Should Have Been

The territory has made good in the Roosevelt memorial fund drive. According to a wireless from Honolulu yesterday a total of $28,000 had been collected, or $1000 more than had been asked from the Islands. This includes the $4000 allotment from Maui.

As usual Maui made her quota notwithstanding that the amount was about double what should have been asked on basis of population or citizenship. Worth O. Alken, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee having the matter in charge, was called to the coast last Saturday and William Walsh was named in his place to finish up the work. Practically the total amount was collected in small amounts from individuals. The school children raised several hundred dollars by nickel and dime contributions.

It is understood that each island of the group made its quota except Hawaii which fell down badly, closing its lists with less than two-fifths of the allotted $5000 in hand.

COURT WORK AT STANDSTILL

On account of the illness of Judge Burr, the drawing of a special jury list to take the place of the regular trial jury panel declared to have been illegally drawn by the jury commissioners, was not held last Monday as previously ordered. Another order is to be made for such drawing to be held a week from next Monday. In the meantime court proceedings in the second circuit are practically at a standstill.

STEVEDORE'S STRIKE DELAYS POSTOFFICE COMPLETION

Work of completing the new bank building of the Bank of Maui, and the new Wailuku postoffice building, is now tied up indefinitely on account of the non-arrival of the bank and postoffice fixtures. The delay is occasioned by the stevedore's strike in San Francisco and the consequent freight congestion at that port.

Lurline Visits Maui ---Tomorrow For Coast

The Matson liner Lurline, after more than a week on the Honolulu dry-dock having a propeller blade replaced and some other repairs made, got back into the water on Wednesday and arrived at Kahului yesterday morning. She got away the same evening for Honolulu after taking on board 1000 tons of Maui molasses, 30,000 cases of pineapple and 28 tons of miscellaneous freight.

FIELD STAYS IN ARMY

Census Director Due In Maui Tomorrow

It is the plan to appoint a man or woman on each island to handle the work as deputy director.

Joshua D. Pratt, son of Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, of Honolulu, is coming from Washington soon to act as Mr. Lappin's chief assistant. The enumeration will begin January 2, and will last 30 days.

Drought Broken By Splendid Downpour

Rain Last Night Worth Thousands To Plantations—Kula Got Good Soaking—Indications Storm Is Not Over.

The fine rainfall which began here last evening and continued most of the night, is reported to have been general over central and west Maui, though over in the ditch country the fall has so far been light. The weather is still unsettled with every prospect of more rain before clearing weather sets in. The storm was semi-kona in character with little or no wind.

The storm is worth many thousands of dollars to all of the plantations. The long continued drought in Kula was broken by a fine downpour which lasted a good part of the night. The rain was not heavy in the vicinity of the Kula pipeline head and the supply from this source has not improved greatly.

The rainfall from 7 o'clock last night till this morning in Wailuku amounted to 1.32 inches. At the Puunene mill 1.07 inches was recorded. At Kihel 93 inches fell; at Camp 7, 1.5 inches, and at Camp 1, .9 inch.

During this forenoon heavy rain fell at Paia, where crops were suffering severely for lack of water.

COUNTY OFFICIALS ON TRIP THROUGH CRATER

County Attorney E. R. Bevins, County Engineer Low, and Assistant Engineer Aki, left Wednesday morning for Kaupo by way of Haleakala. They expected to reach there this evening or tomorrow morning where they will meet Chairman Sam Kalama, and possibly return by sampan tomorrow evening of Saturday. Various county matters will be looked into during the trip.

Sleeper, for several years instructor in mechanics at Lahaina-luna school, has resigned his position and is now in Honolulu preparing to leave for Santo Domingo, West Indies Islands, where he has accepted a position of second engineer for a large British sugar company. Thief At Hana Gets Away With Warrants

The police are on the lookout for a sneak thief who entered the office of County Road Overseer Chas. Bailey, at Hana, a few days ago, forced his desk open and got away with about $20 in silver and two county warrants. These warrants were not indorsed. One for $49.50, was made out to Ikoa, and the other, for $40 was payable to Keliakau.

County Auditor Chas. Wilcox, who was in Hana the first of the week on official business, brought back word of the robbery. While there is no clue as yet the police have hopes of landing the thief in case he attempts to make any use of the warrants.

1919 Sugar Crop About Cleaned Up

The sugar factors' company sugar shipments up to the first of this week amounted to 463,500 tons, out of the total season's shipments of about 570,000 tons. By November 10 the Islands' total shipments will have reached 583,000 tons of the total crop of practically 603,000 tons.

CHING—SOON

Considerable interest attaches to the marriage of Keanae, last Saturday, of Miss Maggie A. Soon and Mr. Kingston Ching, two popular young people of that district. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few friends by the Rev. Kui Tien Yee, pastor of the Wailuku Chinese Protestant church.

The bride is well known as school teacher and postmaster at Keanae, while the groom is a well known storekeeper at the same place. He recently returned home after serving for more than a year in the U. S. Army.

Wailuku Radio Office Opens For Business

The naval radio system of the islands opened its new office in Wailuku on Monday of this week in charge of George B. Dewing, chief operator who had been previously stationed at the Lahaina station. As yet, however, the Wailuku office is connected with the Lahaina station only by telephone, the proposed telegraph line not yet having been installed.

It is reported that there has been some hitch in getting a telegraph line installed by the local telephone company but this is expected to be settled soon when all messages will be transmitted between Wailuku and Lahaina by telegraph instead of by phone.

It is also possible that instruments will be installed in the Wailuku branch to enable the receiving of radio messages direct; but it is not contemplated establishing a sending station on this side, at least for the present.

$50 To Drive Without License—Woman Hurt

C. Mio, a Kahului Japanese, was fined $50 and costs in police court yesterday morning for driving an automobile without a driver's license. He came under the eye of the law when the Kobayashi Store delivery car which he was driving last Sunday, collided with another Ford car near the Puunene club house. Besides damaging the machines, a Japanese woman in one of the cars sustained painful but not serious cuts and bruises from the collision.

JUDGE BURR STILL SERIOUSLY ILL

The condition of Judge L. L. Burr, who was taken suddenly ill a week ago last Monday night, is still serious, but it is reported he is improving slowly. It is reported that it will probably be at least another week before he will be able to be about again.

Public Schools Close Tuesday—Victory Day

Although Maui will have no formal celebration of Victory Day, next Tuesday, marking the first anniversary of the signing of the peace armistice, the public schools will observe the day as a holiday.

Vocational Director Visits Maui School

Four Schools Now Have Regular Teachers For Manual Training—Federal Survey Party Expected On Maui This Month

Kenneth C. Bryan, director of vocational instruction in the public schools of the territory, arrived on Maui on Wednesday for a general inspection of work in his department in the local schools. He will probably return to Honolulu tomorrow or the first of next week.

At the present time four Maui schools employ full time vocational teachers. These are — Kamehameha III (Lahaina), Wailuku, Puunene and Paia. No regular course has yet been instituted at the Maui high school, but this is planned for later when room is found for the needed shops. The manual training work on Maui is under the supervision of Prof. L. L. Summers.

Federal Survey Soon

It had been expected that Dr. Frank Bunker and his associates who are in the Islands conducting the federal survey of educational institutions, provided for by the last legislature would arrive on Maui this week in connection with their work. For some reason, however, they have been detained in Honolulu and it is stated, will not be here until the latter part of the month.

Whether or not the shortage of funds for the work (some $2000) which it is reported will be needed to complete the survey, is responsible for the hitch in the program, is not known here.

New Board Of Health Head Expected Soon

Dr. F. E. Trotter, the new president of the territorial board of health, is expected to visit Maui shortly on an inspection trip. He has been on Hawaii and is this week visiting the island of Kauai.

Chief Sanitary Inspector Weight believes that Dr. Trotter will find much to interest him here, particularly in connection with the anti-tuberculosis work which has been lately interfered with seriously by the drought in Kula which made it necessary to release a lot of patients from the sanitarium until the lack of drinking water is remedied.

Plans For New High School Building Here

Plans for the new high school building, prepared by Dickey & Wood, of Honolulu, have been received and it is hoped to have bids advertised for at once so that work may be started shortly after the first of the year. The sketches indicate a most attractive building of concrete, and have been generally admired by all who have seen them. Principal Paul MacCaighey believes that the building will nicely fill the needs of the school for some years to come. The present frame building is to be used for workshops and other departments of school work.

When the new building was projected it was expected to cost about $30,000, but with increased costs of materials and labor some doubt is expressed as to whether or not this will be sufficient.

Although the ocean has been searched by various vessels no trace of the missing man or boat has been discovered.

Belgium Rapidly Recovering From Effects Of War

BRUSSELS, Oct. 4—(By The Associated Press)—All Belgium is returning to work and the country is recovering rapidly from the war.

In Brussels factories which were damaged during the German occupation are being fitted with machinery, and some of them already are turning out their accustomed products to within a few percent of the pre-war capacity.

Production of sugar exceeds the pre-war tonnage. Glass factories are reopening. In the iron and steel mills many plants have resumed operations, particularly in the Liege district where some of the mills were completely demolished and others so badly damaged that entire blast furnaces had to be rebuilt. Within a year, it is believed, the most important of these plants will be operating to capacity.

The cotton trade of Ghent also has resumed, and steamers loaded with American cotton are arriving almost daily. During the German occupation all copper fittings were removed from the machines in the spinning factories and some of these have not yet been replaced.

The linen industry also has taken on new life, and additional workers are being employed every week. The export trade in linen is growing just as rapidly as the factories can turn out the finished product.

It is in the country districts, however, where one sees the Belgian at his best. In the vast garden country which stretches from Brussels to the sea scarcely a square foot of ground is left uncultivated, so anxious are the people to produce their own food, and they are working from early morn until late at night to attain that end.

Apparently there is no scarcity of food in Belgium. It is costly in towns and cities, but in the country the people have now gathered their first harvest since the war, and are in need of nothing. Even butter is being served in the hotels, and in every house there is no longer the fear of starvation which for so many years made life a burden. Many persons are convinced that this time next year will see the country very well on the way to recovery.

Thompson, of the West Hawaii circuit court has denied the motion of the Hilo Tribune Publishing Co., for a new trial in the case wherein Charles Warren was awarded $25,000 damages for publication of an accusation that he had murdered his daughter.

Kona Road Blocked—Kona and Kau districts, Island of Hawaii, will be divorced until January, says A. C. Wheeler, county engineer of the Big Island. The Aliko lava flow separates them. He says they might be able to make a hard-scrabble trail across the aa but it would take at least $100,000 to build a road. He said the board of supervisors would appropriate nothing until after the first of the year.

New Hotel Planned—The Coral Gardens Hotel, Ltd., with E. A. Mott-Smith as president; H. L. Kerr, vice-president; W. A. Anderson, secretary and treasurer; and F. W. Law and W. L. Rope as directors, is to be incorporated in Honolulu within a few days. The plan is to construct a new tourist hotel on Kaneohe Bay to cost $125,000. The hotel will be on the site of the old Coral Gardens inn and will be built on the cottage plan with a main building and 35 separate cottages.

APPEAL MADE FOR ARMENIAN WOMEN IN TURKISH HAREMS

TIFLIS, Armenia, Sept. 15—via Paris, Oct. 2—(Associated Press)—Turkish Armenian refugees whose daughters were saved from death for a life of slavery in Turkish harems, have appealed to the American Red Cross for aid in obtaining their freedom. It is estimated by officials of the Armenian government that 30,000 girls are thus held in slavery. An executive committee to arrange plans for their liberation has been named and will start work at once.

These girls, daughters of refugees from the Van and Bitlis regions, disappeared during the massacres of 1918. Nothing was heard of them for months and it was believed they had been slain by the Turks.

Recently pitiful appeals for liberation have been coming from them from the Turkish harems of Anatolia and European Turkey. Most of the girls declare that they have not changed their religion.

Colonel Haskell, High Commissioner of the Allies to Armenia, has been appealed to for military aid. No definite answer has yet been given but he is hopeful of being able to offer a show of force as a background for diplomatic negotiations. The American Red Cross has been asked for financial backing necessary for the work of liberating the women.

Mala Wharf Money From Next Bond Sale

Governor Also Provides For Iao Road In Plans—New Issue To Be Floated Probably In January—Some Items Must Wait.

Provision is to be made for the Lahaina wharf at Mala, and for the rebuilding of the Iao valley road in the next sale of territorial bonds which will probably take place next January.

Governor McCarthy has outlined his plans for the next flotation and is quoted by the Honolulu papers as being keenly alive to the importance of the several Maui projects. The appropriation from the loan fund for the Mala wharf is $220,000. This is in addition to the $5000 from the general fund for preliminary surveys which have already been completed. It is understood that the plans for the wharf are now being prepared by the public works department, and unless subjected to unwarranted delay should be ready by the time the money for construction is available.

Iao Road Important Governor McCarthy is quoted as saying that the Iao valley road should be put in passable condition as soon as possible for the sake of the tourist business which is expected to become more important than ever as soon as the steamship situation becomes more normal. Since the big flood of 1915 the upper part of the valley has been cut off to vehicle traffic and comparatively few persons now ever get up as far as the Needle.

According to the Governor the following items will be taken care of from the second bond issue:

"The Final Closeup"

Shirley Mason as Nora Nola, the heroine of "The Final Close-up," a poor shop girl who faints from the heat when there is a reporter near, is told to take a vacation. The reporter, Jimmie Norton, son of a millionaire, gets her address and sends her two hundred dollars for vacation. She goes to a fashionable seaside hotel and is very unhappy until Jimmie happens to come to the same place as a baseball idol, and pays her some attention. He is recalled home because of family illness, at a time when Nora is accused of looting the bath houses, though there is no evidence against her. A jealous society girl attempts to plant evidence in Nora's bedroom, but is discovered by Nora and made to confess. Nora's own money, however, has been stolen, and she is forced by a cruel hotel proprietor, to wash dishes to pay for her keep. She overhears the plan of the real thief to rob the hotel safe and secretes herself there and catches him just as Jimmie happens to arrive with his father, saving thousands for the hotel and winning the heart of the millionaire father at the same time.

"The Knickerbocker Buckaroo"

Douglas Fairbanks makes his reappearance as "Old Doc Cheerful," in "The Knickerbocker Buckaroo". The moral of this story is that doing something for somebody is a worthy and laudable ambition, but that selfishness can sometimes be carried too far, and unless guided by calm judgment, may bring the unselfish one result she doesn't expect, and, secondly, that the proper place to start any reconstruction in character is at home.

Douglas plays the part of Teddy Drake, wealthy New Yorker, who decides that his life is all wrong because of his selfish qualities, and starts out to do unselfish things in the world, which gets him into a series of amusingly complicated situations laid in the west.

The play opens in a fashionable New York club, where a statue of Darwin, the philosopher, costars with the screen hero, making possible some interesting athletic action, when Doug in his conversation concludes, "Perhaps Darwin was right."

It is said that the new Fairbanks' story, because of its simple treatment, in his most brilliant film.

"Treat 'Em Rough"

Tom Mix, the dare devil of the moving picture field, in "Treat 'Em Rough," a photoplay in which he outdoes even his own recklessness and pulls stunts that even on the screen, make the spectators gasp.

Ned Ferguson (Tom Mix) gets a job on a ranch to rid the place of rustlers. He meets Mary Radford (Jane Novak), a Boston girl, who is living in a shack getting "atmosphere" for a book. She has found a man who is to be her villain, and she is looking for a hero when Ned appears.

The man she has picked out for a villain, acts his part well. He is the thief rustler, although he is working for Ned's boss. This man not only rustles cattle, but he attempts to rustle the love of this girl away from Ned. He even shoots the girl's brother to hurt Ned with Mary, but Ned is a smashing dare-devil way overcomes all obstacles.

Mary calls him a coward, but she learns her error soon after and he becomes not only the hero of her book, but the hero of her life.

"The Busher"

Charles Ray portrays the title role. He appears first as a baseball twirler in the bush league. His regular business is being hired man for Deacon Nasby, and his Sunday baseball playing has to be done on the quiet. The Blue Sox of the professional league laid over in Brownville by a washout, see the country boy's throwing and he becomes a member of the big team. Success inflates his chest and he forgets the fervid promises he made a little country girl before he left and falls for the wiles of the city vampire.

On the day that all Brownville comes to see him pitch, his overconfidence proves his undoing and he is taken from the game in disgrace. The only one giving him any sympathy is the little girl from the hick town. He goes back to his job as hired man resolved never again to throw a baseball. Curiosity, however, makes him climb a tree to see the rubber game of the bush league.

When Deacon Nasby discovers him in the ninth inning and tells him all is lost if he doesn't pitch, he refuses. But when told his sweetheart's brother has bet all her money on the game, he goes into the pitcher's box and saves the day.—Adv.

Huns Building Up Army Under Guise Of Police

WITH THE AMERICANS IN GERMANY, Oct. 3.—(By The Associated Press)—The German government is using statistics on the increase of crime in Germany since the end of the war as the basis and the excuse for formation of numerous units of security police, as they are called. They are to have a purely military interior organization, cloaked outwardly, however, as police and intrusted only with police powers.

The intentions of the government as voiced in the German newspapers is to have these organizations as instruments of the police chiefs of the various cities without any connection with the military authorities. It appears, however, according to the information in the hands of the Americans, that these units are to be housed in barracks in order to be available in case of any civil trouble. Companies are to be formed, each of one hundred men, with a leader and a number of officers for each company.

While these units may perform police duties, they are nevertheless, according to reports reaching American headquarters, to be well trained bodies of men to be incorporated into the National army at a moment's notice.

The security police is to be the armed military constabulary for the larger towns, as differentiated from the voluntary guards for the smaller towns, the civil gendarmerie in the country districts, and the civil police in the towns.

Figures quoted in the newspapers recently show 14,000 crimes in Germany in the period from January 1 to June 30 last, as against 10,000 in the whole of 1913. Officials say that, in the event of serious outbreaks this winter the present civil police cannot be so expanded as to handle the situation.

Up to this time Breslau has had an allowance of 675 policemen, to which 100 will be added 170 recently authorized by the local ministry. American officers say this increase is in violation of article 162 of the peace treaty, which provides that the increase in the number of gendarmes, employes or officials of the local or municipal police will be allowed only in proportion to the increase of population since 1913 in the districts in which they are employed.

LOSING OUR FOREIGN TRADE

Bishop Restarick recently in the course of a sermon sounded a warning to labor of the danger through unreasonable strikes, of forcing capital to seek an outlet in foreign lands. But we are also told by a writer of the national foreign trade council that we have already lost seriously in the export field through high costs and difficulties of various kinds, particularly transportation. He was not writing with the strike problem prominently in mind, but it should be clear to any thoughtful person that, unless we can quickly get our house in order and get down to business, a good deal of the business will not be there to get down to.

The writer says—
One of the most disquieting effects of the high prices of American manufactured goods and the difficulty experienced by oversea merchants in obtaining deliveries is the stimulus given to the industrial development of countries which, but for the war, would have found it quite impossible to compete with the highly organized industries of the United States and Europe. High prices, high freight rates, and lack of transport are likely to prove more potent aids to the establishment of manufacturing enterprises in the newer countries than a protective tariff with duties of 100% on imported goods. The difficulties of obtaining machinery and skilled labor, although great, are not insuperable. In the opinion of the National Foreign Trade Council, a continuance of the present state of affairs will inevitably lead to the growth of manufacturing in many countries which have hitherto afforded large markets for our products, and this may involve serious changes in our export trade. In this connection, it is interesting to note that during the war many industries quite new to India arose to fill the void left by the stoppage of exports from Britain, and that many types of machinery and mechanical fittings are now being successfully manufactured there. The Bengalee is a capable artisan when properly trained, and it is hardly necessary to add that his labor is not of the highly-paid variety. The development of a prosperous iron and steel industry in the Transvaal—where coal and iron ore in inexhaustible quantities exist in juxtaposition—is already becoming practicable. In Australia, too, the manufacture of woolen goods is attracting increasing attention. While such industrial development is bound to come to all countries possessed of the necessary raw materials, it is unfortunate that these markets should in any way be closed to American products at a time when a wide demand for manufactured goods is needed to ensure full employment to American industry. It would seem the part of wisdom to prevent further developments of this kind, whenever possible by setting aside a definite percentage of factory output to supply to those countries in which manufacturing is not highly developed, the goods which they cannot do without.

BANANAS

W. A. Anderson, one time Maui resident and good citizen, deserves every encouragement in his banana growing enterprise.

Given adequate transportation facilities the banana industry of these islands should soon rival in importance sugar and pineapples. That we have not these facilities is Hawaii's own fault. We have been asleep.

For Hawaii can grow bananas. No one can doubt that. And there is a demand on the Pacific coast and in the western states and Canada that could scarcely be over supplied. Besides this field is logically ours.

Thousands of acres of land on all of the islands unsuited to any important commercial crop at present would grow bananas to perfection. And these bananas would supply tonnage to fast passenger ships—the lack of which tonnage has always been interposed as an insurmountable obstacle when this class of ships has been urged for the tourist business. That the tourist business and banana business go together is not merely a surmise. The United Fruit Company (the "banana trust") has demonstrated it through its "great white fleet" between Atlantic ports and the West Indies.

Mr. Anderson states that he is assured of suitable cargo space for the output of his proposed Nahiku enterprise. This would seem to be the one necessary assurance to make it a success. His offer to the Nahiku Rubber Company shareholders is believed to be a very reasonable one.

As before stated, Mr. Anderson should be encouraged in his project, and we believe he will be. People who have money they can afford to take some risks with, should find the proposed banana company an interesting proposition.

It should be remembered, however, that until it has made good the project cannot be else than a speculation; and that most people of small means have no business to speculate at all. Maui can afford to do her part in the development of a new industry, but she cannot afford another rubber plantation boom.

MIGHT DO 'EM GOOD

The Honolulu Star-Bulletin deprecates the effort being made to unionize the public school teachers: says they have no grievances, and that if their pay is not enough it has "no doubt justice will be done."

If the teachers have no grievances it is their good luck and not in any sense due to their own efforts. It didn't used to be. As to their getting better pay it may be taken for granted that any increase they get will be insufficient.

Teachers as a class are a pakiki bunch and a union or anything else that would tend to make them pull together for their own interests would be a blessing to the community. Four our part we should like to see them kicking up a little hades for a change instead of taking meekly everything handed them and then querulously complaining over their hard lot in life. The world would be a lot better off if the men and women workers in the more intellectual vocations understood teamwork as well as do hod carriers and scrub women.

MAUI DID IT RIGHT

Returning visitors to the Maui fair speak in the highest praise of the fair itself and of the courteous and generous treatment which was shown them. They were regarded as official delegates of Kauai and were given the freedom of the fair and places of distinction and vantage at every turn. Maui knows how to do things right!—Kauai Garden Island.

Men convicted under the espionage act as alien enemies should have no consideration henceforth in the United States. The only thing that will satisfy public opinion will be their deportation. Foreigners who were willing to abuse the hospitality of a nation which had given them shelter deserve no sympathy and should have none at the present time. We should have a national house-cleaning and disinfection.

ROCK-BOTTOM ECONOMICS

The factors and processes of the industrial world of America are closely inter-dependent. Everything that is bought has its bearing on the employment of a long line of workers going back to the ultimate source of the raw material from which the article is made. At the far end of that line stands the man or woman who obtains the raw material from the earth—for the earth or products of the earth is the source of practically all raw materials.

Next stand the workers who advance the raw material through the various processes of development and manufacture. Then the men and women who transport the article and distribute it and finally those who sell it to the ultimate consumer.

When you buy foolishly, unnecessarily or extravagantly, you disrupt that long line of workers upon whom the community and the nation depends for its necessary supplies. By just so much, you injure yourself and every other consumer which means every citizen of the United States. When you buy wisely, intelligently and reasonably, what you need, you do your share to keep the workers of the nation employed in healthy, normal, essential procession of production.

Thrift is not parsimony. Thrift is a necessity for the improving of conditions which now face this nation. To spend money foolishly, unnecessarily or to no good purpose is to disrupt the production system and throw away financial and material resources sorely needed to reduce the cost of necessities. On the other hand, it is not necessary to refrain from buying useful and necessary things. The endeavor to get along without the things actually needed is not thrift but parsimony.

Thrift consists of wise and intelligent buying, wise and intelligent use of what is bought, wise and intelligent saving and wise and safe investment, such investments as War Savings Stamps, Treasury Savings Certificates and Liberty Bonds. By following those precepts of thrift you will do your part to restore healthy normal processes of industry and commerce and solve the problem of the high cost of living.

The law doesn't seem to provide any protection for the home merchant against the transient who comes in just before the holiday season to skim the cream off the year's trade. This is a defect that ought to be remedied. But the newspapers don't have to rub it in by boosting the game of those who are here today and gone tomorrow, taking their profits with them. Anyway, The Advertiser isn't going to play that kind of a trick on the Honolulu merchants. We don't have to have that kind of advertising and we don't want it. We don't believe in taking an advertiser's money with one hand and stabbing him in the back with the other.—Advertiser.

This might apply as well to Maui except that Maui merchants seem convinced that they have solved the problem of getting along without advertising. Honolulu firms aren't wise to this art yet and so do all the advertising. It must pay, too, or they wouldn't keep it up.

Superintendent MacCaughy is appealing to the supervisors of the counties to provide the $2000 needed to see the federal school survey, now being made, through to completion. The Oahu board is said to be hanging fire on the matter doubting the legality of such expenditure. Mr. MacCaughy should be assured that the money will be available even if it takes one more of the numerous "drives" to get it. The importance of the work being done by Dr. Bunker and his associates is far too great to be stopped short of completion.

Next week is clean-up week in the territory. If we could clean out all the Huns who still skulk or swagger in our midst we could consider the clean-up a great success.

The Hilo Post-Herald is again agitating the old project of a road across the Island of Hawaii from Hilo to the Kona coast, between the two mountains, Mauna Loa and Mauna Kea. The time will come when such road will be imperative even if it has not yet arrived. It is largely a question of population, and Hawaii is a long way from being overcrowded yet.

THE LANGUAGE SCHOOL QUESTION

R. H. Trent's proposal that a special session of the legislature be called to deal with the Japanese language school question deserves more than passing consideration. That the Ad Club promptly endorsed the proposal is significant of the feeling that exists on the subject.

The foreign language schools must go. They have no place in an American community. There is little doubt that they will get short shift when the legislature does have another chance at them. Public sentiment hadn't crystallized when the matter was up six or seven months ago. The issue was then more or less foggy. Today it is clear-cut, positively defined.

It is nearly a year and a half till the next regular session of the law making body. The question Mr. Trent raises is simply, do we wait—can we afford to wait that long?

This is the only question to decide. The fear of the effect upon the economic situation in the islands will doubtless urge against the extra session plan. The fear may be well taken. In another 18 months it seems possible that Japanese opposition will largely have died out. In view of this probability it might be well to weigh carefully the advantages to be gained by immediate action.

How are they going to do it? The Hilo Post-Herald indicates the serious situation which confronts the new Waiakea homesteaders in the following paragraph:

"The Waiakea homesteaders should be making strenuous efforts to obtain labor to cultivate their canefields. The milling company is doing its best to meet the situation, but there is a great shortage of laborers. It is strictly up to the farmers to do their level best to secure labor somehow or another."

High School Forms Useful Organization

Officers Elected—Landscape Gardening Course Beautifying Grounds—Students See Plans Of New Building—Fine Outing Up Iao

(By HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS)
HAMAUAPOKO, Nov. 6—The Maui High School Students' Association was recently organized at the school for the purpose of controlling all athletics in the High School; fostering and regulating all school activities; connecting the school with the community by taking charge of the schools' share of any community work to which it might be called and maintaining a high standard of scholarship, and school citizenship by such rulings, prizes, contests, etc., as the organization deems necessary.

The election of officers by ballot on Tuesday of this week, had the following returns: Nils Tavares, president; Ruth Lindsay, secretary; Arthur Baldwin, treasurer.

After the main meeting, each class retired to its respective room in order to elect a member for the executive committee. The representative chosen from the Senior class is Jack Walker, from the Junior, Michio Ogawa, from the Sophomores, Inez MacPhee, and from the Freshmen, Doris Hair.

Basket Ball A Feature
Battles for the supremacy on the basket ball courts of the Maui High School are under way, the battles being staged every Friday afternoon. The teams consist of students chosen from the Seventh Grade to the Seniors.

The result of last week's game for the girls was the victory of the Seniors and their colleagues over the Freshmen.

The boys' game between the Junior-Senior and Sophomore teams was played regardless of the rain. The score at the finish was 9 to 4, in favor of the Junior-Senior team.

Interesting Assembly
At the regular assembly of the Maui High School held last Thursday, a very enjoyable program was carried out. The first number was the school song by all the students. This was followed by a solo, "When the Ships Come Sailing By," by the school's talented vocalist, Eva Rodrigues.

The next number was a clever recitation, "In the Usual Way," by Ruth Lindsay.

Mr. MacCaughey then called the students' attention to two blue prints of the grounds and one of the new school building, which when completed will be the finest, although not the largest, high school building in the Territory. It is to be hoped that the new building will possibly be completed by September, 1920.

Beautifying Grounds

The Maui High School has developed a course in landscape gardening. This course is being carried on mainly for the purpose of developing the school's spacious grounds. The twenty-four boys who have enrolled are under Mr. Charles Brown, a capable instructor in this line of work. The boys have begun their work by planting a hedge of hibiscus to border the campus which fronts on the road.

A Hike Up Iao

A merry picnic party of twelve High School students, including Elizabeth Walsh, Eva Rodrigues, Helen Palmatier, Ruth Whitehead, Francis Field, Julia Tavares, Nils Tavares, Jack Linton, Sevath Boyum, Floyd Brown, Arthur Baldwin and Ralph Baldwin, left the Maui Hotel last Saturday at about nine o'clock, for a trip up Iao valley. Miss Patterson of the Maui High School went along as chaperon, thus bringing up the number to thirteen.

Autos carried the hikers to the end of the valley road, where an earnest debate was held as to who should carry the different parts of the menu, these being finally apportioned among the boys to the complete satisfaction of the girls if not of the boys.

The party now got into motion only to be halted upon the long narrow foot-bridge which spans the rocky stream-bed, while pictures were taken from both ends. The small concrete foundationed bridge at the beginning of the trail to the table lands was reached after a leisurely walk of about thirty minutes, and after a short pause to drink water and adjust cameras, the march was resumed.

Green guavas were continually flying back and forth as the young wanderers threaded their way up the trail, and jokes and funny stories showed the light-heartedness of the crowd. Some of the boys tried to have their pictures taken wearing the broad-brimmed hats of the girls, but found as usual that these were in the way.

It was noon by the time the first grassy plateau was reached, and seating themselves in a long row along the prostrate trunk of a great tree, the now hungry hikers proceeded to relieve the boys of their doubly irksome load. However, it was soon proved that the boys while they were not over-enthusiastic about carrying the luncheon on their person, were distinctly not averse to carrying them on the inside and but little remained of the generous repast. Pickles were produced in abundance, and it was discovered that those who were most proficient of getting pickles in, had also a similar tendency to getting into pickles. The jam was not discovered until quite late, when it was eaten as dessert, to the discomfort of its partakers, as there was no water near.

After the meal, while the rest of the party were allowing their food to settle, two of the most restless boys climbed a tall tree, from the top of which they proceeded to give a lively personification of monkeys afflicted with cooties. However, one of them experienced considerable difficulty in descending from his high perch, and when he finally did reach terra firma with the aid of gravity, he found to the enjoyment of the company that mother earth was still there and was just as hard as ever, after one had penetrated the softer outer covering of grass.

The return trip was without further incident except that when the bridge was reached, all descended to the rocks and drank eagerly, and were subsequently plentifully bespattered with cooling showers stirred up by stones thrown by different members of the party, not even Miss Patterson escaping.

Upon their arrival at the Maui Hotel, each of the tired picknickers was treated to a generous serving of delicious ice cream, for which they are indebted to the generosity of the Fields, to whom they wish to express their sincere appreciation.

The Right Idea
Why cannot the Hilo County Fair be revived? The two fairs of the past were great success and the thousands of visitors from the country districts testified to the popularity of the proposition. Hilo carried out two excellent fairs and there is a demand existing now that there be another big agricultural show in the near future, and, thenceforth, every year.

The territorial fair, while most interesting to the people of Oahu and a few of the better off residents of the other islands, cannot compete in interest with a purely county fair, such as Hilo carried out on two previous occasions. Something should be done to start the ball rolling. Hoolulu Park will be ready before very long and what better location could be wished for for a county fair?—Hilo Post-Herald.

Filipinos Willing To Take Independence With Strings To It

MANILA, Sept. 4—(By The Associated Press)—Confirmation by Governor Harrison upon his arrival here a few days ago of his recommendations that, in the event that independence is granted to the Philippines, restrictions such as were provided in the case of Cuba by the Platt amendment be embodied in the liberating act and resulting treaty, has, contrary to expectations, aroused practically no hostile comment among the Filipinos.

The native press is remarkably silent on the attitude of the chief executive. The opposition paper, representing the "Partido Democrata," contents itself with pointing out that the attitude of the governor is undoubtedly approved by the Nacionalista party leaders, and, after all, was only to be expected. The Nacionalista papers refrain from any comment whatsoever, favorable or otherwise.

Governor Harrison's statement upon his arrival here as carried by the local press is as follows:

"The recommendation that early independence be given the Philippines under an arrangement similar to the Platt amendment for Cuba was made by me officially as governor-general of the islands and is also my personal recommendation. The recommendation—and this point I took pains to make clear to Congress—was not presented by me as representing the opinion of the Filipino people nor as representing that of my superiors.

"Naturally I am not in a position to come back with any promises as to a date for the granting of independence," continued the governor in reply to the queries of his interviewers. "That is a matter which is entirely in the hands of Congress. Congress has already promised the Philippines their independence, and it will have final voice in determining when that independence is to be granted."

VIENNA REVELS MADLY TO FORGET REAL SITUATION

BERLIN, Oct. 28—(By The Associated Press)—Vienna, ever a gay city, is now more superficially gay than ever, owing to the illicit traders who have profited by the war and now are spending their ill-gotten gains, writes a newspaper correspondent from the Austrian capital. Vienna, says one of these writers, is "dying to music." He describes the people as starved and "morally degenerate." Describing the scenes in the dance halls and pavilions and gambling rooms, the writer says that nearly all the people demonstrate a desperate demand for youth and enjoyment and adds that "this sickly whirl of enjoyment bordering on self-destruction" produces a frightful effect on the sober-minded people of the city.

Public amusements are provided in the Pleasure Park and Schoenbrunn where are given plays for children, fire works, alpine dances, Tyrolean clog dances by Berchtesgaden peasants, acts from Iphigenie and band concerts.

One writer says that all of this striving for amusement is only a mask for perplexity and inability to return to older and saner life or evidence of heedlessness and indifference.

BURTON TELLS JAPANESE WHAT AMERICAN EXPERTS

TOKIO, Oct. 22—(Associated Press)—Former United States Senator Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio, told the Japanese financiers in a speech he delivered recently at a banquet tendered to him at the Banker's Club that what the United States most desired was that Japan should do everything possible to promote peace among the nations and "avoid that spirit of imperialism which has so disturbed the world."

"What America asks of Japan in the Orient," he added, "is a fair field for competition in trade and no policy of aggression toward other countries. We only ask that no political control or special privileges shall exclude us from entry to the ports and to the trade of the Orient."

Speaking of the future relations of Japan and America, Mr. Burton said, "every interest points to amity, rather than discord."

Coast Mayors Discuss High Cost Of Living --Boycott Favored

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 29—(Associated Press)—Of many plans prepared for consideration at the conference here tomorrow of mayors from three Western states to discuss high costs none seems to have attracted greater interest than the boycott idea of D. W. Carmichael, Sacramento City Commissioner.

Carmichael suggested that the public abstain from buying certain food-stuffs when prices seemed excessive and this plan was carried into effect here on a small scale through co-operation of several civic organizations. A decline in the price of eggs on the local market shortly thereafter was attributed by Carmichael to the boycott.

Public hearings on high living costs were held by the Sacramento city commission and to secure co-operation of municipal executives elsewhere invitations for a conference in Sacramento were sent to 144 mayors in Washington, Oregon and California.

The resolution of invitation adopted by the city commission said:

"Whereas, All portions of our beloved country are today confronted by the serious and seemingly insurmountable problems of the high cost of living; and whereas, it devolves upon those in position and authority to use every human endeavor to ameliorate the condition of our people in this respect; and whereas, there exists a great division of opinion as to the ways and means which may be used to bring about a reduction in the common necessities of life; and whereas, we believe better results in this direction will follow united action taken by the wisdom of the heads of the municipalities of the Pacific Coast States, therefore be it

"RESOLVED, That this commission through its president, shall invite the Mayors of the principal cities of Washington, Oregon and California to meet in assemblage in Sacramento on October 30, 1919, for the purpose of devising a plan or programme to be put into operation which shall be deemed best to bring about a reduction in the cost of living necessities to our people."

GOVERNMENT TAKES STEPS TO REFORM DRUG ADDICTS

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 28—(Associated Press)—As a part of the national movement and under orders issued by the commissioner of internal revenue, J. P. Carter, collector of internal revenue for the southern district, will begin a campaign for the establishment of narcotic clinics in the larger cities in his district. Among the cities named where Collector Carter expects to have clinics in operation are Los Angeles, San Diego, Bakersfield, San Bernardino and San Luis Obispo, Cal.

The clinics will be established for the purpose of attempting a cure of those persons addicted to the use of narcotics, without leaving them subject to the machinations of unscrupulous physicians and denizens of the underworld who maintain an illegal traffic in the narcotic drugs. The clinic plan is to administer doses in gradually diminishing amounts until the patient can do without the drug entirely.

WOULD BAR ALIENS FROM TAKING FISH

JUNEAU, Alaska, Oct. 26—(By Mail—Associated Press)—Recommendations that aliens be barred from fishing in Alaska waters were made by a grand jury here recently.

"To better conserve the fisheries of Alaska we are convinced, after an investigation of the subject, that there should be an abatement of the extensive fishing now carried on by aliens," the report of the grand jury said. "To this end we recommend, as a corrective measure, the enactment of a law requiring full citizenship of those engaging in the commercial taking of fish in Alaska waters."

HUNS IN TONGA CAUSE TROUBLE FOR AUTHORITIES

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 9—(Associated Press)—Anti-British demonstrations and actions by Germans in the little Pacific kingdom of Tonga have aroused a feeling that all the Germans in the group should be deported. Recently the British representative at Vavau was insulted and assaulted by a German, and an appeal to the local police for redress, was futile. By supplying liquor to the natives and advancing credit to them the Germans, it is said, have won the support of most of the native chiefs.

The British in Vavau have petitioned the New Zealand government for the deportation of the German who assaulted their representative, and of all other Germans in the archipelago. Tonga is the last Pacific island kingdom, but it is also a British protectorate. Before the war Germans were quite active there.

FOR SALE

The Fine Kentucky Jack MONITOR

Just landed from the Steamer Manoa, Oct. 13, '19

DESCRIPTION

Monitor is a brown jack about 15 hands high and will weigh, when in good condition about 1000 lbs. He is perfectly sound but a little thin now, probably from not having received any extra treatment on the steamer, but will soon round out as he eats like a "house afire," which I consider a good sign in either a man or animal.

Now, in presenting MONITOR as a Kentucky Jack I don't know but what I may be lying again but will leave my friends to judge of this. If so I will put up no defense but stand convicted. I suppose that according to the strict interpretation of the letter of the law, that a Kentucky Jack means one bred, born and raised in Kentucky which is just what he isn't. His sire and dam were, which I consider an advantage as he was raised in the mild climate of California which is so similar to our own here in Hawaii. This animal was bred by an old Jack Man in California who knows more about Jacks in one minute than any of us would in six months. In describing him to me he said, "I bred this Jack for my own use, never expecting to sell him. I trained him in from colthood and he grew up and ran with the milking cows, loose horses, mares and colts. I have never bred him to a mare in the usual way of using a pit for the mare but allowed him to do his work entirely by himself. He will cover the biggest and tallest 17 hand mare that you can bring around. In running with the flock he doesn't molest mares unless they are in heat and then he does his work in great shape. I have only about a dozen mares of my own which is all I have ever bred to him and have never yet turned a mare out with him that did not prove in foal. I now have about thirty youngsters from him which with a dozen or so I have sold is all he had ever produced. Therefore he has never been over-bred.

This Jack possesses one trait that I never knew in a Jack before and that is for an animal of this kind that would lead behind a vehicle. They will generally lead alright if you are on the ground but can seldom be induced to lead like a horse. They will usually pull back but this fellow is just like a horse in this way and you can't start up too quick for him to lighten his halter. If the pace gets too strong he will fly into a run and keep up just like a lively horse."

As to the profits in mule breeding. A little experience came under my notice recently which throws a little light on the subject. I was on a ranch in our vicinity lately where they were breaking a nice young mule about 2½ years old. I asked the manager whether or not he would care to sell the animal. His reply was, "Well, what do you think he is worth?" I said that I thought about $150. He said that he did not know how much would buy him but that $250 cash would not take the mule off the place. This mule was sired by a common native Jack and out of a common native mare, which shows what good one ought to bring."

In offering this Jack for sale it is not without a reason. I should like ever so much to keep him but am afraid that finances will hardly permit it, therefore I shall probably dispose him to the highest bidder inside of 30 days. That is if anyone comes along who appreciates such an animal. He is worth a lot of money but if I can not get it I may have to take less.

HITCHCOCK CALLED TO WHITE HOUSE

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Senator Hitchcock was summoned to the White House today by President Wilson to discuss the program of reservations which the senate is considering.

Senator Hitchcock outlined the senate program to the President as the first endeavor to defeat the reservations reported by the foreign relations committee. If that fails an attempt to vote down the resolution of ratification containing them will be made. The move will be to present the resolution for ratification and should a deadlock ensue to attempt compromise with republican opponents.

Hitchcock said if the resolution of ratification containing the reservations should be adopted that would settle the fight so far as the senate is concerned; but that the President could pigeon-hole the treaty. He declined to stipulate as to the probable course of the president should the committee resolution prevail.

RAILROADS RACE TO OPEN UP NEW TERRITORY

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 29.—(Associated Press)—With the rich Uintah basin as their prize, men interested in the commercial and industrial development of Colorado and Utah are laying the foundation for a railroad-building race that promises to rival in interest the contests for completion of the first trans-continental lines in America.

Uintah basin straddles the Colorado-Utah boundary line. It is a virgin country and is said to be rich in minerals and to have almost invaluable agricultural possibilities.

Coloradoans have launched a campaign to raise capital to complete a tunnel under James Peak, thus giving the Denver & Salt Lake (Moffat) Railroad an easy grade and short cut into the basin country.

Backed by Governor Hadberger, Utah capitalists are working on plans for a $10,000,000 railroad extension from Craig, Colo., to Provo, Utah. This proposed line would intersect the Uintah country, and, if completed before James Peak tunnel, would give the Utah group first call on freight and settlement of the Basin.
