BOTH PASSENGERS AND CREW ARE REPORTED RESCUED

GERMANS DECLARE RUSS FORTRESSES ARE FALLING FAST

The following cablegram from official German sources was received by the Star-Bulletin early today:

"German army headquarters report, August 18: Besides the fortress of Kovno, captured with all of its supporting forts, Field Marshal von Hindenberg's army has taken two more forts on the northwest front of Novogeorgievsk. There 600 prisoners and 20 cannon were taken.

"The number of cannon taken at Kovno was more than 400.

"The troops of Gen. von Scholt and Gen. von Gallwitz advanced to the eastward, approaching the Bielystock railroad. The left wing of Field Marshal Prince Leopold's Bavarian army delivered counter attacks on both sides of the Siematyeze and Bug rivers. There was renewed Russian resistance but passage was forced and the enemy repulsed on his right. The armies reached the south bank of the Bug.

"Field Marshal von Mackensen's army threw the enemy back across the Bug river into the advanced positions of the fortress of Brest Litovsk, and also advanced east of Wlodawa, across the railroad from Cholm to Brest Litovsk.

"In the Vosges, after heavy artillery preparation, the French yesterday launched attacks against Schramtzaennle and the German position southeast of Sondernach but were repulsed. Only southeast of Sondernach small positions were totally destroyed and the trenches left in French hands."

RUSSIA'S NEW ATTITUDE TOWARD POLAND SHOWN AS WAR PROGRESSES

PETROGRAD.—Russia's new attitude toward Poland is emphasized in editorial discussion here of the forthcoming Russo-Poland conferences under the chairmanship of the Russian premier, M. Goremykin. The Novoe Vremya speaks of the conferences as "a meeting of two fraternal nations, Russia and Poland, to discuss the details of the solution of the great Polish question," and the other newspapers take a similar ground of equality and fraternity.

The Vremya's editorial, which reflects the popular viewpoint, says in part:

"In reality the Russo-Polish problem, at one time so acute, has been already solved in the hearts of the Polish and Russian people alike. It remains only to formulate the lines of the solution and to fix them in legal enactments. That which is taking place in our hearts must be strengthened and confirmed at the Russo-Polish conferences. The great faith in us by the Poles must be justified.

"With the first sound of guns on the Russian frontier, from the moment the war between Germany and Russia had been announced, the Slav soul awakened in the Poles and showed them on which side they ought to be. It was enough for the Poles to feel themselves true Slavs for the Polish 'problem' to become solved of its own accord. As if by magic all the fears of a fraternal conflict between the Russians and the Poles disappeared. There should be left no ground for any recurrence of any disagreements. The old quarrels based on mutual misunderstandings must become a thing of the past.

"The German attack on us has removed at one stroke everything that kept the Russians and Poles estranged. The Kaiser has united us, and now there can be no room for any grievances or suspicions. The honor of Russia and the triumph of Russian justice demands a free national development for the Polish people."

OLD COAL VEINS BEING OPENED TO SUPPLY DEMANDS OF BRITAIN

[Associated Press]
MANCHESTER, England.—An interesting feature of the wartime demand for coal is that it has brought about the reopening of hundreds of derelict mines in the remote valleys of the Pennine Range, a long line of hills that stretches from the vicinity of Manchester straight north to the Scottish border. The entire region lies above immense fields of coal, but difficulties of transportation and lack of capital have heretofore prevented any extensive development.

As the great coal districts of Southern Lancashire and Yorkshire become depleted, more attention must be paid to these upland deposits and the problem of reaching them with transportation facilities must be met. At present there is no railway which reaches within 20 miles of the most accessible fields.

Wartime prices, however, have turned attention to these old mines, and in a primitive way the owners and tenants have begun seeking out a few hundred tons here and there and marketing it at various points which can be reached by horse transport. The mines are worked in old-time fashion by a few colliers each. There is little attempt at timbering, and the levels are constructed to drain naturally. The seams are approximately a yard in thickness and as they pass level into the moors are easily workable.

GERMAN ARMY CORPS CONSISTS OF 41,000 MEN, 14,000 HORSES

(By Associated Press.)
BERLIN.—A writer in the Neue Gesellschaftliche Correspondenz has been trying to visualize the casual reader the dimensions of troops as they march and fight.

A German army corps, he says, consists of 41,000 men, 14,000 horses, and 2,400 vehicles, including the cannon. Such a body of men and their belongings make a procession about thirty miles long on a single road. Even when in pretty close touch with the enemy the length of a corps is about 15 miles; and when the front detachments become involved in a battle it will be five or six hours before the men in the rear go into action to assist them.

VENICE AT NIGHT IS DARK AS FORGOTTEN CITIES OF DESERTS

(By Associated Press.)
ROME.—While life in the other great cities of Italy goes on much as usual during the war, without the usual summer air of festivity perhaps, and with a graver expression on the faces of the inhabitants, Venice, the Queen of the Adriatic, is transformed and the life of her people is entirely changed.

The elegant bathers at the Lido are no more; the gondoliers wait sadly for passengers that do not come; the chatter and laughter of the gay, luxurious, cosmopolitan crowd at the Cafe Florian in the Piazza San Marco on the lovely summer evenings is no longer heard, for Venice, except when the moon shines, is plunged into darkness and at night lights of any kind in the houses or on the water are strictly forbidden.

SKILLED WORKERS TO TEACH TRADES AT SING SING

OSSENING, N. Y.—With the approval of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, representatives of labor organizations have volunteered to send instructors to Sing Sing prison to teach the prisoners trades that will be of great benefit to them upon their release. This action follows a statement made by one of the members of the Mutual Welfare League, who declared that the trades as taught in the prison were not of material value as they have been taught in the past.

A beginning will be made in the garment and shoe shops, where skilled workmen of the United Garment Workers and the International Foot and Shoe Makers' Union will teach the prisoners modern methods of manufacture.

FOSS TO SEEK NOMINATION

BOSTON, Mass.—Former Governor Eugene N. Foss has announced formally his intention of seeking the Republican nomination for governor in the primaries next fall.

The extra steel trusses now being placed in the National Guard armory roof will be in place and other precautionary work will be completed within two weeks, according to A. C. Wheeler, acting superintendent of public works.

New British Sea Lord Is Ordering Sea-lane Patrol

Admiral Sir Henry B. Jackson, the new British sea lord. Some time ago it is reported that as a result of the Lusitania sinking, he ordered the sea-lanes patrolled by British cruisers and destroyers, particularly to accompany the big trans-oceanic liners into and out of the British ports.

PROPOSAL THAT CITY BUY BISHOP ESTATE LOTS FOR PLAYGROUNDS

Roads and Parks Committee Recommends Purchase at $75,000 in Instalments

Honolulu's opportunity to acquire city playgrounds is pointed out in the following letter submitted to the supervisors on Tuesday night from its committee on roads and parks:

"Gentlemen: Your committee on roads, bridges, parks and public improvements to whom was referred Communication 464 from His Honor the Mayor, which was accompanied by a letter from the Bernice P. Bishop Estate, in which an offer was made to sell three pieces of property, suitable for children's playgrounds, begs to report as follows:

"The Bishop Estate offered to sell the following described property at the prices given:

Deretania St. playgrounds, $52,290
Parker Park lot.....12,000
Atkinson Park lot.....34,220

"In the mayor's communication to the board the importance of acquiring these three pieces of property was pointed out, and he urged that some step be taken to purchase the property from the Bishop Estate. The women of the city, represented by different organizations, have appealed to the board in the interests of playgrounds for children, and from other quarters similar appeals have come.

"Two things seem very clear to your committee in this connection. The first is that there must be permanent playgrounds for children in Honolulu; and the second is that the present is the advisable time to acquire them. Let a few years slip by and the property values in Honolulu will undoubtedly be much higher.

"Your committee does not feel that the city and county is in a financial position now to purchase these three pieces of property outright, their total price, at the figure given, being $98,510. But it would suggest this: That your committee be authorized to offer the Bishop Estate $75,000 for the property, payments to be made as follows: 10 per cent down, 10 per cent in 1916 and 10 per cent in the first half of 1917, when the term of the present board expires. This would mean that 30 per cent would be paid by the present board, leaving a balance of 70 per cent for our successors in office to pay. The legislature will meet before the new board takes office and it possibly would be willing

SEND ASHES OF PIONEER TO HOME ON BIG ISLAND

The ashes of Carl Meinecke, one of the oldest white residents on Hawaii who died at the Queen's hospital Tuesday, are to be sent to Waiohinu, Kau, for interment. Mr. Meinecke was brought to Honolulu two weeks ago and placed in the hospital for treatment for heart trouble. The remains were cremated yesterday.

Mr. Meinecke, who was 72 years old, was born at Hanover, Germany on June 15, 1843. When a young man he emigrated to the United States and, during the civil war, served in the union navy. After the war he came to Hawaii and took up his residence at Kau, where he became owner of considerable land. Among other relatives he is survived by a son, William H. Meinecke, a teacher in the Normal school, and a stepson, Joseph Meinecke, chief engineer of the Maui Agricultural Company's mill at Pala.

CONFERENCE OF GOVERNORS

BOSTON, Mass.—Twenty-two governors of states and five former governors have accepted Governor Walsh's invitation to attend the governor's conference to be held in this city in August. Several others have signified an intention of joining the conference unless their engagements prevent.

WHITE STAR LINER IS TORPEDOED OFF COAST OF IRELAND

A "flash" from the Associated Press to the Star-Bulletin shortly before 10 o'clock this morning brought the news that the White Star liner Arabic, flying the British flag, has been torpedoed not far from where the Cunard liner Lusitania was sunk. The Federal Wireless message says:

"London, August 19.—The Arabic sunk off Fastnet. Passengers and crew reported rescued. Sailed Wednesday from Liverpool for New York."

Fastnet is on the southeast coast of Ireland, at the entrance to the Irish sea. Not far away, off Oldhead, Kinsale, the Lusitania met her fate on May 7.

Up to 11 o'clock only the most meager details are available, detailed news evidently not having reached the United States, so that it is impossible to tell whether the Arabic was sunk without warning or the passengers and crew were given time to escape before the vessel was torpedoed.

The Arabic is of 15,801 tons, 600 feet long, was built in 1903, and is one of the one-class cabin type. Its regular run is from Liverpool and Queenstown to Boston.

GERMANS DOOMED TO FAILURE IN THEIR WAR ON PARISIAN STYLES

[Associated Press]
PARIS, France.—The short skirt has brought back into style the high shoes of the second empire. White and fancy colors are no longer in favor with the most fashionable women who incline rather to plain black leather tips. The heels are higher than they have ever been since the eighteenth century. The extremists of this style frequently seen in the Bois de Boulogne carry themselves as if they were walking on stilts.

Referring to the outcry in Berlin against the "tyrannical domination of Paris" in the matter of styles, and the campaign for purely national German fashions, one fashion authority declares that writers, politicians and economists are powerless to alter styles.

The Germans will have to more success in their war on French styles than will have the French in their war on German music, in the opinion of this authority.

In proof of his assertion he produces a recent number of Berlin fashion review with fashion plates showing that there the closed umbrella skirt has given way to the bell skirt with the same plaits and trimmings as in Paris.

The Berlin hat, too, has taken the rakish form of the forage cap and worn well over on the ear, in a marvelous imitation of what was seen until recently in the Bois de Boulogne and on the Champs Elysees. Now the hats in Paris have taken on a trim and are gradually widening out, into a rational compromise between the parasol and the turban.

PARISIANS RUN OVER TO LONDON TO FIND GAIETY

Paris No Longer Frivolous as of Old, But London Retains All Its Night Life

LONDON, Eng.—One of the paradoxes of the war is the visiting of Parisians to London for a bit of excitement and gaiety. Paris is nothing like its old self, for its theaters are closed, motor buses at the front, most of its taxis laid up and a large number of its hotels closed. But London has sacrificed but little of its old life. Hotels are full, picnics and restaurants as crowded as ever, theaters, especially the music halls and revues, well attended, and Hyde Park and upper Thames have their usual crowds of holiday makers.

But this does not mean that London does not feel the war. The hotel guests are mainly purchasing agents for the allied powers, visiting attaches on official business and agents for American factories looking for supply contracts. Comparatively few of the younger men seen in the fashionable tea places and restaurants wear civilian clothes. Khaki is also the prevailing color among the men at the revues. The "Piccadilly knut," as the young men who set the fashions are called, has largely disappeared from his old haunts.

London's gaiety is in one sense largely kept up by the war. Men living the hard routine of duty at the training camps or a life of constant danger at the front seem to find a complete change and rest of mind in a frivolous show as in nothing else. The first idea of a wounded man on getting out of the hospital is a round of restaurants and variety halls. Officers and enlisted men with arms in slings and on crutches are sights too common there to attract more than passing notice.

OBjectionable PLATE TAKEN OFF RECKER'S COFFIN

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The police had removed from the coffin of Charles Becker the silver plate placed there by his widow on which was inscribed the charge that the former police lieutenant electrocuted at Sing Sing prison on Friday, was "murdered by Governor Whitman." After a police conference attended by representatives of the district attorney's office, Inspector Joseph Faurot went to the Becker home and informed Mrs. Becker that the inscription was a criminal libel on the governor and prevailed upon her to permit its removal.

SONS SAW FATHER DROWN

WATERBURY, Conn.—John J. Murphy, 42, was drowned while swimming at the New City Mills dam tonight at 7 o'clock, being stricken with cramps. Two sons saw him drown, being unable to aid him. The body was recovered at 11 o'clock in 30 feet of water. He leaves a widow and four children.

Damage of $500 was caused to the pier of the Hamburg-American line at the foot of twenty-fifth street and the Hudson river in New York. The fire was caused by a wrong electric current being turned on.

CROWD OF 800 TURNS OUT TO SEE VISITORS FROM JAPAN PRACTISE

Rewarded by Seeing Captain Clout Ball Twice Over Far Left Field Fence

"Talk about baseball being dead in Honolulu! You ought to have seen 800 people out at Athletic park yesterday afternoon to watch the Meiji practise!"

Sam Hop, shining light of the new International League and veteran promoter, voiced the above today. Sam thinks that when the visiting Japanese and the Hawaii start the series next Saturday afternoon the park will hold one of the biggest crowds it has ever seen.

O. Fujie, captain and second-sacker of the Meiji.

Yesterday the Meiji indulged in both batting and fielding practise. At the half they wallowed the pill hard on numerous occasions. Twice the Meiji captain, knocked the ball over the left field fence, and local fans knew it takes some punch to do that. O. Fujie, the captain and second baseman, is said to be one of the fastest players in Japan.

Tickets are on sale at the Hawaiian Drug Company, Hotel and Bethel streets, and are going fast.

The International League had a meeting last evening at Athletic park, with Vice-President Johnny Nettle in the chair, and Bill Raposo as secretary. The team managers and others were there to talk the new baseball venture over.

CRITIC WHO WATCHES MEIJI LADS PLAY IS IMPRESSED WITH ABILITY

Although still a little stiff from their long sea voyage, the Meiji ball players are working hard to get in condition and should be pretty well limbered up and back to form when Saturday's game turns up. In practise they work out with plenty of snap and never die on their feet, as many of the local players are apt to do now and then.

The Meiji boys eat up the grounders on the run, tearing in on them full tilt and taking a chance at judging the bounce correctly. This sort of play sometimes leads to errors, but it makes baseball worth while and tends to build up a playing instinct.

Keda, covering the difficult angle, showed up a trifle faster than the rest of the visitors. He seems to have a basket in place of a glove and nabs them at all angles and coming at all speeds, the low ramblers and the high hot ones are all alike to him, and he gets away with his peg before his feet are fairly on the ground again. This is the sort of play which has made such men as Hsi Chase and the great Hans Wagner terrible on the defense.

Eibauka, behind the plate, promises to be effective. He keeps his eye well on the ball, appears cool and gets away with a short, deadly peg to second, which is apt to cut off a good many ambitious base runners at the keystone sack. Of course it is hard to judge a team until it is actually up against the strain of competition, but from all signs so far the Meiji boys will carry the war to the enemy all the time.

What they can do on the offensive is yet to be seen, and although their batting averages at home are not very promising, still, as they show up better abroad than they do at home, there is no telling what havoc they will work with the local heavies.

Among the pitchers who have worked out so far among the visitors, Nakamura seems to be a bit stronger and surer than the others. This is the department of the game wherein the Japanese of the past have often failed to come up to par, but Nakamura looks like a pretty thorough exception to the rule. He puts a lot of steam behind the ball and keeps his twists breaking in well-controlled fashion.

NOT MUCH NEED FOR THIS RULE OUT AT WAIKIKI

NEW YORK, August 1.—Convinced that the freedom of action of a swimmer's limbs in competition is of paramount importance, members of the National Women's Life Saving League have frowned upon the suggestion that stockings should be worn by all girls in swimming races. This action is the result of inquiries made by Miss Charlotte Epstein, secretary of the National Women's Life Saving League, and Miss Katherine F. Mehrtens, adviser of the Amateur Athletic Union on all matters concerning women swimmers.

Miss Epstein and Miss Mehrtens learned through personal conversations with many of the league's members and A. A. U. girls, who take part in speed contests in the water, that swimming at racing pace with stockings is a handicap. Water soaked stockings tire the legs, interfere with a natural, free movement of the muscles, and cause distress to the wearer. In consequence Miss Epstein and Miss Mehrtens have decided not to encourage those who urge the use of them in races. So henceforth all girls taking part in races promoted by the National Women's Life Saving League or others held under the sanction of the Amateur Athletic Union may consult their own individual views in the matter of wearing or not wearing stockings in water competitions.

The annual race of the National Women's Life Saving League has been scheduled for decision at Chisholm's bathing pavilion, Sheephead Bay, August 22. The program will include a rescue competition, a fancy diving event, sprint, middle distance, and distance swims.

POWERS MAKING NEW RULES FOR COMING EVENTS

At a meeting of the Hawaiian Rowing Association last night the general preparations for the big Regatta Day were discussed and the definite arrangements of all plans put in the hands of the Regatta Committee. Each member of the association was advised to keep his eye open for new ideas and pass these on to the committee.

The most important business of the meeting related to the changing of one rule and the addition of another to the old set. The amended rule is No. 16, the addition to which reads that in case of a tie, "the same crews shall contest again on the same day after such interval as the judges shall appoint." This addition was made necessary by some trouble which occurred three years ago when a tie race was rowed between the Myrtles and the Healanis in the regatta and the race was not rowed off until a week later, at which time the Myrtles added a man who had not rowed at all in the previous contest.

The added rule is to the effect that during the first fifteen strokes of a race if any member of any crew holds up a hand signifying that an accident has happened to oar, rowlock, slide, track, footrest, etc., the boats shall be recalled by the starter.

When the boats are recalled in this fashion the judges shall carefully look over the claim of accident and if they find that no actual breakage has occurred they shall penalize the offending crew by one boat length, on the second offense another boat length and on the third repetition they shall be disqualified from the race.

SURFING CRAZE IS SPREADING ON MAINLAND

Boards Now in Use at Most of the California Beaches, and Their Popularity Grows

Surfboards, the distinctive feature of Waikiki beach, are in the way of coming into universal use on every beach on the North American Pacific coast where there is a good surf. Already they have become very popular along the great beaches of the South California coast. At Ocean Park, Venice, Long Beach and a dozen other swimming resorts, the boards are now a familiar spectacle.

Cliff Cole, the champion high diver of the Pacific coast, who made a visit here not long ago and gave some exhibition diving, when back across the waters full of enthusiasm for the tumbles and excitement of the gay sport. Almost every day he is on the California beaches with his board and a crowd of imitators follow him about.

While the surf in these places does not break so far away as it does on Waikiki beach and consequently does not offer such opportunities for riding, still the new feature opens up twice the possibilities of the old surf bathing.

A great stimulus has been given to surfboard riding by Duke Kahanamoku, who carried his board with him on several of his trips to the coast. Wherever Duke appeared with it a great crowd gathered on the beaches to marvel at the ease with which he stood upright and rode the bucking waves as skillfully as a cowboy rides a broncho. Everywhere he was besieged with pupils anxious to learn his methods and his skill with the board is already a popular legend in a dozen great resorts.

CHAMPIONSHIP ON GARDEN ISLE FOR M'BRYDES

The McBrydes are champions of the 1915 baseball season on Kauai, says the Garden Island.

In the game Sunday afternoon on Eleele field they defeated the Makawells 5 to 1, giving them the second series. They had won the first series, so that there will be no play-off game.

The crowd at Eleele was only fairly large, so many of the prominent fans being away from the island. In the first inning the Makawells got one across the plate, but they failed to score after that. The champions scored twice in the fourth, once in the sixth and twice in the eighth.

The game was practically without features. It was remarked, however, that the Makawells seemed to be considerably out of form.

The score by innings was as follows: McBryde ..... 0 0 0 2 0 1 0 2 0—5
J. A. C.'s failed.

The J. A. C. players failed to show up in Lihue for their game with the locals. As it was understood in advance, however, that they would not, only a few stragglers turned up at the baseball park.

The standing of the teams at the close is as follows: McBryde, first; Makawell, second; J. A. C. and Lihue tied.

LEARN HOW TO SWIM

In a Series of Ten Articles, Famous Expert Louis De B. Handley of the N. Y. A. C., Gives Advice to Beginners and Veterans.

Article No. 8.—Graceful and Fancy Diving.

Position to assume in the plain front dive on leaving the board. Spring up and out, head to be held back at knee, arms straight out at the sides, legs outstretched and closed together, feet pointed back.

By LOUIS DE B. HANDLEY.

Among the various forms of water sports there is none which offers more enjoyable and beneficial recreation than does fancy diving.

It is a pleasurable means of developing the body thoroughly and symmetrically. It provides interesting and ever new pastime to its devotees, and after fair proficiency has been gained it affords a constant opportunity to entertain others.

The sport has no sex or age limitations either. Women and children readily acquire skill, for their suppleness and suppleness of muscle fit them eminently for the graceful work prescribed, and people beyond youth find it within their scope to develop good form, at least in the easier dives.

Of course some possess in greater degree than others those natural attributes which spell success, and the old saying that champions are born, not made, is applicable. Nevertheless it is possible for any healthy, normal individual to master the art of diving sufficiently well to make its pursuit worth while.

Good diving, in fact, is chiefly a matter of correct timing of movement and body control, both obtainable through practise. The novice is rather trying, for before the beginner has learned to enter the water cleanly he is bound to suffer a few slaps and jolts, but if a low springboard is used, as it should be, the punishment is not severe, and one soon finds the way to avoid it.

The preliminary work is excellent training for body and mind in truth. It brings into play every set of muscles, placing upon each its full share of the effort; it schools the brain to think quickly and accurately; it tends to develop that enviable quality—nerve.

There is a marked disposition among novices nowadays to attempt from the first some difficult dives which strike their fancy, and the practise cannot be too strongly condemned. Apart from the fact that recklessness is often the cause of injury, nothing is gained by rushing ahead before undergoing the indispensable period of elementary work.

In order to perform properly any one of the complicated dives it is essential to be able to adjust the position of the body for a clean entry mechanically, instinctively, and this knack comes only after careful and persistent study of the plain front and back dives.

It is therefore all important to devote every attention to these fundamental principles before proceeding further and not even to attempt any other else until one is absolutely sure of consistent and almost perfect execution.

The front dive is usually taken at a run, for more action is then obtainable, but it is best to practise it first from standing position. Walk out to the end of the springboard, place both feet together, heels touching and toes bent over the edge; then raise the head, square the shoulders and either place the hands on the hips or stretch the arms forward and parallel at right angles to the body. The attitude should be graceful and unstrained.

Now bring the arms sharply down and back, raising simultaneously on tiptoe; then swing them quickly forward and spring up and out, launching yourself with head erect, body slightly arched, legs straight and close, feet pointing back.

This position is maintained until the downward curve brings one near the water, when the head is lowered a trifle, so that the entire body may pierce the surface forming a straight line, shaftlike, at an angle of from 50 to 90 degrees.

Prevalent faults to be avoided are moving the arms or ducking the head to prevent a slap in striking the water, bending at the waist while in flight, throwing back the lower legs in midair or in entering before they are fully submerged.

For the back dive the body is held similarly in starting, but the shoulders are turned to the water, and the heels, instead of the toes, protrude over the end of the board. Again, one springs up and out, raising the head and hollowing the back, then straightening to enter.

Usual faults incurred are twisting the body in any way to get a glimpse of the water, bending at the waist or knees, failing to point the toes, opening the legs and holding the head too low.

The jackknives, forward and back, which may be tackled next, are variations of the plain front dive. Although the former is made facing the water,

1st Field Artillery	0	3	.000

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) 1st Infantry 5, 4th Cavalry 4.

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Aug. 19.—The tenth inning game yesterday between the 4th Cavalry and 1st Infantry showed that the mounted service teams are not entirely out of the running, and that the two infantry teams will have to keep up a strong fight to keep the big lead they have already gained.

The 4th Cavalry team batted the 1st Infantry pitchers all over the lot and it was only a few bonehead plays that stood between them and the winning of the game. Both teams figured in some sensational fielding which, with the closeness of the contest, kept the fans wide awake from beginning to end.

The 1st Infantry scored a run in the first frame. The cavalry scored two and knocked Schubert out of the box. York replaced him and held the cavalry at bay for seven innings while the doughboys gradually ran up a score of four.

Bases Were Full.

In the last half of the ninth the cavalrymen got busy with York. It looked bad for the infantry team when singles by Hornung, Morton and Hayes filled the bases with no one out. Sadtler relieved York on the ground and pitched himself out of a hole, but not before the cavalry had scored two runs and tied the score. A single by Grammitt scored Hornung, and Roach, who batted for Shanley, drew a pass, forcing in the tying run. To Sadtler must be given the credit of saving the game.

In the tenth, Judd, the fast 1st Infantry left-fielder, got to first on a scratch hit, stole second and scored the winning run on Gallaher's hit to right.

Put Morton on Short.

Morton, who has been playing first base for the cavalry, was switched to short and played a star game. The clever way in which he backed up third base robbed the doughboys of at least two runs.

The Score: R. H. E.

1st Inf. 1 0 1 0 0 1 1 0 1—5 7 3

4th Cav. 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 0—4 3 5

Batteries.—For the 1st Infantry, Schubert, York, Sadtler and Gallaher; for the 4th Cavalry, Hornung, Clark and Grammitt. Struck out, by Schubert 6, by York 9, by Sadtler 3, by Hornung 3. Base on balls, off Schubert 0, off York 3, off Sadtler 1, off Hornung 3. Wild pitch, York 1. Passed balls, Grammitt, 1. Home runs, Madden and Hornung. Two-base hits, Heaton, Singles, Hines 2, Hayes 2, Heaton, Sadtler, Rowan, Buckland, Hornung, Grammitt, Gallaher and Morton. Sacrifice hits, Clarke, Judd, Buckland and Madden. Double play, Sadtler to Stratton. Umpire, Collins and Donahue.

Next Game.

The next game will be Saturday afternoon, when the 25th Infantry will play the wagon soldiers, and a stiff battle is predicted as the latter are anxious to get the goose egg out of the games column. The Portuguese will journey out to play the 1st Infantry on Sunday afternoon.

RICHARDS MADE FINE SHOWING IN BIG MAINLAND TOURNAMENTS

Won Doubles Championship in New England With Cushing—Entered in New York

J. A. Richards returned Tuesday on the Matsouka after his year at Wesleyan. During the spring and summer tennis seasons he was a prominent participant in many of the big tournaments.

Richards' most notable success was in the New England championships where, playing with Cushing, he won the doubles championship. He played again in the New York state championships and was beaten only by McElroy, who finally won the tournament, after three hard sets with the score standing 6-3, 3-5, 6-3.

His last match was at the great

Longworth tournament, the oldest tennis tournament in America. Here he found the going beyond his depth, for he was up against the best tennis players in the world. Even in this company, however, he lasted well and managed to reach the fourth round, when he was beaten by Clarence Griffin, the well known athlete from San Francisco.

The local tennis season is nearly at an end, but Richards will take part in the few remaining matches. The most important of these is to be played for the Hall cup in September and here he will find stiff competition from A. L. Castle and W. N. Eklund, the latter being the present champion of the islands, and the former a dangerous man on any court. Several others of the local stars may also enter these matches.

LOVE LETTERS OF 'DEATH VALLEY JIM' MADE OVER INTO LOVE LYRICS

Los Angeles, Cal., Sunday. My dearest Mae, come now the day—
The last in this old town:
I leave tonight at candle light
Without regret or frown—
Because, I know each day shall be
Nearer and nearer, Mae, to thee—
To good times—joy and ecstasy!

Just three days more and then for sure
We'll see a real live town—
A happy Jim will I be then—
As happy as a clown—
But there is Oakland, where they say
Our boys are scheduled for a stay—
But I want Frisco town—and Mae!

And, by the way, just let me say
Our Honolulu friends—
(Waikiki's guest) you know the rest—
Her hearty wishes sends;
She, too, in Frisco soon will be
With hubby, and with you and me,
And then we'll cook some jubilee.

I'll have to close and seek repose
But I will write you, Mae,
At every town, but do not frown
If I should miss a day;
I'd have you know where'er I go—
E'en to the big world's rim—
You have the love, my dearest one
Of big "Death Valley" Jim.
"When Miss Bailey," says the Examiner, "saw the verses, she blushed and said:
"Yes, that's the way Jim used to write and talk!"

WATCH PITCHERS FEET WHEN YOU WANT TO "STEAL"

"More bases should be stolen in this league."
That's one of the mottoes of Clarence Rowland, the White Sox pilot. And he says it with all respect to the catchers.

"The odds should all favor the runner," says Rowland. "That is, should if he really knows how to run bases. Most base runners who try to steal and don't get away with it don't know how to steal.

"They should be off with the motion of the pitcher. And when watching the pitcher to get his start, the base runner should watch not the twirler's face, shoulders or hands, as most base runners try to do.
"There's only one part of the pitcher's anatomy the base runner should keep his eye on. That's the pitcher's feet.

"The odds should all favor the runner," says Rowland. "That is, should if he really knows how to run bases. Most base runners who try to steal and don't get away with it don't

CHRISTIANIA—Rubber has become so scarce in Norway that private and public automobile traffic is seriously hampered, and a great number of motor cars have had to be taken off the roads until some arrangement can be made for securing tires from abroad. On several routes the tourist service by omnibus or charabanc has been stopped. The Royal Automobile Club and the foreign office are trying to obtain England's permission to purchase limited quantities of manufactured rubber in London.

FAMOUS CLIPPER OF TEA FLEET ROTS AWAY

Old and battered by storms of other days and by use as a "pirate" ship by half a dozen motion picture companies of Los Angeles, Hollywood and vicinity, the old bark "Alden Besse," well known in Honolulu for many years, is now ending her days in melancholy idleness at San Pedro, according to a feature story in the Los Angeles Times Sunday Magazine.
"Once among the finest of the tea clipper fleet, the Alden Besse is now reduced to the indignity of a coal hulk," says the article. "For seven years now—seven years of bad luck—she has been tied up at a dock, bought in for a song to satisfy wharfage charges. Deserted, abandoned in her old age by her owner, she drags out her days in hopeless inactivity. Once she sank out of pure ennui. Men raised her and forced her to resume her despised role. Once again, also she tried to sink, but without success. "It was when she was towed out into the outer harbor to be 'wrecked,' 'burned,' 'pirated,' for the benefit of gaping crowds at the movies. She who had battled with the elements in the real storm, who had carried a smouldering fire under decks clear from Honolulu to San Francisco, who had been attacked time and again by pirates in the China sea, was so disgusted—with the ineffectual mummy she attempted to murder the whole ridiculous crew. Be it said, they afterward left her in peace."
"Spreckels bought the Alden Besse after her day as a tea ship had passed, and sent her for a few trips to Honolulu, but she was aging fast. Perhaps she felt the pressure of the new era. She soon slumped back another notch and was put in the coastwise trade. The first time she saw San Diego she was loaded with railroad ties from Seattle. This was in 1906—nine years ago. Back and forth she went along the coast, with no great heart in the business, and then she was tied up at the Salt Lake wharf for a year."
"A group of San Pedrans sent her to Honolulu and brought her back with a varied cargo—but it didn't pay. The whole venture ended in law suits, liens and attachments. The once proud ship was in disgrace. She never left her berth again, except once or twice to coal steamers lying outside the harbor. With one day dragging hopelessly into another, the old bark can only await her end with what feelings no one may conjecture."

BRITISH INVADERS NIJNI NOVGOROD FAIR THIS YEAR
(By Associated Press.)
PETROGRAD.—For the first time in history a foreign country will be represented this year at the great Fair at Nijni Novgorod. Representatives of the English Committee of the Petrograd Chamber of Commerce are in Nijni Novgorod to collaborate with Russian and English representatives of wholesale houses to further British trade at the famous Fair.
The Fair of Nijni Novgorod, held in the latter part of the summer, is by far the largest affair of its kind in the world. The amount of sales made each year reaches a total of about $80,000,000. All kinds of raw products and manufactured articles are represented.
Nijni Novgorod is a city of about 100,000 persons located at the juncture of the Volga and Oka Rivers, about 250 miles northeast of Moscow. The population is doubled in fair time. The fairs are held in an extensive quarter along the Oka, the fair town being a city of itself, composed of a vast aggregation of stone buildings arranged in regular blocks, special sections being devoted to particular commodities. The grounds are brilliantly lighted by electricity.

ENGLAND TO PUT TABU ON ALL GERMAN TOYS
LONDON.—The exclusion of German war toys is what a movement started by the Countess of Stanford hopes to accomplish in Great Britain. But the movement is not alone an industrial one aimed against Germany, but an effort to provide a trade at which maimed soldiers can work when the war is over. Heretofore, Great Britain has bought about $7,500,000 worth of foreign toys, which have been almost of German make. The scheme provides for the financing of the industry by a 4 per cent loan. Surplus profits will be spent in developing the technical side of the business. Needy artists will be given jobs as designers.

WAR HAS SENT PRICES OF FOOD UP ONE-THIRD
LONDON.—The general increase in food prices during the first year of the war, according to the official Labor Gazette, is 35 per cent in the larger towns of Great Britain, and 30 per cent in small towns and villages.
In Germany, according to figures received here, the increase in the same time is about 65 per cent; and in Vienna, 75 to 80 per cent.

WILL REBUILD LOUVAIN AS REAL MODEL GERMAN TOWN
AMSTERDAM, Holland.—The Prussian Minister of the Interior has just completed a visit of inspection to Louvain in connection with the German government's scheme for reconstructing the city as a modern German town. A scheme for the rebuilding has been prepared by a German architect, and the government plans to spend about $7,500,000 on the initial stages of the scheme.

GERMANS FOR "ECONOMIC" CONTROL OF BELGIUM.
LONDON, Eng.—The Morning Post's Berne correspondent says: "The Germans are still busy discussing the future of Belgium, but it is remarkable that the position to annexation is not confined to the Social Democrats. What is now being advocated is a so-called economic subjugation of Belgium, which would afford Germany all the advantages of actual annexation without the expense and responsibility of administration and without raising a storm of opposition and protest in and out of Germany which the word annexation would be certain to produce."
"As regards Russia, the German government is determined that Courland, including Libau and Mitau, shall be incorporated in the empire."

BRITISH ARMY WILL ABANDON PUTTEE TO WEAR RUSSIAN BOOT
(By Associated Press.)
LONDON.—The British army has decided to discontinue the use of the puttee, which has been the distinguishing leg wear of the British soldier for many years, and to substitute the Russian army boot. This decision was arrived at as a result of last winter's campaign in Flanders, when it was found that the cloth puttee was little or no protection against the mud and water and led to the men suffering from frost bitten feet, but from numb feet and legs. Large orders have already been given for boots which will be supplied to the troops before winter sets in, as the War Office anticipates another winter in mid and water-soaked trenches.
