M'QUAID OUT ON BAIL, DRIVER FINDS NO BONDSMEN

The first step in the legal proceedings which are to be begun against W. M. McQuaid and Volney C. Driver, the principals in the shooting episode of November 4, was taken yesterday afternoon when charges of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill were formulated against both men. Driver and McQuaid were released from the hospital but were at once put under arrest and taken to the police station, where the charges were entered against them. Bail was fixed in the sum of $5,000 and McQuaid was released under bond for that amount, J. P. Cooke being the bondsman. Driver was not so fortunate and was forced to spend the night in jail.

He appeared in the dock at the police court this morning and was the cynosure of all eyes. There was a large crowd present in anticipation of an examination of Driver, but in this the spectators were disappointed, for when the complaint against Driver was read out, A. L. C. Atkinson, appearing for Driver, announced that his client would waive the examination in the police court.

District Magistrate Lymer then committed Driver to take his trial in the Circuit Court in the event of the Grand jury finding a true bill against him.

Attorney Atkinson asked that a bond be fixed for Driver's release, and to this District Magistrate Lymer consented, naming the sum of $5,000 as the amount.

"$5,000 is too much," said Attorney Atkinson, "Driver is unable to get that amount. If he cannot get it it means keeping him here in court. If I had not made an endeavor to get the money I would not state so to the court but I have been trying for two weeks and I have failed. Driver has been in the islands two years and has been on the plantations all that time and in the peculiar circumstances of this case he is unable to raise the amount."

Judge Lymer remarked that he appreciated all that, but at the same time, as the other party in the episode had found a bond for a like amount, he could not very well reduce the sum for Driver.

Attorney Atkinson—"I am sure the court does not want to keep him here, but that will result if the bond is kept so high."

Judge Lymer—"Mr. Cathcart, will you give the court your suggestions in this matter. This bond has been found by McQuaid and it is usually expected in these matters."

Attorney Cathcart—"You say you cannot get $5,000? I think you could get $5,000 as readily as any less amount in reason, I think, myself that $3,000 would be adequate for the purpose of securing the presence of the defendant here, but if he cannot get $5,000 I don't see how he can get $3,000."

Attorney Atkinson pointed out that the bonds cost $20 per thousand and they also had to put up security. He thought there was more chances of getting bonds for $3,000 than there were for $5,000.

Judge Lymer then fixed the amount at $3,000. McQuaid's name was then called thrice, meeting with no response. A murmur of surprise swept round the Court.

"I understand he is out on bond," said Attorney Cathcart.

Judge Lymer assented, stating he was cut on bond of $5,000.

Attorney Cathcart—"He should have been here this morning then."

Judge Lymer assented.

Attorney Cathcart—"Well, I don't like to forfeit his bond."

Judge Lymer—"I am not quite sure of the terms of the bond. It may have been made returnable by the 29th inst. We will look into the matter later."

It was afterwards found that McQuaid's bond was returnable on the 29th and the case was therefore continued until that date.

HAWAII TALKS BY WIRELESS WITH SITKA AND MARE ISLAND

Last night Kahuku wireless telegraph station got into perfect connection with Sitka, Alaska, both sending and receiving messages being clear. Besides the local station relayed messages from the far north to the mainland, breaking all records for the Pacific Ocean. Of the accomplishment Sidney B. Madams, chief operator at Kahuku, this morning made the following statement:

"About 10:30 last night was just preparing to clear with steamship China when I heard a very loud spark, calling Tatoosh Island, near Seattle. Tried to tune it out as the China was starting a message, but the strong spark was so loud that it completely drowned out all other sparks on any tune. After a long call the stranger signed off 'N. P. B.'"

"On looking this up in the directory I found that it was Sitka, Alaska, calling. Tatoosh failed to answer, so I called him and told him that Sitka was after him. He replied that he could not hear Sitka."

"I then called Sitka and asked him if he was trying to thaw the ice out up there with his big spark. He answered immediately and asked me to take his weather message for Mare Island. I did so and related it to Mare Island."

"None of the naval stations or ships along the Coast seemed to hear Sitka."

"The navy half hour being up by this time, the United States stations started in like a hive of bees, so I did not have a chance to get further data from Sitka as to power used, etc., and was too busy calling Manchuria and sending messages to get Sitka before it was early morning with him."

"The weather report sent from Alaska and related by me to the officials at Mare Island was as follows: 'Sitka, Alaska, 8 p. m., Nov. 21, 1910. Weather report: Rain light; north-east wind; temperature, 45; barometer, 29.92.'"

WIDESPREAD REBELLION AND MUCH FIGHTING

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

EL PASO, Texas, November 22.—The revolt in Mexico is widespread and reports coming over the border indicate that the Diaz government will have a serious struggle for existence.

The rebels have captured six towns on the Texan border state of Chihuahua, and have confiscated all the military supplies and equipment in them.

The City of Torreon has been taken after severe fighting during which many were killed.

The rebels took Orizaba, in the state of Vera Cruz, and liberated and armed all the military prisoners, and severe fighting has taken place in this state, also in the state of Jalisco, on the opposite side of the isthmus.

An unverified report says that 300 Mexican troops were blown up and killed, on a bridge on the road to the city of Chihuahua.

Two troops of American cavalry are at Eagle Pass, on the Texas-Chihuahua border, ready for action.

Placards have been posted in Pachuca, capital of the state of Hidalgo, threatening Americans. This has caused a flight of Americans.

CITY OF MEXICO, November 22.—Documents seized by the government reveal a plot by rebel leaders including plans to assassinate the heads of the government.

The rebellion now covers portions of various states from the Gulf of Mexico to the Pacific and from the United States border south to Tehuantepec. The government is putting forth vigorous efforts to suppress the uprising.

CRIPPEN TO HANG TOMORROW MORNING

LONDON, November 22.—The efforts to save Dr. Crippen have been given up by his friends and it is no longer doubted that the execution will be carried out according to programme. He will be hanged at nine o'clock tomorrow morning.

HISTORY OF THE CRIPPEN CASE

Dr. Crippen was convicted on October 23, after a trial lasting four days. The Lord Chief Justice of England presided and immediately after the sentence took occasion to tell the prisoner not to hope, as the evidence left no doubt of his guilt.

Lord Chief Justice Alverstone in summing up the case described Crippen as an extraordinary man, who was either guilty or innocent. If guilty he had covered up a ghastly crime in a ghastly way, and, it was believed, in a most brutal and callous manner. If he was innocent it was impossible to fathom his mind, as he was absolutely indifferent to the charge of murder. He had taken no step whatever to prove his innocence.

Crippen, the Justice declared, undoubtedly was a liar and lived an immoral life, but, he said, the jury could not convict the defendant on that score. It must be convinced that the human parts found were from the body of Belle Elmore and that her death was caused by a willful act of the prisoner. The Lord Chief Justice's

DEMOCRATS' MAJORITY OVER SIXTY

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 22.—A roster of the next House of Representatives shows that there will be 227 Democrats and 163 Republicans and one Socialist among the members.

ASQUITH IS AGAIN ASSAULTED.

LONDON, November 22.—Premier Asquith was again attacked by suffragettes today, and was rescued by police. There were no arrests and will be no prosecutions.

In the House of Commons today, before the attack upon him, the Premier announced that it was the intention of the government to consider a woman's suffrage bill at the next session.

TOLSTOI RESTS IN BIRTHPLACE.

TULA, Russia, November 22.—The funeral of the late Count Tolstol took place today. He was buried at Yasnaia Poliana, his birthplace.

NORFOLK, Va., November 22.—President Taft has arrived here, returning from his visit to Panama.

SAIGON, November 22.—A thousand persons have been drowned by floods in Annam.

SEVERE ORDER AGAINST TWO FORMER DEPUTY COLLECTORS

An order has been made in the custom house directing that E. A. Jacobson and C. H. Raven, who were until recently deputy collectors of customs, be prevented from going aboard any of the steamers calling here. Jacobson and Raven have recently taken over the business of the Union Pacific Transfer Company, and claim that it is necessary for their business that they should have the same rights that representatives of other transfer companies have, of boarding steamers off port and at the wharf, and they will take an appeal to Washington against the order of Collector Stackable barring them from the steamers.

In addition to the posted orders to keep the two former deputy collectors off the steamers, it is stated that verbal orders were issued by Collector Stackable to keep them off the wharves.

Jacobson said today that he and his partner proposed to appeal to the Treasury Department, on the ground that the order made by Collector Stackable was unauthorized and had personal animus. "There was not even a charge against me when I left the customs service after over fourteen years work," said Jacobson. He said further that the collector had had it "in" for him for many years, and that the new order was persecution, interfering with his attempt to establish a private business.

"I have been told that if I even go on a wharf, in the pursuit of my business, I shall be fired off by orders of the collector," said Jacobson. "Yet the collector is not able to suggest any charge against me after fourteen years of work under him. I ought to have left the service long ago on account of his petty insults as a superior officer. It seems now that I am to be prevented from making a living."

LINK SAYS HE CAN UPSET THE ELECTION; DEMOCRATS PLAN TO CONTEST SHINGLE

Contest talk is in the air in both political camps today, the Democrats having responded to Republican plans to contest the mayoralty with talk of a Shingle-Trent contest and more talk of a delegateship contest. McCandless declared today that he could go to Washington and upset the whole election. There is a good deal of an impression, however, that the Democrats are indulging in the game of "bluff" with a view to scaring the Republicans out of the Lane-Fern contest.

he had evidence which he considered sufficient, it presented in Washington, to upset the election. He did not say that he was going to try to do so, however. When asked if there was anything in the rumors of a contest as to the delegateship, he said that he had not intended, after the election, to make any contest, but intimated that he might do so.

"I can prove," said McCandless, "that three things beat us. They were coercion, money, and fraud at the polls. I claim that I can take a contest to Washington and upset the whole election, on the grounds named. When the figures were in, I decided to be a good loser and abide by the result. But if the Republicans want

The Mauna reported the Helene at Papaaloa, Niihau at Haka-lua, Kauai at Honoumou and Kailani at Hilo. On the homeward trip the Mauna Kea passed the Columbia off Kinau light bound for Hilo. The following shipping was at Hilo:—Claudine, Kauai, Kailani, Lighthouse tender Kukui and the schooner Spokane. The Mauna Kea's cargo included one lot of ohia paving blocks and sixty-two packages of sundries. With the paving blocks already on the inter-island wharf the lot brought in by the Mauna Kea brings the number up to 16,000 and these will be used for paving the wharf.

CHEONG LOY TRIAL.

A disreputable looking Chinese named Cheong Loy sat in the First Circuit Court yesterday, looking the picture of abject misery, listening to the details of a horrible assault he had been charged with having committed on a small Hawaiian child. Judge Cooper was on the bench, and the following jury had been empanelled: Clarence Crabbe, W. M. Buchanan, Paul O. Schmidt, R. G. Moore, E. K. Kaula, George Anderson, Sam Ladd, Fred Kilbey, Thomas, Rawcastle, J. H. Myatt, John Markham, and Bruce Cartwright, Jr.

There is a second charge of a similar nature against the accused in connection with the little girl's sister. Deputy City & County Attorney Brown appeared to prosecute, and S. F. Chillingworth for the defendant.

JAPANESE PAPER DEMANDS EXPLORER KILL HIMSELF.

VICTORIA, (B. C.), November 10.—Lieutenant Shirase, organizer of the Japanese expedition to the South Pole announced to sail November 15th on the steamer Tenso Maru, of 200 tons, has been called upon to commit harakiri by the Yamato of Tokio because of his failure, according to reports brought by the Inaba Maru. The explorer, however, does not see any necessity for acceding to the newspaper's request that he kill himself. Some other vernacular papers charge graft in the purchase of his vessel, for which $17,500 was paid, they alleging this to be more than twice her worth. The Asahi of Tokio, which took a prominent part in organizing the expedition, has withdrawn.

U. S. BACKWARD IN WAR AVIATION

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2.—"Aerial navigation has taken hold of the entire civilized world so no other subject in recent times, and represents a movement that no forces can possibly check. In its military aspects it is a subject which we must seriously consider, whether we wish to or not, and the sooner this fact is acknowledged and measures taken to put us abreast with other nations, the better it will be for our national defense."

So says Brig. Gen. James Allen, chief officer of the army, in his annual report to the Secretary of War. He recounts the action taken by Great Britain, Germany, France and Russia for the encouragement of research and tests in aeronautics, and says: "It is evident that the United States should, without delay, make due provision for carrying on similar work for the various government departments interested and to assist the large number of American inventors and manufacturers at present devoting themselves to the problems of aerial navigation."

Once First: Now Behind.
"Although the United States was the first nation to officially recognize the aeroplane for military purposes, and carried out official tests in September, 1908, demonstrating the practicability of mechanical flight, yet such has been the rapid development of aerial navigation since that date that this country has been left far behind in its aeronautical equipment and its trained personnel. In fact, the only aeronautical equipment that this nation possesses at present consists of one small practice dirigible balloon, one Wright aeroplane and three small captive balloons."

"It may be said without hesitation that the principal military subject at present engrossing the attention of congresses and parliaments of European first-class powers is the possible influence of aerial navigation upon the military art; in the past year aeronautics, as far as our army is concerned, has been practically at a standstill. In the meantime European powers are displaying marked activity in the development and supply of both the dirigible and the aeroplane for war purposes."

Must Prepare in Advance.
"Experienced military airmen cannot be created after war is declared and the demands of this new service will undoubtedly require higher qualities of training, judgment and courage than any other branch of the military service. Military authorities agree that the only way to meet aerial attacks is by similar weapons, and that there is no chance of adequate protection being given locally. The advent of aerial navigation has, in fact, extended the vulnerable area of a country to every acre of its territory."

"The past year has been one of unprecedented activity and achievement scarcely ever before equaled in the development of any new art. A year ago only a very few specialists could fly in aeroplanes, and then only in very selected weather. At present hundreds of people can fly aeroplanes, and furthermore they can fly in weather which twelve months ago was considered absolutely prohibitive. It may be said that aeroplanes can fly in at least half the days of the year and half the hours of the day, if there be sufficient reason for so doing."

"The Signal Corps at present has but one lieutenant and nine enlisted men on duty in connection with aeronautics, and until the Signal Corps is increased by suitable legislation it will be impossible to furnish more officers and men for the absolutely necessary training demanded in airmanship.

At Least Twenty Machines Needed.
"There is now but one officer of the Signal Corps who is a licensed pilot for free balloons. At a low estimate it is believed that at least twenty aeroplanes should be in the service of the United States on regular practice at different points of the country throughout the year and present at the camps of instruction for regular troops and organized militia. This estimate is considered extremely low and would provide but two aeroplanes for each camp of instruction. To operate this number of aeroplanes would require at least twenty specially trained officers as pilots. In addition to this each machine must carry at least one observer, which, experience has shown, will require much training and actual practice before the usefulness of the aeroplane is attained."

"The New Field Service Regulations, 1910, provide for aeronautical companies of the Signal Corps, fully equipped with suitable aeronautical devices for service with the mobile forces. At present not even a model of such a company could possibly be organized, nor will it be possible to do so until the Signal Corps is increased by suitable legislation."

Behind in Wireless Methods.
Gen. Allen says that as the United States has not given its adherence to the convention for international control of wireless telegraphy, ships flying the American flag find themselves without standing in such international communication. None of the contracting countries, he says, is compelled to receive a telegram from the ship of a non-contracting country, and any coastal station in a foreign country may refuse transmission of a message to a station on shipboard subject to a non-contracting country. Gen. Allen recommends that the matter be brought anew to the consideration of Congress.

It is recommended also that the War Department urge the necessity for appropriate legislative action looking to the definite control of wireless telegraphy and telephony in peace and war.

REBELLION SWEEPS MEXICO

CITY OF MEXICO, November 22.—Alarming reports are reaching the capital from all sides, indicating that the rebellion in southern Mexico has flamed into the plateau States and the northern districts, and that the first dangerous revolution in Mexico in fifteen years is in progress.

Telegrams were received at the presidential palace last night stating that fierce fighting has occurred outside the Ciudad de Durango and in the province of Durango in general, including the city of Torreon to the north. In Chihuahua insurgents have clashed with the loyal troops in the streets of Parral.

A later and more urgent message reported that the insurgents had stormed Gomez Palacio, a town of seven thousand souls. After a weak stand, the three hundred federal troops which formed the garrison revolted and went over to the insurgents.

Still another report states that Francisco Medero, the revolutionary leader, has entered Mexico near Laredo, Texas, with six hundred followers to stir up the northern States and advance on the capital. By President Diaz' orders, federal troops are now moving northward to Monterey to intercept him, and a battle is expected.

The government has commenced conscripting and raising troops for emergency service.

Enlist Indians.

EL PASO, November 22.—It has been reported here that revolutionary agents have been moving among the Yaqui Indians throughout northern Mexico, stirring them into revolt and enlisting them under the revolutionary banner. Great numbers of the Indians are joining the rebel ranks, smarting under the outrages against them committed by the Mexican government, and burning for revenge.

Troops Out.

Acting under orders from the war department a troop of the Third United States Cavalry started yesterday for the border line on a special train and encamped at Eagle Pass last night. Camp equipment is taken and the troopers are ready for instant fighting should any outrage break out on the American side of the line. They will move on to the more southern-most border today along the Mexican National Railway.

Break Communication.

LAREDO, Texas, November 22.—The situation in Mexico is apparently serious for the first time in fifteen years and it seems, from numerous reports received here that Porfirio Diaz has lost his iron grip on the country. No concerted action is evident and the insurrections are breaking out in various parts of the country without definite purpose or organized head.

The Mexican government has commandeered the Associated Press' leased wire under the plea of military necessity. Communication is interrupted and a fair idea of the size of the insurrectionary movement can not be obtained. Wires are cut in many parts of the republic.

SEATTLE CHIEF OF POLICE UNDER FIRE

SEATTLE, November 22.—Sensational charges and countercharges involving the integrity of the Seattle police department were ended yesterday by the adoption by the city council of a report recommending the dismissal of Chief Wappenstein.

The action is a direct slap at the mayor. Wappenstein was dismissed by the acting mayor and a new police executive appointed during the mayor's absence from the city several months ago. This was the result of numerous charges accusing the chief of accepting money from the tenderloin resorts and permitting the town to run "wideopen."

When the mayor returned, the new chief was kicked out and Wappenstein reappointed. Since then the council has appointed a commission to report on the truth of the charges which are said to have been substantiated by the resultant investigation.

PEOPLE DEFRAUDED

OUT OF $100,000,000
NEW YORK, November 22.—Postmaster-General Hitchcock announced last night, after an investigation of the alleged bucketshop operations of the Burr Brothers, that this firm had sold forty or fifty million dollars worth of oil, mining and wireless stocks, most of which were practically valueless.

He added sensational statements accusing the gaudily furnished bucketshops of New York city and other centers of similar nature of operations by which millions annually are fleeced from the investors who believe in their wiles.

During the last five years, he says, the people have been swindled out of $100,000,000 by fraudulent concerns selling bogus or worthless oil, mining and similar stocks.

Official and popular ire has been

ANTI AMERICAN DEMONSTRATION ONLY A BLIND?

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 19.—That Mexico is in the hands of an incipient revolution whose aim is the overthrow of the present government, is the statement of Mexican revolutionary leaders here today. Mexico City, according to private advices they have received, is really in a state of siege. Americans are in great danger, the advices say, and many of them are barricaded in homes. The revolutionists claim to have authentic information that two Americans, a school child and a young man, were killed in the outbreaks yesterday.

The burning of Antonio Rodriguez at Rock Springs was not the real cause of the Mexico City outbreak, they assert, but was merely seized upon as an opportunity for a demonstration which would allow the revolutionists to gather their forces without too much interference from the police and federal troops. Attacks on Americans are likely to continue as a blind, it is said, until the revolutionists are in a position to declare themselves. The situation in the Mexican capital is critical. The revolutionary leaders there say that revolutionists in Mexico have been planning a revolt and that the plans were already completed and the leaders have been waiting for an attack on the government.

"They seized on the present occasion for patriotic demonstrations" to divert the suspicion of government leaders and carry out their plans.

The gravity of the situation is being depreciated by the government, it is said, and press reports from Mexico City do not give full details of the outbreak. Private dispatches say that a young American was lynched yesterday by the mob and that a school child was killed when a street car was stopped. It is intimated here that the mob has gone to such lengths to convince the government that the outbreak is genuine and to end any suspicion of revolutionary leadership in demonstrations.

CONCERT TONIGHT.

The Hawaiian band will play at Thomas square this evening, presenting the following numbers:
Overture—Jubilee Flotow
Fantasia—The Monk's Dream. Saffroni
Finale—The Huguenots ... Meyerbeer
Selection—Lohengrin Wagner

Reminiscences of Bellini ... Godfrey
Grand March—La Hanau Berger
Finale—The Giggles Haines
The Star Spangled Banner.

roused against the Burr Brothers, and their arrest yesterday is taken as indicating a general and stringent campaign on the part of State and federal authorities against the concern. Thorough examination is being given the books of a firm raided yesterday.

UNITED STATES LEADS IN TRYING TO ESTABLISH AN INTERNATIONAL COURT OF JUSTICE

NEW YORK, November 4.—It appears probable from information recently received by the World-Federation League Headquarters here that some of the other world powers will follow the example set by the United States in appointing a peace commission, and that the combined efforts of these powers, the United States taking the initiative, will result in the establishment of a supreme court of international justice.

This tribunal—the powers of which may be vested in The Hague court, instead of selecting another body—will be empowered to decide all controversies between nations, not excepting questions of national honor. The work of the commissioners would supplement and assist the work of The Hague conferences.

It is believed that the American peace commission can draft a protocol or treaty which may be presented to the powers for their approval and ratification and that when six or eight of the powers shall have assented, the court can be constituted. This done, the signatory nations can diminish appreciably their expenditures for military and naval purposes.

The World-Federation League was influential in getting Congress to authorize the President to appoint the American peace commission, which consists of five members. At the international peace congress held in Stockholm in August a resolution was passed requesting the other nations to appoint similar peace commissions.

Similar action was taken by the inter-parliamentary conference at Brussels in September.

The World-Federation League seeks to dignify the American peace commission in the eyes of the American public and of the world in general, in order to win for it proper financial and other support at home and proper cooperation from other governments. If the body of the people can be impressed with the thought that there is in sight and measurably near at hand a way to escape the oppressive burden of armaments, the league workers feel confident that they can more than counterbalance the interests that would perpetuate the conditions that now make armaments obligatory.

It is believed that the majority of governments will deal fairly with the proposition and appoint commissioners who are not committed to militarism or who would block progress toward world organization in the rational manner proposed.

Having succeeded in getting the first step taken by the United States government, the efforts of the World-Federation League are now being bent to obtain the next one—cooperation by other powers and to that end a study of the situation is presented to all persons interested in the furtherance of such a project for benefiting civilization and all mankind.

The league headquarters are situated at 25 Broad street, New York city, and are the center of distribution from time to time of publications bearing upon the progress of the movement.

CHINESE PUZZLE

The question of whether Jue Yuen-moy, who has been accused of having embezzled money in San Francisco, was entitled to bail was settled yesterday afternoon before Judge Whitney. Deputy City and County Attorney Milverton contended that the Chinese was not entitled to bail, and Attorney McBride who appeared for the prisoner, contended that he was. Both attorneys said that they could quote authorities in support of their statements.

Judge Whitney ruled in favor of Deputy Milverton.

The woman Ah Hoo-yuen, who arrived on the Sierra on Friday last was before Commissioner Davis for a few minutes during the morning. Attorney McBride appeared to defend her on the charge of being illegally in the territory, submitter a landing paper. This set out that Ah Hoo-yuen had been in the country for forty-seven years. Fifteen years ago, according to the document, she went to China, where she remained for three years, but returned to Portland. The photograph that was attached to the paper was an excellent portrait of the woman. The woman denied that she had ever seen the paper before, and added that the picture was not one of herself.

The further hearing of the matter was continued until Monday next.

A MONSTER BILL.

The Savoy presented four vaudeville acts last night besides some excellent motion pictures. The Oldfields and Frank Foster doubled in a coon act and created a good deal of amusement for the audience and won applause for themselves. The Wilsons did a good turn at song and dance and the Countess de Pomme sang three songs sweetly.

As a whole the program is about as good as any ever given in the Savoy which accounts for the fact that every seat was taken early in the evening. The twenty-five cent special reserved seats last night for the first time were sold early and the idea of having a really good place for observation seemed to meet with the ready approval of the audience. The program

THE MAN FROM MEXICO AT THANKSGIVING MATINEE

An enthusiastic and factiously receptive audience greeted the revival of the time-honored farce, "The Man From Mexico," at the New Orpheum last night. The George B. Howard Company, advantageously cast, made the most of the hilarious comedy and the fusillade of riotous situations came early and stayed late. "The Man From Mexico" as portrayed by George Howard is a peculiar individual, and as a Class A liar, he is the limit.

Bonjamen Fitzhew gets into trouble and has to "do" thirty days in jail. This is a most embarrassing position and his enforced absence is accounted for, so he thinks, by a world tale of proposed trip to Mexico. He serves his time, returns to his wife and home and without the slightest compunction expatiates upon the virtues and grandeur of Mexico. He veen attempts to show his friends and wife how the fandango is done but his movements have a strong suggestion of the loek-step. He finally succumbs to the "third degree," instituted by the women and he is forced to admit that his Mexico was in the four walls of the "pen."

"The Man From Mexico" proves one of the best comedies in the Howard repertoire and it is sure to do record business during the balance of its limited run. It will be repeated tonight, Wednesday and Thanksgiving day on which occasion a special matinee will be given to ladies and children. As an added feature for Thanksgiving day the newsboys of Honolulu will be the guests of the Hawaiian Star, a section of the theater having been set aside for them. This will be a gala day for the newsies, and the Howard company, the management of the New Orpheum and The Star will join to make the occasion one to be long remembered.

Thanksgiving night the Howard company will make a change of program and present here for the first time "The Suntan's Daughter," an uproariously funny farce, a present mainland hit and one of the best comedies ever seen here

THE SUPREME POLICY.

Some real advance in the cause of land settlement may be expected from the official visit of the governor and the land commissioner to the Island of Hawaii. There is no policy of the territorial government more important than this one of having the public lands settled with independent cultivators. It is the greatest pending factor in the development of Hawaii toward statehood. Combined with the proper disposition of the lands is the matter of conservation and control of the water resources. The construction of homestead roads is also vital. A commission has the question of marketing in hand.

There will be ground for grave public disappointment if the administration does not have practical measures to submit or at least suggest to the legislature, containing solutions, such as the various investigations may indicate, of the fourfold problem—that of settlement, water, roads and markets.

A COROLLARY OF PROMOTION.

When the federal authorities were mapping out the status of Hawaii as a military outpost of the nation, one of the matters to which greatest importance was attached was that of the capacity of the islands to produce sustenance for troops and animals in the event of protracted blockade or siege. This is an example that might wisely be followed by the One Hundred Thousand Club.

An increase of the population of Honolulu means a corresponding increase in the demand for food to sustain the inhabitants. If a large proportion of the necessities of life continue as now to have to be imported from the mainland, not to mention considerable supplies from foreign countries, the growth of population will correspondingly swell the food bill of Hawaii. Promotion of population should therefore be accompanied by stimulation of the home production of staples of food. If the ratio of such increase of productiveness fall behind that of the growth of population, the cost of living will almost inevitably be raised and none but the rich will find existence here tolerable.

Indeed, some observing persons here, with knowledge of what has happened in Southern California towns, have been heard to raise objections to the promotion of Honolulu as a desirable residence place on the ground that the more residents of a leisurely class there were the harder it would be for those who have to earn their living to subsist, owing to the dearthness in the common requirements of a decent table which would be produced, especially while Hawaii depended largely on the outside world for staples of subsistence. There may be more in this objection than many of us have imagined.

What is to be advised, though, is not the letting up of the work of promoting the coming of transient and permanent guests. Everybody with a particle of civic pride wants the city to grow in point of agreeable population. But there are more ways of promoting than one. Besides the natural attractions of climate and scenery, there are artificial attractions, both permanent and ephemeral, to which our promotionists invite the world's attention. In considering the question of creatable attractions, however, sight has been lacking with regard to making Honolulu desirable for the cost and kind of living it offered. Ordinary articles of diet should be furnished in fresh and fine quality and at reasonable prices in the first place, and this can be done more certainly if the staples are produced on domestic soil than if they are imported, especially in the case of articles that have to come in on ice or in cold storage. What is more demanded and yet more deficient than anything else here is a regular supply and complete variety of tropical and sub-tropical fruits and vegetables. This is what the visitor expects but is too greatly disappointed in getting in Hawaii.

Promotion will not be adequate until it includes commissariat.

It is months since the rottenness in the police administration of Seattle was exposed, and at last the city council has ended an investigation with a recommendation that the chief of police be dismissed. As the mayor on returning from a vacation some time ago reappointed the chief, who had been dismissed in the former's absence by the acting mayor, it is likely that the recall will be put in operation against the mayor. It was reported before that this was going to be done anyway. Slow as the proceedings have so far been to redeem its good name, Seattle is probably in for a thorough civic housecleaning.

One bucket shop firm investigated by Postmaster General Hitchcock is found to have swindled the public out of forty or fifty million dollars by the sale of worthless stocks. It is further estimated that concerns of this class have robbed the people of $100,000,000 in the past five years. Probably there are few living who can remember when the bucket shop evil was not denounced, so that an approximately correct estimate of what it has cost victims would be staggering. What is most amazing about the matter is that effective legislation against this form of robbery has never been devised.

Impure food and drink are among the principal causes of disease. The great modern weapon against disease is prevention. Remove the causes and the diseases simply do not appear. There should be no two opinions of the desirability and necessity of the food protection ordinance now pending.

SELECTING THE PAU PEACHES

Miss Libbie Peck has been appointed to represent the Island of Oahu as "Princess" in the 1911 Floral Parade. The appointment was made yesterday by Miss Rose Davison, who has charge of the Island Princesses feature of the parade, and is one that meets with universal favor. Miss Peck is a most charming young woman and a graceful rider. The other Islands will have difficulty in selecting Oahu's choice.

It is possible that Miss Wilhelmina Weight, Hawaii's Princess last year, may again be selected for the coming parade. A committee of the Hilo Board of Trade has the matter in hand, and Miss Davison expects to hear from it very soon. Both Maui and Kauai have committees at work, and will probably have their representatives chosen within the next week or two.

Uncle Walt

The Poet Philosopher

The north wind comes from its retreat among the wastes of ice and sleet; it comes from some far arctic coast, and hits us where we feel it most. And now the man who blithely wrought in summer, when the days were hot, has in his larder flour and jam, limburger cheese and pies and ham. His bins are running o'er with coal, and in his barn the horses roll in hay that came from Battle Creek; and he, himself, is fat and sleek. The north wind comes with wailing cry, and dark and sullen is the sky. And now the man who spent his days in idle and in foolish ways, who loafed about the weary town and called the nation's statesmen down, is asking hand-outs at the doors of those who wrought and did their chores. The idler's larder has no jam, no kraut or wienewurst or ham; the idler's wife is weeping sore; his children raise a hungry roar. Oh, let us heed the idler's bleat, and give him stuff to drink and eat, and keep his children from despair, and ease his poor wife's load of care, but when the summer comes again, and there's demand for working men, let's prod the idler from the street, and make him labor and repeat!

DO YOU SPRAY?

And are you anxious to get rid of the many pests that ruin your plants and trees? If you want to get rid of the pests you will be interested in "BLACK LEAF 40" and the following expert testimony: From G. E. Bremner, Secretary California State Commission of Horticulture:

I am convinced in my own mind that "Black Leaf 40" will prove a great success on young lecaniums and other soft bodied scale insects, also white fly larvae (A. citri), when used in combination with a small amount of oil emulsion or soap.

I have seen its efficiency thoroughly tested on thrips and have used the same combination, "Black Leaf 40" and 2 per cent. oil emulsion, on red spider with remarkable success.

I have also used "Black Leaf 40" in combination with Arsenate of lead for calyx spraying of apples and not only prevented the attack of codling moth, but completely controlled the curl leaf aphid, which has been such a destructive pest for the past few years.

I also am convinced that the coating of the seed of the cucurbitace family (cucumbers, squash, etc.), or any other seed attacked by wire worms with the ordinary "Black Leaf" will prove the most effective remedy yet tried for these troublesome pests.

One 10 1-2 lb. can of Black Leaf 40 will make up 1,000 gallons of the spraying fluid you need. We have it put up in small bottles for the convenience of those who only need a little to spray a few choice plants. Ask the Hawaiian Experimental Station experts what they think about Black Leaf 40. PLANTATIONS TO LOSE LEASED LAND

The Hawaiian Agricultural Company in Kau district, Hawaii, will be most affected by the governmental policy of offering lands for sale for homesteading purposes as rapidly as leases to plantations expire. This plantation has 3,458.67 acres of land in cane, but controls a great deal more as forest land, pasture, etc. Of the lands to be thrown open to homesteaders, the following are particulars:

Mohokea, 1 and 2—Total area, 912 acres, divided as follows: Cane land,

Sugar Statement Of Federal Reporter

The Federal Reporter (New York) of November 4 contained the following interesting observations on the sugar market.

RAW SUGAR.—We have had a steady market, with the undertone somewhat improved, because of the Makaka—Total acreage, 156, divided as follows: cane, 170; pasture, 16. Annual rental, $601.

Kaillua, etc., (Wood Valley)—Total acreage, 3160, as follows: cane, 1256; pasture, 1904. Annual rental, $4,901.

The totals are as follows: 4725 acres of land, divided as follows: cane, 2290; forest, 293; pasture, 2142. Total annual rental, $7,553.

The Hawaiian Agricultural Company appears to be little concerned about the matter of parting with the leases, for the reason that whether they grow the cane or not they will or must handle it.

The Honokaa leases to be offered for homesteading purposes are of land sandwiched in between the mauka lands of Honokaa proper and the mauka lands of Paauhau. In this case, too, homesteaders would be obliged to handle their crops through Honokaa, making the business practically that of contract cane growing as understood in the islands.

Waianae, on this island, will be called upon for a larger part of its leased property; but here, too, the cane land is so situated that grinding will have to be done at Waianae; so that it will be contract cane growing under another name—with the homesteader as the buffer between the Waianae company and the government.

All in all, the new arrangement will be annoying merely to the extent of changing the system in vogue on the various estates as to these certain lands; but it is not yet clear that either of the plantations will be any the worse for the change.

CONSERVATION PARTY.

Governor and Mrs. Frear were passengers in the Mauna Kea today for Mahukona. Accompanying them—although proceeding to Hilo—are W. H. Barrington, Donald Gray and James T. Taylor, all interested in the big irrigation project planned for Kau. Marston Campbell, superintendent of public works, accompanies Governor and Mrs. Frear. The Governor will look into homestead propositions on the big island and will then, in conjunction with the gentlemen mentioned, investigate conservation subjects and the proposed irrigation canal.

BALDWIN IN JANUARY.

Hon. H. P. Baldwin, who left recently for the mainland, will extend his stay abroad until about the first of January. He is combining business with pleasure in his tour.

better prices being paid in the London market. This, in turn, it is said, is due to covering by shorts. Such a condition is to be expected after the violent declines of last month. There has been but one sale during the week, and that to the Warner Sugar Refining Company, consisting of 23,000 bags Cuba Centrifugals, reshipped at Amsterdam, for Antwerp, and about to clear for New York, on the basis of 3.80c duty paid for 96 deg. test. The owners of the 1,800 tons Cubans, in store New York and Philadelphia, and the 20,000 tons Javas on the three steamers now at Delaware Breakwater awaiting orders, have advanced their ideas to the basis of 3.87c duty paid for the Javas, and 3.88c for the store sugars, while additional quantities of Cuba sugars, for prompt shipment from the U. K., have been offered on the basis of 3.85c duty paid for 96 deg. test. There is also some Philippine sugar afloat which has been offered about on the basis of 3.80c duty paid, and the Cuban sugar in store at Philadelphia could probably be bought on the same basis. Refiners have been disposed to hold off, apparently in the belief that the improvement abroad would soon exhaust itself, and prices would gradually sag back to, or below, the previous low level. Sellers today claim that the Java sugars at the Breakwater could be sold at 9s 9d c. l. c., the equivalent of 3.81c duty paid. Whether or not this is true, it is rather difficult to say. Feeling that immediately available sugar is comparatively scarce, and held in few hands, owners are showing anxiety, and quite naturally feel that any slight advance should be paid, it would be quickly followed by a reaction, as, with but a moderate demand for refined sugars, the tendency of values must be towards the lower level at which new crop Cuba sugar will be available. So far there has been little effort to sell new sugars, but no doubt December-January shipment could be bought at 2 1/4c cost and freight, the equivalent of 3.60c duty paid New York, and later delivery at 1-8c less. As this market is on practically the same basis as Europe, it is expected that Brazil sugars will soon be available for shipment to New York. The closing is quiet, but steady, with indications in favor of no important sales of raw sugar until after election holidays on Tuesday of next week. The spot price remains on the basis of 3.80c duty paid for 96 deg. centrifugals, 3.30c duty paid for 89 deg. Muscovadoes and 3.05c duty paid for 89 deg. molasses sugars. The visible supply is 720,000 tons, as compared with 690,000 tons last year. Messrs. Willitt & Gray estimate the total visible stocks and afloats as 726,934 tons, an increase of 81,130 tons from last

STOCKS AGAIN SAG ON LOCAL MARKET

The prediction in these columns yesterday that Hawaiian Commercial would settle from around $22.50 to $31.50, came very near being realized this morning, 5 and 50 shares changing hands at $31.75. Of the close of the session $31.625 was bid and $31.875 asked for the stock.

Oahu was also weaker and is inclined downward. Between boards 10 shares sold at $24.125, followed by 200, 100 and 30 at $24. On the board this morning 10 shares sold at $24. At the close more stock was offered at the same, but bidding had dropped to $23.875.

Waialua today is quoted at $56.50 bid and $59 asked; McBryde, $3.50 bid; Oiaa, $4 asked.

Sales other than of sugar stocks were: 10 Pineapple, at $31; $2000 O. R. & L. fives, at $101.25; $3000 H. R. T., at $104.

RAIN AT PIONEER.

Report has reached Hackfeld & Company of quite good rains at Pioneer Mill at the end of last week, breaking the dry spell which had been in evidence for some weeks. The plantation received an excellent soaking, ditches were filled and there was quite a heavy fall on the mountains back of the plantation.

STEWART'S HOME SOLD.

Elmer L. Schwartzburg, auctioneer, sold the homestead of T. McCants Stewart, in Kalihi, at noon today to satisfy a mortgage of the Bank of Hawaii. A client of the bank purchased the property for the sum of $3000. The premises include 1.14 acres of land and one of the best houses in the locality.

Mr. Stewart is now a government official in the Republic of Liberia, west Africa.

TO HALEIWA

Most any day will be the right one to spend at Haleiwa this week. A good meal will be served every day as usual and one day will be a little better than the rest. There is a charm about Haleiwa that is not to be found elsewhere on this island. It is far enough away from the city to escape the noise and there is all of the beautiful surroundings that any place in the city affords. If a rest is needed this is the place to get it. The hotel is elegantly arranged, the service and rooms are good and the cuisine unexcelled. A trip on the train or in an auto will be enjoyed.

A Few Words To The Wise

If you intend to purchase an automobile do not allow yourselves to be misled by a few high-sounding phrases. Talk the matter over with your friends—who are owners of cars—and be guided by their experience. The safest way is to take the car made by the oldest time-tried factories, which have successfully built cars for years. You do not always find these amongst the racing cars; they do not have to race to establish a reputation. Ask any automobile expert here or on the mainland about such cars as the

Cadillac
Pope-Hartford
Stevens-Duryea
Overland
Buick

and all of them will tell you that these (each in its class) are amongst the choicest of American cars built today.

Ask your friends who are owners of these cars here what they think of their choice, then call on us and allow us to demonstrate to you.

You will always find us ready and pleased to be at your service, and above all we guarantee to give you a square deal.

KAMEHAMEHAS FORGE AHEAD

The two leading teams in the Grammar School Association Football League met yesterday afternoon on the Makiki Field, and after an interesting game the Kamehameha School emerged victors against the Kaahumanu by three goals to nil. Great interest was taken by the members of the league and their supporters in this match, as prior to it neither team had been scored against. The Kamehamehas having three straight victories, and the Kaahumanus having two wins and one draw to their credit.

In the first half of the game the Kamehamehas scored twice. Manoha and Pahai Pahai piloting the ball into the net, but the Kaahumanus gave a good display of football, being weary, however, when in front of goal. In the second half the Kamehameha boys bag all the better of the play, and bombarded the Kaahumanus' goal incessantly, though only one shot got through, Kulelani beating the custodian.

The Kaahumanus failed to break through the defense of the Kamehameha boys and had the mortification of seeing their hitherto unsullied record besmirched with a three-nought loss. The result of this game has put the Kamehameha boys well ahead, while Punahous and Kaahumanus are now level for second place.

The competition table is as follows:

Name	W.	L.	D.	F.	A.
Kamehameha	4	0	10	0	8
Kaahumanu	2	1	6	3	5
Punahou	1	0	3	2	1
Normal	1	0	2	1	0
St. Louis	1	1	1	6	3

Y. M. C. A.'S WIN A LIVELY GAME

The Y. M. C. A. indoor baseball experts evened matters up with the Kauluwela team last night by inflicting upon it a defeat by thirteen runs to eight. The match was keenly contested all the way, the Kauluwela boys leading by three runs to two at the end of the eighth. In the first of the ninth the Y. M. C. A. team made two runs and held the Kauluwela boys down to one, thus equal-

THE SCHEDULE A HARD PROBLEM

Representatives of the four teams in the Hawaiian Association League met in the room of the Scottish Thistle Club last night to arrange the schedule for the coming season, but after two hours discussion they were no "forer" than when they commenced.

The soldiers and the Kamehameha School having finally decided to stand aloof from the League this season at least, leaves four teams competing, each to play the other twice. This means twelve matches, two on each Saturday for six weeks, and under ordinary circumstances each team would play three early and three late matches. But the exigencies of business stand in the way of the Honolulu Iron Works team playing in the early games, as work does not finish with them until two o'clock and the early games are scheduled to take place at 2:30. Of course, the other three teams did not take kindly to the suggestion that the Iron Works team play all late matches, and even the concession to play one early match on Christmas day and one towards the end of the season did not improve matters much. The High School representative agreed on behalf of his team to play four early matches out of the six, but neither the Punahous nor the Males would take four and so straighten out matters.

A dozen or more suggestions were made, but all were found unworkable, and at the end of the session the meeting had to acknowledge that it had come to a deadlock. Thereupon the captains of the Males, High School and Punahou were named as a committee to arrange matters to suit themselves and report to the executive as soon as convenient. Either the Punahous or the Males will have to play four early games, or else the season will have to be extended a week and only one match played on each of the last two Saturdays to even up matters.

If the schedule can be so arranged two games will be played on each of the following dates: December 17 and 25; January 7, 14, 21, and 28. The final Saturday of the year has been left blank, as it is expected that a league team will journey to Maui to play against a selected team from that island. The proposal was received by O. P. Soares of the High School from E. I. Kellett of Kahului. In the invitation it was suggested that the High School team visit Maui, but Soares proposed that a league team would be preferable, as the game would then attract great attention, and would mean a large crowd from Honolulu. In his invitation Kellett promised that a silver trophy would be presented to the winners. The proposition was favorably received and the date left open in order that the invitation could be availed of in suitable arrangements could be made.

Four referees were named in the persons of L. G. Blackman, J. W. Bains, J. R. M. Maclean and H. L. Strange. Another meeting will be called as soon as the teams agree upon a schedule.

Alf. Hall, a one hundred and seventy pound slugger from Australia, is looking for a match against Joe McGurn, or any one else in the Islands who fancies he can last fifteen rounds against Hall. Hall wants to fight for a percentage of the gate and a side wager of any amount up to five hundred dollars.

Four races for motor cycles are announced for Thanksgiving Day at the Kapulani Park, the entry book being at Berger's Electric Works in Alakea street. The distances are five, ten, twenty and twenty-five miles. All cycles ridden in the race must be stock machines. It is also proposed to pull off a race between some of the mares here.

SUGAR STATEMENT

year, total exports in the United States and Cuba 141,934 tons, and increase of 24,130 tons from a year ago, while the estimated stocks afloat to the United States is figured at 68,000 tons, against 107,000 tons last year.

At the close Warner bought 10,000 bags Cubas for prompt shipment at 11-2c or equal to 3.80c duty paid.

CUBA.—There is nothing of special interest. The weather generally is favorable. Reports from the Island differ quite radically. Some are looking for a big crop, while others contend that the drought of last spring will result in a smaller crop than last season. We consider that it will be another month or six weeks before any reliable estimates can be made, and of course, much will depend on the weather, not only for the next two months, but during the grinding season.

EUROPE.—Light cables us today that the weather is favorable for field work. After the violent reactions of last month, there has been some improvement, and today's closing is as follows.

November buyers 9s 0 1/2d, equals 3.89c duty paid New York.
December buyers 9s 1 1/4d, equals 3.91c duty paid New York.
May buyers 9s 4 1/2d, equals 3.96d, duty paid New York.
August buyers 9s 6 1/2d, equals 4.00c duty paid New York.

At these values there is naturally much talk about the cost of production of beet sugar in Europe as it is generally conceded that while prices may for a period decline below the cost of production, when this condition is reached there is sufficient resistance on the part of producers to cause prices to react again in a short time to a higher level. The consensus of opinion seems to be that 9s 0d, f. o. f. Hamburg is about the cost of producing beets in Europe. In some localities the cost may be a trifle higher or lower dependent on local conditions. This does not necessarily mean that prices abroad have already reached their lowest point, as, with such an enormous crop to be taken care of as this year's production bids fair to be, a decline from today's value is quite possible, and certainly no increase would appear to be warranted for the present.

JAVAS.—We desire to correct an error made in our last report. The S. S. "Elloe," with 5,540 tons, having arrived to Messrs. Arubuckle Brothers, leaves but 31,380 tons still to arrive, of which 11,360 tons are sold to Messrs. B. H. Hawell, Son & Co. This leaves 20,200 tons now at Delaware Breakwater as the only unsold Java sugar available between now and the first of the year.

LOUISIANA.—Conditions recently have been very favorable for the ripening of the cane. Grinding is progressing in a very satisfactory manner.

DOMESTIC BEETS.—Are at the moment being held on the basis of 4.50c, and it is said that there is a fair demand for immediate delivery.

REFINED SUGARS.—All prices and market conditions have remained unchanged, with the different refiners quoting 4.60c, cash less 1 per cent, f. o. b. New York. At certain consignment points the Federal Sugar Refining Company, to clean up stocks, have been naming a price of 4.55c. Buyers continue to operate on a strictly hand to mouth basis, but the daily deliveries show up fairly satisfactory, all things considered.

OWES HER LIFE TO

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Vienna, W. Va. — "I feel that I owe the last ten years of my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Eleven years ago I was a walking shadow. I had been under the doctor's care but to no relief. My husband persuaded me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it worked like a charm. It relieved all my pains and misery. I advise all suffering women to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. EMMA WHEATON, Vienna, W. Va.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any similar medicine in the country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every such suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

charge to the jury was that they must be convinced of the identification beyond a reasonable doubt.

Crippen Hears Fate Calmly.

Crippen received the death sentence with the apparent calmness that characterized him throughout the trial, which, in fact, has been noticeable from the moment of his arrest. He appeared rather nervous during the Judge's summing up, which was strongly against him. As Lord Alverstone mercilessly portrayed his character as developed during the trial, Crippen twirled his thumbs, crossed and recrossed his legs, and occasionally shifted his feet. However, as soon as the charge had been concluded the prisoner seemed to pull himself together. As the jury moved out of the room he appeared to be not quite sure what to do with himself, and for a moment he stood in the center of the dock with his elbows resting on the railing and watched the men in whose hands his fate rested as they filed past him.

During the half-hour that the jury was out the courtroom filled up and when an officer returned with the exhibits in the case, for which the foreman had asked, and indicated that a verdict had been reached, every foot of space in the room was occupied.

The silence was broken by the clerk's formal question: "Prisoner at the bar, have you anything to say why sentence of the Court should not be passed against you?"

For a fraction of a second Crippen hesitated, then replied, betraying his emotion by only the slightest flutter of the voice:

"I still protest my innocence."

The Chief Justice then donned the black cap that had rested near him throughout the trial and pronounced the sentence of death. Addressing the condemned man, Lord Alverstone said:

"You have been convicted on evidence which can leave no doubt in the mind of any reasonable man that you cruelly murdered your wife and then mutilated her body. I advise you to entertain no hope that you will escape the consequence of your crime. I implore you to make your peace with Almighty God."

As the Lord Chief Justice concluded a policeman stepped forward and in the hush that had fallen over the courtroom, led Crippen from the dock.

As Lord Alverstone pronounced the sentence of death, the warders held out their arms to support the prisoner. He ignored their proffered assistance and turning, walked firmly from the room, stopping only once and then for a brief moment to take a last look at the courtroom within which he had fought for his life.

CRIPPEN'S CRIME AND

A WORLD-WIDE SEARCH

The body of Belle Elmore was discovered beneath the cement flooring of her husband's home at 39 Hill Drop Crescent, London, on July 13th. Investigation indicated that the crime was attended with extraordinary brutality and callousness. Scotland Yard at once requested the police of both continents to search for Dr. Crippen, the husband of the missing woman.

Dr. Crippen disappeared on July 9th. Belle Elmore was last seen by her friends on February 2d. It was common knowledge that she was disturbed by the continued employment by her husband of Ethel Clare Leneve, a typewriter, who disappeared on the same day as Dr. Crippen.

Miss Leneve had been in Dr. Crippen's employ for about ten years, and when the subject of the woman's discharge was made an issue, last January, Dr. Crippen refused to grant his wife's demands.

Early in February a letter signed "Belle Elmore" was received by the Vaudeville Artists' Guild, declaring the writer had left for America on business.

Lies Told by Doctor.

Shortly after this an advertisement appeared in a London paper announcing that Belle Elmore had died in Los Angeles. An investigation was begun and this was found to be untrue. When Dr. Crippen was confronted with this he told a plausible story of his wife's death in San Francisco, where, he said, she had eloped. Not until he failed to produce a mortuary urn containing her ashes did he admit to the detectives that this too, was untrue.

The doctor had said previously that he had received the urn from San Francisco. When challenged by the detectives, he said he had concocted the cremation story because he did not want the neighbors to know he had quarreled with his wife.

Following the confession of these falsehoods Crippen took the officers all over the house and even into the basement, where the body was found later. Three detectives were assigned to "shadow" him, but he slipped through their fingers on July 9th.

The police at once started to work on the theory that Miss Leneve was with him and that she probably would be dressed in male attire because Dr. Crippen had purchased a suit of boy's clothing before his disappearance.

World-Wide Search Begun.

The passengers of every big ship sailing for this country were watched as were all the boats leaving for the continent.

The search became world-wide. The police of every country to which the couple could have fled were put on the lookout. Picture posters bearing descriptions of the two with facsimiles of their handwriting, were scattered broadcast over the world.

The first trace of the missing pair was discovered on July 19th, when a man answering the description of Dr. Crippen was seen at Varnet Les Blains in France. Following closely on the heels of this, a guard on the afternoon boat running between Diippo and Paris declared that he took tickets from a couple resembling Dr. Crippen and the Leneve woman.

The police then heard from Boulogne that the couple were there for two days, July 21st and 22d. The ports of France were then picketed with detectives and warrants were issued for Dr. Crippen.

Caught on a Steamer.

Pursued from place to place in Western Europe, the fugitives came to realize that they were a marked couple as long as they traveled together, so they separated. They met again at Antwerp, where they took passage on the Canadian Pacific liner Montrose for Montreal. They registered as John Robinson and John Robinson Jr., the girl donning male attire. On the voyage their actions aroused the suspicions of the ship's officers. Scotland Yard was informed. Wireless brought confirmation of the identity of the travelers, and when the steamer reached the St. Lawrence they were arrested.

Crippen and Miss Leneve waived technicalities and returned to England to face trial.

Bad Omen For Doctor

An extraordinary accident occurred as Crippen crossed the gangplank to the steamer on the return voyage. It carried an omen that might well depress a man in the shadow of the gallows. Crippen was hurrying across the plank handcuffed, his hat pulled low over his eyes and his chin buried in his collar, trying apparently to dodge the photographers. In his haste he ran squarely into a rope that held the gangway steady. The rope caught him under the chin and jerked him backward, and had not Inspector Dew caught him Crippen would have fallen and possibly pitched between the two vessels into the water.

The trial of Crippen lasted but four days. A jury was secured after but fifteen men had been examined. The jury was a typical body of middle-class tradesmen and clerks.

BRITISH PRESS ON ROOSEVELT

LONDON, November 16.—The morning newspapers print long editorials on the election subject. The Standard thinks it an exaggeration to describe the election as a crushing blow to Roosevelt or an overwhelming disaster to the Republican party. Roosevelt, says the paper, may pop up again while the party under President Taft might pull itself together for a great effort in the Presidential election.

Roosevelt's fault, adds the Standard, lay in the belief that the party organization must instantly be remodeled and that he was the only person to carry out the task. In a duel between a man and the machine it is not generally the man who survives.

The Daily Graphic says: "Insurgency clearly has gripped the country. The old party system is perilously near the melting pot if not actually in it." The Chronicle sees in the result revolt against protection.

The Daily News says: "Mr. Roosevelt took upon himself to reform American policies without reference to any other person or influence—a kind of assumption from which the American form of democracy fights shy."

The Express says: "Roosevelt encompassed his own failure. Intoxicated by the passion of his own convictions and overrating the influence of his personal authority, he wrecked his party by the indiscriminate violence of his campaign. The disaster was magnified by the follies of the Payne tariff, for which President Taft was largely to blame."

The Times says: "Hard as is the blow for Roosevelt and Taft, we are far from believing that either the President is down and out or the word 'failure' must be written of Taft's administration. Mr. Roosevelt may learn moderation from his defeat; in any case he is too valuable an asset to be dispensed with by his country and too forceful a personality to permit of such treatment. We cannot but note with satisfaction the tide which swept into office men like Wilson and Harmon. Such men must prove a gain to the country's public life."

WHY HE LEFT.

Long—"Why did you leave the place where you formerly boarded?"

Short—"Because the landlady had too much curiosity."

Long—"In what direction?"

Short—"Oh, she was continually asking me when I was going to pay my board bill."—Chicago Daily News.

Appreciation.

TO THE PUBLIC:—We wish at this time to express our appreciation to the Island public for the confidence reposed in us, as manifested by the large number of purchases of the motor cars we deal in. Altogether in the past we have handled some ten different makes of cars; we now handle only three. There is a reason for this. To handle any new make that was produced seemed to us too much like "trying it on the dog"—with the public as the dog. Our policy was to study the situation carefully, gauge local conditions and then consult the best automobile authorities in America—with the result that we represent today

The Pierce Arrow Chalmers HUDSON

These three great makes represent a combination of best practice in automobile construction, with the widest choice of body types and prices. The manufacturers of these three great makes are the leaders in the industry. By handling only these three great makes we can do justice both to the public and the manufacturers. There are from five to eight thousand different parts in an automobile—multiply this by ten, and the number is enormous. Few dealers if any could keep even the necessary parts of ten makes to provide against inevitable accident, but with three it is different. We wish our name to be synonymous with the

POLICE GOT PHONEY DICE AND NOT ANY MONEY

The allegations made by Benjamin Ross against the police officers yesterday were the subject of further inquiries by District Magistrate Lymer this morning, and his conclusions were hardly pleasing to Mr. Ross.

Detective Kellett and Officer David gave evidence in this matter, David stating that when the police raided the wharf Ross tried to escape by running away, but Kama stood and waited for the police to arrest him. Ross was caught and, in endeavoring to get away, the money in his left hand, amounting to under two dollars, fell onto the ground. Ross declared that he would not give up his money without a fight, and refused to open his right hand when told to do so by Detective Kellett. Then David struck him in the hand with his club and four "phoney" dice fell to the ground. The dice were produced in court. They each had two aces, two fives and two fours on them, but there were no twos, threes or sixes.

Kellett told a similar story. When he told Ross to open his hand Ross declined to do so, telling Kellett that if he wanted to get his money he would have to fight for it. Kellett warned Ross not to resort to violence, but Ross struggled to free his hand. Then David hit him on the knuckles and forced his hand open. Kellett stated that only $3 were secured by the police and denied that Ross was relieved of anything like $16.

Judge Lymer remarked that he had heard Ross' story on the previous day. He knew something about the officers and he also knew something about Mr. Ross which he did not know yesterday, unfortunately. He exonerated the officers absolutely and said that if it were necessary for them to use force to secure evidence they were entitled to use the force that the circumstances necessitated.

Later in the forenoon Ross was arrested and charged with having gambling implements in his possession with intent to defraud.

TEAMSTER SUES RAPID TRANSIT

Don Robinson is seeking to obtain from the Rapid Transit and Land Co. Ltd., the sum of $5,048, as damages for injuries said to have been received by him in November last through a car operated by the defendant company crashing into an army wagon of which Robinson was in charge.

According to the complaint Robinson was driving a team of four mules attached to an army transport, or escort wagon, along King street to the Matson wharf to load supplies for Fort Shafter. When nearing the Palama Fire Station, according to the plaintiff, a car driven by an employee of the defendant company collided with the wagon. The impact threw the plaintiff to the ground, and he sustained a number of injuries. He alleged that the driver of the car did not sound the gong, or give any warning of his approach.

Attorneys Atkinson & Quarles are acting for the plaintiff; Attorneys Cathcart and Castle for the defendant company.

The action was to have been begun this morning before Judge Whitney and a jury, but a continuance was asked for on the ground that one of the witnesses was not available, as he was in quarantine. It was ultimately resolved to ascertain whether permission would be granted by the authorities for the witness to attend court to give his evidence, and in order to permit of the necessary inquiries being made, the case was adjourned until this afternoon. If the witness can be obtained, a jury will be empanelled, and the case will be proceeded with today.

NEW STATE CONSTITUTION.

SANTA FE, New Mexico, November 22.—The convention which has been in session here framing a constitution for the new state of New Mexico has completed its labors.

LINK SAYS HE CAN UPSET THE ELECTION

some contests, all I have to say is that we are prepared to give them all the contest they want. Do you know how much money was spent on Kauai?"

The interviewer admitted complete ignorance, whereupon McCandless repeated his remarks, that he could go to Washington and upset the election.

Republicans do not take Link's threat seriously. In the first place his own sworn statement of election expenses, showing an admitted personal expenditure of over $5,000 for campaign purposes, would, it is claimed, throw him out of court at once, as far as Congress is concerned. No Republican candidate for any office spent anything like that sum.

McCandless is believed to be figuring on running again in two years. He is fully convinced that the Democrats will carry everything on the mainland next election, electing a Democratic President, and he thinks that Hawaii will be in line, and will send a Democrat to Congress.

The Democratic County Committee held a meeting last night to consider a proposed election contest in behalf of R. H. Trent for city and county treasurer, as against R. W. Shingle, the candidate elected on the face of the returns. Statements were made to the committee regarding use of money at the polls, and it was decided to make a further investigation, hunt up witnesses and start a contest if the "dope" can be found.

According to statements made to the committee there was a jingle of coin at the polls in several precincts on election day. One of those making the charge testified to shaking hands with a Republican worker for Shingle and discovering coin in his palm when the handshake was over. The Democratic committee decided to take affidavits and hold another meeting before deciding what to do.

"If we find we can prove what we have been told by some of our precinct men," said Chairman C. J. McCarthy, "we shall go into the contest in earnest. We are securing affidavits now on which to proceed."

Col. McCarthy was at the meeting last night, as were also L. L. McCandless and other prominent leaders. In addition to the talk about a Shingle contest, they discussed the Lane-Fern contest. The Democrats profess to be quite untroubled by it. Col. McCarthy declared that the Republicans, Lane included, had agreed to what took place in the Kakaako precinct. McCarthy said it had been reported to him that several of the Republicans who took part in this agreement had indignantly withdrawn from the councils of the party, because they regarded the contest as bad faith in view of the agreement.

"Other precincts may be contested on exactly the same grounds as Kakaako," said McCarthy, "and perhaps some other offices will be affected, if it is established that a precinct vote is to be thrown out on account of voting after the legal hour.

"We have received information of a precinct in which the chairman put back his watch twenty minutes, to allow voters to get in before five o'clock. The voting didn't begin here till twenty minutes past the legal hour, in the morning. The election officers decided to make it up by allowing voting until twenty minutes past five. That was just as illegal as Kakaako."

JUDICIARY BUILDING TEAM.

The following have been selected to represent the Judiciary Building in their baseball match against the executive staff to be played on Thanksgiving Day: Albert Akana, Harry Bruns, Robert Chillingworth, Manuel Correa, Foster Davis, Vincent Fernandez, George C. Kopa, John Marcellino, Charles H. Merriam, Robert Parker, Jr., James A. Thompson, and Henry Williams. Nine will be selected from the foregoing, but all are requested to be on hand. It has been found that Aala Park will not be available, so the Makiki Baseball Ground has been secured. Play will be called at nine a. m. Both teams are now in active practice, and they are both confident of success.

THE PARADE TREASURER.

Director Arthur F. Wall, of the 1911 Floral Parade, has appointed as treasurer of the funds of the parade organization, H. H. Walker, of the Hawaiian Trust Company. Mr. Walker has taken over the balance from last year's parade held by former treasurer R. H. Trent, and will receive and receipt for all other sums which may be turned over to him on account of the Parade.

The Wilhelmnia is due to leave San Francisco at noon tomorrow and in addition to the usual cargo she will carry the expected circus.
