No Real Panic On, But Something Like Hard Times

LARGE CROPS WILL SAVE THE SITUATION

HENRY CLEWS' VIEW SAN FRANCISCO IN EASTERN STATES

NEW YORK, October 26, 1907. The week has been a memorable one in the financial history of New York. Never has liquidation on such a drastic and extensive scale been so successfully restricted. For this the Clearing House Committee, Secretary Cortelyou, and a small group of great financial leaders must be chiefly thanked. By clear-headed, courageous, and decisive action they have undoubtedly averted a financial cataclysm. There is in consequence the best of reason for believing that the worst is now over. This does not mean that liquidation is ended. On the contrary, the tremendous contraction which has been endured in the financial district threatens to extend with more or less severity throughout the whole country. The full consequences of what has taken place in the last few days cannot yet be clearly foreseen, but from now on the liquidation promises to be conducted in an orderly fashion and the country saved from unnecessary loss and disaster by foolish panic. The men who have stepped into the breach to stay the tide of apprehension are entitled to the strongest thanks not only of the financial community, but of the entire country.

Especially wise was the determination of the Clearing House Committee to eliminate the speculative element from the banking situation. The first step was to restore confidence in the banks. As long as these remained sound and solvent the crisis was certain to soon pass over. It is the speculative element in the banking situation which has been largely responsible for the present demoralization. Some of our banks and trust companies had fallen under the domination of promoters and speculators, who had neither knowledge nor experience regarding sound banking methods, and had no better object in view than to use these institutions for exploiting their own questionable operations. Absolute elimination of speculators from the directorates of our banks and our trust companies is a prime essential to the restoration of confidence, and fortunately this fact seems to be recognized by both the Clearing House Committee and the great bankers upon whom control of the situation has fallen.

The stock market stood up splendidly against the recent storm. Fortunately, liquidation in the security markets has strengthened the market against further attacks. There is now no room for panic. The effect of this collapse has no doubt reached the climax in financial circles, and it now remains to be seen what the effects will be in industrial and mercantile circles. It is not to be supposed that the process of readjustment is com-

SAN FRANCISCO, October 31.—Because of the extraordinary financial stringency throughout the United States, which makes it impossible for banks to secure coin with the customary ease, Governor Gillett decided yesterday to declare a series of holidays to be continued until confidence shall have been restored. Similar action has been taken by the governors of Oregon, Washington and Oklahoma. Governor Gillett's determination to declare a series of holidays followed an appeal made to him when it became known yesterday afternoon that the California safe deposit and trust company of San Francisco had temporarily suspended. News of the governor's action was conveyed to San Francisco last night in a special dispatch from Sacramento. Governor Gillett is at his home in Eureka, and from there he wired to the state capital announcing that he had ordered the holidays.

Although the bank holidays will begin this morning, it was said by a leading banker that some banks would not take advantage of it, but would open at the usual time. Leading bankers of San Francisco were unanimous in the declaration yesterday that there was no cause for alarm.

From inability to get coin from the east and also because it could not get certificates from the San Francisco clearing house, as it is not a member of that association, the California safe deposit and trust company temporarily

NEW YORK, October 30.—For the first time in ten days of extreme tension in Wall street there were material evidences of relief today. While bankers had repeatedly said the outlook was brighter during this trying period there were no developments which eased the minds of those who needed money, the life of Wall street business. In addition, there were distrust and a great demand for funds by institutions and persons who wished to be prepared for any emergency. This tension eased today and the immediate result was a sharp rebound in the security market.

The main relief came from within the market, where first was noticed an absence of the heavy liquidation forced upon certain brokers and others who had been borrowing money. There was also a slightly better condition among the banks. The drain by the public had practically stopped. The working of the check system among trust companies and banks, the adoption of the clearing house loan certificates plan among the banks and the heroic struggle of all financial institutions to conserve their cash made a combination which began to show results. As one banker said: "Wall street has now caught its breath."

NEW YORK, October 30.—Danger of any further disturbances in the financial world appears to be very remote. There were no signs of the long lines of frightened depositors in any of the New York banks today

THE SAD SIDE OF THE HART STORY

High Sheriff Henry has been handed a letter which an attempt was made to smuggle into the Oahu prison to Lionel Hart. It was from his mother, and although it does not contain anything objectionable, it was held up because of the manner in which it was sought to introduce it.

The letter enclosed newspaper clippings relative to Hart's conviction and his work in the quarries. The letter scrapes.

itself is a touching one, and to one who knows something of the circumstances of Lionel Hart's career, and the efforts of his Hawaiian mother to save him, it is almost tragic. She is fearful of Lionel's health and she mentions the fact that her home is to be sold. This was brought about by mortgages placed on it in order to keep Lionel on top of the heap, and help him out of his work in the quarries. The letter scrapes.

ALEWA ROAD

The County is to build the Alewa Heights road. This was finally settled this morning between Superintendent Campbell of the Department of Public Works, and the County Supervisors, with the sanction and approval of the Attorney General. Work on the road will begin next Monday under the direction of Road Supervisor Sam Johnson.

SHORT HAPPINESS

Maria Louis has brought suit for divorce from Joe. Louis, whom she charges with extreme cruelty and failure to support.

The married life of this couple has been short but not very sweet. They were married June 29th last, and within a month the petitioner claims, her husband abused and threatened to shoot her. On September 20 they separated and now she wants to resume her single state in the eyes of the law.

An inventory filed this morning by the executors of the will of Mary r. Castle, shows the estate to be worth $77,163.36.

Rockefeller's Quiet Partner

HENRY M. FLAGLER.

Friends of Henry M. Flagler, vice-president of the Standard Oil Company, have been lately alarmed regarding the condition of his health, which has been very poor. During the investigation of the Standard Oil in New York by the government Mr. Flagler has been on a recuperating vacation in the White Mountains, but this absence from the scene of the legal activities surrounding the Standard Oil Company is variously construed.

He is one of the richest men in the country and at the same time one of the most reticent, being even more averse to publicity than his chief, John D. Rockefeller.

HOME RULERS' RESOLUTIONS

THE PARTY'S ANSWER TO THE BOARD OF HEALTH'S LAST WALLACH RULING—SAYS THE BOARD'S ACTION IS EVASIVE AND DECLINES TO TAKE UP THE PLAN OF PRODUCING EVIDENCE AS BOARD DEMANDED.

The following letter and resolution have been sent to the President of the Board of Health today, in answer to the letter sent to President Nottley of the Home Rule Party under date of October 25:

"L. E. Pinkham, Esq., President, Board of Health, Honolulu.
"Dear Sir:—Your letter No. B. 132 dated October 25th 1907, to me has been duly received, and I have submitted the same for the consideration of the Executive Committee of the party to which I am its president. That committee has taken action on the same, and the result of their deliberation I here with submit to your Honorable Board. Very respectfully,
"CHARLES K. NOTLEY,
"President, Home Rule Party."

The resolutions are as follows:
"Whereas, L. E. Pinkham, Esq., President of the Board of Health has on the 25th day of October 1907, sent to Charles K. Nottley, President of the Home Rule Party a letter in which the said president of the Board of Health informed this committee that a motion was adopted by the said Board of Health on Thursday, October 24th 1907, which is as follows: 'That until such time as satisfactory evidence of the alleged cures of J. Lor Wallach be produced before the Board of Health, that the President be instructed to notify all parties concerned that negotiations are at an end.'
"Whereas, said motion as adopted by the said Board of Health is too ambiguous or rather too sweeping in its requests upon this committee to produce at such time as satisfactory evidence of the alleged cures of J. Lor

Wallach before the Board of Health; in that it does not state of the alleged cures of leprosy by the said J. Lor Wallach; and

"Whereas, this Executive Committee cannot innoctuate in said motion adopted by the said Board of Health the presumption that it is unequivocally meant for evidence of the alleged cures of leprosy by J. Lor Wallach, so as that this committee could assume any burden to produce the evidence required by said board; and

"Whereas, the said motion is rather of an evasive nature, bordering upon a malicious denial and refusal to the said J. Lor Wallach to engage in the treatment of leprosy under such arrangement as could be made to the satisfaction of the said board and the said J. Lor Wallach; and

"Whereas, this committee has passed a resolution on the 16th day of October 1907, and the same was duly presented by Charles Kahilauani Nottley and others, President and members of this committee before the Board of Health, and which resolution contains this proposition. 'That the Territorial Board of Health is requested most respectfully to give an opportunity to J. Lor Wallach to engage in the treatment of lepers under such arrangement as could be made that would be satisfactory both to the Board of Health and to Mr. Wallach, which proposition was altogether ignored by the said Board of Health;
"Be it resolved by this executive committee, that this committee is not under obligation to produce any evidence as called forth by the said board of Health."

WRONG BANKERS

LONDON'S DISCREDITED CHECKS DRAWN ON WRONG INSTITUTION BY MISTAKE.

HILO, November 5.—The Tribune says:

Word was received by Sunday's mail that the dishonoring of the checks given here by Jack London of the Snark for supplies and work done, was entirely due to a misunderstanding and that the checks are perfectly good. It appears that he left his power of attorney with a Mrs. Ames of Oakland. Three weeks before he left Hilu he cabled her to send his letters to Tahiti and she naturally thought that he had left as he intended doing. Troubles with his auxiliary engine delayed him however. Meanwhile Mrs. Ames had moved over from Oakland to San Francisco and to save trouble had London's account transferred across the bay to a San Francisco bank. When his later checks were presented at the Oakland bank they were of course dishonored. The explanation fully justifies London's friends in their firm belief that he would not be guilty of any such conduct as that of giving "phony" checks. Meanwhile he is presumably heading south in blissful unconsciousness of all the pilikia.

EDWARD POLLITZ SPEAKS OF KIHEI

ENCOURAGED BY THE CONDITIONS BUT PURCHASE NOT YET DECIDED UPON.

Edward Pollitz, in speaking about his trip to Kihel plantation this morning stated that he was very much satisfied with the condition of the affairs there, and found everything in very good shape. "Regarding the sale of the plantation to the Hawaiian Commercial Company," he said, "I cannot say anything at present, as Mr. Walsh and myself have not finished all our investigation. A good deal depends on the stockholders of Kihel, we are not certain at present, if they are all anxious to sell. Regarding the final details I can honestly say that I have nothing definite to say.

"In regard to the election results in San Francisco I am very much pleased over the outcome of the election. Mr. Taylor is a very good man and I think that he will do a great deal for San Francisco. I think that his election will restore confidence to a great extent, and the building up of the city will go ahead more rapidly than before. The money that has been tied up will be brought into circulation and the people who have money will be willing to invest it. I think that the money situation throughout is more assuring than it has been lately, and complete confidence will soon be restored all over the United States. I will leave for home on the Korea, but will probably be back here again the first part of next year."

The Fleet And Its Mission

The wisdom or the menace of sending the battle ship fleet to the Pacific coast must be determined by the international view of that incident. The transfer of the ships from one ocean to the other may be as innocent in its intention and as peaceful in its mission as a naval review in Oyster Bay. But it must be admitted that if European, and of course Asiatic, sentiment persists in regarding the incident as of belligerent character, it will be difficult to prevent imparting to the naval movement a significance which the representative of the administration have been prompt and emphatic in denying. These official expostulations will avail little if British, German, French and Japanese opinion attaches to the transfer of the fleet an object which is unfriendly.

It is, therefore, something more than merely interesting to know what the British newspapers are finding in the incident. Two great organs of opposite sides of British politics, the Spectator and the Nation, for instance, come together with a unanimity of view which is refreshing.

The Spectator says of the general situation: "At first sight and even at second sight it seems unfortunate that the cruise of the battleships should take place now when the object of every responsible American as we are convinced is not to paint the international situation in more vivid colors, but rather to reduce it to an agreeable dove color. * * * The uncomfortable conjunction of facts which makes the visit inopportune has been brought about by accident and not design." The paper denounces Admiral Evans and Secretary Metcalf for using language which was capable of mischievous interpretation, and then asks why President Roosevelt, recognizing the harm that may be done by an unwise interpretation of the cruise, does not use his power to postpone it. The editor then proceeds to answer his own question in this ingenious fashion:

"We believe that President Roosevelt's character alone is the answer. He is a kind of moral aristocrat whose high courage is almost arrogantly impatient of motives meaner than his own. He sweeps mistaken words by the yellow press to one side as though it were impossible that they could have any power for evil. Perhaps he underrates the power of folly, but that is part of his character. He goes marching on as if the yellow press could not possibly use the transference of the fleet to the Pacific as an instrument of mischief." Finally the Spectator warns the United States that if Japan does not wish to restrict immigration to the United States and Canada, Great Britain can not join the United States in compelling her to do so.

The Nation agrees that President Roosevelt is a shrewd enough politician to be well aware that his action would work up a war scare. "What really disturbs the minds of sober persons," says the Nation, "is not the belief that Japan is preparing for a naval struggle with the United States or that an American fleet is moving to the Pacific capital for the express purpose of providing against this contingency, but the injurious influence which repeated and aggravated suggestions by Admiral Evans and the press may have upon the minds of the most excitable, sensation loving people upon the earth. In a word, it seems quite evident that President Roosevelt has wittingly furnished the material for a scare."

The Nation discards the idea that either President Roosevelt or Japan is willing to undertake today a settlement by force or otherwise of the race blending problem, which is one of the greatest that the world has to face. It ascribes all the President's motives to the exigencies of domestic politics and sees that the first desire on his part is to force a big naval appropriation. It goes on to say: "Finally, the incidental service rendered to the government by a parade of belligerency when a Presidential election is approaching must not be left out of account. This may be regarded as an orthodox piece of campaigning tactics. At one time it took the familiar form of 'twisting the lion's tail' and brandishing the Monroe Doctrine. More than once the United States has run grave risks of war in playing what is in fact a domestic party game. Though other considerations are probably dominant in President Roosevelt's mind and underlie his determination to persist in moving the fleet, the politicians whom he consults are well aware of the advantage of creating or conjuring at a foreign situation which shall possess at any rate so plausible a semblance of a crisis as to enable them to quote the familiar proverb about not swapping horses while crossing a stream."

At home the newspaper view is quite as antagonistic as anything which is printed abroad, although some of the newspapers are in favor of the movement for the reasons which are given by the administration. It is certain that the incident will afford the opportunity of a congressional attack upon Mr. Roosevelt's naval policy, and unless there is some very good reason back of the order sending the ships to the Pacific coast, there will be a directly adverse effect upon naval appropriations. This is not likely to go so far as to cut down any usual provision for maintenance, but it may have its influence upon that legislative liberality which is easily checked in favor of an increase of the Navy, and it is certain to block effectually any attempt to obtain relief for the naval personnel. It would seem to be the better part of loyalty for American newspapers to assume that the President and his advisors have not indulged in capricious extravagance in sending the ships to the Pacific ocean. If there is the least evidence that we need a larger naval force in the Pacific, it is nothing short of executive duty to have the ships in that part of the world.—Army and Navy Register.

MAKE HIM A VICE ADMIRAL

ADMIRAL ROBLEY D. EVANS.

WASHINGTON, October 27.—The great battle-ship fleet which is to make its way from the Atlantic to the Pacific will probably be commanded by a Vice-Admiral, and that officer is now Rear-Admiral Robley D. Evans. Of course, this is conditional upon Congress giving its sanction to the proposal that will be made by the President to establish this new rank. Rear-Admiral Evans is going to sail in command of the most powerful fleet that ever gathered under the American flag. Not only that, but he commands more battle-ships of modern type than any other naval officer in the world, and the only commander whose blue pennant floats over a more numerous fleet of all kinds of war ships is Lord Charles Beresford, and he is of greater rank than a Vice-Admiral, being an Admiral, like Dewey.

On this cruise the American fleet is to look upon many foreign powers and exchange courtesies with foreign fleets in several places in Brazil, Chile, Argentina and other countries. The American commander, supposing he is to retain his present title of Rear-Admiral, would be outranked, for the navies of all other countries contain officers of the grade of Vice-Admiral, which would make the American commander's position humiliating. It would be pointed out in Admiral Evans' case that not only is he by his remarkable service entitled to this advancement, but any objections to the creation of this new grade that might be broached in Congress might be overcome by pointing to the fact that as Admiral Evans retires next August, the office will be of short duration.

FOREIGNERS ARE NOT WORRYING

HAVE CONFIDENCE IN STABILITY OF CONDITIONS IN THE UNITED STATES.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—While the sensation mongers here and in other European capitals have seized on the crisis in New York to discredit American finance and financial methods, there is a strong note of optimism in more reliable and saner quarters. Though acknowledging that the crisis is disturbing to the nerves of the financial world, it is not forgotten that the industrial and agricultural prosperity of the United States is extremely satisfactory. The money market trouble, coming with the admitted general prosperity, seems to bother all pervasive professional critics of American financial conditions, but all are willing otherwise to praise the prominent institutions for so splendidly withstanding the runs on their coffers. The situation is described as a rich man's crisis, but a poor man's panic.

BERKELEY, October 28.—Dr. Allen F. For French dinners, wine is essential according to Dr. Gillihan.

He advised the students who board themselves that health is a more desirable asset than a college education and therefore to be sure and eat sufficient food.

The preparation of coffee and tea was dwelt upon. These beverages, said Dr. Gillihan, should not be boiled, as the process produces certain insidious poisons which are harmful to the human organism. Cereal foods were classed as the cleanings of granaries mixed with coloring and put up in fancy packages.

It was not so very long ago that Dr. Gillihan was credited with recommending coal oil shampoo for the head.

The Policy Of The Ostrich

The ostrich policy does not go in Seattle. That city has had a case or so of bubonic plague. It is probably just now about the most progressive, hustling, rapidly-growing city in the United States. The term "Seattle spirit" has come to mean civic enterprise and success. When plague broke out, there was not any notion of whispering about it behind closed doors. The leading papers of the city are full of plague news. There are columns of articles, and aside from giving the facts, they nearly all have the same earnest trend of influence,—to make the people, all the people, join in stamping out the disease. If that is the Seattle spirit, it is also the American spirit. It combines the people for success. The principle applies to other things than cleansing a city in time of disease. It applies to every public problem. There appear to be many citizens of Honolulu just now who think that the ostrich policy would suppress the nuisance Wallach. If the English press ceased to advertise him, he would soon be forgotten, say these people and they advocate a policy of ignoring him and suppressing news about conditions he is creating. But the truth is that he represents a problem that must be met. "Dropping him" will never brand him as a fake. Discussion and exposure may. The violent attitude of the Hawaiian press and the temper of the leper settlement show that the issue, a dangerous one for our political future, exists. No ostrich was ever really saved by putting its head in the sand, and it does no good for the press to consent to join in conspiracies of silence about important matters. The press has not the power anyhow, and if it had, the power would be very dangerous. In the average American community news will out eventually even if not published, and the truth will usually be got at in the end. Those who think that the press by policies of concealment can delude the public are paying the newspapers a compliment as to their influence, but they exaggerate it.

The trusts seem to be busting all right.

The good coin that is being stowed away in stockings and buried in cellars all over America would save the day. Some of it may be slow in coming out.

There is no objection to Japanese expressing their loyalty to their emperor on the occasion of his birthday, and pledging themselves to the service of their country "in case of emergency." Nor is there anything new in the fact that they are loyal to their great ruler.

The number of predictions of great work at Pearl harbor is so big that it would probably cost more to publish them all than Congress has spent on the harbor in the twenty-years of talk. A little action is certainly due.

Taking Chances On The Sea

The story of the Arthur Sewall, whether she is lost or not, leaving here after her mate had secured discharge from her on the ground that she was unsafe, is one of many such tales of the sea. Leaky sailing vessels are cruising the seas all the time. Every month sees some of them set forth from various ports, while old salts shake their heads and predict disaster. Sometimes the predictions come true, but this does not deter those who made safe passage from starting again. A few years back a sailing vessel left Honolulu leaking and amid gloomy forecasts on the waterfront, and she was never heard of again. Complete statistics of the number of such occurrences in a decade would make impressive figures. The steamship retires when old age comes, but the windjammer is supposed to keep up the battle with the elements until the latter win. Very strict federal regulations exist, to prevent steamers from leaving port unless in safe condition, though even with such regulations in effect, steamers are sometimes found, when emergency comes, to be unfit to cope with disaster. But the sailor goes out in almost any old condition. There is peril at best in the long cruise of the windjammer, which at times may meet storms with which not even the strong, well-equipped sailing vessel, well handled, can cope. But "Jack" is always willing to take the chance, and can even always be found ready to sign on any leaky old tub that wants to sail pumping her way across the seas. A fine American ship has been lost if the Sewall has met her fate in this bad year around the Horn. It is, however, by no means time yet to give up hope.

The First Long Cable

The successful establishment of a wireless service across the Atlantic has served to recall the early struggles of the trans-Atlantic cable, which only a few people believed in up to the day of its actual success. Messages were regarded with much suspicion at first, and A. Mackay, head of the cable company, had to personally vouch for the genuineness of a first message handed to the President. It was on August 6, 1858, that the New York papers first gave the news that messages had crossed the ocean. Says the Philadelphia Ledger: "In America the project was looked upon so gloomily that it was abandoned by the newspapers as a matter of news."

"Therefore the news that the cable had been stretched over the bottom of the Atlantic between this country and England came with a suddenness that took away the breath of editors in the metropolis. The staid New York Tribune, under the guidance of Horace Greeley at that time, headed its article on the editorial page in this fashion:

"HIGHLY IMPORTANT INTELLIGENCE.

"The Atlantic telegraph cable successfully laid and working per-

A CHANGE

MANILA, October 30.—The leading Filipino newspapers are now asking for free trade with the United States. Heretofore they have opposed tariff reforms on the ground that they would bind the Philippines too closely to the United States and endanger ultimate independence.

SALARY SCHEDULE.

EDITOR STAR:—Kindly print our schedule. You will recall that we approached this same subject few months since, in the Times. We are never as you know at all extravagant in our ideas of financial matters; but, we believe in making a finish of a job where once begun; and, if we are to advocate higher salaries, let it be something worth the exertion. We dislike anything too parsimonious in State affairs. We approve of elegance in all such matters. Our schedule then would be and the same is a fair one: Governor, $1000 a month; Secretary, $5000 a year; Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, $6000; Justices of the Supreme Court, $5500; Judges of the Circuit Court, $4,500.

And not a penny less would we make it. And we have no "motive" in saying this, other than to have Hawaii take rank with other, and maintain its rightful self-respect and dignity.

ANNE M. PRESCOTT. We truly believe all true thinkers will say: "Yes, those judges up there ought to have more money for their time—that's a fact." A. M. P.

The first dispatch. "Trinity Bay, Aug. 5, 1858. "The Atlantic cable has been successfully laid.

"The United States steam frigate Niagara arrived yesterday. "The cables will be landed today. "The signals are perfect throughout.

"The Times and the Herald also announced the end of the work of cable laying, and spread the news far and wide that what was then known as the "magnetic telegraph" had been extended to a service of wider scope than Morse had ever dreamed of. On the receipt of this news from Trinity Bay, New York and all of the cities in telegraph reach of it went wild with excitement. The various mayors ordered the firing of 100 guns in each city, public buildings were decorated and bonfires were lighted.

"And yet there was a note of caution in the advice of the editorial writers of the day. The proposition that converse might be had under sea for thousands of miles when the telegraph was still young seemed bordering on the realm of disordered imagination. Said the Times on August 6:

"The telegraphic wires never thrilled with a more important measure, or one that will be so universally hailed with unalloyed satisfaction, as this announcement of the extension of this great instrument of enlightenment and civilization. "At no time could the announcement have come so unexpectedly as the present. The ill success of the other attempts to lay the cable had not only confirmed the doubters, but had shaken the confidence of the most sanguine believers in the possibility of the great work.

"We await with anxiety the next announcement from Trinity Bay. "The Tribune's editorial of the same date, commenting on the completion of the work of laying the cable, began with an apostrophe to the great feat, but closed with a caution against too much expectation. It said:

"Still, we must not forget that with such a triumph almost within our grasp, there is a possibility that some accident may even yet interfere in the astonishing good fortune which has thus far attended this last attempt to lay the cable. "As our readers are doubtless aware, it is maintained by some electricians that dispatches cannot be intelligently conveyed over such a length of wire so deeply submerged, and that the mere sending of signal flashes by no means settles that words can be written with the necessary rapidity and certainty. Let us hope, however, that all these points may be settled, and that in the congratulations of tomorrow there may not be a single reservation or doubt to diminish the unspeakable exultation natural at an event that exceeds the capacity of language.

"The Herald rebuked the scoffers on the same day, saying: "Many a merchant thinks today that the Atlantic telegraph will be of little or no use to him—that he will seldom have occasion to use it in his business. But trade will change and adopt itself to the new elements at its command, and he must change or be left behind in the general advance."

One of the best publications about Hawaii ever issued is the pamphlet just printed by the Promotion Committee, as a souvenir of the recent tour of the islands by a large party of Congressmen. The illustrations are splendid representations of some of the island scenes and they are accompanied by a very excellent description of the trip, by R. O. Matheson of the Advertiser. The souvenir is one which the members of Congress and their families will greatly appreciate and a wide distribution of it is thoroughly worthwhile.

CASE TOO SLOW FOR JUDGE DOLE

"MORMON CASE" IN THE FEDERAL COURT LONG TIME GETTING A JURY.

The "Mormon case" has not yet reached a point which would justify the popular title which has been given it, and no evidence has yet been brought out that the Mormon church has attempted to interfere with the testimony of any of the witnesses.

A young Hawaiian woman named Lei Aloha Papa was placed on the stand yesterday afternoon and was cross examined almost all this morning by A. Perry, counsel for the defense. According to the story which was drawn from this witness, she seems to have played the part of chaperone to Amia, with whom the defendant George Kekauoha is alleged to have been unduly intimate. She told of accompanying George and Amia when George ostensibly left home to make arrests. With the exception of but one time when they arrested a Chinaman, they repaired direct to a lantana patch, where Amia and George made love to each other.

It has been very difficult to get testimony from most of the witnesses, and the defense has been very exacting in getting at small details, so much so that this morning Judge Dole took occasion to remind Attorney Perry that the time of the court this session is more valuable than usual, and to request him to avoid unnecessary repetition of questions.

All of the evidence is taken through interpreters, which makes the progress correspondingly slower.

HENRY CLEWS' VIEW

plete. It is likely to go on for some time to come. Probably some recovery may ensue later on in the security markets, but the fact that we have fairly entered into an era of business reaction may as well be accepted. Contraction must follow, and if commercial embarrassments multiply they must be accepted philosophically as a part of the general reaction. Prices in the commodities markets will now have to take their share of the decline. Extravagance will cease and economy will become the order of the day. New enterprises will be suspended for some time to come and there will be a lessened demand for both commodities and labor. This part of the process of readjustment will be unwelcome, but it is inevitable and is the only way for a substantial re-establishment of confidence. By means of such adjustments we should reach a lower and more stable basis for a business revival later on.

One important fact should not be overlooked. Our crops are bringing profitable prices, and there is sure to be a good demand, both foreign and domestic, for all that our farms have produced. This will prove a valuable support to business throughout the country, and will do much to offset any reaction in the industrial field. Many securities are now at bargain prices, and small investors have collectively absorbed considerable amounts. Security prices have also reached a point where European buying must become a factor. Europe always takes our obligations at a price, and as soon as convinced of our determination to secure financial reforms will renew its confidence in American stocks and bonds. The elimination of big plunging speculators will do much towards this restoration of confidence. In this connection it is to be hoped the Administration at Washington will pursue its reforms with due regard to the sensitiveness of the situation. These reforms are necessary, and no one doubts for a moment the President's firmness in carrying out his well known policy. There is, therefore, the less necessity for disturbing reiterations in times of stress. An unfortunate and unnecessary tendency to hoard cash exists, which aggravates the money situation and should be discouraged at every opportunity. In general, however, the outlook is much improved; the worst is evidently over, and investments can be made upon a safer and more profitable basis than at any time this year.

HENRY CLEWS.

PLENTY OF MEN FOR BATTLESHIPS

METCALF SAYS THERE WILL BE NO TROUBLE IN GETTING THE CREWS.

WASHINGTON, October 30.—"There will be no difficulty about getting sufficient men to fill up the quota for the battleship fleet," said Secretary Metcalf today. "I notice that some persons have expressed fears on the subject, but their fears are groundless. I see nothing in the fact that can postpone the sailing of the fleet after December 16th."

Admiral Evans has been here, has discussed various matters with the heads of departments, saving the delays incidental to official correspondence, and has gone away again. He is very busy with the work he has in hand.

Incidentally the mention of his name calls to mind the alleged wish of the administration to have Congress authorize Evans' elevation to the office of Vice-Admiral. There is no likelihood of this being done, for as long as Schley lives his friends will bitterly resist the elevation of anyone over his head, and Senator Reyburn has already given notice that at the coming session he will reopen the Schley controversy.

Secretary Metcalf has no patience with those who have been declaring that the ships of our Navy are not fit for a long cruise or that they are not fully equal to those of any other navy. He says that in most respects the United States Navy is superior to all others and that we have been the first to use many approved devices, such as electrically controlled turrets. The Secretary says he is particularly interested in finding out what value can be attached to the repair shop, with which every ship is equipped, and on which they will rely as much as possible to the exclusion of the regular repair ship assigned to accompany the fleet. Admiral Evans' aid is being coached by the Associated Press, for which he will act as correspondent, no civilians being allowed to accompany the fleet. If other news associations or papers wish representatives the Department will designate officers who will act for them, but all news will be censored by the Admiral.

SAN FRANCISCO

suspended yesterday at the close of the regular banking hours.

Local bankers express the opinion that the flurry is only temporary and will not seriously affect the business of this city, though it will inconvenience the public for a time.

P. N. Lillenthal, manager of the Anglo-California Bank, made the following statement yesterday concerning the situation:

"The trouble that has come to the Safe Deposit will only affect its own depositors. Its operations of checking and depositing were handled by a clearing-house bank exactly as they would be handled for a mercantile concern, and checks were only paid against depositors to its credit, so that none of the other San Francisco banks are in any way affected by the trouble.

"There is no doubt that the enormous amount of gold now on the way from Europe, and due in New York by the end of this or the beginning of next week, will stem the tide of hysteria, and bring people to their senses. This money is due America for all kinds of exports, and at whatever cost, has to be brought to the United States to enable the clearing-houses all over the country to withdraw the existing restrictions, and resume ordinary banking methods. We think another two weeks, and perhaps sooner, will put us all back to where we were a month ago, and in a condition which, in California and other adjoining states, is most prosperous."

I. W. Hellman, president of the Wells-Fargo-Nevadan National Bank, and of the Union Trust Co., said:

"There is not the slightest cause for alarm. Our banks are perfectly safe—that is, all banks which are managed conservatively and with judgment. Banks and bankers involved in speculative will suffer, here as well as elsewhere."

R. M. Tobin, secretary of the Gibraltar Savings Bank, said last evening:

"Business was conducted at our bank all day as usual. There was nothing out of the ordinary, not a ripple of excitement. People drew ordinary amounts, and others deposited. It was a quiet, uneventful day."

HEINZE CAUSED IT.

The following statement was issued by George W. Peltier, president of the California Bankers' Association, last night:

"The beginning of the difficulties arose from the Heinze failure in New York city, resulting from Heinze's endeavor to corner United States Copper stock, and being caught. Unfortunately Heinze was a plunging banker, and three or four years ago he took over the control of a string of commercial banks in New York. In his endeavor to put himself out of the copper corner he involved his own institutions. From his bank it went to the trust companies, in which some of his associates were interested. General distrust followed in New York, and it took the efforts of the greatest financiers to correct the situation. It, however, placed New York city on a clearing-house payment basis, which means that the bankers of New York refused to ship money out of New York to other cities. This condition became acute and permeated Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake and even went as far South as New Orleans. In fact, every large city in the United States was forced to go on a clearing-house basis, because the Eastern cities had refused to pay what they owed the Western bankers, following in sequence from one city to the other."

The Chronicle says:

"The present money stringency hardly affects the State outside San Francisco at all. It affects San Francisco only as circulation is blocked in Eastern cities and as the money in our banks is engaged in moving the crops of the State. Trainloads of our products are leaving the State daily, and when marketing is over we shall have money in abundance for all commercial transactions."

Homer S. King, chairman of the Clearing-House, said last night: "The action of the Governor in declaring a legal holiday will have a quieting effect. It is not necessary in the cities but is needed in the interior to prevent money being withdrawn and hoarded by nervous depositors. The interior banks, generally speaking, have no clearing-houses. All the Clearing-House banks in San Francisco will do business the same as usual."

"Never before in the history of the Pacific Coast have the government depositaries on this coast been better supplied with coin than are the sub-treasury and mint in this city at the present time," said acting Sub-Treasurer Thomas P. Burns at the close of business yesterday. Treasurer William C. Ralston left yesterday morning for Washington where he was summoned by the Secretary of the Treasury to consult on the financial situation. Burns, the cashier, is acting in the absence of Treasurer Ralston.

At the close of business yesterday there were more than $40,000,000 in the vaults of the sub-treasury in this city of which over 12,000,000 was in gold coin.

Governor Gillett's proclamation is as follows:

"Whereas, unsettled financial condi-

and the big trust companies, with the exception of the Knickerbocker Trust Company, seem to have weathered the storm in safety.

Stocks took a decided upward turn today and considerable investing buying was noticeable, most of the trading being in small lots. James J. Hill, in an interview today, said:

"There is absolutely nothing in the actual business conditions of the United States to warrant the present conditions in Wall street, except of course, the lack of confidence, which is widespread. Confidence has received a severe blow, but this shattering of confidence has nothing to base itself on so far as the actual business situation of the country is concerned. If confidence can be rehabilitated, the business conditions, then there is no reason why things should not progress favorably."

Concerning the business outlook in the Northwest, Mr. Hill said it is good.

Importation of gold from London continues and this movement promises adequate relief for the current stringency. According to dispatches, Lloyd's have secured $4,000,000 in gold for shipment to New York on Saturday next and during the day nearly $3,000,000 in gold was taken from the Bank of England in preparation for shipment.

J. P. Morgan & Co. have anticipated the payment of about $11,000,000 in interest. In the same way Kuhn, Loeb & Co. anticipated the payment of nearly $20,000,000 of Pennsylvania Railroad Company's 4 1/2 per cent notes, due November 1st, by purchasing that amount, with accrued interest, and leaving the money in circulation, all of which tends to greatly relieve the strain on the money market.

In order to further ease the monetary situation the United States Treasury has sent out calls for $2,360,000 interest on Government bonds, due November 14th.

The subcommittee of directors of the Knickerbocker Trust Company which has been checking up the assets of the company, finds that the total deposits are $48,357,000. The assets to meet these claims have shrunk considerably in the past ten days, but some of the directors optimistically declared that the depositors would surely get 100 cents on the dollar.

The committee found that the company has $2,000,000 in real estate, $3,158,000 in bonds and mortgages, $9,139,000 in stocks, $16,000,000 in loans on underwriting ventures, $12,700,000 in time loans, $10,392,000 in call loans; due from other banks, $2,817,000, and cash on hand at the time of the failure $1,121,000.

In addition there is available for the depositors the capital stock, $1,200,000, and a stockholders' liability of one hundred percent in addition, $1,200,000.

These make a total in excess of $58,000,000 or about $10,000,000 more than the total deposits. The actual realizable values of $58,000,000 of assets, however, is many millions less than that sum, and may not amount to $48,000,000.

LOWRIE CASE.

The Lowrie vs. Baldwin, et al, $400,000 damage case, which has been on in the courts for several weeks, occupied all the time in Judge Robinson's court this morning. It was up on a motion of the plaintiff to amend their bill of complaint, and was urged at length by the attorneys. Several motions for introduction of supplementary affidavits have been submitted by either side. Thus far the case has been exceedingly technical, and apparently little real progress has been made.

Conditions prevail in many of the states of this union and have extended to the State of California; and

"Whereas, it appears that balances due from banks of eastern states are not being paid to the banks of this state; and

"Whereas, it further appears that this condition has resulted in a temporary lessening of the source of supply of money to meet the ordinary current payments due from California banks, and that coupled thereto there has arisen an extraordinary condition due to the withdrawal of deposits from such banks; and

"Whereas, it appears that such withdrawal of deposits is not financial weakness of our local banks, but is induced through uneasiness caused by unsettled financial conditions elsewhere; and

"Whereas, it appears that such conditions have already resulted in the temporary embarrassment of one of our largest financial institutions, and unless restrained will be followed by the retirement from business of other banks and will most seriously affect the financial integrity of our state and entail enormous losses upon the depositors in such banks;

"Now, therefore, in order that our financial integrity may be preserved, confidence regained, financial panic averted and the depositors protected from the loss of their deposits in whole or in part, I, J. N. Gillett, governor of the State of California, by virtue of the authority vested in me by law, do hereby appoint, designate and proclaim Thursday, the 31st day of October, 1907, as a public holiday."

FREAR IS AFTER LAND GRAFTERS

HILO, November 5.—The Tribune says: There is every reason to believe that within a few months, or it may be weeks, there will be a general shake up in the matter of the home-steading business in this county of Hawaii.

That Governor Frear will make a personal visit here before long is known and that the land has been pretty well looked over by an agent of the Territorial government is also a matter of common knowledge. The city for the parceling out of land to encourage settlers has worked beautifully in the interest of a few schemers who have got land for nothing and have then either disposed of it to friends or have actually abandoned it to Japanese for the purpose of raising cane. A net rent is, of course, collected for this and the pseudo homesteaders collect this while pursuing some other vocation.

The agent of the Government who has been quietly collecting the facts has, it is understood, collected a mass of information which will serve Governor Frear in the way that similar knowledge served in Kauai.

It is stated that here in Hawaii one man has "homesteaded" no less than five times. Another has a sort of a moveable house which he takes down at will and moves to another "homestead" when the chance arrives. Photographs of places of this sort have been secured and while legitimate homesteaders will not be disturbed in any way, it seems certain that the land grafters will be dispossessed and possibly prosecuted.

SEWALL'S MASTER IS VERY UNLUCKY

THE CAPTAIN OF VESSEL WHOSE CREW IS BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN EATEN.

SEATTLE, October 30.—Captain Gaffney, master of the big sailing ship Arthur Sewall reported to have been wrecked near Cape Horn, seems to have been born under an unlucky star. Captain Gaffney was in charge of the full-rigged ship Roanoke when she went down; was master of the Susquehanna when that vessel foundered; commanded the Troquois when she went on the rocks and took the Kentworth into Montevideo in a leaky condition.

The Sewall was under charter to the Pacific Coast Company to transport 5,600 tons of Pennsylvania anthracite coal to Seattle.

ROAST BARNEY

The Examiner says: Barney Joy made his last appearance yesterday as a box artist with the San Francisco team. The big Kanaka celebrated the occasion by being himself and blowing up, as per usual, at the critical moment. Since the race for the flag is over and the present season is in its last week, Barney's ascension had elements of the ludicrous about it which were absent during the stages of the race when the games that Barney lost were really of some importance.

To add to the gaiety of the day Charley Street and Nick Williams traded positions. Handsome Charley has been anything but enthusiastic about working with the Honolulu lad throughout the season. Barney has accused him of deliberately "throwing him down" through dislike. So it was more or less fitting that, in Barney's final game, Charley should go over to first base and thus avoid the distasteful task of catching Barney's shoots. Charley helped to lose the game, too, which was also appropriate, though Mr. Zeider, without any grudge at all, was a more potent factor.

The game started out very much like a San Francisco victory. It had, in fact, all the earmarks up to the inevitable release of Barney's balloon. The Commuters got one run in the second inning, but the Seals shot ahead of them with three in their half of the same stanza, and the bugs were almost beginning to believe that Barney was due to win.

"But now" said the wise boys, "Barney's going to take a little ride. Just wait!"

As the bugs didn't have anything else to do they waited, and, sure enough, Barney took his ride. In the sixth frame he disappeared behind a cloud, making a beautiful sight in the crisp autumn weather.

IS VARDAMAN A MOLLYCODDLE?

JACKSON, Miss October 21.—Declaring that President Roosevelt is a cruel bear-chaser, Gov. Vardaman last night announced that he would not be in Vicksburg today to welcome the President to Mississippi. He will go to Memphis, so that he may not be in the state at the same time as the President.

GOLF NEXT SUNDAY.

The White Rock golf tournament is to be pulled off at Halewa next Sunday and a large crowd will go down to watch the players. This is to be the twenty-second effort some of the participants in the sport will make to win the cup. Halewa links are the best in the country, all things considered, and one of the main features is the excellence of the meals and service at the hotel.

WILL TRAP FLYING FISH

SAN FRANCISCO, October 30.—Truck Eagan has his inventive mind working on a trap to catch flying fish. Barney Joy slipped Truck the information that there were flying fish in and about Honolulu. This set Truck to deep thinking. "Why not trap them like birds," thought the big shortstop, and he set to work. If his invention is a success Truck will apply for a patent at Washington. Eagan is an expert angler, but if he can effect a device to ensnare these south sea freaks, it will be a big feather in his cap and will make him famous.

DRAY HORSE STRICKEN

A dray horse belonging to a Chinese this morning suffered a stroke of paralysis on Queen street and was carted to a stable for treatment by Dr. Rowat. While lying in the road his appearance threw terror into a couple of horses attached to another dray and for a few minutes there was a mix-up and a runaway was narrowly averted. No one was injured.

THE RECITAL

The Schumann recital given last evening at the home of the Kiohanna Art League by the Musical Circle of the League, was one of the most appreciated entertainments in a musical line that have been held in Honolulu for a long time. The attendance taxed the capacity of the hall, there being probably 250 persons in attendance, and it is safe to say that no one went away disappointed.

Mrs. Bruce Mackall's rendering of Schumann's Frauen Liebe und Leben, or Woman's Love and Life, was the leading feature of the evening, and was a very finished effort. Mrs. Mackall's voice is admirably adapted to the sentiment of the beautiful composition which makes up a most wonderful idealistic portrayal of a woman's deepest emotions. She sings easily, and has a great volume of tenderness and varied expression, while the quality of tone is good. Considerable criticism was made of the acoustic properties of the hall, which probably did detract from all of the work of the evening.

Mrs. Mackall was accompanied on the piano with much skill and sympathy by Miss Clark.

Mr. E. A. Mott-Smith sang two of Schumann's most popular compositions—"I Murmur Not" and "The Two Grenadiers"—in masterly style, and was accorded hearty applause. His accompaniment was played by his wife. Mr. Mott-Smith has a good voice, and is a well-known local amateur singer.

A quartet of violins played the "Allegro Brillante" in finished manner, and elicited much flattering comment. The quartet is made up of Mr. W. A. Love, 1st violin; Dr. O. E. Wall, 2nd violin; Mr. B. L. Marx, viola; Dr. Carr Ramus, cello; Mrs. D. Howard Hitchcock, piano.

Mrs. W. D. Westervelt's piano selection, "Arabesque," was one of the best rendered numbers of the evening, both as to technique and expression. It was very generally appreciated.

In opening the evening, Mrs. W. W. read a paper on "Life of Schumann," which was a careful and analytical history of the life and work of the great German musician.

After the program had been finished, the audience was made the guests of the League, and served with dainty refreshments in the Green room.

WHO WILL BE HAWAII'S SKIPPER

TIME HAS COME TO SELECT CAPTAIN FOR HAWAII RACING YACHT.

Now that the Hawaii yacht is an assured thing, the next matter of the greatest importance to be decided is the question of a crew. The majority of the members are anxious to see an entirely amateur crew on board, but some are under the impression that a professional crew should be selected to sail her.

There are any number of good sailors as well as competent navigators in the amateur ranks, who are willing to give their services free, and it is hoped that the committee will decide on the amateur crew with the exception of one or two regular sailors to do the work that would be required in case anything should carry away.

The chances are that only a few, if any, of the amateur sailors here in town, are able to splice wire rigging in the event of its carrying away, for example, and also there are none who would know how to send up or down a top mast if it was necessary. Of course no one is thinking about any such things happening, but one can never tell what is likely to happen.

Clarence Macfarlane and Tommy Hobron have been both mentioned as likely commanders, as well as Alex. Lyle. This matter of a captain should be decided on as soon as possible, as he should be given the entire control relative to a crew. The matter will probably be settled in a few days, and the minds of everyone will be at rest relative to who is going to command the yacht.

SPORT NOTES

The following are the results in the matches played yesterday in the Y. M. C. A. tennis tournament: Waterhouse beat Vanhuizen 6-4, 6-0. Brissel beat Spalding 6-1, 6-0. Beardmore and Ferreira played their match yesterday but were unable to finish it on account of darkness. The score was 6-3 in favor of Ferreira on the first set, and the score was 2-1 in Beardmore's favor when the game was called.

The indoor baseball game between the "financiers" and the "iron-workers" resulted in a victory for the latter by the score of 7-4. The game was fast and interesting all the way through. The following is the line up of the teams:

Financiers—Lewis, c; Keoho, p; Gihlinland, lb.; Waterhouse, 2b.; John Lo, 3b.; Ferreira, rf.; Spalding, lf.

Ironworkers—Baptist, c; Honan, p; Ziegenfuss, lb.; E. Honan, 2b.; Girvin, 3b.; Dunn, rf.; Dixon, lf.

The members of the Y. M. C. A. soccer football team are requested to be on hand tomorrow afternoon at the Alhambra College grounds Kaimuki at four o'clock to play a practise game with the college team.

BARNEY JOY HIT HARD

SAN FRANCISCO, October 31.—Barney Joy was roughly received again by the Commuters yesterday afternoon at the Valencia street lot. None of the oaks had the slightest bit of respect for anything that the big Kanaka hurled at him. They eluded the sphere to remote corners of the lot, pranced around the bases like a flock of Bakewell's Jackrabbits and took advantage of every error the Seals were kind enough to make. Taking it all in all, it was a grand day for Oakland and a blue one for San Francisco.

Up to the sixth inning the Seals had it on the enemy, 3 to 1. They were confident that the rest would be easy, but for some reason they forgot that it takes but one spasm to break up any old kind of a ball game. And it can be done much more easily when a sky rover like Barney is doing the bending for a team that is as erratic as the Seals often are.

Of the most interesting of its kind that has ever been held here: Charles Phillips, chairman; Mannie Phillips, finance; J. F. Soper, E. Dunsen, H. Cobb, J. Walter Doyle, S. A. Walker, George Fuller and A. L. C. Atkinson.

The football game tomorrow afternoon between the Kams and the Punahous should attract a good crowd, as both teams are in the best possible condition and will be ready for the game of their lives. The teams are very evenly matched although some of the wise ones figure out the Puns to win. The average weight of the teams are about the same, but the Puns seem to have a little faster team than their rivals. The game will be played at Punahou at three o'clock, and the lovers of the game should be on hand to cheer their favorites on to victory. Coach Reed of the Puns has done a good deal of hard work to get his team in shape, and from the kick off, until time is called in the second half the players will be seen at their best.

The greatest interest prevails among the yachtsmen about the outcome of the race on Sunday for the Cooper Cup. The owners of the second class yachts are doing every thing to get their respective boats in the best possible condition for the race, and the chances are very good for some surprises. The new yacht Defiance owned by Schaefer seems to be the favorite in the race although the other owners are just as confident as to the result. The race will be over the new course, and if the wind is fresh should be finished in good time. The chances are that the Skip and the Princess will not be on hands for the start, although the owners are doing the best to get them in readiness. A good many dinners have been wagered on the result of the race, and the owners will have something to look forward to.

One of the best practices that have been held yet by the All Hawaii baseball team, was held yesterday afternoon at the league grounds and was attended by all the team. The boys went through their work with the greatest alacrity, and the improvement among them is wonderful. The team will play their first exhibition game on the 17 with a Picked team from the Riverside League, and it should be a very good test of their ability to play. Starting on Monday the team will practice nightly and the last touches will be given the team in preparation on the opening game with the coast team on the 23. The players have done good work in practise, and the team are now satisfied that they will be able to give the Fisher team a good hard fight for the honors.

German balloon Aberon, 50,000 cubic feet capacity; Paul Meckel, pilot; Rudolph Denig, aid; left St. Louis at 4:35 p. m. Monday; landed at Manassas, Prince William County, Virginia, at 7:10 Wednesday; distance from St. Louis, 680 miles.

English balloon Lotus II, 75,250 cubic feet capacity; Griffith Brewer, pilot; Lieut. Claude Brabazon, aid; left St. Louis at 4:20 p. m. Monday; landed in Ohio Wednesday; Lieut. Brabazon becoming ill; distance from St. Louis, 375 miles.

A QUESTION THAT EVERY MAN SHOULD DECIDE FOR HIMSELF.

There is one subject in which many of us are interested and that is, what is the quickest way of getting rid of a troublesome cold? Is it best to take some new remedy put out with exaggerated claims, or to pin your faith to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, a preparation that has won a world wide reputation and immense sale by its cure of this disease? This remedy is for sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

MRS. EDDY ADMITS "SCIENCE" MAY FAIL

URGES HEALERS TO SEND FOR DOCTOR IN SOME CRISES, SAYS SPOKESMAN.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—"Christian Science has limitations in the cure of disease," said Albert E. Miller, spokesman here for the followers of Mrs. Eddy, in a discussion yesterday on the conviction of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Watson, of Mount Holly, N. J., on a charge of manslaughter following the death of a minor child, who had not had medical treatment until "science" had failed.

The Watsons, therefore, are not in disgrace because they abandoned Christian Science and summoned a physician. The "healer" who advised this step was also acting entirely within instructions bearing the indorsement of Mrs. Eddy herself. Summarized, it develops that from Mrs. Eddy down, Christian Scientists acknowledge the futility of their methods—

In cases where surgery is necessary; In cases of accident.

In cases of extreme pain. In every one of these instances no disloyalty to Christian Science is involved in prompt acknowledgment of failure and a call for a physician. The Watsons are held to be justified under several heads. There was a grave danger that the disease was contagious and Christian Scientists commend the action of Mrs. Ida M. Straub, the healer, of this city, who advised that

YANKEE STUDENTS IN CHINA.

PEKING, October 13.—Conferring of degrees by the Board of Education upon foreign educated Chinese has just taken place, and again the graduates of American colleges have been awarded the honors in seven of the highest Chinese degrees granted.

Of these, four were University of California graduates and one for Leland Stanford, Jr., University. Since the graduates of American colleges achieved such noted distinction in 1906, a high spirit of rivalry has existed between them and the Japanese schooled Chinese, and this is supported by the patriotic feeling in Japan, whence the number of Chinese students is increasing annually.

"Science" treatment be abandoned, as the autopsy has developed that the child was a victim of cerebro-spinal meningitis, a highly contagious disease. "Christian Scientists are not diagnosticians," declared Mr. Miller, in further defense of calls upon doctors. "Their methods do not involve specific knowledge of the malady to be cured. They therefore are not equipped to determine whether certain symptoms are those of a contagious disease, but they necessarily grow familiar in a general way with disease symptoms and are better equipped than laymen to recognize cases which imperil the public.

"The fact that they immediately summon a medical doctor is not necessarily a confession of a limitation in the efficacy of Christian Science. It is a recognition on the part of the Christian Scientist of the rights of the public which looks to the health authorities in such instances."

COMMISSIONERS' TALK LICENSE

COL. MCCARTHY IS ALLOWED TO ACQUIRE THE PALACE SALOON LICENSE.

C. J. McCarthy is the new proprietor of the Palace Saloon and Restaurant at the corner of Merchant and Richards streets. The sale of the property was made some time ago provisional with the willingness of the License Commissioners to transfer the license from the name of John D. Moore, to whom it was originally issued. This the Board did at the meeting held yesterday afternoon.

It is in this manner that Moore's troubles have been settled in so far as the Honolulu restaurant business is concerned. It will be remembered that the License Board some time ago took action towards revoking his license, on the grounds that he had violated the law. Moore secured an injunction against the Board, but this was afterwards dissolved. Moore has been out of the Territory for some time.

The application of Ueoka for a wholesale liquor license at Aiea was refused on grounds of public policy.

Gus Cordes, who is charged with having transferred his liquor business without the consent of the Board, will be given a chance next Wednesday to show cause why his license should not be revoked.

POET ROASTS THE EXCLUSION LAWS

JOAQUIN MILLER SPEAKS ELOQUENTLY IN BEHALF OF THE CHINESE LABORER.

OAKLAND, October 26.—Joaquin Miller, the Poet of the Sierras, lectured at California College last evening, taking as his subject, "Render Unto Caesar the Things that are Caesar's." Mr. Miller made a fervid appeal for better treatment of Oriental races and for the repeal of the exclusion act. He said in part:

"Socrates said 'Ignorance is the father of crime, and I think it might well be said that ignorance is the mother of contention among men as well as nations. If I could banish the ignorance touching the Orient and Orientals I could preserve such prosperity and peace in this cis-montane empire along the entire Pacific sea bank as the world never saw. Here is the soil, newly won from the desert, watered, waiting for the plow. There are the humble, patient laborers, waiting at our gates, begging to do the work for their bread. The 100,000 quiet little yellow laborers who built the Pacific railway then took the meager wages and went home, are a sample of the millions there waiting to do the work that the white man will not do. Had it not been for my 100,000 sober submissive Chinese there would have been no Pacific railroad in the Nineteenth century," said Huntington. Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's."

"NICK" MAY GO TO BERLIN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Reports from Berlin that Representative Longworth, son-in-law of the President, has a chance of becoming the Ambassador to Germany to succeed Charlemagne Tower is news in Washington. It has been known here for a long time that Mr. Longworth had aspirations for diplomatic service, but it was not believed that he would care to take a foreign post until he had put in at least one more session of Congress.

Mrs. Longworth has been especially keen to have her husband enter the diplomatic ranks, the life abroad being very attractive to her. It has not been believed here, however, that Mr. Longworth would aspire to one of the most important European embassies, owing, chiefly, to the great expense necessarily devolving upon the incumbents of such posts.

Mr. Longworth is not a man of great means. His mother inherited from the Congressman's father a fortune of about two millions, the disposal of which is in her hands. One of her daughters married the Viscount De Chambrun, who brought no fortune to the family.

At the time of his marriage to the President's daughter Mr. Longworth received an income of about $5000 a year from his mother. Mrs. Longworth then had about $3000 from her maternal grand-mother, which, it is understood, has since been increased to $5000. With the pay of the Ambassador ($17,500) this would still make the combined income under $30,000 a year, a sum entirely inadequate to maintain the Berlin Embassy on the scale which would naturally be expected of Mr. and Mrs. Longworth.

This is the principal reason why Washington does not believe that Mr. Longworth will go to Berlin.

MUST CALL EARLY.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The call for the meeting of the Republican National committee for the purpose of fixing the time and place for holding the national republican convention, will be issued from here, probably next Monday. The meeting will be fixed for some time in December. Harry S. New, chairman of the committee, will reach Washington from Indianapolis Sunday and will at once take up the matter with Secretary Elmer Dover to secure the attendance of the Hawaiian and Porto Rican members of the committee, it is necessary to issue the call for the meeting something like two months in advance.

ROOSEVELT FOR SENATE.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—If Secretary of War Taft or a man of the Roosevelt type be elected president next fall, President Roosevelt may under certain conditions, go before the New York legislature in 1909 as a candidate to succeed Thomas C. Platt in the United States Senate with the idea of lending the support of administration policies in the upper branch of congress. This exceedingly interesting information has come to close friends of the president since the latter's return from his western and southern trip.

CHICAGO, November 8.—Earl B. Dumont, a prominent capitalist, has failed. His liabilities are two hundred and two thousand dollars.

NO LANDING IN CANADA.
OTTAWA, November 8.—The Canadian government has been advised that several thousand Japanese are soon to leave Honolulu for British Columbia.

The government officials have stated that all Japanese coming to Canada from Hawaii without passports direct from Japan to Canada will be refused a landing.

The statements made recently and credited to Senator C. F. Chillingworth that two vessels had been chartered to carry Japanese from here to Vancouver and that no difficulty regarding their landing would be met with, is probably what is here referred to. Nothing later has been given out by those supposed to be in the labor export business and recent inquiries have elicited the information that there was nothing doing.

EXPLOSION KILLS TEN.
NACO, Arizona, November 8.—Ten men were killed here yesterday in a powder explosion.

ABOLISHING CHILD LABOR.
TRENTON, Oct. 13.—Chief Lewis Bryant, of the Department of Labor, says that not before in the history of New Jersey has there been so little employment of child labor. The new law has worked wonders, and has stamped out child slavery from the State.

There are nine men and two women inspectors at work constantly among the 7500 factories of the State, and at the present time there are 30 cases of factory laws violation in the hands of the Attorney General for prosecution.

The Standard Oil Company, of New Jersey, has just paid to the State fines for seven cases of violation of the child labor laws at its works at Bayonne.

Women Avoid Operations

When a woman suffering from female trouble is told that an operation is necessary, it, of course, frightens her.
The very thought of the hospital, the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart.
It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation has been decided upon as the only cure. The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs, have escaped serious operations, as evidenced by Miss Rose Moore's case, of 307 W. 26th St., N. Y. She writes:—
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of the very worst form of female trouble and I wish to express to you my deepest gratitude. I suffered intensely for two years so that I was unable to attend to my duties and was a burden to my family. I doctored and doctored with only temporary relief and constantly objecting to an operation which I was advised to undergo. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it cured me of the terrible trouble and I am now in better health than I have been for many years.
This and other such cases should encourage every woman to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before she submits to an operation.
Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women
Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.

STRICKEN ITALY POLICE WON OUT

AWFUL SCENES FOLLOWING THE GREAT EARTHQUAKE AT FERRAZZANO.

ROME, Oct. 26.—A correspondent has succeeded in reaching Ferrazzano. He found the town a mass of ruins, scarcely a single house standing. The ruined houses have been converted into tombs, occupied by the dead and the living. A majority of the survivors have fled. Those remaining are hoping against hope that they will be able to rescue buried relatives.

The inhabitants are semi-nude, most of them wearing the night clothes they had on when the earthquake came. They are drenched through and through, having no shelter from the steadily falling rain. Mute desolation and terror are depicted in their faces, many of them weeping silently.

The parish priest is making a round of the ruined houses, reciting prayers for the dead and administering extreme unction to the dying. Squads of soldiers are engaged in salvaging property and recovering bodies. The majority of the injured inhabitants are sheltered in military tents. Doctors are kept busy attending them. A long row of bodies is awaiting identification, and the scenes witnessed are heartrending.

ARCHIVES BOARD HOLDS MEETING

DECIDES TO PUBLISH THE PRIVY RECORDS OF THE MONARCHY FIRST.

The Board of Commissioners of Public Archives met this morning at 10 o'clock at the Archives building, and transacted some routine business and took up the matters of having the documents in the institution compiled and published, and also that of a memorial of some sort to mark the site at Lahaina where the first Hawaiian constitution was promulgated.

In the first case George R. Carter was named a committee of one to determine on the size, kind of type, number, and cost of the volumes to be published as the Records of the Archives of Hawaii. It was decided that the first of the documents to be reproduced shall be the Privy Records of the monarchy.

Prof. Alexander and George R. Carter were named as a committee to report on the matter of the monument at Lahaina. The Territory will probably carry on this work in connection with the Kilohana Art League, with which the scheme originated. The committee will decide upon the most suitable form of memorial, and report at another meeting to be held.

The members composing the Archives Commission are Prof. Alexander, George R. Carter, and Acting Governor Matt-Smith, the latter being chairman. Mr. Carter was recently appointed by Governor Frear to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of A. P. Judd.

NEW SCHOOLS.

Superintendent Babbitt paid a visit yesterday to Waipahu and Aiea on an inspection of the schools. Each of these places is to have a new school house from the appropriation from the loan fund, and Waipahu will probably get hers first as it is probably more needed than are the others. Work will begin on this as soon as the plans can be prepared, which will probably be within ten days or two weeks. At Aiea it is necessary to get some more land, but this will probably be arranged for immediately.

Antonio Rodriguez Jr., tried yesterday for stealing a cow from his father's pasture in Kalihiuka and with John Silva selling her to a slaughter house for $30 was found guilty by the jury yesterday afternoon, after about an hour's deliberation. Silva had previously pleaded guilty. Both boys will be sentenced on Saturday.

Taxpayers should bear in mind that he interest on delinquent taxes accumulates every day, and it is their interest to pay their taxes promptly. The Supreme Court has granted a rehearing in the case of W. C. Peacock vs. J. G. Rothwell, upon the question whether the original action was for a liquidation or for an unliquidated demand. This case was decided against the plaintiff some days ago, and an appeal for a rehearing, secured a revision of but the point above stated.

The Orpheum theater last night was the scene of the opening performance of the Asahi Dan Dramatic Co., in the love play the "Foster Sister." From a Japanese standpoint the play was a great success. This is the first drama of its kind ever played by Japanese Company and is the beginning of the new Japanese Dramatic opera.

IS HE GUILTY? Mr. Bryan walked through Wall Street yesterday morning. Is that what did it?—New York World.

TWO ORIENTAL GAMBLING GAMES FOUND AND STAKES GO TO PUBLIC.

The very decided ambition of the police to suppress gambling in town was rewarded yesterday afternoon and last night, by the capture of seventeen violators of the law. Thirteen Japanese gamblers were caught yesterday afternoon in a room over a barber shop on King street near River, playing one of their games of chance, and as a result of the raid the government is richer this morning. Each of the gamblers were fined $7 and costs which they paid, while one of the party was fined $8 and costs for not being in court when his name was called.

Four Chinese were having a quiet little game of poker last night in the rear of the maternity home on Beretania street when the police arrived and placed them under arrest. Three were fined $7 and costs each, while the one who was late received the same fine as his Japanese brother.

John Schaefer who was arrested yesterday for selling liquor to a person twice convicted for drunkenness, had his case continued until the 14th.

A. N. Ahin the Chinaman who claims that he is a member of the Chinese Y. M. C. A. was arrested yesterday afternoon for stealing a quantity of clothes from a store on Fort street about the first of October, was given until November 13 to secure a lawyer.

David Leleo, who used threatening language to his former mistress, was found guilty of the charge and was ordered to put up a bond of $250 by twelve o'clock today, or spend 60 days over on the reef for his choice words. This is the second time that David has been in court for annoying this woman, and the court decided that her prayer to place him under bonds to keep the peace should be granted. The language used by him, "I'll kill you if you don't come back to me," was sworn to by two witnesses on the stand.

NEVADAN LIKE A SMALL FARM

A BLOODIED STALLION, MULES, BULLS, PIGS, AND THANKSGIVING BIRDS ON BOARD.

With 64 bags of mail, 12 passengers and 3,200 tons of general cargo, the A-H. S. S. Nevada, Captain Greene, arrived from San Francisco this morning whence she sailed October 31, docking at Brewer's wharf at 5 o'clock.

Her passengers include "Goody" Morse who has been away on vacation; Mrs. C. P. Morse and two children; Mrs. E. S. Cunha, Mrs. Dr. H. V. Murray, maid and child, and Charles David. There were many people on the wharf to meet the home-comers.

David brought down Potrero, a noted stallion, for breeding purposes, and several other horses. The Nevada's deck as she entered the harbor had the appearance and the sound and the odor of a big barnyard, for her deckload included 16 horses, 4 mules, 4 bulls, 14 large crates of turkeys and chickens and 226 pigs. The turkeys constitute the advance guard of the Thanksgiving table-decorations.

Half of the Nevada's freight is out of the S. S. Nebraskan from New York. A pleasant passage was enjoyed, although the last two days were somewhat ruffled as to seas and the weather was rather cool throughout.

E. A. Thurbert, formerly purser of the S. S. Mexican, is now keeper of the documents aboard the Nevada. Lansing, former purser of the Nevada, remains ashore in San Francisco to take a position in the Standard Oil office. Former Mate Curtis of the Nevada is now holding a similar position aboard the oil S. S. Santa Rita.
