CHICAGO TEAM PLANS TO COME

MANAGER OF THE FAMOUS "WHITE SOX" IS NEGOTIATING TO BRING FIFTY MEN, INCLUDING TWO BASEBALL NINES, TO HONOLULU FOR A TRAINING SEASON—MORGAN TURNS THE MATTER OVER TO JESS WOODS.

It is certain, if necessary local arrangements can be made, that the Chicago American baseball team, better known as the "White Sox," will be here shortly after the first of the year for a stay of at least two months. The Hawaii Promotion Committee received a letter a week or so ago from Manager Comisky, asking about rates, etc., as he was anxious to have his team train here for the coming season of 1908.

In the absence of Secretary Wood, President Morgan of the Chamber of Commerce turned the letter over to Jess Woods, as he stated at the time that he thought Woods would be the man to handle the proposition.

Woods has been busy ever since looking into the matter, and if satisfactory arrangements can be made with the Trustees of the Baseball League, the team will probably come here to prepare for their season next year. The idea was first brought to Manager Comisky's attention by the trip of the Fisher All-Star team, and because he has heard so much about Honolulu being a place where the people are baseball crazy.

In his letter to the Promotion Committee, Comisky said that he would bring down in the party about fifty people, including two full teams. That would mean that Honolulu would be able to see two games of baseball every week during their stay here.

Jess Woods stated this morning that he was busy making arrangements, and if the Trustees would give the desired permission, the team would be here.

The American League season opens in April and the team would probably arrive here some time the latter part of January. The team in question is the team that won the championship last year against the Chicago National League team, and who finished this year in second place.

The gate receipts that they would take in during their stay would more than pay for their expenses.

PLANNING WIRELESS

INTER-ISLAND COMPANY STIRRED UP BY RECENT LONG DISTANCE SUCCESS.

The Inter-Island Wireless Telegraph Company is looking ahead and already has plans for a long distance system, to be installed as soon as conditions warrant.

It is the intention of the company here to put in a system that will carry at least a thousand miles at night, when conditions are five or six times more favorable than in the daytime, and the conditions upon which this branching out depends, are installations of wireless plants aboard steamships generally.

The local company is prepared to be the first to meet the demands and expects to arrange with vessels now installing wireless plants and others contemplating such improvements, for exclusive service, just as Marconi in the Atlantic has exclusive contracts with Lloyd's and other concerns.

Union Oil, Associated Oil and Standard Oil steamships and barges, vessels of the Matson Navigation Company and others are planning wireless and the local company will be ready to handle this shore end.

The new Matson boat will be equipped and the Hawaiian will have her apparatus in when next she arrives here. The cableship Restorer is equipped and the army transports, nearly all, are provided with wireless.

Whether the army will make any contract with a commercial wireless company or use the Naval wireless station here or establish its own plant in a position that will render it effective where the naval plant is not, is at present unknown.

The present service of the local wireless company, between islands, for distances, does not require a very powerful plant and the outfit for a plant to furnish power to send a thousand miles so as to communicate with ships at sea and through them, when necessary to the American coast, would be considerable.

Sufficient contracts and perhaps a government subsidy would warrant the outfit and the improvements, for which the plans and estimates are already on hand and under consideration, are thought to be not far distant.

There is talk of the War Department putting a wireless station on a mountain back of Kahaniki, for the use of vessels of the Navy and Army transports. This would be a serviceable position and good for long distance with the proper power which could be furnished by the power plant soon to be installed for lights and other conveniences at Fort Shafter. No improvements are likely to be made in the Naval wireless on the present site for the reason that the Navy Department awaits the transfer of the Naval station to Pearl Harbor before bringing everything up to date.

LEPROSY DISCOVERY MADE BY DR. GOODHUE

RESIDENT PHYSICIAN AT THE SETTLEMENT ON MOLOKAI SUCCEEDS IN GETTING LABORATORY DEMONSTRATION OF THE EXISTENCE OF LEPROSY BACILLI IN MOSQUITOES—THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE DISCOVERY.

The following are extracts from an article by Dr. E. S. Goodhue, of Honolulu, Hawaii, in American Medicine, —the Dr. Goodhue referred to in the extracts being Dr. W. J. Goodhue, resident physician at the Leper Settlement:

"In March, at an executive meeting of the Hawaiian Board of Health, two letters were read, dated at Molokai, February 10 and 20, 1906. They were from the resident physician there, and were at once copied and made a part of official record, that the discoveries may be fixed as to date and authority."

"The president of the board, Hon. L. E. Pinkham, with his usual care and method then set his seal upon the following:

"To the Members of the Board of Health:

"I present to you two letters from Dr. W. J. Goodhue, relative to the results of bacteriologic investigations of himself and Father Joseph."

"These letters, one dated February 10, and one February 20, are copied."

"Concisely stated, the discovery made by Dr. Goodhue and Father Joseph is:

"1. The possibility of the existence and the proof, in fact, that Bacillus leprae (Hansen) has been discovered in the female mosquito, Culex pungens."

"2. The discovery of Bacillus leprae in Cimex lectularius or common bedbug."

"Upon receipt of the information as to these discoveries, I advised Dr. Goodhue to avoid any publicity, for it could avail nothing at present, and would be absolutely destructive of the best interests of the Territory, in fact be disastrous by alarming tourists and others, although they would not be exposed in the slightest degree to infection."

"The conditions for this phase of infection are favorable only at the set-

HELP OUT POST OFFICE. P. M. S. S. China, due to sail for San Francisco on Dec. 15, will be the last mail steamer carrying mail to reach eastern cities before Christmas. It would be a great accommodation to the post office if persons having mail for dispatch would deposit it on days in advance of the day of sailing, thereby assuring dispatch, and avoiding congestion and delay at the office on the day of sailing. Also, it would be a great saving of time to all concerned, if all packages were presented at the stamp window, and the proper amount of postage affixed before depositing in the ordinary mails, or presenting for registration.

Japan's Plans For Big Exhibit

A GREAT INTERNATIONAL SHOW PLANNED FOR THE YEAR 1912 BY THE JAPANESE GOVERNMENT AND ALL NATIONS ARE INVITED TO TAKE PART—VISCOUNT KANEKO'S ADDRESS TELLING OF THE PLANS.

YOKOHAMA, November 22.—On Thursday evening, at the Peers' Club the Vice-President and principal executive officials of the coming Grand Exhibition entertained at dinner the foreign diplomatic representatives in Tokyo, with a view to officially acquainting the representatives of foreign nations with the aims and scope of the Grand Exhibition that is to be held in 1912.

The Chief of the Exhibition Executive Staff, Viscount Kaneko made a lengthy and interesting speech in excellent English in part as follows: "Your Excellencies and Gentlemen. "It is a great privilege to have the honor of your presence here this evening, and it is a still greater privilege to be able to lay before your Excellencies the general scope and end of our coming exhibition in 1912. As you already know we have had five domestic exhibitions and have participated in various international exhibitions, beginning with Vienna in 1873, again in Paris in 1889, in Chicago 1893, in Paris 1900 and at St. Louis in 1904. A full share in those foreign exhibitions we have participated in, have been entirely under the control of the Imperial government. Therefore, our exhibition affairs are quite different from those in Europe and America, which are planned and carried out by private enterprise. In this respect the coming Grand Exhibition of 1912 is no exception to our previous precedent and it will be entirely a government affair.

"We have adopted the style and name of the coming exhibition—the Grand Exhibition of Japan in 1912—because we want to keep as much as possible the name of a domestic exhibition, not giving any sign of having the full scope and extent of an international exposition with which your

ARREST BY SIMS VERY SORRY NOW

HILO ALLOTMENT NOTE CASE ENDS IN WARRANT FOR R. A. LUCAS.

Raymond A. Lucas, a well known saloon keeper of Hilo is to be arrested on the charge of illegally handling seamen's allotment notes. A bench warrant issued from the United States District Court this morning on a statement of information filed by District Attorney Breckons. Lucas is to be notified by wireless, and is expected to come down his own accord on the first steamer.

Lucas is to be arrested on one specific charge, but it is understood that he will be charged with some six or seven similar offenses. The statement filed by Breckons charges that Lucas made false statements in an allotment note given him by A. Jacobson, a sailor shipping in June on the "John Ema," for Delaware Breakwater.

The note purports to have been for board and lodging furnished to Jacobson prior to his signing on the "John Ema," whereas the fact of the matter is that the note was made subsequent to such contract, and that only $15 was for board and lodging, the other $15 being supplied in cash.

Under the United States laws to protect seamen, these allotment notes against the future wages of a sailor may be accepted only by a person to whom the sailor owes a debt for lodging or board or clothing, and are not negotiable. A heavy penalty attaches to conviction of violations of the law in this respect.

"I further beg to assure you that the high esteem in which I hold you personally as the result of many years knowledge in the past causes me to tender and to ask you to accept the most sincere and humble apology.

"I regret the matter so very much that I am seriously ill and will be more than glad for an opportunity to make amends in a public manner.

"LAXITY" IN COUNTY AFFAIRS

The report of the Hilo Grand Jury closes as follows:
"The Grand Jury further report that they have examined into the conduct of the various County officers and more especially into certain alleged misdoings in the payrolls of the Road District of North Hilo, and whereas as the Grand Jury have found a regrettable laxity in the methods there employed, your Grand Jury found no sufficient evidence of acts of a criminal nature to warrant the presentation of any indictment."
"The Grand Jury strongly recommend that in order to prevent waste of materials and labor, a permanent County Engineer be engaged by the County of Hawaii to oversee all public works."
"We respectfully draw the attention of the Board of Supervisors to the fact that the Road laborers of the District of North Hilo are paid under a different arrangement from other districts, and we recommend that all be paid under a uniform system."
"The Grand Jury desire to express their appreciation of the assistance rendered them by this Court and the officers thereof in the prosecution of their labors."
"No other matters and things being at this time before the Grand Jury or ready for presentation thereto, your Grand Jury request that they be dismissed, subject to call by His Honor, the Court."

ADULTERY CASE.

The case of T. S. Choy and No Sang Doung on trial for adultery in the United States District Court was continued yesterday afternoon until Monday in order to give time for the development of some technical point. The evidence was all in and it was expected that the case would go to the jury last evening when a legal snag was struck which caused the continuance. Both of the defendants were on the stand yesterday in their own behalfs. Choy, who was formerly a court interpreter of Korean, claimed that the witness for the prosecution had personal malice towards him, which was the cause of the stand they had taken. The woman denied that she had ever been married prior to her marriage to Choy, and disowned the 12 years old boy alleged to be her son, and who claimed her as his mother on the witness stand a few days ago.

DIED.

We are shocked and grieved to read the sad words of the death of Mrs. Water C. Shields of this city. Mrs. Shields was one of the most noble and gracious of women, so sympathetic and sensitive, generous and tender-hearted, that it has been our privilege to meet in all our travels. She was indeed a very queen among women, intensely fond of her husband, her "babies" and her little home, always reverting with keen delight to her Canadian home but pleased with and happy in the change to Honolulu. She was one who made her own beautiful atmosphere and lived in it, content and at peace with all the world. May perpetual light shine about her.

There is nothing better for coughs, colds and croup, and as it contains no injurious substance, there is no danger in giving it to the children. ## GOLDFIELD, Nevada, Dec. 7.—

Although the town is quiet it is expected that there will be trouble tomorrow, when the mine operators will attempt to introduce non-union miners into the mines.

The nine companies of the Twenty-second Infantry, which left San Francisco yesterday for this camp, in response to the request for Federal troops on the part of the Governor of Nevada, will arrive today. No attempt to bring in non-union men will be made until after the troops have been stationed where they can protect the mines from assaults on the part of the strikers.

The trouble in the mines is attributed to the presence of a number of agitators in the unions.

FOUR HUNDRED MISSING.

MONOGAH, West Virginia, Dec. 7.—There are four hundred miners missing as the result of explosions yesterday in two of the pits of the Consolidated Coal Company.

HILO AFTER A FEDERAL BUILDING

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO PREPARE INFORMATION TO BE USED TO AID THE PROJECT.

HILO, December 5.—The Hilo Board of Trade had an important meeting on Tuesday afternoon, when action was taken tending to push along the appropriation now before Congress for a Federal building in Hilo.

There were present: John A. Scott, chairman; E. N. Holmes, D. E. Metzger, C. Gustendyk, C. E. Wright, A. Lindsay and H. Vears of the Executive Council of the Board.
A letter from Postmaster Desha asked for the assistance of the Board in furnishing information, regarding the needs of a Federal building, as requested from the office of the Supervising Architect at Washington. On motion of Wright the chairman was authorized to appoint a committee of three to assist Mr. Desha in preparing the data needed.

On motion of Metzger the Secretary was instructed to write to Delegate Kalaniana'ole asking him to endeavor to secure the passage of a bill through Congress appropriating $150,000 for a Federal Building in Hilo; also to communicate separately and individually, upon the same subject, with each one of the Congressmen who recently visited Hawaii asking his support for the appropriation.

There was some general conversation on the subject of promotion work, indicating a more lively interest in the future of Hilo.

TOWN TALK

By THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

I heard of a new Japanese servant stunt the other day. Honolulu people have long been familiar with the peculiar methods of "resigning" adopted by these strange beings, who have somehow or other an unconquerable fear or aversion to coming forward in an ordinary manner and saying that they desire to leave the service of the person who has the felicity to enjoy their very doubtful subservience while they look for new jobs. In the case at hand, as the lawyers would say, the Japanese awakened his mistress at midnight. His sister was very sick, probably dying. He must go for a few days. Could he have his honorable wages? About $3 were due him, but a search for change revealed $1, and he was given that. Off he went, presumably to see his beloved sister take passage with the eternal boatman whose passengers know no life preservers. Before leaving he locked up the little building allowed him for living quarters. A day passed quietly and on the following day appeared a strange Japanese, with a wife. The couple quietly produced a key, opened the little outhouse and then called upon the mistress. They had come to take the departed's job. Investigation showed that he had packed all his belongings and gone glimmering among the dreams of things that were. His successors were told they were not wanted. Soon another applicant for the position appeared from the mysterious supply wherein vacancies are scented as if by magic, and he was accepted. It developed that he had just left his own place for a day or two to visit a relative. As Dooley would say "an' there ye ar-re."

for them by their greatest admirers, the fact remains that they combine against us and must be combined against. If the white is to survive, it may even be stated that the white race is proved inferior commercially, in the respect that it cannot compete on equal terms with the Oriental. I am for admitting it,—and taking steps to make up for the inferiority, which has its very admirable side. So I would like to see in Honolulu, a citizens' movement to patronize white labor and home industry of our own race. I admire the Japanese, but if I was a mechanic I shouldn't want his rate of wages quoted against me, if I was a storekeeper I shouldn't want his store for a neighbor.

Have you ever heard of the scientific third degree? I think Taylor ought to get some instruments and try it on his guests, ending forever the inevitable rumors of cruelty in jail,—there never was a jail without such rumors, but when once police administration is in the hands of psychologists and they get thoroughly into the excitement of psychic exploration, there will be no more fun in blows, kicks, water cures or lengthening of thumbs.

The scientific third degree is a psychological scheme in which the experimenter rapidly calls off lists of words and asks the subject to say at once what they suggest,—and his time of reply is measured in fractions of seconds. Some words are frankly responded to, without a second's hesitation for thought. Others, suggesting something for concealment, cause a pause. For example the sudden springing of the term "election" on a Home Ruler would naturally with lightning rapidity suggest "soft job." But he would not say it, of course, as he would not give his immediate impulse—and the time lost in making answer with his second thought would stand forth revealing indubitably that there was a thought concealed. Call off a long list of innocent terms to Supervisor Kealoha with the word luau in the middle of them, and would it not be found that his answer to what luau suggested would be a second or two delayed? This is the scientific third degree. It is mind-reading reduced to a science. The test is said to be unerring. In a general way, without the instruments which record exactly the moment of an impulse to speak, it has long been used by sharp observers, who have drawn conclusions from signs of embarrassment, hesitation, etc., in cross-examinations.

"Jack" Atkinson is burning the midnight oil and doing some absorbing reading. He has been elected to represent H. M. Ayres, alias The Referee (deceased) in a court proceeding wherein it is alleged that the "Palolo" story printed in The Referee should not have been sent through the mail. "Jack" is reading Shakespeare, Byron, Boccaccio, Rabelais, Arabian Nights, Gulliver's Travels, Balzac, Chaucer and other classics, passages from which make the "Palolo" story look like the date on a postage stamp. It is a revelation to "Jack" and he did not know there was so much undreamed of in his philosophy. He is thinking of having Byron's "Don Juan" taken out of the library. And as for Boccaccio and Rabelais he will ask the Federal court to issue an injunction to restrain Messrs. Boc and Rab from further writing. In between these classical feasts Attorney Atkinson rests his brain with perusals of the Honolulu Times and Huckleberry Finn.

The talk of an inter-island Japanese laborers' union reminds me of one that existed several years ago, with headquarters in Honolulu. It purported to be a league devoted to the interests of the laborers, but the latter soon found it to be mainly devoted to the support of a lot of idle "agents," who bore a striking resemblance to the American walking delegates,—many of whom have been given real walking papers during recent years. The league went to pieces as a result of internal scandals and dissensions. However, there has never been a plantation that I have heard of, without some sort of a union or other on hand when in the opinion of the laborers' occasion seemed to call for it. The laborers with a grievance, real or fancied, are always able to go to the management through a committee and present claims and complaints and there has been mighty little difficulty in keeping the hands all together. They are always quite capable of looking after their own affairs, and any white man who is seeking to be a "leader" of them in any sort of a labor organization may be set down as a grafter either expecting to fleece the Japanese or hold up the plantations.

In my opinion there is one thing which the American Federation of Labor might do in Hawaii with great benefit to the islands, and if so the federation should act, for this is always to be a part of the country and deserves the attention of the organization. I think the federation should assist in every way possible in enforcing in all private as well as public enterprise the principle applied in the Territorial law which restricts public works to citizen labor. In the city of Seattle, for example, the keepers of restaurants, by a purely voluntary movement, have combined to see that all the labor employed is white. There need not be any race prejudice at all in this. There should not be, and if any creeps in it is narrow, undesirable and should be frowned upon in every way. It is purely a matter of economics. A community cannot survive half American and half Asiatic, any more than America could survive half free and half slave. In Honolulu we are confronted with a constant aggression of the Oriental races in commercial lines, skilled labor and even some of the professions. Crediting Orientals with all the virtues claimed

Section Of Law Ignored

If there is any section of law that is constantly and flagrantly violated, in season and out, it is that part of the liquor law now before the courts, which provides that no liquor shall be sold to persons twice convicted of drunkenness. The law on the subject is very plain, witness the following:
"Section 62. It shall be the duty of every judge and district magistrate before whom a person is found guilty of being intoxicated, to immediately notify the Inspector in writing of the name and residence of the person so found guilty, and it shall thereupon be the duty of said Inspector to likewise notify all licensees. If any person shall be twice convicted of drunkenness, it shall be unlawful for any licensee within two years after the second conviction to sell any intoxicating liquor to such person. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not exceeding One Hundred Dollars ($100.00)."
In more than one very recent instance, there have been some very painful results of the ignoring of this plain provision of the law. More than one very notorious example might be cited. It may be, of course, that the law is not plain enough. Perhaps the use of the term licensee "lets the barkeeper out," and as the actual holder of the license does not personally sell, violation of the rule the legislature intended to make may be safe until the law is amended. That, we understand, is now the question.

Great Plan Of Japan

The Japanese exposition for which President Roosevelt has asked Congress to make an appropriation, receiving yesterday for his recommendation the thanks of Viscount Kaneko, who is the head of the commission in charge, is to be a large international affair. Assuming that no war intervenes to interrupt the plans, the exhibition is likely to be equal, if not superior, in general interest, to any other ever held. It is to be formally opened on the first of April, 1912, and is to close October 31st, of the same year. Four years of preparation are thus allowed, and it is safe to predict that the first great common meeting of the Orient and Occident in a commercial exhibit of this sort will be an occasion of intense interest and will result in a display that will attract millions of sightseers from all over the globe,—many of them passing this way, which, incidentally, will be a matter for a future Hawaii Promotion Committee to take up, for Hawaii will be an easily reached and attractive "side-show" to the main "circus."
The Imperial government has set aside 202 acres in the city of Tokio as a site for the exposition. Viscount Kaneko announces in an address given elsewhere in this Star, that foreign governments are already responding generally to the invitation to take part. For the installment of foreign exhibits, belonging to the five different departments of Education, Science, Machinery, Electricity, and Manufactured Goods, space will be allotted in the exhibition buildings erected by the Administration Office of the Grand Exhibition of Japan. For exhibits other than those above designated, any nation may erect a separate building at its own expense. No charge will be made for space allotted for such building. Any nation may, if it so desires, exhibit other articles not coming under these headings in the building erected by such nation at its own expense. No charge will be made for space allotted.
Much may happen in four years. War may sweep all ideas of expositions from the minds of the nations. But the scope of the plan indicates an expectation of peace, and the successful carrying out of the scheme is likely to see the nations together in better harmony than ever,—relieved of the temporary friction of the present day, which is undoubtedly due largely to the newness of Japan as a real world power, and, as far as it is due to that, will pass away.

Leprosy Discoveries

It is refreshing to turn attention from the enforced nauseating discussion of a quack backed by demagogues, to the calm, modest and careful scientific statements of Dr. E. S. Goodhue, showing the efforts being made intelligently on Molokai to master the mystery of leprosy and containing the announcement of an important discovery by the resident physician, Dr. W. J. Goodhue, who accepted the position at Kalaupapa in 1902 and has ever since devoted himself to the two duties and tasks of administering to the sick and trying by experiment and study to pave the way to actual cure. Dr. Goodhue, in proving that the mosquito carries leprosy, has made a definite scientific discovery that will give him high recognition. Such workers have been the men who have found in recent years cures that have freed mankind from the worst dangers of many other terrible maladies. The hope for an end to the terrors of leprosy lies in the further work that will be done along these lines. It is a pity that the community has had to recognize that a strong following could be gained here by a man who talked of female rocks and Indian worms; and that a head of a political party of some strength here could be found to mention almost reverently as a savior, a man who claimed to be able to have a remedy for leprosy and kept it to himself.

A contemporary speaks of the Baron Kaneko. It is the Viscount Kaneko now. The Japanese nobility advances fast in these days.

It would have cost very little to have cabled notice to Honolulu that the steamship Siberia was on hurry-up orders and would leave here ahead of time. She arrived here a full twenty-four hours ahead of schedule and left twelve hours before she was due to arrive. The result was that hundreds of Honolulu people were unable to catch the mail. A simple notice that she was hastening this trip would have saved all this trouble, and it is showing little concern for the public here to neglect giving warning. People on other islands also are entitled to receive notice,—intending passengers to the coast from Hawaii or Maui would naturally expect today's Kinaiu to bring them here in time for the 'Siberia.

JAPAN'S PANS

Excellencies are so familiar. Why do we do this? Because the present condition of Japan is not sufficient—does not entitle us to boldly assume the gigantic responsibility of extending an invitation to all the nations to come and assist in making the exhibition a success. Because our railway accommodation, our hotels, streets, and sanitary system are not in a suitable condition to accommodate a great inflow of foreign visitors—who are used, when visiting foreign exhibitions, to receive all accommodation, comfort, and conveniences in Europe and America. Unfortunately we have never had any such experience as entertaining a large international assembly, but at a certain period of national history, it becomes necessary for one country to invite all the nations to come together and participate in an international exhibition, and by the assistance of the Governments and peoples of foreign countries, the country which extends the invitation may excavate and open up its hidden resources and thereby increase its foreign trade. For this reason an international exhibition is much needed in a new country. It is a factor in the educational arena of the world of commerce. The people of one country study all the products of the other and learn the methods and processes of manufacture thereof.

To be sure Japan has old relations in history, but is very young in her admission to reap the fruits of the Western civilization. Consequently, we cannot abstain, in spite of our national lack of accommodation and social comforts, from having an exhibition pretty much on the lines of the international exhibitions of Europe and America. We need the assistance of Western nations and the peoples from all part of the globe. Moreover, our participation in those foreign exhibitions, beginning with Vienna in 1873 until that at St. Louis in 1904 brought to us beneficial results, material results, in an increase of exports and imports in connection with foreign countries. Therefore, every time we participated in foreign exhibitions the result has been the benefit of Japan as well, doubtless, of all the foreign nations represented.

In regard to the articles of exhibit we have already sent out a circular and all nations are invited to send their goods. Roughly, the exhibits are specified under five categories—Education, Science, Machinery, Electricity, and Manufactures. Of course, any nation may build a separate building at its own expense, where it may exhibit articles irrespective of the five classes. As for the five classes mentioned the Imperial government expects to erect buildings with space enough to take in all examples coming under the five heads but as to the display of such exhibits as agricultural, mineral or fishery products, it is the earnest wish of the Imperial government that foreign governments will erect special buildings, and further I should like to be permitted to emphasize our government's desire that the buildings put up by foreign governments be built entirely so as to show the national characteristics. We want to have each nation's building showing its own peculiar architectural art, so as to have the best models of European architectures in the exhibition grounds. This will be to us an object lesson by which we might improve our so-called European buildings.

With these objects and aims, we have sent a most cordial invitation to all nations and prompt replies are coming fast from different governments. Some few days ago, it was reported in some foreign newspapers that the coming exhibition of 1912 was to be postponed for five years. Allow me to make a correction. The government has never contemplated such a change. We expect to carry the exhibition through in four years and be ready to open on the 1st April, 1912.

"During this exhibition we hope to show our gratitude towards our benefactors of Asia, Europe and America. During the last 1500 years Indian religion and Chinese philosophy, introduced by Chinese and Koreans to Japan, have built up the intellectuality of the Japanese race, thus enabling us to grasp the principles of modern science brought to us from America and Europe 50 years ago. Had we not had Chinese influence or Indian influence, we might not have been able to grasp and reap the fruits of Western civilization—and by both hemispheres we are now recognized as one of the modern nations of the globe. So we expect to make the occasion of the coming exhibition a great national opportunity to tender our deep gratitude to our benefactors in Asia, Europe and America.

Whether we are ready or not, whether we are prepared or not to invite all the nations to come together and to participate in the coming world fair, we expect to arrange it in such a way to show our expression of gratitude, and at the same time to show our earnest desire, I might say, our national aspiration to engraft western science upon Eastern culture and to build together and assimilate the types of oriental and occidental civilization. By so doing the culture and sciences of the two hemispheres will meet, not in conflict but in harmony, and enable us to share in the intellectual achieve-

BERNARD STARS VS. PEARL HANDLES

BASEBALL MANAGERS GET TOGETHER AND THE TEAMS WILL SOON PLAY BALL.

Peace reigns among the baseball players, and all the supposed trouble between Pat Gleason and Mique Fisher has been arranged to the complete satisfaction of both parties. The Saint Louis team, the same that won the Japanese championship this year, will face Fisher's All Stars on Tuesday afternoon, December 17, the entire proceeds of the game going to the coast players.

The peace treaty was signed yesterday, and the public who have been waiting for a chance to see the Saints in action will be rewarded. The game will be played at three o'clock and there is a movement on foot to have the merchants give their employees a half holiday, as any number of people would like to get off and see the final game of the year. The Coast players through their manager, Mique Fisher, thank the Saint Louis team as well as Charley Falk and Pat Gleason for the kind offer made to them and will endeavor to show their appreciation by playing fast baseball.

A big dance is to be given to the coast team on the same night at one of the hotels, and probably the largest crowd that has been to a dance this year will be on hand to say good bye to the coast team. During their stay they have made many friends, who will be very sorry to see them go. It is very possible that the same team will be here again next year, that is if the necessary arrangements can be made.

OPEN RIVERSIDE JUNIOR LEAGUE

The opening of the Riverside Junior Baseball League which will take place at 1:30 p. m. at Aala Park tomorrow afternoon, promises to be something unusual in baseball circles. The bandstand will be decorated with the flags of different nationalities and among those who have loaned flags are the Chinese and Japanese Consulates and the Secretary of Hawaii. Captain Berger and his band boys will be on hand to add to the pleasure, with music suitable for the occasion.

Just prior to the first game between the Chinese Alohas and the Aala A. C. former Secretary of the Territory, A. L. C. Atkinson will step into the pitcher's box and twirl the first ball over the home plate. Chairman C. Huestee Jr., is to be the first batter up when Bernard Kelekolio, the boy orator and president of the league calls play ball.

The first game between the Chinese Alohas and the Aala A. C. will be baseball from start to finish. Both of these teams have some fast ball players. Akai Aloha, a student of the St. Louis College will do the twirling for the Alohas. W. Lai Hip a player of no mean ability from the Hilo League is to be at the receiving end. Sam Hop who is the manager of the Aala A. C. has not decided as to who will form his battery, but promises to give the Alohas a surprise.

In the second game beginning at 3:30 p. m. the Oriental A. C. a new club lately organized by Chinese students in this City, will meet the Asahi A. C. Y. Mark, who is manager of the Orientals, will have a strong collection of players, as mostly of them are former members of the Chinese A. C. This game will also be interesting. This is the only place where China meets Japan on a baseball field.

AT THE ORPHEUM

"A Deserted Bride" pleased a good-sized audience last night at the Orpheum Theater. It will be given to-night, with a matinee this afternoon. Mention has already been made that a pleasant surprise is in store for the children who are regular attendants at the matinees from now until Christmas, and all those who attend the matinee are requested to leave their names at the door.

Beginning Monday night the Elleford will appear for the first time in farce comedy, presenting the very laughable three-act play "A Bachelor's Honeymoon." This in turn is to be followed by "The Lights of Gotham," a melodrama of New York life.

On Monday, December 16th, will be given the first performance of "The Light That Failed," a dramatization of Kipling's beautiful story.

Seki and Takimi and Obata and Takimi are two couples arrested yesterday under the Edmunds Act. They were held by Commissioner Hatch in $500 bail each for examination to take place on Monday.

STUDYING THE LANDS

ACTING GOVERNOR MOTT-SMITH AND LAND COMMISSIONER J. W. PRATT BACK FROM HAWAII.

Acting Governor Mott-Smith and Land Commissioner Pratt arrived home this morning from the Big Island where they went the first of the week to look into some land matters, especially as relates to the expiration of leases on some 3,000 acres of Territorial lands at present held by the Laupahoehoe Sugar Company. The Land Commissioner spent most of his time in looking after routine matters pertaining to his office at Hilo, while the Acting Governor spent the two days of his stay principally in Laupahoehoe making a careful study of the land and economic conditions involved in the future leasing of the Territory's property.

The leases which expire shortly have been in force since 1890, and the rental paid is 40 cents per acre. This figure very inadequately represents the value of the land. Acting Governor Mott-Smith stated this morning that he had not done more than make a careful study of conditions, much of which is in the shape of notes and figures, which he has not had time to digest, and that he has arrived at no conclusions as yet from his observations. He expects to devote himself to the matter immediately.

From what has heretofore been stated to be the policy of the land office and approved by the Governor, the rental value of lands is to be ascertained on a percentage of the appraised value of the lands in question per acre. Six percent is the figure that has been used in some instances at least, although the administration has stated that it is not bound by any hard and fast rules, and governs itself in departing from this basis of value according to circumstances which may effect the matter, to the ends that the welfare of the Territory is best conserved, according to their best opinion.

With an exception of a small percentage, the 3,000 acres of the Laupahoehoe land is in cultivation for cane and will probably not appraise a value of less than $50 or $75 per acre.

The government land leased by the Laupahoehoe Plantation comprises perhaps two thirds of the entire holdings of the company.

LEPROSY DISCOVERY

self and Father Joseph, in respect to our unremitting microscopic and bacteriologic researches here in the Leper Settlement. During the incumbency of Dr. Cooper as president of the Board of Health, and just previous to his departure as delegate to the conference at Washington, D. C., he sent me, at my request, the Board of Health's microtome, with which we have since been sectioning leprosy lesions taken from various leper houses, but, until last June, without any apparent success. At that time it appeared that we had isolated bacilli in these series of experiments, but, owing to the technical employed, it was impossible positively to confirm this.

"This method was then abandoned. Mosquitoes were caught at random from leper houses, being captured with a net or sterile test-tube, and the same subjected to a vapor of ether, when the mosquito became unconscious and was easily caught up with sterile forceps and placed under the dissecting microscope.

"Beginning with the anal orifice, the abdominal contents are teased out with sterile needles, thereby removing intestines, malpighian tubules, and ovaries, the female mosquito only, with one or two doubtful exceptions, feeding on blood.

"These structures are then crushed between sterile slides, stained, as usual, with carbol fuchsin, ziehl, and methylene-blue, Gabbett's, mounted in Canada balsam and examined under high-power oil immersion objectives.

"After repeated failures and the constant re-examination of fresh specimens, success has come so far as demonstrating Bacillus leprae (Hansen) in the female Culex punerae.

"We are now making dissections of the most delicate anatomical structures of the mosquito, to determine the presence of the bacillus (an almost foregone conclusion) in the venosally glandular, which will enlighten the hazy as to one of the possible avenues of inoculation with leprosy, and should strengthen your hands in the determined war you are waging against this insidious pest. In conclusion, I would state, that I have in course of preparation an article for publication in a scientific medical journal, but I hereby send you, as President and Executive of the Territorial Board of Health, the first communication on the subject.

"The second letter refers to the discovery, some weeks later, of the bacillus in the bedbug (Cimex lectularius), which is another story."

ANDRADE HAS A HARD CASE

FIVE YOUTHFUL DEFENDANTS BEFORE THE DISTRICT MAGISTRATE THIS MORNING.

At the request of counsel for the defense in Police Court this morning, the charge of embezzlement against Joe Everett was continued until Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. The plea was also reserved until the same day. Bond was fixed at $250. Shortly afterwards a new warrant was served on Everett for stealing a horse valued at $175.

The other part of the court's time was taken up with the charge against four young boys and one girl, aged 10, for violating section 315 of the Revised Laws of Hawaii. Attorneys Chillingworth and Brown conducted the prosecution. Judge Andrade stated that he had never been so perplexed in his life as to what would be the best thing to do in the case. "I would be glad to hear from any gentleman of the bar as to his opinion in the matter," said the court. One of the defendants were fined $20 and costs while the other four were sent to the Reform School for various terms.

SETTLERS' PETITION

KAIWI ASSOCIATION OF HAWAII PRESENTS REQUEST TO THE ACTING GOVERNOR.

During Acting Governor Mott-Smith's stay in Hawaii he was waited upon by a committee of the members of the Kaiwi Land Settlement Association, which has organized and petitioned the Government for the setting apart to them of some 1,650 acres of land, or about 50 acres each to the 33 members comprising the organization. They were informed that the matter would probably not be acted upon before the return of Governor Frear from Washington.

Mr. Mott-Smith states that the land upon which the association proposes to settle might be available for cane, but it is known to be first class pineapple land, and capable of producing a great variety of other crops. A pineapple was shown him which weighs eight pounds, and was a perfect fruit.

The members of the association are for the most part native Hawaiians, with some Portuguese and a number of haoles. There is no assurance, that the settlement plans will be carried out, as the governor at one time placed himself on record as not generally favoring this form of land settlement, holding that the intent of the law authorizing it was especially for the benefit of immigrant parties coming here with the desire to take up a tract of land in one place.

"HEADACHE, WEAKNESS, HEART TROUBLE"

"I Suffered With for Years--Pe-ru-na Cured Me Entirely."

Miss Albina Chauvin, No. 50 Rue Agnes, St. Henri, Montreal, Can., writes: "I consider Peruna better than any other remedy, as it cured me when nothing else could. I suffered for years and years with heart trouble, headache and weakness. I never expected to find anything to cure me. I saw one day, in 'La Presse,' that Peruna was excellent and I tried it. One bottle produced a change in me and if the price had been $100 a bottle I would have paid it gladly. I have taken six bottles and am entirely cured. Please accept my thanks and best wishes for your Peruna."

"Please Accept My Thanks and Best Wishes For Your PE-RU-NA."

Many cases of heart trouble are caused by reflex disturbances. Derangements of the stomach and liver produce symptoms of heart trouble. Catarrh of the stomach is a very frequent cause of sympathetic heart disease. Palpitation, shortness of breath and bloating after meals are the most prominent symptoms.

Such a condition of the stomach is also liable to produce headaches of the worst sort. Medicines that palliate the symptoms will never lead to a cure. It is the effect which Peruna has upon the stomach, healing the mucous membrane and restoring the natural function of the stomach, that causes Peruna to bring such prompt relief.

Ask your druggist for a copy of our booklet, "The Ills of Life," giving instruction covering the most effective use of Peruna. Peruna is for sale by all chemists and druggists. The following wholesale druggists will supply the retail trade in Honolulu, Hawaii: Benson, Smith & Co., Honolulu Drug Co., and Hobron Drug Co.

CHILD LOST

WAILUKU, December 7.—A little two years old child was lost Sunday in Hana while it was playing with a number of other small children.

A searching party was formed Sunday and the search was kept up all night and Monday and each day this week without avail.

Over one hundred persons have been engaged in the search but up to the present time there has been no trace of the child.

The parents live in Hamao near Hana and no reasonable explanation of the whereabouts of the child can be made.

There was no water near into while the child could have fallen and while there is much laetana near where the child was last seen the searchers have gone carefully over the ground and have been unable to find the child.

The parents think it probable that the child was kidnapped and are offering a reward of $200 for the return of the child whether alive or dead.

HAVE YOU ARRANGED? There is nothing more satisfying to the lady who does not enjoy the luxury of a steward, than a meal away from home. Weakened Vitality Impoverished Blood

Read what Ayer's Sarsaparilla did for a well-known city missionary, who writes:

"I was for many years a sufferer from boils and other eruptions of a like nature, caused by the impoverished state of my blood. My appetite was poor and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of by observation of the good it had done to others, I began taking it. My appetite improved almost from the first dose; then my general health improved, and now it is excellent. I feel a hundred per cent. stronger, and I attribute this result to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised."

As now made, Ayer's Sarsaparilla contains no alcohol.

There are many imitation Sarsaparillas. Be sure you get "Ayer's."

Woman's Clubs For Panama

Miss Helen Varick Boswell, of New York, has entered upon a unique task in the Canal Zone. Following the suggestion of Miss Gertrude Beeks, who was sent to Panama by Secretary Taft to study the social conditions there, Miss Boswell has organized a chain of women's clubs throughout the isthmus, the result being that the monotony of life there has received a death blow. These clubs are known as The Canal Zone Women's League and will be affiliated with the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The object is to make life pleasant for everybody and most of the members are wives and daughters of engineers and officials employed in constructing the canal.

Major Samuel W. Dunning, Twentieth Infantry, U. S. A., has been designated to make the annual inspection of the organized militia of Hawaii.—Argonaut.

H. P. Faye and wife and W. H. Rice, Jr., and wife, were among the passengers who arrived on the Mikahala Wednesday morning.

The following under a New York date line appeared in the San Francisco Chronicle of November 24th:

Princess Kawananakoa of Hawaii is receiving much social attention here. Last Friday night she was one of the notables in the boxes at the Manhattan Opera House, wearing a gown of black satin chiffon combined with gold lace. On another night she and several other ladies who possess titles, among them the Baroness von Ryhiner, president of "The Californians," occupied a box at a theater, the press description of her to the newspapers: "Princess Kawananakoa, nee Abigail Campbell, is a very pretty Scotch girl, 24 years old, wife of H. R. H. David, next in succession to the late throne of the late King Kalakaua of Hawaii, is heiress to the largest sugar plantations in the whole Sandwich Islands; but she is not a Kanaka."

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 16.—A marriage celebrated in this city last evening, which was of interest not only in Santa Rosa, where the bride is a general favorite, but in the bay cities and on the campus at Berkeley, where the principals first formed the acquaintance that led the way to the altar, was that of Miss Edith Ainslie Barrows, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barrows, to H. Werner Dietz, son of George Dietz, a prominent Hawaiian planter and former resident of Sonoma county.

Both graduated from the State University, he in 1903 and she in the class of 1905, and both are members of fraternities.

Mrs. Frank L. Hoyt was the matron of honor. Little Miss Margaret Wall, daughter of Surveyor-General W. E. Wall of the Hawaiian Islands, a niece of the bridegroom, was the ring bearer. The Rev. Leander Turney officiated. Miss Frances Woolsey of Berkeley, a college friend of the bride, played the wedding march.

It was distinctively a college wedding. The bride was gowned in white messaline silk. Mrs. Hoyt wore a pink creation of the same material. A reception and buffet repast followed the ceremony.

After an extended honeymoon tour the couple will go East, where Mr. Dietz is doing some important work on the North Platte project for the Government. He is a Government civil engineer. Later they will go to Honolulu.

Members of the Dietz and Wall families came here from Honolulu for the marriage.

Miss Barrows has been prominent in church, educational and social circles since she left the university.

Rev. and Mrs. John Osborne, who have been making a tour around the world.

Mrs. Livingston Low Baker was the hostess at a tea on Saturday afternoon last from 4 to 6 o'clock in the ballroom of the Fairmont Hotel, in honor of her debutante daughter, Miss Helen Baker. Assisting in receiving were: Mrs. George Page, Mrs. Charles Josselyn, Mrs. W. Mayo Newhall, Miss Kate Stone, Mrs. J. G. Kittle, Mrs. Timothy Hopkins, Mrs. Louis Parrot, Mrs. Horace Davis, Mrs. William Minter, Mrs. Alexander Douglas, Mrs. A. W. Foster, Mrs. Eleanor Martin, Mrs. J. F. Boyd, Mrs. E. S. Breyfogle, Mrs. F. T. McLennan, Mrs. Bertody Stone, Mrs. H. M. A. Miller, Miss Helene Irwin, Miss Leslie Page, Miss Margaret Hyde-Smith, Mrs. George Cadwallader, Miss Margaret Newhall, Miss Marian Newhall, Miss Elizabeth Newhall, Miss Alexander Hamilton, Miss Louisiana Foster, Miss Julia Langhorne, Miss Louise Calhoun, Miss Frances Reed, Miss Anita Mailliard, Miss Christine Pomeroy, and Miss Mary Keeney.—Argonaut.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Julia Dwight Lawrence to Mr. Fred B. Damon has just been made. Both young people are prominent in social circles, and their approaching marriage will be noted with pleasure by their many friends. The date of the wedding has not yet been decided upon.

San Francisco Town Talk, of the 23 ult., mentions among the prominent guests at the Hotel Carlton, in Berkeley, Mrs. A. S. Humphreys and family of Honolulu.

I hear that the Gaiety Club has cornered the citrus crops and as a result several of the debutantes who expected to be bidden to that exclusive organization have had their aspirations poked and their tempers set on edge by the lemons handed out by the Gaiety girls. Several members of the Gaiety were disqualified last season, either through marriage or non-residence, and there were two or three girls who were supposed to be distinctly eligible to membership. As a rule preference is given to the debutantes. There were several bnds who had had their qualifications pruned by their friends, and they considered themselves ready to be transplanted to the exclusive little plot in the rosebud garden of girls occupied by the Gaiety set. Why one of them, I hear, had even promised some of her dances and fancy her feelings when she was not elected to the club, though her friends pulled their hardest for her. A belle of several years standing who has lately affiliated with some of the Gaiety girls was elected and the debutantes feel piqued that she should have been chosen. When Miss Margaret Hyde Smith becomes Mrs. Dillingham of Honolulu there will be another vacancy in the list of membership for marriage bars one from the pride and perquisites of belonging to the Gaiety. Already the fight is on to be measured for the place she will vacate and I understand that there is a strong movement in favor of a debutante who makes her courtesy to society at a tea given this Saturday afternoon.—Town Talk.

The welcome home dance given the members of the St. Louis Alumni baseball nite at the Seaside Monday night attracted one of the biggest crowds that has ever gathered at that popular resort. Special decorations of an appropriate sort were used in giving the grounds and dancing lanai an air even more festive than usual. The Kaal orchestra supplied the music. The dance was attended by all the visiting Spalding ball players and the representatives of the local nines.

Word has arrived of the marriage of the Rev. Canon Alex. Mackintosh, of St. Andrew's Cathedral, Honolulu to Miss Maud Edith Witherby, of London, in the Parish Church of St. Luke's, Richmond Surrey. The ceremony occurred on November 7th, in the morning, in the presence of a large number of friends of the bride and groom. Canon and Mrs. Mackintosh are spending a honeymoon at Torquay, England, and are expected to return to Honolulu in the course of a few months. Mrs. Mackintosh formerly spent some time here and is quite well known to many Honolulu folks.

The coming of the Alameda next Friday will be an event of much moment to Kamehameha Schools, since on that vessel will arrive Rev. W. S. Oleson, the first principal of the institutions. Dr. Oleson's wife will accompany him, and they will be the guests of the school committee on reception, and of prominent citizens for a number of weeks.

The occasion of the distinguished visitor's coming, has been looked forward to for many weeks, and elaborate preparations are making for celebrating his stay here. He will be met on his arrival by the reception committee which expects to go off to the Alameda in a launch to extend a welcome before the vessel docks. Many of the alumni of the schools are expected here during the time Dr. Oleson is here, from the other islands, and an elaborate program is being prepared for the different days, of the visit, of one is set apart as Founder's Day, the 20th anniversary of the schools.

Mrs. Walter C. Weedon, of this city, who is visiting in her former home, Cleveland, Ohio, has been mentioned recently quite prominently in the press of that city from the part she has taken in a number of women's club meetings.

The wedding of Miss Caroline Edna Miller and Mr. James J. Crockett, which occurred Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at St. Andrew's Cathedral, was a very pretty event, uniting two well known and popular young people of Honolulu. The bride is the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. F. C. Miller. She was very charming in a gown of white crepe de chine over taffeta silk trimmed with chiffon and lace. She wore a bridal veil, caught back with orange blossoms, and carried bride's roses.

Miss Irene Aiken, of Maui, as bridesmaid, wore a pink embroidered mail, and carried pink carnations.

Mr. F. Crockett, the groom's brother was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Crockett will be at home after January 1st.

A wedding will take place at the Roman Catholic Cathedral tomorrow night, in which the contracting parties will be Miss Minnie Gomes de Silva, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. de Silva of Kailhi, and John T. Figueredo. The ceremony will be performed at half past seven by Father Stephen.

The two teas given by Mrs. Judge Lindsay, one on Thursday afternoon and the other on Friday, were among the most charming social events of the present season. Mrs. Young and Miss Young, mother and sister of Mrs. Lindsay, who are visiting her for a few months, were the motive of both receptions. As the cottage occupied by the Lindsays on Anapuni street is not a very large one, Mrs. Lindsay decided on having two days and entertaining about forty friends on each occasion.

On Thursday Mrs. Lindsay was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Clarence H. Cooke, Mrs. Will T. Whitney, Mrs. George P. Cooke and Mrs. H. E. Hendricks. The house was beautifully decorated, the dining room being especially admired in the bright red poinsettia. During the afternoon Mrs. Walter Frear read some beautiful selections; Mrs. Ernest Ross gave a delightful violin solo, Miss Constance Restarick charmed all with her sweet singing, and Mrs. Frank Atherton gave a most amusing musical monologue. On Friday afternoon Mrs. Arthur Wilder, Mrs. Berg, Miss Marion Scott and Miss Peck assisted Mrs. Lindsay, while Mrs. Francis Gay sang, Mrs. Will Whitney played, and Mrs. Humphris recited, all of which added greatly to the pleasure of the afternoon.

All of Maui and a large number from Kaula and Oahu will help to make joyous the wedding of Miss Charlotte Baldwin and Harold Rice which takes place this evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Baldwin at Spreckelsville, Maui. Preparations have been going on for some time for this event which will unite two of the oldest and most respected island families. Miss Nora Sturgeon is to be the bridesmaid while Charlie Rice will be best man. Little Emily Cooke and Lois Murdoch will be the pretty flower girls. Mrs. Ladd, whose catering is quite famous, went over last week to superintend all the refreshments, and Ernest Kaai and his quintette club left yesterday for Maui to supply music for the festive occasion. With all the details so well looked after it will undoubtedly be a most successful wedding party.

Mr. H. F. Wichman and children are leaving in January for a trip to Germany, and have rented their home to Dr. and Mrs. Grossman.

The reception to be given to Mr. and Mrs. John Osborne, who arrived by the Siberia from a several months trip abroad, will take place on Monday evening next at St. Clement's parish house.

Captain and Mrs. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. James J. Crockett will occupy adjoining residences on Makiki street between Dominis and Hastings streets.

Mrs. Henry Lyon and Mrs. McGauley were departing passengers by the Siberia yesterday.

Among the arrivals this week was a son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Waterhouse on Monday.

A Cinderella ball will open the social charity season in St. Paul. The great feature of the affair will be a fancy march to be executed by a number of young society women of St. Paul and Minneapolis, gowned in white and with white butterflies in their hair. They will carry white wands. At the conclusion of the march there will be a fanfare of trumpets announcing the arrival of Cinderella, who will appear in the traditional pumpkin coach drawn by white mice. She will make a grand tour of the ballroom, and will then give the signal for the dancing to commence by tossing her "crystal slipper" on the floor, to be snatched up by the fortunate youth who is to be her partner for the first dance. The identity of Cinderella has been kept a profound secret, and all St. Paul is on the qui vive to see who she will be.

While Cinderella is making her bow to the guests the young women in the march will be drawn up in a pretty fanlike formation, and at Cinderella's signal the men who are to be their partners for the first dance will dash to claim them from all parts of the room.

The pupils of Miss Eva Stevens gave one of their regular recitals at the home of Mrs. Theodore Richards this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cockburn, who have been living in the Osborne residence, have taken a cottage in upper Port street.

The re-opening of the Royal Hawaiian Hotel for the season will be good news to many of Honolulu's pleasure lovers, especially since the announcement has been made that the "Alameda dances" are to be resumed with the next coming of that popular boat on next Friday. The dance will be on Saturday evening. The broad lanais of the Hawaiian have always been a favorite dancing place, and the opening dance is certain to be a large affair. Manager Childs is also arranging for a masque ball for Christmas Eve. This will be an invitational affair and promises to be unusually pleasant.

Much interest is being taken in both Punahou College and the Kamehameha Schools this season in girls' basketball. Both schools have strong teams which have been working hard for a number of weeks, with excellent results. Practice games are played twice a week or oftener, by the aspirants for places on the teams. A game of much interest was played yesterday afternoon on the Kamehameha grounds which was largely attended, and which was won by the Kamehameha girls by four points. This was the first of a series of five games which are to be played by the two teams to decide the championship of the Territory. It is probably that the series will not be concluded until after the Christmas holidays.

This is the season when calling cards fly through the air like snowflakes in a stage scene. There is something just as artificial in our modern interchange of bits of pasteboard as the paper semblance of snow employed in stage-craft. Calls have become in our busy life a perfunctory matter, made only in cases where congratulation or condolence are necessary. Condolence demands only the leaving of cards in person, an actual visit depending on the degree of intimacy, and for congratulatory purposes, the recipient is apt to name one day upon which all her friends may bank their good wishes, and on the dreary obligation of mortgaging one's time for weeks is avoided. A few years ago a society woman felt obliged to call upon all her friends at least once in a season, and for that purpose she ordered a carriage, either her own or a hired vehicle, and spent several dizzy days making the rounds, a fashionable call being limited to fifteen minutes. Nothing could exceed the secret and exultant joy which animated the average woman when she found a number of people out, and was thus enabled to reduce her time of servitude.

Time has changed all this, and nowadays, unless one announces days at home, acquaintances are not expected to call. So well is the difficulty of accomplishing all one's visits understood that people of the world do not hold each other to strict account if a season passes without an interchange of calls. They simply meet somewhere, and with perfect good temper, take up the thread dropped when they last met, weeks before, at some one's reception.

At first thought this may seem a hard and shallow custom, but after all, it is far more honest than the old-time round of meaningless calls. It gives people more time to spend with their real friends, and the opportunity of a pleasant interchange of a few moments with acquaintances is found at the reception days of mutual friends. Today one finds people, with the most kindly feeling toward one another, who have not in several seasons exchanged personal calls, except on stated days at home. And the hostess who has her day or days each season, when she receives, does not seem to mind if many of her acquaintances have other obligations on those days which necessitates the mere sending of cards instead of a personal appearance. There is a complacent virtue in the interchange of these bits of pasteboard which our elders did not appreciate. It is possible that there was not the keen necessity for them to take resource to such methods, the ever widening of the social horizon and the constantly increasing demands upon the modern woman having brought about the present card-board barter between mere acquaintances, the true coinage of personal calls passing only between friends.—News Letter.

Just to-night I am a-weary
 For the days of long ago;
 Just to bask in sweetest perfume
 Of the apple blossoms' snow.

Just to see the cows a-coming
 Down the dear old-fashioned lane,
 While the dusk of day is falling,
 I would fain be there again.

Just a little homesick feeling—
 Well I know that soon 'twill pass,
 But I'd like to smell the perfume
 Of the old south meadow grass.

And a feeling steals upon me,
 Part of joy and part of pain,
 First of one and then the other,
 Just as sunshine follows rain.

For the old place of my childhood,
 Still it stands, ah! well I know
 I have reached the hills' bright summit,
 Soon to wander down below.

A PRETTY little fancy of the moment is the pompadour ribbon corset cover to be worn under sheer blouses.

It is fashioned of two strips of wide ribbon, sewed together lengthwise and cut in three pieces, two for the fronts and one for the back and joined under the arms with fagoting.

The shoulder straps are made of lace inserting, beading and narrow edging. The waist is finished with a batiste beading threaded with ribbons.

White silk petticoats or flowered silk are worn with these gay little corset covers and are intended for use with lingerie dresses, so many of which are being pressed into service for evening wear.

It is one of the easiest things in the world to resolve a new order; it is one of the most impossible to make the new order a habit.

Suppose we have resolved to read a little poetry every day. Charles Norton Elliot, the president of Harvard, counseled us to do so no matter how crowded our days with affairs. And we see his reason and are determined to act upon it.

If we would see this resolution carried through and made a part of our daily routine the way to do is to begin, begin now, "do it now," and to begin a little lightly. Begin five minutes or ten minutes a day. That may seem infinitesimal in our first enthusiasm. But it is better so.

Otherwise we might give a half hour to the poetry the first day, perhaps the first week, and whereas we would by this have grown exceeding wise and gentle through the delicate influences of the bards, we would no doubt have missed the time lavished upon such refreshment. Your duties were not done; some visit or mending was deferred; some meal or other engagement was tardy.

So our next impulse is to give up the poetry entirely and see first to it that practical, every-day affairs are in order ere we try to superpose the humanities. So the poetry goes and we only remember a bad experiment, whereas if we had contented ourselves with but ten minutes, or let us say with five, all would have gone as merrily as a marriage bell. The time would not have been missed. And our reward would have been great. Gradually as we more and more realize and value the sweet uses of poetry it becomes a daily food, a daily necessity. And we adjust our diurnal routine so as to leave a larger leisure for the poetry.

One of them will make you happy and the others will make you complaining and envious, putting poison into every moment. It is so much better to be happy than miserable, and it is quite within the reach of every girl. It really depends upon herself whether she will look on the good side or the bad.

There is never a day that does not have in it something nice or amusing, just as there will probably be vexation or disappointments. To dwell on the latter is to make one's self all around wretched, while to think of the former is to be cheerful, happy and amusing to others.

Unselfishness is another road to happiness; not the kind of unselfishness that gives away something one no longer cares for or has plenty of, and requires no effort to part from, but the unselfishness that thinks of others rather than of one's self. There is an immense amount of pleasure in having pleased some one else, having done something that they wished, and it comes from the feeling of having helped, however little.

One gets a great deal more in watching the satisfaction of another when it is due to one's own efforts than in having or doing something that would have pleased only one's self.

Happiness, as a matter of fact, is a thing that lies within us all, only all do not cultivate and develop it. It is not brought necessarily by great things nor many of them, but it comes always with a cheerful and contented spirit that looks for the brightness of life and the good in it, being thankful for what one has and adapting one's self to doing without the impossible. Best of all, it grows bigger and deeper as one's life goes on and we learn the good that lies in all its lessons.

VERY useful powder puff is made in the following way:

TO the girl with a voice I always say: "First, be sure you are a girl with a voice. Don't rush ahead before finding out whether or not there really exists in your particular throat the true instrument. Also, be sure of yourself; feel your ability to be constant to the ideal of work, and know absolutely by years of training here in America—where are many fine instructors—that you possess a voice worthy of high development.

"Never mind what your friends say. It is not that they mean to flatter; they simply do not know. Only good instructors are capable of making the decision when finding and placing your vocal organ.

"If after faithful trial here in your own country you find yourself to be eligible, by all means go abroad, in order to learn the languages on their native ground, so to speak. Also, to profit by the advantages of a musical atmosphere singularly rich and ripe from many years of established and universal music culture—a culture which in Germany has become really popular, the privilege of the humblest peasant as well as if the highest Prince.

"And, above all these things, become your own possessor. Remember that yourself must be to you your truest guide, for it is the will power and the temperance power of your stock-in-trade. Make your mind master of the situation before you give reign to your imagination. In other words, learn your psychic and musical technique, keep your heart single, and WORK!

"If you think you are to be borne in rose petals, intoxicated with their warm, fluttering odors, you are preparing for yourself a painful disillusion. The most satisfying results owe their existence to the most uninspired routine; and roseate glows come only as do peculiarly beautiful sunsets. Just as we may not expect the latter every evening, so we must not look for unvarying artistic elation or triumph."—Emma Eames.

If you want to be happy, decide to be so and see everything in a happy light. It is astonishing how many things become rose colored when thus viewed and how many others reveal happiness that might have been missed were not one looking for it.

You see almost everything in life has two sides, one pleasant and the other unpleasant. It is quite bad enough that the unpleasantness should exist without increasing by dwelling upon it, and the thing to do is promptly to forget the bad side and try to discover the good. It isn't easy, of course, but this is precisely where character comes in, and a girl who takes hold of the world always by its good handle, finding compensation in all things, is the one who gets the most and is the happiest.

It is an encouraging fact that there is no experience of life however saddening or hard that does not have its compensation if one will take the trouble to look, or is willing to learn from it. All of us know people who have grown bitter by sorrow or misfortune. They are those who have refused to get the good that may come from difficult conditions, and their own lives are therefore harder, as they become complaining, unhappy and unpopular.

On the other hand, we know, too, a few who have grown sweeter in misfortune.

Instead of thinking, as do the unhappy, of what they have lost, they think gratefully of what remains and cheerfully learn the hard lessons that have come. There always is something to be grateful for, if one wishes to think so, and to do it means a great help toward gaining happiness. A girl who is poor had much in her friends or in being well and able to go about. It is hard to work sometimes, and one who must do so may make herself miserable if she likes to contrast her own life with that of a girl of leisure and wealth. But she won't be miserable if she stops to think how fortunate she is to have work when hundreds of others who are in dire need cannot get it. This is just an instance of the two sides of a thing you see, and the handle that one may take hold of each day.

One of them will make you happy and the others will make you complaining and envious, putting poison into every moment. It is so much better to be happy than miserable, and it is quite within the reach of every girl. It really depends upon herself whether she will look on the good side or the bad.

If you want to be happy, decide to be so and see everything in a happy light. It is astonishing how many things become rose colored when thus viewed and how many others reveal happiness that might have been missed were not one looking for it.

You see almost everything in life has two sides, one pleasant and the other unpleasant. It is quite bad enough that the unpleasantness should exist without increasing by dwelling upon it, and the thing to do is promptly to forget the bad side and try to discover the good. It isn't easy, of course, but this is precisely where character comes in, and a girl who takes hold of the world always by its good handle, finding compensation in all things, is the one who gets the most and is the happiest.

It is an encouraging fact that there is no experience of life however saddening or hard that does not have its compensation if one will take the trouble to look, or is willing to learn from it. All of us know people who have grown bitter by sorrow or misfortune. They are those who have refused to get the good that may come from difficult conditions, and their own lives are therefore harder, as they become complaining, unhappy and unpopular.

On the other hand, we know, too, a few who have grown sweeter in misfortune.

Instead of thinking, as do the unhappy, of what they have lost, they think gratefully of what remains and cheerfully learn the hard lessons that have come. There always is something to be grateful for, if one wishes to think so, and to do it means a great help toward gaining happiness. A girl who is poor had much in her friends or in being well and able to go about. It is hard to work sometimes, and one who must do so may make herself miserable if she likes to contrast her own life with that of a girl of leisure and wealth. But she won't be miserable if she stops to think how fortunate she is to have work when hundreds of others who are in dire need cannot get it. This is just an instance of the two sides of a thing you see, and the handle that one may take hold of each day.

One of them will make you happy and the others will make you complaining and envious, putting poison into every moment. It is so much better to be happy than miserable, and it is quite within the reach of every girl. It really depends upon herself whether she will look on the good side or the bad.

There is never a day that does not have in it something nice or amusing, just as there will probably be vexation or disappointments. To dwell on the latter is to make one's self all around wretched, while to think of the former is to be cheerful, happy and amusing to others.

Unselfishness is another road to happiness; not the kind of unselfishness that gives away something one no longer cares for or has plenty of, and requires no effort to part from, but the unselfishness that thinks of others rather than of one's self. There is an immense amount of pleasure in having pleased some one else, having done something that they wished, and it comes from the feeling of having helped, however little.

One gets a great deal more in watching the satisfaction of another when it is due to one's own efforts than in having or doing something that would have pleased only one's self.

Happiness, as a matter of fact, is a thing that lies within us all, only all do not cultivate and develop it. It is not brought necessarily by great things nor many of them, but it comes always with a cheerful and contented spirit that looks for the brightness of life and the good in it, being thankful for what one has and adapting one's self to doing without the impossible. Best of all, it grows bigger and deeper as one's life goes on and we learn the good that lies in all its lessons.

TROUBLES OF THE MORMONS

FURTHER DISTRIBUTIONS OF PUNISHMENTS GROWING OUT OF THE KEKAUOHA CASE.

The famous so-called Mormon cases again came up in the United States Court this morning when George Kekauoha and his wife Jennie Kekauoha, were each arraigned for perjury, while Melvin M. Harmon, President of the Late Mormon Settlement, was arraigned on charge of subornation of perjury.

George made a long speech in Hawaiian, which was rather involved, in which he came to the conclusion that he could not hope to clear himself in view of some statements he had been prevailed upon to make to District Attorney Brockous and Marshal Hendry, and consequently he pleaded guilty, asking for the mercy of the court. He was not represented by attorney. A. Perry having withdrawn.

Jennie Kekauoha also pleaded guilty, and her husband asked to be permitted to serve out whatever sentence the court might impose upon her, and allow her liberty. On motion of Attorney J. J. Dunne, for the prosecution, sentence was suspended in George's case until the expiration of the term which he is now serving, and that of his wife went over till Tuesday.

CANNOT COLLECT.

Judge De Bolt rendered an important opinion this morning in the matter of a claim of the Territory for a small amount of income tax from the estate of Charles A. Gault, deceased, in which a new point of law had to be determined. The deceased had died while living in New York, leaving an estate in Hawaiian sugar stocks. The point was whether or not the Territory could collect an income tax on the stock thus owned. The opinion of the court was that it could not.

earlier in the week. The jury found for the plaintiff a judgment of $300, while the amount sued for was something over $600. According to the testimony there was no reason for a judgment in such amount, and the verdict was consequently set aside, the court holding that the full amount or nothing should have been allowed. Cost of court amounting to $65 were taxed to the defendant.

The plea of John Wynne, charged with murder in the first degree, was on motion continued until next Saturday in the United States District Court this morning, pending Judge Dole's passing upon a demurrer to the indictment filed by the defendant's attorney Frank Thompson.

Rosa de Colta was arraigned in United States Court this morning on two indictments charging bigamy. She pleaded not guilty and her trial will be set next Saturday. Rosa is alleged to have two or three husbands living from whom she has never been divorced, while she has lately been living with a man whom she has not married. Her attorney is T. M. Harrison.

The trial of Frank M. Santana before Judge Lindsay yesterday afternoon on charge of assault and battery on one Manuel Rodriguez, appealed from the District Court, was dismissed on account of the conflicting testimony. The defendant had been fined $20 in the District Court. The case followed from a vicious rough and tumble fight which the two men had as the result of an old grudge, the only point in which the statements coincided being that it lasted half an hour before one of them cried "pau."

Herbert M. Ayres late editor of the "Referee" was arraigned in the United States Court this morning on charge of sending improper matter through the mails in the form of an article published in his paper known as the "Palolo story." He pleaded not guilty, and his case will be set for trial later. A. L. C. Atkinson is representing Ayres as counsel. Judge Dole stated that it was not likely that the case could be taken up before the latter part of January.

The court martial at Fort Shafter yesterday which convened for the purpose of trying Private Matthews for desertion from his post while on duty, was in session all day yesterday until five o'clock last night. At that time all the testimony was not in and the case was continued until Monday morning at ten o'clock. Attorneys Corran and Straus, who are defending Matthews, say that they think that their client will get off. A number of prominent witnesses were called yesterday.

QUIET VOYAGE ROUND THE HORN

HIGHLAND MONARCH ENTERS THIS MORNING WITH 5,200 TONS OF NAVY COAL.

"Never was more monotonous voyage," says Captain Wood, master of the British S. S. Highland Monarch which this morning came in from off port where she had idged all night watching the lights ashore, just because she was after dark in arriving.

Sixty-six days from Baltimore, she comes with 5,200 tons of fine coal for the Avuncular Samuel's battle-boats and is the fifth of the steam colliers to arrive here since November 10 with coal for the navy and her cargo swells the fuel on hand for Naval purposes to forty-two thousand tons.

She lies at Naval wharf No. 1 and in the same slip, at Naval wharf No. 2, lies the Queen Helena which arrived from Newport News on Wednesday, two British colliers alongside in the same slip.

The Highland Monarch put in at St. Lucia and Montevideo en route to bunker coal and she will replenish her bunkers here. The Queen Helena is even now taking on bunker coal the while she is discharging her cargo.

Touring the world, there is a passenger aboard the Highland Monarch, Mr. Reid, a friend of the owners. He finds the collier a good traveler and her master most excellent company. The saloon of the Highland Monarch is cozy enough to lure anybody on an extended voyage, for there is the open fireplace and mantle and mirror, combined, so dear to the English heart, although no fire is burning now. Coming through the Straits of Magellan a fire was most welcome, as it was for a good period of the trip, downing the Atlantic and upping the Pacific.

There was considerable mail awaiting the officers and passenger of the Britisher upon arrival. While she carries fourteen Chinese firemen the balance of her company is white. From Honolulu the Highland Monarch expects to go to Melbourne to load wheat for London.
