BY AUTHORITY.

To the Inspectors of Election in the several Districts of the Kingdom:—

Inquiries having been made whether persons who are exempt from the payment of personal taxes by reason of being clergymen, teachers, pupils in High Schools, firemen, &c., or by reason of being over the age of sixty years—or whose taxes have been excused by the Assessor on account of infirmity or poverty, are allowed by law to vote at the Election for Representatives.

It is my opinion that all such persons are entitled to vote. The Tax Collector should issue to each such person a tax receipt with the words "Qualified to Vote" upon it, which he must sign and in place of the amount of taxes he must write "exempt" or "excused." On the presentation of this Tax Receipt to the Inspectors of Election at their sessions previous to the election, the name of the voter must be put on the list of voters and the Receipt returned to the voter.

At the general Election to be held on the 3rd February, 1886, the votes of such persons must be received, unless challenged for other reasons.

SATURDAY, JAN. 30, 1886.

The Post-Office Robbery.

TRIAL OF THOMAS B. WALKER.

SUPREME COURT.

SATURDAY, JAN. 30th.

The Court opened at nine o'clock, Mr. Justice Preston presiding. A jury was impanelled, consisting of E. A. Jones, H. Gunn, S. M. Whitman, Fr. Eckley, H. W. Morse, E. McInerney, C. Hammer, J. J. Lecker, A. Mossman, A. L. Smith, H. Waterhouse, Henry Davis. The jury was sworn, on motion of Mr. F. M. Hatch, to answer truly all questions put them. The jurors were questioned severally by Mr. Hatch, all except Mr. Waterhouse answering that they had formed no opinions. Mr. Waterhouse said he had formed opinions which it would require evidence to remove. Mr. Waterhouse was excused. Mr. H. McIntyre was then called. Messrs. McIntyre and Hammer were challenged by Mr. Hatch. Mr. George Lucas was called, and interrogated. The jury was then sworn well and truly to try the issue.

The Attorney-General appeared for the Crown, and Messrs. F. M. Hatch and A. C. Smith for the defendant, Thos. B. Walker, who yesterday pleaded not guilty.

NATHAN WILLFONG, sworn: I was in the Post Office, as Money Order Clerk, on the 2nd and 3rd of January. On Saturday evening, Jan. 2nd, I left the office about 5 o'clock; I left every thing all right; I had a safe there; I left it locked; I set the combination. I next went to the office on Sunday morning at 7 o'clock; I found one of the drawers that belonged in the safe out on the table in front of the safe; I found the safe locked, and the combination a little injured, so that I could not set it again. I found Mr. Marcos, the policeman, there; I stayed there all day. Mr. Peterson was not there; he came back about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The Minister of the Interior sent for Mr. More, who applied pliers to the knob so that the door was opened. I had a key to the inner door; I think I took out the key of the inner; I did not take it to unlock the door. The two drawers were taken out, the one I found on the table and another. They were taken out, and a lot of money. One drawer was locked in the safe; I had one key; I do not know who opened the other. That drawer was forced open; I had in it some private money of my own. The other drawer contained a lot of coin and certificates of deposit belonging to the Government; the drafts were all there; I and Mr. Peterson had the combination of that safe; I do not know of any other person having the combination. $480 certificates, $1,375 gold coin, $7 American Currency, $482 I think in Hawaiian silver coin, were in the safe.

Cross-examined by Mr. Hatch: There were books kept in my safe which I keep the money order account in, and all the books I use. There were no books except those I keep, kept in it. I think it was about 7 o'clock I went, because I was called. I usually go there on Sunday morning; I found Mr. Marcos, Mr. Swain, and I think David Manaku. This money had been in the safe, I do not know how long, as we are always paying out and receiving money; there was not very much more money than usual in at that time; none of the amounts given belonged to me, $480, $1,375 and $7. No attempt was made to open the safes that morning until Mr. Peterson came; I tried the combination when I first got there, but could not turn it. The disc outside of the knob had been pounded and indented, so that the knob would not turn; was not there previous Saturday night after 5 o'clock; I left two clerks there working at five o'clock. When no mail is about leaving, or mail about to arrive, the usual time to shut up on Saturday is 2 o'clock; employees are usually all gone at 4 o'clock; I know of no work that was on hand that Saturday night, to keep the clerks late at work. The safe I use is a Magnese-Calci, made in Boston. Mr. Peterson did not say anything that I recollect about the business that Sunday afternoon. I found the two doors of the other safe wide open; I do not know what was kept in that safe, except money received for sale of stamps, supposed to be kept there. I do not know what kind of a safe that was. It was a very old one; had a combination lock; I never knew the combination of that safe.

Mr. C. O. BERGER, sworn:—I was in the Honolulu Post Office on the morning of Jan. 3rd; I saw the safe; it was opened by Mr. More; I am agent for safe; I understand what is necessary for me to understand about combinations; I noticed an indentation on the safe; the indentation must have been made after the safe was opened; the lock was in perfect order; the effect of the indentation was that the dial was so tight that we could not turn it; the blow must have been given after the safe had been opened; the dial would just turn it far enough to lock the safe again; it stood on "ten," but do not remember exactly; the blow may have been struck before it was re-locked or after; after the blow, the door could not be opened.

Cross-examined by Hatch:—It was a fire-proof safe; a three number safe; the last number was fixed; it was numbers not letters; you can change any number on the lock; I did not examine the old safe; I looked at it; there was a combination and key, both on the outer door; it was an old style safe.

Mr. SWAIN, sworn:—I am delivery clerk at the Post Office. I was there on the 2nd January. The office usually closes at 2 on Saturdays. I was there from 6:30 A. M., till 10 P. M. that day, taking the inventory of the office. On that evening I was taking an inventory of stock of the office; Mr. Manaku was with me; Mr. Peterson came in about seven o'clock; he did no work then; he told me he was going to write his cash book. After Manaku and I went to take an inventory of stock, we were to give it to Mr. Peterson; we finished our work about 10 o'clock; we finished our work, left it locked up with our books in the safe; Mr. Peterson had been in at intervals during the evening; we left Mr. Peterson there when we went out; there is a light fastened under the verandah on Merchant street; I went up Bethel to King street; I do not remember whether the light was burning while we were working in the office.

Cross-examined: Mr. Peterson was doing nothing when we left that night; he intimated he had to write up his cash book. There was nothing I know of to prevent him doing that during the evening; I remember of him going in and out twice. He seemed to be out more than in. I paid no special attention to his movements, I was attending to my own work. He seemed to be doing no work; at times when he came in he talked to us, seemed to have his senses. Appeared as usual. Manaku and I had keys of the outer door. We are never in the office evenings except when there is office work to do. I did not see Mr. Peterson take off his books that evening while I was there. His safe was in the back part of the office. I did not notice it when I went out. Money received at the window was kept in that safe. I do not know how much money was in his safe. Every evening the cash was turned over to him. I would know by referring to the books how much money was turned over that evening.

DAVID MANAKU, sworn:—I am employed in the Post Office. I was there Saturday evening before theft was committed. The office closed about 2 o'clock. We were taking an inventory of the stock in the office, and making out the advertised list of foreign letters. Mr. Peterson was not there at 9 o'clock. Mr. Peterson came there a little after sundown. I left between 9:30 and 10. I left Mr. Peterson there. When I got through I handed him the lamp and stamp account book.

Cross-examined: The stamp account book was given him to enter in his cash book. He has an office upstairs. His safe is down stairs. He kept his books, some in the safe downstairs, some in his desk upstairs. I had conversation with Mr. Peterson that evening. I cannot say if he had been drinking; did not look like it to me. Spoke quite natural to us. The stamp account is taken every day. He told me a few days before that he wanted the inventory of all the stock in the office. That caused me to stay all that Saturday afternoon. The inventory made that day, that is the part made that day—part of it shows on the stamp account book. I got through with the stamp account the first thing in the evening. We handed it to Mr. Peterson when we left the office. For a few nights previous, I was there till sometimes half-past 11. Mr. Peterson was not there on these occasions. I did not know if he was coming down that evening. On Sunday morning, I got there about half-past 6. (Witness named a number of persons he found there). Mr. Peterson was not there then; Kalaeha is one of the sorting clerks. I generally get there about that time on Sunday morning to receive mails. Mr. Peterson, Mr. Swain and myself usually come there at that time on Sunday mornings. I saw one safe open, the other shut. I did not notice the contents of Mr. Peterson's safe.

ROBERT MORE, sworn: I am a machinist, lock and gunsmith, etc. I was in the Post Office Sunday morning, January 3rd. My experience in safes is that I have done a good deal of work about their locks. I found one safe all right. It was open. I examined the lock on the outside door. I am positive there was no violence done to this safe. The othersafe could not be opened by hand. The dial could not be turned by hand. I used an instrument to turn the dial. The safe seemed to have opened, closed and then stuck. With reference to the locks of both outer and inner doors there were no signs of violence. I could have discovered an inspicture if any violence had been done. The safe could not be opened after the blow was struck, except as I described. After opening the safe, the inside was so that there evidently had been violence used in opening the drawers. It looked as if two screw drivers had been used. It took me about five minutes to open the safe after I got there. It must have been about eleven or half-past eleven.

DAVID DAYTON, sworn: I was in the Post Office, on Sunday morning, the 3rd of this month. I made a minute examination after I got there. I found the hasp of the mauka door had been pried off. The upper screw showed bright. The bolt of the lock was back. The hasp had been taken off without being forced off by the lock bolt. The hasp showed as if taken off with the door open. (Witness here gave a statement of the condition in which he found the safes, which is substantially the same as given by previous witnesses.) I think the upper screw of the hasp had been unscrewed and the lower one forced. I had some conversation with Mr. Peterson. (Attorney-General objected to mentioning what passed between him and Mr. Peterson.)

KALAELOHA, sworn: I work in the Post Office; I stamp letters and sort newspapers for the other islands. I left the office on Saturday the 2nd January, at half-past three; I went from the Post Office to Mr. Peterson's, and afterward to my own place just beyond. At half-past 4, next morning, I called at Mr. Peterson's, harnessed the horse, and drove to the Post Office. Got there about 5 1/2. I remained to tie the horse, Mr. Peterson opened the door. Then we both went in together. The first thing I did was to light a lamp. Mr. Peterson went towards the telephone to ask how far off the Kinau was. Passing along I saw that Willfong's safe was open; I was alarmed at seeing it open and looking on the floor saw some certificates. I then went to look at mauka door to see how that was. Called to Peterson, who followed me. Found the door closed, but opened easily. Then Peterson took the lamp and started to look at his own safe, and found it open. We did not go close up to this safe. It was before daylight; we were alarmed. We went then to the other room; there was a hammer belonging to the office; Mr. Peterson told me to strike a blow on the safe; I did so. The door was shut when he told me to strike the blow. We went again to the mauka door. He told me to take the hasp off, which I did with a claw hammer. I went to the door on the Ewa side. While there I heard Mr. Peterson telephoning to the Police Station. After a few minutes, a policeman came along. I left the hasp I had taken off on the floor near the door. I did not meet Peterson between 5 1/2 P. M. and 4 1/2 A. M.

Cross-examined: It was Mr. Peterson's horse I harnessed on Sunday morning. I broke off the hasp; knew it was wrong; was excited. I thought that people might come in afterwards, and finding the place robbed, they might think we had perpetrated the robbery. He told me to take it off, and it coincided with my views to do so. I did it as soon as he had made the suggestion. It did occur to me that it was wrong to strike the safe, but I was confused and excited. The money we found on the floor was left there. Akan came in answer to Mr. Peterson's telephone. Next a native policeman, by name of Jack, then Mr. Kawainui, the editor. I remained there all the forenoon. Mr. Peterson stopped there until he showed the policeman round, then said he was going to Nolte's to get a cup of coffee. I tell what I did for the first time now; from that time until now I have told nobody of what had happened; Mr. Peterson may have told; was questioned on Sunday, and on Tuesday; Mr. Dayton asked me questions.

The ATTY.-GENL. asked liberty to call this witness again for direct examination, as to what became of certificates seen on floor.

The COURT put the question, to which witness replied that he did not know; the papers appeared to be drafts from Spreckelsville; when we broke hasp, I picked up a piece of iron twisted round—might be used to insert in a lock; had never seen that iron before.

Cross-examined: Found iron on floor near the door.

The ATTY.-GENL. introduced hasp and skeleton key in evidence.

LEIALOHA, sworn: I am a hack driver, on the stand near the Anchor Saloon; saw Peterson on that Saturday evening, half-past ten, near Anchor Saloon; he came along and said, "Wait for me," and then went into saloon, remaining there till eleven o'clock, when he came out, alone, and I took him home. Anchor Saloon is at corner of King and Nuuanu streets; I was on King street, mauka of the saloon; know it was ten because when he went in I followed him and looked at the clock.

P. O. SULLIVAN, sworn: I am bar-keeper of Anchor Saloon; was there on the Saturday evening in question; saw Peterson there about 11 o'clock; do not think he stopped over five minutes; there was quite a number of people there; do not remember any person coming with Peterson; he took a glass of beer. Peterson was there since on a Saturday; Walker was there at same time; both did not come in together; Peterson called for a glass of beer; Walker went up to him and asked him to take a glass of wine; Peterson declined, saying beer and wine would not mix; did not hear them talk except about drinks; they stood side by side; there were a number of people in at the time; it was about half-past 10 in forenoon; did not see them having anything like a private conversation; might have been without my having heard it; bar is 15 or 18 feet long, and I was passing back and forth; when they were drinking they stood within a foot or two of each other.

Cross-examined: When Walker spoke to Peterson, he walked back, four or five feet, to where his wine stood; when Walker asked Peterson to take wine I was pouring out Peterson's beer; Walker was speaking in ordinary tone of voice; he had been drinking freely and was quite jolly; Peterson did not remain more than about five minutes; he waited a little after drinking his beer.

FRANK MARCOS, sworn: I am a police officer; was in Post Office morning of robbery; these things (hasp and key) were lying near back door.

Cross-examined: Lock on back door was a common one; I tried this key and it opened the lock.

AKAU, sworn: I am turnkey at the Police Station; was at Post Office on morning of robbery; left Police Station at 10 minutes after five and went straight to Post Office; when I got there Peterson and a native were standing at the door on Bethel street; Peterson took me into large room; first one entered, and told me there was a robbery, and showed me the safes open. I asked Peterson who had the keys, how were the safes opened? He said he had the keys but did not know how the safes were opened; when we got into inside room, Peterson showed me a box containing small change and papers, and said the money had been taken out of it. I asked him how it was safe was closed, and he said he shut it. I told him he did very wrong, and ordered him not to touch anything else. Native then told me the back door was open, and I found it so, with hasp forced off as if by force from outside; do not recollect seeing key there. I told Peterson and native to stay there, and I would go to Station and report matters; went up and reported to officer in charge that Post Office had been robbed; he said to not say anything about it just then.

Cross-examined: I did not tell officer what Peterson had said; told Mr. Dayton, about noon on Sunday, same day; saw quite a number of articles, papers, etc., on floor; there were some ten-cent pieces; on table and floor were papers looking like drafts; do not remember seeing any Government certificates. When I went back I left Peterson and the native alone in the building.

WILLIAM H. PLACE, sworn: My occupation at New Year's was bartender at the Royal Hotel; was working for Mr. Walker; was there on Saturday evening, 2nd January; Royal is one square from Post Office; it is on corner of Nuuanu and Merchant. There were a great many people there that night; Peterson was there in early part of the evening, again at 9, and then at a later hour; first time was about 7, long enough to have a drink; Walker was there and Peterson asked him to have a drink; at 9 they met again, but had no conversation; it was about half-past 10 when they were next there; they went into a back-room together and had a drink, staying only a few minutes. Mr. Sharratt was there one time, left with Peterson; don't think Walker went out with them; Walker ordered a quantity of beer for Sharratt, which was taken out to a carriage. Walker and Peterson had a drink each in the back room. Royal Saloon has four entrances, one of which leads out to Nuuanu and one to Merchant street. I know a man named Hastie; he was at the Royal that evening; Mr. Walker told me Hastie wanted to borrow money from him; I left Walker and Hastie together when I left Saloon at 11 o'clock.

Cross-examined: Hastie was not in when Peterson was there; it would be about half-past ten when Peterson went out; he drank claret punch each time when alone, and plain claret when with Walker. Peterson generally had two drinks in an afternoon. I have been there about two months and a half.

JOHN DE GRAVES, sworn: I am a hack driver. On that Saturday night Walker told me two gentlemen were on the corner, wanting a hack; went out and found Peterson and Sharratt, and went with them to Sharratt's, taking Peterson back between 9 and 10 o'clock. Peterson told me the boys were working in the Post Office, and I asked him if I should wait to drive him home; he said not to do so. Between ten and eleven, seeing no lights in the Post Office, I drove off.

Cross-examined: I did not see Mr. Peterson again that night.

At noon the Court took recess of one hour.

This afternoon several witnesses have been examined. Mr. Peterson going on shortly before two o'clock. In the Police Court Peterson testified that on the Saturday night in question he had left the safes unlocked, and the back door and gate open, to enable Walker to carry out an arrangement made between them for getting away with the books, which showed a deficiency in Peterson's accounts, and that afterward, at the Anchor Saloon, Walker told him he had $1,000 for him whenever he wanted it.

A "dark horse" has appeared at Lahaina, to disturb the Government's calculations of a "walk-over." The Independents have kept the secret well.

The Advertiser has an interesting article on "The End of the Buffalo." On Thursday next it may have another on "The End of the Hash-house Administration."

SUNDAY SERVICES.

ELDER W. M. HEALEY will preach at 7:30 P. M., in the tent, corner of Alakea and Hotel streets.

ROMAN CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL.—High mass at 10 A. M. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at 4 P. M.

Y. M. C. A.—Young Men's Bible Class in the parlor at 9:45 A. M., conducted by the General Secretary. Gospel praise service at 6:30 P. M.

W. C. T. U.—A gospel temperance meeting will be held on the wharf, foot of Fort street, 3:30 P. M. Good singing, led by a band cornet, will be provided.

BETHEL UNION CHURCH.—Rev. E. C. Ogel, pastor. Preaching by the pastor at 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Morning subject, "I Believe in the Communion of Saints." Evening, a praise and gospel service, in which the church choir and a full chorus of young people will assist. Subject, "House Building." Seats free, and everybody invited.

FORT STREET CHURCH.—Rev. J. A. Cruzan, pastor. Preaching by the pastor at 11 A. M., and 7:30 P. M. Evening subject: "A Young Man among Strange Companions." At the latter service, in addition to the congregational singing, led by cornet, violin and other instruments, the church choir will sing selections from Weber, Buck and Bach, and Schubert's exquisite "Reverie" will be given on organ and violin by Messrs. Jones and Yardley. Seats free, no collection and a cordial welcome.

There are now 440 men employed in the Mare Island Navy Yard.

A man named Mauritz shot at a coyote near Palouse Junction, W. T., but missed it and the ball glanced off, striking a Chinaman half a mile away and inflicting a serious wound.

Captain Charles C. Morton, aged 76 years, died in Sonoma recently. He was a native of Nantucket and was master of the bark John W. Coffin, which sailed from Boston on December 8, 1818, being the first vessel leaving Boston for California after the discovery of gold.

The wonderful "artesian well" recently struck at Santa Rosa, which gave such a stream as to flood all the surroundings in a short time, turns out to have been produced by a fracture of one of the water company's pipes, the water coming from the Santa Rosa Water Company's reservoir.

The Rev. Sam Jones, the noted Georgian evangelist, has been preaching to great audiences in St. Louis for some weeks. The largest churches have been crowded, and even the large hall in the Exposition building, where 6,000 people can be seated, has been filled night after night.

The American Congregation Year Book, 1886, shows 5,170 churches, 4,043 ministers and 418,564 church members. These indicate again of 69 churches and 17,015 church members. The whole number in Sunday schools is 510,339. The benevolent contributions aggregate $1,700,235.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The steamer Kinan brought 7,044 bags of sugar, 102 sheep, 75 hinds and 110 pigs of sundries.
The steamer Kilanea Hou will arrive here to-night or to-morrow with 4,100 bags of sugar and 40 head of cattle.

MARRIED.

January 28, 1886, in Honolulu, H. I., by the Rev. E. C. Oggel, pastor of the Bethel Union Church, Mr. Daniel McKenzie and Miss Christiana Logan, both of this city.

LOCAL & GENERAL NEWS.

Messrs. Whitney, Von Holt and Baird's yacht arrived to-day on the bark Chilena from Liverpool.

"All are welcome" to the Y. M. C. A. temperance meeting in the Bethel vestry, 7.30 this evening.

To-night occurs the two-mile wheelbarrow race between McWayne and Mullen at the Yosemite rink.

By the steamer Kinan it is learned that Mr. Jas. Campbell and J. W. Kalua, Independent candidates, are very strong at Lahaina.

In the case of Robinson vs. Sresovich, the jury, after a quarter of an hour's consultation, returned a verdict for plaintiff for the full amount claimed, $900.

Last evening Elder Healey gave the reasons of his society for keeping the seventh-day Sabbath, and to-night he will discuss the reasons adduced for keeping Sunday.

The remains of the late Dr. Enders, of Wailuku, Maui, are to be disinterred and sent to Honolulu. They will arrive here on Feb. 6th, and on the following Sunday, Feb. 7th, will be buried by the Masonic "Lodge le Progres de l'Oceanie."

By the steamer Likelike this morning news is received of another opium seizure by Mr. J. Sheldon, special Custom House officer at Kahului. He made a trip to Wakena last Tuesday night and succeeded in catching a Chinaman, Ah Mutie by name, with fifteen half-pound tins of opium. The Chinaman was tried by Judge Kealoha and fined $160.

A young sailor, about 17 years of age, named Nicholas Lambert and belonging to the British bark Chilena, that arrived this morning from Liverpool, fell overboard on the passage and was drowned. The vessel was off the Falkland Islands, South Atlantic, when the accident occurred. It was 7 A. M. when the young man fell off the railing. The ship was hoisted to and a boat lowered, but he was not seen again.

The races at Central Park to-night are likely to be very interesting. The programme opens with the half-mile race for silver mug—entries: P. Ryan, W. Moore, Dick Farmer, Sam Ladd, J. Brown, and Fred and Frank, Portuguese.

This morning Mr. Quong Sam Kee hung out a mercantile sign, in the familiar Chinese fashion of gay vermilion and gilt, and adorned with ribbons, on the shop in the lower story of the new Chinese club house, King street. There was an interesting display of ceremony on the occasion, accompanied with a grand fusillade of fire-crackers.

An exciting episode occurred on Queen street this forenoon. A native on horseback pursued a fugitive ram, having to put his horse to the sharpest gallop to overtake it. At the corner of Richard street he succeeded in fastening his lasso round the animal's horns, and a friend coming along handed the captive up to the huntsman, who bore it off in triumph.

At the regular meeting of Honolulu Royal Arch Chapter, No. 1, held last evening, the following officers were installed for the ensuing term by P. H. P., E. P. Adams, viz:—H. P., David Dayton; King, W. C. Parke; Scribe, E. D. Tenney; Capt. of Host, W. B. Davey; Prin. Sojourner, F. J. Higgins; R. A. Captain, J. F. Bowler; Master 3rd Vail, Jas. Dodd; Master 2nd Vail, Chas. F. Wall; Master 1st Vail, Chas. Hammer; Treasurer, Jno. S. Walker, re-elected; Secretary, Joseph M. Oat, re-elected; Tyler, Ben. Whitney.

PUZZLE DEPARTMENT.

WORD PUZZLE.—NO. XIII.

I challenge any one or more of the readers of the BULLETIN to produce a word of one syllable that will give as many changes as the word I have selected for my puzzle of this week. Without transposing or picking out letters here and there, as many others do, but which I look upon as extremely nonsensical, my word will bear fourteen distinct and square changes, eleven only of which I have introduced into my present rhyme. Of course, I bar the word which is pronounced when mine is read backward:—

My word denotes some useful things
Much used in family houses;
In making coats, vests, pants and shirts,
Or underwear and blouses.

One way these things are nearly round,
Each has a hollow heart,
And on machines for sewing cloth,
I play an active part.

Curtain me, yet I still remain
A useful thing much used,
And babies crawling on the floor
By me are oft amused.

Re-tail me, lop my head and I'm
To sporting men most dear,
No matter if they win or lose,
Which sounds a little queer.

I also am some favorite spots,
Where certain fishes lay;
And where the small boy with his boat,
Will often go and play.

Curtain me, but I still remain
Unchanged except in number,
I still am where those certain fish
Besport themselves or slumber.

Behold again, and backward read,
And I'm a favorite game,
Oft played in many towns I know
But I won't tell its name.

Curtain again, pronounced both ways
An implement I am;
Preferred by native farmers here
To those of Uncle Sam.

I also am a pretty bird
Much prized among the natives,
Who use my feathers for choice wreaths
And other ornamentatives.

Now give me back my heads and tails
And stand me up on end,
And I will wring more changes out,
And try my rhyme to mend.

Pronounce me backward, and you name
Two kinds of salt-sea craft—
The captains of one kind are dined,
The others often chaffed.

Behold me, backward read, and I
Am merely changed in number,
I still denote two kinds of craft,
Whose crews in watches slumber.

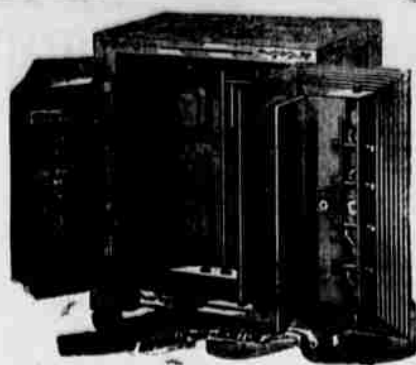

Curtain me, and still backward read,
And you will name some traps,
Much used for snaring birds and game
By old and younger chaps.

Behold me, backward read again
And still a trap you leave me,
With which to catch fish, fowl and fowls,
The truth I tell—believe me.

One syllable I've used, from which Eleven changes rhyme—
Beat this—without transposing, mind—
And you will beat my time.

I try to make my puzzles plain,
And give the young a chance—
Perhaps the more experienced folks
Detect me at a glance.

MacNEALE & URBAN SAFES,

206 California Street, San Francisco, Cal.

GENTLEMEN: In reply to your inquiry concerning the opening of the Burglar proof Chest in the safe in the office of the Clerk of the Supreme Court—now so well known as THE MCCARTHY SAFE—I will say that I took charge of the office on Wednesday, the 6th inst. For some days previous unsuccessful attempts had been made by various experts to pick the lock. On Thursday, further, similar efforts were made, with the same result, by Mr. Ensign and other noted experts, ALL OF WHOM FINALLY DECLARED THAT THE LOCK COULD NOT BE PICKED, and that the safe must be opened by force.

On Friday I employed the expert of one of your competitors, who did faithful and honest work for that purpose. On Saturday morning work was begun, and this morning (Wednesday) FOUR DAYS AFTER, the expert succeeded in drilling through the door and opening the safe.

I consider it was an extraordinarily severe test, much beyond what a burglar could possibly employ under any circumstances, and can assure it has inspired me with the highest confidence in the security of your Burglar Proof Safes, and that YOUR LOCKS ARE PICK-PROOF AGAINST THE BEST EXPERTS.

After working for some hours on the lock, one expert said he had found that Y was one letter and another that C was one. On examination, neither of these letters appeared in the combination. Yours truly, J. D. SPENCER, Clerk of Supreme Court.

The above was a No. 8 MacNEALE & URBAN Fire and Burglar Safe.

THE INFLUENCE OF THE HILLS ON THE HUMAN RACE.

In the countries which are marked by hills and valleys the question arises how these hills and valleys have been formed. I am so much of a Highlander and a Scotchman that for myself I am disposed to say that no country is worth living in that has no hills and valleys, and certain it is that all the greatest races in the world—the greatest in history, the greatest in military fame, the greatest in literary fame, and the greatest in arts—have always lived in countries more or less mountainous and hilly; and wherever these people have lived and flourished their history has been intimately associated with their hills and mountains. I need hardly remind you how the holiest associations in our memories are connected with the hills of the Holy Land, and connected with the journey of Israel in the great delta to the land which was to be their home for so many ages. We have mountains spoken of in the poetry and prophecy of Scripture. We have the mountains of Sinai, of Pisgah, of Carmel, of Gilboa, of Horeb, of Ibor, of Lebanon, of Tabor (the Mount of Transfiguration), of Zion, and last, though not least, we have the Mount of Olives. In regard to hills, many of you will remember one of the most beautiful images of the Old Testament, in which it is stated, "As the hills stand about Jerusalem so standeth the Lord about His people." Even in this country some of the memorable events in our history are intimately connected with its mountains.—Duke of Argyll.

THE OCEAN CARRYING TRADE.

The building of ships has come pretty near to a standstill in England and Scotland. A great many ships are idle and have been so for months. They are ready to go to work when they can earn enough to a little more than pay running expenses. This is the condition of the industry which some of our free-trade contemporaries regard as a prize which America can capture by a little effort. The price to be paid for a ticket in this lottery is the repeal of such of our navigation laws as shut foreign vessels from American registry and from the home carrying trade. If we will let these idle foreign vessels compete with American vessels for the coast trade, we may be let into a larger share of the ocean carrying trade. The tendency of the age is to build up local industries. The protection theory is gaining friends in Europe and even in Great Britain, which of all nations has the most to gain from free trade. In the United States there is no free-trade party. The widest difference of opinion on the tariff is as to a purely revenue tariff which must to an extent be protective, and a tariff avowedly for protection. The incidental protection theory is a constitutional refuge for such strict constructionists as can see no provision in the constitution authorizing Congress to levy a tax on foreign products with a view to the protection of home industry. They insist that the tax must be laid ostensibly for revenue, but do not object to such a degree of protection as it carries. The protection policy builds up home industries at the expense of foreign commerce. The inland carrying trade increases while the ocean carrying trade decreases. When Germany taxes American wheat to protect German farmers, it diminishes the amount of American wheat transported to Germany. When the United States taxes German manufactured goods to protect American manufacturers, it diminishes the amount of German goods transported to the United States. Each nation builds up its own industries. While there is no hostility to foreign commerce, the opinion is growing that foreign commerce is but a subordinate industry, to be extended or limited as the condition of home industries may determine. There are some things which we must buy abroad. There are others which we may buy abroad or produce at home. The present tendency, not only in this country but in Europe, is to produce at home as much as possible. The more nearly self-supporting a nation is the less it has to fear from war. A nation whose revenue depends upon its exports and whose means of subsistence are derived largely from the sale of products in foreign countries is easily crippled in time of war. It can neither sell its products nor buy those of other nations except at the ruinous cost which war entails upon foreign commerce.—S. F. Call.

STATEMENT. THE undersigned, a Committee of Directors of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, appointed to formulate the views of the Board on the advantages offered by the Society to the public, report:— 1st—The Society issues all the approved forms of assurance, including Ordinary Life, Endowment and Tontine policies. It is immaterial to the Directors which form of policy is taken by intending assurers. 2d—The Life and Endowment forms of policy provide for annual cash dividends and a surrender value; are indisputable after three years and payable immediately after proof of death. 3d—The premiums on a Tontine policy are the same as on the Ordinary Life, but while the latter is only payable in the event of death, the holder of the Tontine policy has the right to draw the whole of the reserve and the accumulated profits in cash at the end of a stated period; thus, during his own lifetime, after his producing years are past, he can, without any larger premium than on an ordinary policy, secure these greater advantages. 4th—Experience shows that the return paid in cash on maturing Tontine policies approximates to or exceeds the amount of premiums paid by policyholders, so that the average cost of the assurance will be only about the interest on the premiums. 5th—Tontine policies, like others, are paid in full in the event of death at any time during the term of the policy, and are incontestable after three years, and payable immediately after due proof of death. 6th—Experience shows that the mortality is lower among Tontine policyholders, as the better lives seek this kind of assurance, which is a considerable source of profit. 7th—Tontine policies will be made non-forfeitable under the laws of the State, if so desired at the time the assurance is effected. 8th—The Tontine system is fair and just; its accounts are accurately kept, separate from all other business; the funds judiciously invested and improved, and the accumulated profits faithfully guarded and properly apportioned. 9th—The Society has since its organization transacted a larger amount of new business than any other company, while its new business for the first half of the present year is $1,750,000 larger than that of the first half of 1884. It has Assets of $60,000,000; over $14,000,000 of Surplus, and its ratio of Surplus to Liability is greater than that of any other company. CHAUNCEY M. DEFEW, JOHN A. STEWART, EUGENE KELLY, WILLIAM A. WHELOCK, CHARLES G. LANDON, JOHN SLOAN, HENRY B. HYDE, Committee of the Board of Directors of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States. ALEX. J.
