TO-MORROW'S DOINGS.

MORNING. Legislature, 10.

THE FUTURE.

With all the discouraging features of the outlook there are some things which are encouraging. There certainly is a greater feeling of hopefulness than has been experienced at the end of any legislature for twelve years past.

Times of trial test the metal and show its true quality. And under the strain to which the community has been subjected the qualities which characterize true hearted citizens have been displayed to a degree which argues good for the future.

No matter how dark the present may appear, the fact that the great body of the intelligent portion of the community of all nationalities is alive to the necessity of making personal effort and sacrifice for the public good, is most hopeful.

There are ignorant and shallow persons who have sneered at those who have protested against the tendency of the government. Warnings and remonstrances have been treated as idle tales, and those who have thus raised their voices have been heaped with contumely.

But already an aroused public sentiment has been able to defeat powerful schemes detrimental to the public good, in the face of the whole machinery of the Government supported by large monied interests.

This united and active public sentiment in favor of good Government is the chief source of the hopefulness which is so generally felt.

WHY THE KING SHOULD NOT BE DISCUSSED.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—During the last few months, the BULLETIN under your able leading, has given many hard hits and secured for itself many friends, and among them I take pleasure in placing myself as one; but in your issue of to-day, you state "and wherefore should we not discuss the King?"

This is an open and outspoken demand and might imply, that you have no regard for His Majesty or the office that he holds, but your being an Hawaiian forbids that thought, for we both are Hawaiian born and know no other country.

The first answer to your democratic question would be, that Hawaiian etiquette, and the customs of all monarchical states, forbid that the chief of the state should enter the newspaper arena and defend his reputation and his honor which you so ruthlessly assail.

Another answer might be that to discuss His Majesty's supposed acts in the manner your paper directs, is not only to throw a slur upon him publicly, but it reacts by casting a lasting stain upon the people.

If your paper was limited in its circulation to our own Islands, the case might be different and the injuries inflicted might be only local; but such is not the case, for you published to the world impressions, which go far to injure the country, morally and to an appreciable amount financially.

One more answer to your question and this is—does not your question and especially what follows your question, simply that the party to which you belong has forsaken their principles and the principles which guide all countries with a constitutional basis, when it asserts that the question of responsibility can be transferred from the representatives of the people and the Ministers of the Crown, to the throne? It would seem that you are willing to yield the very essence of liberal ideas.

Were I alone in these ideas, I would not pretend to address you on this subject, but I feel that I have the support of many of our sober minded and intelligent citizens of all nationalities who would in common with myself deprecate all attempts to impeach the honor of the Sovereign.

I remain yours truly, S. M. DAMON.

WHY THE KING SHOULD BE DISCUSSED.

In reply to Mr. Damon's straightforward letter, we thank him for the compliment therein contained, and believe him to honestly differ in opinion with us as to the proper course to be pursued concerning this matter.

With regard to Mr. Damon's first proposition, "that Hawaiian etiquette and the customs of all monarchical states forbid that the chief of the state should enter the newspaper arena," &c. That is to say, because of an abstract propriety, involving no principle in its breach, therefore, a public journal whose prime duty it is to defend the public interests, and to speak plainly and honestly upon all matters affecting the public welfare, is to remain blind and dumb concerning the most vital question which this community has to deal with, and on the solution of which the very existence of the nation depends.

It has happened ere this that the vindication of rights and the reform of abuses has occasioned a breach of etiquette, and an infringement of the proprieties. It was an unheard of breach of etiquette when the Barons forced Magna Charta from John, Sovereign of England. It was against all proprieties when the English colonies in 1776, declared that they would no longer obey their lawful Sovereign. It was treason and disloyalty. Does Mr. Damon wish that those old English patriots had maintained a scrupulous regard for etiquette? Does he wish that the colonies had observed the proprieties and remained loyal?

It has happened ere this, that loyalty to the King has meant disloyalty to the country; and disloyalty to the King has meant loyalty to the country; and he it loyalty or be it disloyalty we maintain and ever shall maintain that our loyalty is due first to the country, and second to the country's chief representative.

Concerning Mr. Damon's second proposition, that "to discuss His Majesty's supposed acts, is not only to throw a slur upon him, but to cast a lasting stain upon the people."

That is to say, a plain unvarnished statement of the truth concerning the King and his acts, for Mr. Damon is arguing upon the permissibility of any discussion of him, is equivalent to casting a slur upon him, and a lasting stain upon the Hawaiian people. We admit Mr. Damon's statement to be correct. In fact we admit more than that. Were the whole truth to be laid bare, it would not be a slur, but it would be one of the strongest arraignment ever presented against a sovereign. But because there is an ulcer in the political bosom, would Mr. Damon leave it to fester, and spread its rotteness to parts yet uninfected? Would he clasp it to his breast and attempt no cure? Does he think that it is less of a stain on those who loyally love Hawaii to know of this stain, and to say not a word and raise not a hand for its eradication than to know of it and try to remove it?

We say that if the King's acts are such that a statement of the truth concerning them is a stain upon the Hawaiian people, then all the more necessary is it that the truth should be known; for hiding a sore never cured it, and the non-exposure of a wrong never made a right. It will be more of a stain upon the Hawaiian people if knowing the facts they do nothing to correct the evil.

Lastly in regard to Mr. Damon's third proposition that the discussion of the King is a forsaking of the principles of the Independent party, in that it admits that responsibility can be transferred from the Representatives of the people and the Ministers of the crown, to the throne.

Upon this we take issue with Mr. Damon. No! It is not in abandonment of those principles but in pursuance of them, that we openly discuss the King's acts. If he has trodden the Constitution under foot and ignored ministerial rights and responsibility have we not the right to discuss his actions? If he defies alike public opinion and the opinion of Representatives of the country, and governs the appointment and dismissal of Cabinets by his own irresponsible will, instead of by the will of the people have we no right to object?

If he ignores the constitutional provision that the Legislative and the Executive shall ever be maintained separate and distinct, and personally participates in the elections for Representatives, under the claim that he has a right so to do, it is not our duty to discuss such acts and protest against, and denounce them?

Does Mr. Damon think that it would be a maintenance of the principles which he refers to, to sit silently by, and not protest against such a subversion of constitutional liberties? Does he consider that a demand that these principles shall be enforced, is an abandonment of them, and that a silent acquiescence in the breach of those principles is the proper method of advocating and enforcing them?

We maintain that if we are to accomplish a reform of the present abuses in the Government, it is to be by earnest work and plain statements of the truth, whether such statements and such work fall within or without the lines of abstract etiquette.

We cannot think that Mr. Damon has properly considered the logical result of his propositions, although we do not doubt the sincerity of his motives or his loyalty to the country.

THE ORGAN'S NEW TUNE.

The Government organ is growing desperate in its efforts to recover its lost estate of respectability. Through its own recklessness it has miserably failed in even making friends of the mammon of unrighteousness, so that, when thrust out by every decent element of the community, it finds itself a lone star of wretchedness in the vasty void of outer darkness.

Leaving aside the disgust of leading members of the Opposition at finding themselves eulogized by the organ—a case of the cur fawning at the foot that kicked it—one of those gentlemen must chuckle right down to his boots at being praised for keeping aloof from a transaction in which he was really the most conspicuous offender. Mr. Richardson—we beg pardon for the necessity of naming him—entered the House yesterday morning when his presence made a quorum available, and the easy passage of the iniquitous Indemnity Bill practicable. The Minister of Foreign Affairs hastened out to call in the Minister of the Interior, who was in his office, and in an instant returned leading in his colleague in triumph. A wan smile, however, succeeded the beam of victory on the shepherd's countenance when he discovered that during his momentary absence the worthy member lauded by the organ had considerably booted. He did not enter the chamber again until after the arrival of Messrs. Bishop and J. M. Smith had given motive power to the whole voting machine, and then he only took his seat when the President, who caught sight of him in the lobby, called upon all members outside to enter before the vote was taken. We hope Mr. Richardson will feel grateful for our delivery of him from the suspicious position of being in the organ's favor. While Mr. Dole is not beholden to the organ for the universal esteem in which his ability and moderation are held by the community, as a matter of fact he did not go near the Assembly yesterday morning until after a quorum had been obtained.

THE LEGISLATURE

Mr. Bishop said it was intended by the constitution, the laws and the practice of the country that no money should be put aside in bank or elsewhere. The money having been once in the hand of the Minister he might as well have deposited it in his own safe as anywhere else. Article 15 of the Constitution shows how strict the Legislature should be in the matter of appropriations. It provides very carefully and specifies certain contingencies for which money might be appropriated and that a detailed account of it should be rendered to the Legislature. Here has been a large amount set aside for some purpose and no detailed account has been rendered. He believed it was money which properly belonged to roads and bridges. The road tax had been paid into the Treasury, and the law says that money shall be expended in districts where it is collected, for improvement of the roads. There was not enough money in the Treasury to put aside this large sum without using that money, and in that way preventing its use in those districts where it belonged. Certainly the Government had no right to use this road money whatever right they had to money in the general fund. There was plenty of warning at the last Legislature to have deterred the Minister from any action of that sort. Transfers to a certain extent were really beneficial to the country, but the system finally grew into an abuse. Some of the gentlemen in the present Government were very strong in their condemnation of the former Ministry, and took great credit for striking out the transfer section from the Appropriation Bill. It was less objectionable to him, however, to have reasonable transfers than the taking of so much money without any appropriation whatever. It would be remembered by some who were in the last Legislature that there was an attempt made to put a clause in the Auditor's Act that should allow transfers. The Legislature struck that out, showing that the intention was to hold the Government to a very strict account in expending public moneys and prevent them being used for any other purpose than as provided in the Appropriation Bill. There were some parts of this Indemnity Act for which he would be very willing to vote if it were considered item by item, but as a whole he should be obliged to vote against it.

Minister Gibson recalled to mind the honorable noble's reference to last session, and said he was one of the Ministers who desired and advocated that provision should be made for transfers. He was certainly opposed to anything that would defeat the purpose of the Legislature. He thought it was defeating the purpose of the Legislature when money appropriated for hospitals was expended upon the palaces; when money appropriated for education was expended upon the military, and money intended for completing a road was applied for completing a statue. In transfers of that kind the intention, the purpose, the will of the Legislature was completely defeated. Take now one of these items—as far as he could recall, $7,000 or thereabouts expended for leper settlements more than had been appropriated. Surely the Legislature intended them to complete that work. Could it be said that was as bad as money alienated from its object? More money was expended upon the insane asylum and support of prisoners, and other items, than the appropriations. Yet he would consider it reprehensible of the Ministers to have stopped those services. He joined with others in supporting the amendment of the honorable noble.

Mr. Bishop said His Excellency spoke of money for schools being expended for something else. He did not remember of that, but certainly it was done by the present Government. The Ministers started in with larger receipts than ever before, but the treasury had been, during part of the period, practically bankrupt. The Board of Education could not get money because it was used for something else.

The amendment passed, and also the bill as amended.

An Act to repeal an Act to provide for lighting the city of Honolulu with gas was read a third time and indefinitely postponed.

An Act to amend the liquor law was read a third time.

Minister Neumann moved an amendment to make wholesale licenses $250 as before instead of $500, and to raise the bond from $1,000 to $2,000.

The amendment was lost and the bill passed.

The House took a recess from 12 to 1:30.

A quorum was only obtained with great difficulty after recess at 10 minutes to two.

The Act to amend the Civil Code relating to victualling houses was read a third time, and, on motion of Mr. J. Mott Smith, indefinitely postponed.

An Act relating to communications with foreign countries, requiring such to be written in both languages, was read a third time and, on motion of Minister Neumann, indefinitely postponed.

The table being cleared, the House adjourned at 2 o'clock until 10 o'clock to-morrow.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 29.

The House met at 10 A. M.

After prayer by the Chaplain, the minutes of the preceding day were read and adopted.

Mr. Dole presented the report of the Judiciary Committee on the bill to amend the Penal Code in relation to the law of libel. The committee consider that it is inexpedient, as the bill proposes, to introduce the offence of slander into the law of libel, as that is already provided for in the Code. They regard the sections pertaining to slander of the sovereign, particularly that which prevents a defendant in a suit for slander of the sovereign from pleading the truth of his statements, as being derogatory to the dignity of the sovereign and contrary to the constitution. They therefore recommended that the bill be laid upon the table.

Mr. Rowell moved that the report be adopted, and Mr. Kaulukou that it be considered with the bill to-day.

Mr. Kaulukou's motion was lost and Mr. Rowell's carried, in each case by the casting vote of the President.

Mr. Kaulukou moved for a suspension of the rules to allow him to report verbally from the Select Committee upon the police bill and reports, which was lost.

Mr. Rowell presented the report of the Select Committee on the bill to provide for the inspection of steam boilers. It provides for a boiler inspector, to be paid by fees up to the amount of — per annum, the balance of fees collected to be placed in the treasury. The fees were to be as follows:—$25 for boilers of steamers of 100 tons, and 5 cts. for each additional ton; $10 for land boilers up to 20 horse power; $5 for 20 up to 50 horse power; $20 from 50 to 100 horse power.

Mr. Dole moved that the bill be indefinitely postponed. Although a great deal of science had been expended upon the bill, yet he believed it would put a great burden upon the country. He believed it would cause more accidents than now happen. In other countries he had known steam boilers to blow up just after being certified as safe.

Mr. W. O. Smith moved the adoption of the report. He did not take stock in this idea of boilers bursting out of pure carelessness just after being inspected. If such was the case, why was it that all intelligent countries had laws for the purpose.

Mr. Widemann said that a considerable number of years there had been a considerable number of boilers in this country, and he would ask the Hon. member for Waituku how many boilers have burst here.

Mr. W. O. Smith—I would ask in reply, how many people have been blown up with gun-powder; against which we have very strict laws.

THE LIVERPOOL AND LONDON AND GLOBE.

This great company recently held its forty-eighth annual meeting at Liverpool, when the report showed that in magnitude of fire business it stands as the most distinguished corporation in the world. Its additional premium income in the past year derived from new insurance alone amounted, in round numbers, to $500,000—half a million dollars—while its total premium income was $6,357,390, more than half of which, or $3,403,019, was contributed by the United States branch, affording powerful evidence of the prestige of the company on this side of the Atlantic and the energy and other superlative qualifications displayed by the resident manager and his associates in the conduct of the vast interest confided to his care. The business of the year was sound, and the profit commensurate with its magnitude, which is exemplified in the fact that its dividend to shareholders in the past year, on shares upon which only £2 or 40s. have been paid, was 23s. per share, after carrying £335,000 to profit and loss. Messrs. Bishop & Co., are the agents for this Company in Honolulu.

By the last mail, news was received in this city, that Dr. Happer, of Canton, father-in-law of Mr. Frank Damon, was quite seriously ill. This may delay somewhat the return of Mr. Damon and his bride.

PADDY praised poteen to his Biddy because it made him see two of her "swate, purty selves instid of one." We wonder what doubled yesterday's proceedings of the Legislature in the Adcert-eyes-sir. (Copyright of pun applied for under the new patent law.)

Mr. W. M. Giffard, with Irwin & Co., will leave on the Alameda for a short trip to the Coast. He has not had any vacation to speak of, for ten years, so thinks he is fully entitled to this one. So say we all of us.

At the close of this morning's session of the Legislature the Minister of the Interior entertained the nobles, representatives and officers of the Assembly, and members of the press, at a most sumptuous and elegant lunch in his Department.

A LADY, crossing Fort street, at the corner of Hotel street, last evening, about half-past seven o'clock, had a narrow escape from being run over by the carelessness of an express driver. A little more care should be exercised by drivers, when turning a corner.

CAPT. H. G. Morse, the popular Commander of the Alameda, Mrs. Morse, and their son, Mr. H. C. Morse, returned yesterday from a trip round this Island. They left Honolulu on Tuesday, by way of the Pali, and report having a general good time, and thoroughly enjoying themselves.

ALAS! it is sad to relate, but seven years ago to-day, that boss of the Mormons, Brigham Young, kicked the bucket, leaving behind him about nineteen blushing young widows, and nearly ten times as many children. It is impossible to get through counting the number of grandchildren left behind, in time for this edition.

DEPUTY Marshal Dayton said in Court this morning, that the numerous dogs running loose round town were a great nuisance to pedestrians and horseman. It was impossible for a person to ride up Emma Street without having between twenty or thirty of these miserable and vile looking curs, barking and yelling and getting in the way of horses, much to the danger of riders. The dog population is too numerous and ought to be thinned.

THE Deaves Bros.' Marionette Troupe left this morning by the bark Kitsap. They came here at an unfortunate time, and after their first performance the best plan would have been to have visited the other islands. However, they have gone away in the best of spirits, and hope to have better luck next time.

THE Complimentary Concert tendered to Mr. Remyeni, the violinist, and his Concert party at the Hawaiian Hotel last evening, by the Royal Hawaiian Band, was a very successful affair. Bandmaster Berger had arranged a fine programme which was magnificently played by the band boys. Quite a large number of visitors were present on the verandahs of the hotel, and in the grounds.

Is the Police Court this morning, Kaulawapuhi (w), was charged with being a common nuisance, for keeping a dog that bit people on the public streets. It appears that the dog bit a little boy on the arm, but as the evidence showed that the boy with others, were playing with and teasing the animal, His Honor the Judge, discharged the defendant and told her to keep the dog tied up in future.

THE Medical Journal says, "most people know the benefit of lemonade before breakfast, but few know that it is more than doubled by taking it at night. The way to get the better of the bilious system, is to take the juice of one, two or three lemons, as appetite craves, in as much ice water as makes it pleasant to drink without sugar, before going to bed. In the morning, on rising, take the juice of one lemon in a goblet of water. This will clear the system of humor and bile with efficiency."

This morning the Legislative Assembly unanimously tendered a resolution to the President, Hon. Godfrey Rhodes, for the fidelity and impartiality with which he had discharged the duties of his office during the session. Ministers Neumann and Gibson spoke upon the question in unqualified terms of appreciation of the venerable President's course in the chair, the latter concluding by a wish that he might be spared to preside over many future sessions of the Legislature. The President made a most cordial and graceful reply to the resolution.

AN ALARMING DISEASE AFFLICTING A NUMEROUS CLASS.

The disease commences with a slight derangement of the stomach, but, if neglected, it in time involves the whole frame, embracing the kidneys, liver, pancreas, and, in fact, the entire glandular system, and the afflicted drags out a miserable existence until death gives relief from suffering. The disease is often mistaken for other complaints, but if the reader will ask himself the following questions, he will be able to determine whether he himself is one of the afflicted—Have I distress, pain, or difficulty in breathing after eating? Is there a dull, heavy feeling attended by drowsiness? Have the eyes a yellow tinge? Does a thick, sticky, mucous gather about the gums and teeth in the mornings, accompanied by a disagreeable taste? Is the tongue coated? Is there pain in the side and back? Is there a fulness about the right side as if the liver were enlarged? Is there costiveness? Is there vertigo or dizziness when rising suddenly from a horizontal position? Are the secretions from the kidneys scanty and highly coloured, with a deposit after standing? Does food fer- ment, soon after eating, accompanied by flatulence or a belching of gas from the stomach? Is there frequent palpitation of the heart? These various symptoms may not be present at one time, but they torment the sufferer in turn as the dreadful disease progresses. If the case be one of long standing, there will be a dry, hacking cough, attended after a time by expectoration. In very advanced stages the skin assumes a dirty brownish appearance, and the hands and feet are covered by a cold, sticky perspiration. As the liver and kidneys become more and more diseased, rheumatic pains appear, and the usual treatment proves entirely unavailing against this latter stage of the disease. The origin of this malady is indigestion or dyspepsia, and a small quantity of the proper medicine will remove the disease if taken in its incipient stage. It is most important that the disease should be promptly and properly treated in its first stages, when a little medicine will effect a cure and even when it has obtained a strong hold the correct remedy should be persevered in until every vestige of the disease is eradicated, until the appetite has returned, and the digestive organs restored to a healthy condition. The surest and most effectual remedy for this distressing complaint is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White Limited, 17, Farringdon Road, London, E. C. This Syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of the system.

Market Place, Peckington, York, October 2nd, 1882.

Sir,—Being a sufferer for years with dyspepsia in all its worst forms, and after spending pounds in medicines, I was at last persuaded to try Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and am thankful to say have derived more benefit from it than any other medicine I ever took, and would advise any one suffering from the same complaint to give it a trial, the results they would soon find out for themselves. If you like to make use of this testimonial you are quite at liberty to do so.

Yours respectfully, (Signed) R. TURNER.

Seigel's Operating Pills are the best family physic that has ever been discovered. They cleanse the bowels from all irritating substances, and leave them in a healthy condition. They cure costiveness.

St. Mary-street, Peterborough, November 29th, 1881.

Sir,—It gives me great pleasure to inform you of the benefit I have received from Seigel's Syrup. I have been troubled for years with dyspepsia; but after a few doses of the Syrup, I found relief, and after taking two bottles of it I felt quite cured.

I am, Sir, yours truly, Mr. A. J. White. WILLIAM BRENT.

Hensingham, Whitehaven, Oct. 16th, '82. Mr. A. J. White.—Dear Sir,—I was for some time afflicted with piles, and was advised to give Mother Seigel's Syrup a trial, which I did. I am now happy to state that it has restored me to complete health.—I remain, yours respectfully. (Signed) JOHN H. LIGHTFOOT. 15th August, 1883.

Dear Sir,—I write to tell you that Mr. Henry Hillier, of Yatesburg, Wils., informs me that he suffered from a severe form of indigestion for upwards of four years, and took no end of doctor's medicine without the slightest benefit, and declares Mother Seigel's Syrup which he got from me has saved his life.

Yours truly, (Signed) N. WENNER, Chemist, Calne.

September 8th, 1883. Dear Sir,—I find the sale of Seigel's Syrup steadily increasing. All who have tried it speak very highly of its medicinal virtues; one customer describes it as a "Godsend to dyspeptic people." I always recommend it with confidence.

Faithfully yours, (Signed) VINCENT A. WILLS, Chemist-Dentist, Merthyr Tydvil.

A SKILFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson, has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Billroth, of Vienna, which, wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ—and, strange to say, the patient recovered—the only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms:—The appetite is quite poor. There is a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation; a sticky slime collects about the teeth, especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy this peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling. The eyes are sunken, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferers feel tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous and irritable, gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whistling sensation, and he is obliged to grasp something firm to keep from falling. The bowels costive, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and stagnant, and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste. Oftentimes there is a palpitation of the heart, and the patient fears he may have heart disease. Towards the last the patient is unable to retain any food whatever, as the opening in the intestines becomes closed, or nearly so. Although this disease is indeed alarming, sufferers with the above named symptoms should not feel nervous, for nine hundred and ninety-nine cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspepsia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and best remedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White Limited, 17, Farringdon-road, London, E. C. This Syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of the system.
